Community Supports Chavez

By David Castillo & Carmelita Vallez

The aging Cesar Chavez, president of the United Farm Workers Union made an all day visit to San Bernardino on Friday, Sept. 28. The visit included his appearances at a Mexican breakfast at the Boys Club of San Bernardino, a luncheon at Casa Ramona sponsored by the Mexican Senior Citizens. The low priced meals were attended by community political leaders, students and residents of San Bernardino. Chavez mingled with the crowds, shaking hands and greeting people as if they were old friends, making an attempt to speak to everyone, from community leader to student to senior citizen.

During his speech at the luncheon, Chavez spoke mostly in Spanish of unity among farmworkers, the Chicano male chismismo and the need for people to care for the elderly. On machismo, Chavez said that it could best be expressed by men belonging to raise a stable family rather than through men expressing physical courage. Chavez said machismo is caring for one another and that it is housed in the Chicana woman's submissiveness.

In regards to the senior citizens, Chavez frowned upon the idea of elders being shoved off to rest homes. In past Chicano history elders have been looked upon with great respect and are charmed by grandparents and also remain a basic need within the Mexican families. Grandparents often have more influence in raising their grandchildren than actual parents themselves, said Chavez.

At Chavez's scheduled 3-4 p.m. meeting with students, most Cal-State students and other young people appeared for Chavez's support. There was an unexpected one mile walk from Mt. Vernon to the 4th and G Street Safeway. The peaceful and orderly march lead by Chavez ended with only one minor verbal altercation when pickets stood up. There was an unexpected one mile walk from Mt. Vernon to the 4th and G Street Safeway. The peaceful and orderly march lead by Chavez ended with only one minor verbal altercation when pickets noticed acquaintances entering Safeway. The disturbed would-be shopper quickly left.

The march was followed by a fund raising cocktail party hosted by Mayor Holcomb- invitation only and it was attended by area community and business leaders. Cesar's visit closed with a mass offered by five priests from the San Diego Diocese who blessed Chavez on his 90-day tour through the U.S. The mass was highlighted when the audience lit candles in his honor and for his union.

Cesar's visit to San Bernardino was intended to gain monetary and community support for his union's nationwide boycott of non-union grapes and wine. Chavez felt that most people will always remember the death of his close friends, Juan de la Cruz and Nagie Balfalah, killed while on the picket lines in Kern County. Chavez's almost life long struggle ushered in peace and compassion earned him the support of many San Bernadino people.

Monopolies

Up Their Pollution

by Tony Weathers

Now is the time for all good people to come to the aid of Spaceship Earth. Under the guise of progress and social necessity, environmental concessions have been made which have impaired the quality of our lives.

The rising incidence of emphysema, heart disease, and bronchitis in the South Coastal Air Basin (L.A., Riverside, and San Bernardino) is a symptomatic consequence of the worst air pollution problem in the nation.

A symposium held at the University of California at Riverside on the health effects of air pollution determined two weeks ago that "a stiff dose of political action will be required to halt further degradation of our environment." It is interesting to note that the U.S. Senators from California, John Tunney and Alan Cranston, recently voted to relax the auto emission standards for 1973 as contained in the Clean Air Act of 1970. This action was in response to the pleas of "The Big Three" auto manufacturers (GM, Ford & Chrysler) who protested that it would be impossible to comply with the deadline. However, Japan's Mazda and Honda, and Germany's Mercedes-Benz were able to develop engines that easily passed the 1975 requirements.

The U.S. auto industry's performance coincides with their unsavory history of failing to find research into alternative and non-polluting engines. In 1968 General Motors spent one-fourth the amount (Cont’d on p. 3 Col. 2)
GM spent annually in a ten-year program to change the signs at the largest employers besides the corporation. This figure is only thirteen million dollars, but the advertisement budget is not considered in their annual advertising budget. However, the largest employers besides the corporation may be jeopardized by the strict crisis by failing to anticipate and adapt to the current environmental situation.

The lobbying and influence-peddling by companies, the largest employers besides the corporation, are responsible for the present air pollution and emission levels. However, the aforementioned, more important, is the responsibility of the present environmental situation. The lobbying and influence-peddling by companies, the largest employers besides the corporation, are responsible for the present air pollution and emission levels. However, the aforementioned, more important, is the responsibility of the present environmental situation.

Monopolies Pollute

The geographical balance of the Board of Trustees is out of proportion. With the new members of the Board of Trustees from the San Francisco bay area. This represents only five of the twenty million people, there must be a greater representation by students, faculty, administrators, non-academic employees, and residents surrounding the campuses to really be sensitive to the needs of those whom they govern.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Ed,

I'm so glad to be back! I'm so glad you're here! Everything is running smoothly from the start. This registration went very well, only taking two and one half hours, with that wonderful Dr. Senour directing traffic efficiently ("You must have an I.D. card before registering," he told us). I could remember the woman's name who headed registration (oh, yes, her courteous efforts too).

I know that as a new editor you must be facing several confusing problems. This is meant as a friendly, supportive letter; I want to tell you that it's safe to put your name on the telephone, for instance, at that time contacting various businesses and booths that have student registration, or raising money for the child care center. Also during registration, you don't feel they are receiving a full and equal picture of the situation. Trustees must speak with students, faculty, administrators, non-academic employees, and residents surrounding the campuses to really be sensitive to the needs of those whom they govern.

Next Week—Continued (Note: We encourage feedback from our readers, write Tony Weathers, Pawprint.)

To Get Money

The school is here to serve all of us and we have another example of this in the form of a new information center that is capable of caring for the students of the current campus. Carry on, Joanie. Best wishes for a prosperous year.

L. J. Arrowmaker

P.S. Tippie!

"I just needed somebody who would treat me right, because it's so good, I'm going to have a pretty tough primary campaign."

Assemblyman John P. Quinn, D-Rialto, on the firing of this executive aide Joane Brass.

The school is here to serve all of us and we have another example of this in the form of a new information center that is capable of caring for the students of the current campus. Carry on, Joanie. Best wishes for a prosperous year.

The school is here to serve all of us and we have another example of this in the form of a new information center that is capable of caring for the students of the current campus. Carry on, Joanie. Best wishes for a prosperous year.

The school is here to serve all of us and we have another example of this in the form of a new information center that is capable of caring for the students of the current campus. Carry on, Joanie. Best wishes for a prosperous year.
Boycott Gallo and Safeway Products

by Eddie Baca

As you probably know, the United Farm Workers Union (AFL-CIO) is currently engaged in a struggle for its very existence. Farmworkers in California have chosen the UFW as their instrument to fight for a better life, and the growers have responded by trying to destroy the union. They have enlisted the aid of the leadership of the Teamsters Union, and have signed "sweetheart" contracts with the Teamsters. These contracts deny the farmworkers the right to choose the union they want to represent, and the UFW has called for an election in the fields, but the growers and Teamsters have refused. In addition, the growers and Teamsters have used violent tactics against peaceful farmworker pickets.

The farmworkers have called on all their supporters to help them by boycotting all wines produced by the Teamsters. Safeway is the largest supermarket chain in the country and is indirectly cooperating by not carrying any wines produced by the Teamsters. Safeway is jointly owned by the Safeway and the Allen brothers. The present Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway and the Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway. The present Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway and the Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway.

In 1970 the United Farm Worker Movement made substantial progress in gaining recognition from the growers. However, within hours after these contracts expired, the growers withdrew their support and the Teamsters have refused. In 1972 the United Farm Workers Union was officially open to individuals who meet any of the following requirements:

1) Have any child, ages two to four, whose guardian or parent has been listed with the Welfare Office as eligible for aid.
2) Have any child, ages two to four, whose guardian or parent is currently high school program.
3) For any child whose parent has been listed with the Welfare Office.
4) For any mother of high school program.

The farmworkers have called on all their supporters to help them by boycotting all wines produced by the Teamsters. Safeway is the largest supermarket chain in the country and is indirectly cooperating by not carrying any wines produced by the Teamsters. Safeway is jointly owned by the Safeway and the Allen brothers. The present Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway and the Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway. The present Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway and the Allen brothers are owned by the Safeway.

Jean Hobson and Bob Seachock are charged with murder, assault with a deadly weapon, and robbery. In the October 6, 1972, escape of Ronald Bosh from Chino Prison, in the ambush, one of the guards was killed; the other was slightly wounded. Two other officers, Doug and Andrea Burt, were convicted on similar charges. When Andrea and Doug Burt were convicted of murder and assault, most of those who had followed the Chino trial were shocked. They knew that the prosecution case had blown up in the D.A.'s face. The surviving guard testified that he did not recognize Andrea and Doug as part of the Chino team, the crematorium. The evidence had been proven false, inconclusive, or, in some cases, extending to show that the D.A. was bent on a cover-up. The defense case had been based on the assumption that Andrea and Doug had a guilt beyond reasonable doubt. Their convictions were appealed.

Jean has lived in Palo Alto for many years. In the fifties, she was active in the Bay Area Peace Movement, and helped Prec. Green to co-author a book against the A-Bomb. She has helped to form the Palo Alto Teamsters Union, and as a member of the Peace Corps, she was involved in the Viet Nam pacification program. Before coming to Palo Alto, she worked with the Peaceful Support Committee, which supports the war and the war.

Jean Hobson and Bob Seachock are charged with murder, assault with a deadly weapon, and robbery. In the October 6, 1972, escape of Ronald Bosh from Chino Prison, in the ambush, one of the guards was killed; the other was slightly wounded. Two other officers, Doug and Andrea Burt, were convicted on similar charges. When Andrea and Doug Burt were convicted of murder and assault, most of those who had followed the Chino trial were shocked. They knew that the prosecution case had blown up in the D.A.'s face. The surviving guard testified that he did not recognize Andrea and Doug as part of the Chino team, the crematorium. The evidence had been proven false, inconclusive, or, in some cases, extending to show that the D.A. was bent on a cover-up. The defense case had been based on the assumption that Andrea and Doug had a guilt beyond reasonable doubt. Their convictions were appealed.

Jean has lived in Palo Alto for many years. In the fifties, she was active in the Bay Area Peace Movement, and helped Prec. Green to co-author a book against the A-Bomb. She has helped to form the Palo Alto Teamsters Union, and as a member of the Peace Corps, she was involved in the Viet Nam pacification program. Before coming to Palo Alto, she worked with the Peaceful Support Committee, which supports the war and the war.

Jean Hobson and Bob Seachock are charged with murder, assault with a deadly weapon, and robbery. In the October 6, 1972, escape of Ronald Bosh from Chino Prison, in the ambush, one of the guards was killed; the other was slightly wounded. Two other officers, Doug and Andrea Burt, were convicted on similar charges. When Andrea and Doug Burt were convicted of murder and assault, most of those who had followed the Chino trial were shocked. They knew that the prosecution case had blown up in the D.A.'s face. The surviving guard testified that he did not recognize Andrea and Doug as part of the Chino team, the crematorium. The evidence had been proven false, inconclusive, or, in some cases, extending to show that the D.A. was bent on a cover-up. The defense case had been based on the assumption that Andrea and Doug had a guilt beyond reasonable doubt. Their convictions were appealed.

Jean has lived in Palo Alto for many years. In the fifties, she was active in the Bay Area Peace Movement, and helped Prec. Green to co-author a book against the A-Bomb. She has helped to form the Palo Alto Teamsters Union, and as a member of the Peace Corps, she was involved in the Viet Nam pacification program. Before coming to Palo Alto, she worked with the Peaceful Support Committee, which supports the war and the war.

Jean Hobson and Bob Seachock are charged with murder, assault with a deadly weapon, and robbery. In the October 6, 1972, escape of Ronald Bosh from Chino Prison, in the ambush, one of the guards was killed; the other was slightly wounded. Two other officers, Doug and Andrea Burt, were convicted on similar charges. When Andrea and Doug Burt were convicted of murder and assault, most of those who had followed the Chino trial were shocked. They knew that the prosecution case had blown up in the D.A.'s face. The surviving guard testified that he did not recognize Andrea and Doug as part of the Chino team, the crematorium. The evidence had been proven false, inconclusive, or, in some cases, extending to show that the D.A. was bent on a cover-up. The defense case had been based on the assumption that Andrea and Doug had a guilt beyond reasonable doubt. Their convictions were appealed.

Jean has lived in Palo Alto for many years. In the fifties, she was active in the Bay Area Peace Movement, and helped Prec. Green to co-author a book against the A-Bomb. She has helped to form the Palo Alto Teamsters Union, and as a member of the Peace Corps, she was involved in the Viet Nam pacification program. Before coming to Palo Alto, she worked with the Peaceful Support Committee, which supports the war and the war.
ALL SISTERS begins another year with ALL SISTERS. We don't ask for any commitments or money (no call: we don't ask for any commitments or money). All women reading this are ever going to call one of us and come to a meeting. There is no reason not to call: we don't ask for any commitments or money (no call: we don't ask for any commitments or money).

Women's Choice

Under the auspices of the Feminist Women's Health Center in Los Angeles, the Women's Choice Clinic recently began operation. It provides services for free pregnancy screening, information on birth control, reasonably priced, high quality abortion care and menstrual aspiration. If a woman chooses to carry her pregnancy to term, referrals are made for prenatal care, prepared childbirth classes or adoption. For further information, contact Francis Horr, 536-7219; hotline 956-7466. There is another Women's Choice Clinic at 615 S. Main in Santa Ana (714) 436-1941.

The Riverside Women's Center is now officially open. It is located at 4064 Chestnut St. (between 10th and 11th Sts.) in Riverside. They have no phone yet. but you can write to P.O. Box 1111, Riverside, Calif. 92503, to send or request information from the center or to contact any of the women involved. Consciousness-raising, radical therapy and problem solving groups have been started already. Other projects are still in the developmental stage.

Gloria Cowan Would Like All Persons Interested in Taking the Psychology of Woman Course Next Quarter to Sign Up at UCIRI (See Here) as Soon as Possible.

The Riverside Women's center is now officially open. It is located at 4064 Chestnut St. (between 10th and 11th Sts.) in Riverside. They have no phone yet. but you can write to P.O. Box 1111, Riverside, Calif. 92503, to send or request information from the center or to contact any of the women involved. Consciousness-raising, radical therapy and problem solving groups have been started already. Other projects are still in the developmental stage.

Betty Crocker

Still a White Male

The selective buying campaign against General Mills is still on. General Mills still refuses to change their policies and practices of discrimination against women and minorities. Please support this cause by avoiding all General Mills products, especially those which advertising has convinced children they must have: Food—Big "O" cereals, Betty Crocker products, Gold Medal products, Tom's Snack Food. Toys—Play-Doh, Craft Master, Parker Brothers, Kenner, MPC Models.

If you do let General Mills know that you are not buying their products and why, write to: Mr. James Simon, President, General Mills Inc., 9200 Wayzata Blvd., Golden Valley, Mn. 55416.

Choice Clinic recently began operation in Los Angeles, the Women's Choice Clinic recently began operation. It provides services for free pregnancy screening, information on birth control, reasonably priced, high quality abortion care and menstrual aspiration. If a woman chooses to carry her pregnancy to term, referrals are made for prenatal care, prepared childbirth classes or adoption. For further information, contact Francis Horr, 536-7219; hotline 956-7466. There is another Women's Choice Clinic at 615 S. Main in Santa Ana (714) 436-1941.

PETER R. CAMERON

Women in Art

Women in Art

The Redlands Women's Center, located at the Redlands YWCA (16 East Olive Avenue) is now open. The center, is staffed by members of the San Bernardino-Riverside chapter of the National Organization for Women and volunteers. At present the center is only open Thursday through Saturday, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. You do not have to be a NOW member to use or help out at the center. If you can spare an hour or two to help, please call Kathy Kline or 799-4979.

The new director of Workmanpace, Marjorie Paley, will be here on campus for the opening of the Jock Gazzano show in early October. An woman interested in Workmanpace and other women's art should take this opportunity to meet Ms. Paley.

Andrea Burt

Age 19 Years

Found Guilty

2nd Degree Murder

See Story P. 3

Do you know that... the only legal right granted to all women under the Constitution is the right to vote. (won in 1920)

...in the U.S., there are 1000 individual state laws that discriminate against women. In one state a woman's clothes legally belong to her husband.

...the Equal Rights Amendment for women has failed to pass the Congress for 47 straight years.

Women in Art

"The woman's approach presents a different emphasis. I think that women will contribute... a great deal to the visual arts... for there is a whole range of formal perceptions belonging to feminine experience." (Barbara Morgan)

This begins the year of The Woman at Cal Straight. Now is the time for women to come together to affirm each other, to see each other's work, to provide support, comfort and criticism for each other, to see in each other a reflection of our womanhood, our humanity. There are many women in this area interested and involved in the artistic experience as it relates to women. For centuries we have been the oppressed, the exploiter. We have been the "gluttony-reduction-system" which has consistently been male dominated and oriented. Now is our time to be seen and heard on our own terms.

This space gives voice to women who wish to share ideas, dreams, information and criticism. Use it: We must take full responsibilities for ourselves and our work.

Where to sell and show

A Califa Faire will be held in conjunction with the Second Annual State N.O.W. Convention, October 26-28 in San Diego. The faire will feature works of art by local feminists. The San Bernardino-Riverside chapter of N.O.W. is planning a booth and is looking for interested artists to sell their paintings, macramo, ceramics, jewelry, etc. Contact Marjorie Tall 825-9308 for more information.

What to see

Titled "Taboo", the opening exhibit of "Workmanpace" is intended not to shock or offend, but to provoke thought concerning images and ideas which are considered taboo both to men and women. This is our time to see and hear on our own terms.

Among the artists included in the show are Diane Arbus, Lori Mitchell, Barbara Harvey, Virginia Gordon, Sally Rogers, Andrea Burt and one male artist, Andrzejewski. The display at 11007 Venice Blvd., Los Angeles, continues through October 27. Hours: Wednesday through Saturday, 11 A.M.-5 P.M.

The new director of Workmanpace, Marje Paley, will be here on campus for the opening of the Jock Gazzano show in early October. An woman interested in Workmanpace and other women's art should take this opportunity to meet Ms. Paley.

Pasadena Museum of Modern Art: Retrospective exhibitions of Estelle Watten November 11 and Barbara Muscan, photographer, (through November 18), Colorado at Orange Grove Blvd., Tuesday through Saturday, 10 A.M.-5 P.M. Sunday noon - 5 P.M. Closed Monday.
October 2, 1973

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF CAL-STATE, SAN BERNARDINO
FALL QUARTER EVENTS

FRIDAY NIGHT FILM SERIES
All films will be shown in PS 10 at 8:00 p.m.-free to students, faculty and staff of CSUSB.

October 5
"THE CHASE"
Marlon Brando, Jaz Fonda, Robert Redford
The truth of drama of this film rests in the individual characterization.
RATED PG

October 19
"BROTHER AND SISTER"
Robyn Whitney, Sandy Dempsey, Rated X

November 9
"RAINING IN THE SUN"
Sydney Pollter, Claudia McNeil, Siana Sands

November 16
BOGART DOUBLE FEATURE
"SHIROKO" 18:00 p.m. in the Little Theatre
"THE HARDER THEY FALL" with Rod Steiger

November 30
"THE LEARNIN G TREE"
A series of episodic incidents in the lives of black teenagers in the 1920's.

FALL EVENTS
September 28
ALL COLLEGE BACK TO SCHOOL DANCE
Featuring "Soul Liberation" 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Small Gym $5.00 - Students $1.50 Guests.

October 24
JANE FONDA
Comin at last
12 NOON, Large Gym
$1.00 Admission

November 8, 9, 10, 14, 15, 17
Drama Production
THE VERSAILLES IMPROMPTU
"THE PHYSICIAN IN SPIRIT OF HIMSELF"
8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre
$1.00 Students - $2.00 Gen. Admission

CAREER DEVELOPMENT SEMINAR
All Seminars to be held at 12 NOON in the Lower Commons, C-104.
Everyone welcome-no charge.

October 15
"EYEING"
Speakers, Dr. Hatton, Dr. Woods, Ms. Talan

October 16
"WHAT JOBS ARE OUT THERE"
Speakers, Mr. Stansel, Dr. Moses

October 17
"PREPARING FOR WORK WHILE ATTENDING COLLEGE"
Speakers, Ms. Stansel, Dr. Moses

October 18
"STUDENTS WHO HAVE MADE IT"
Speaker, Dr. Moses

CROSSWORD PUZZLE
A N O W N E D
D O W N
1. Brouch
2. Woman's lib
3. Move from
4. Barrels
5. Combining
6. Mother-in-law

INTRA-MURAL SIGN UPS
October 2 - in the Gym

The YWCA's fall program, "Women in the Know Are on the Go," will begin class sessions this week. A wide variety of programs will be open to persons of all ages. Junior classes (18 and under) will include swimming, lap-dance and ballet, T-Yettesot, 8-11 p.m., Big Sisters, and an emergency mother-substitute class for babysitters. Other classes are self-defense for women, contract bridge, junior and senior lifesaving, squatche, hobby, water ballet and balls dancing. Those who opt for career planning may obtain help through the Educational & Career Counseling Center, Young Women Committed to Action and the Job Clinic Workshop.

CO-educational activities will be included in a discussion series for single adults, beginning in November, and dancing for adult students the first Friday nights.

The YWCA offers a prc-school day-care center and an extended day-care program. Students are picked up at their schools by YWCA day-care program. Students are members of $7.50 for adults, $3.50 for children and $2.50 for juniors. For more information, contact the YWCA in your area.

Culture Fears 2

And now for all you culture loving humans, here's a list of what we've received from the various theatres and opera production companies in the San Bernardino-L.A. area. If you have any questions, get in touch with the Pawprint office as we've saved all the brochures.

- Music Center, Ahmanson Theatre: The four plays this season will be as follows: "Cyrano de Bergerac," starring Richard Chamberlain with Joseph Hardy directing (Oct. 24-Nov. 6, 1973); Jean Kerr's comedy, "Finishing Touches," starring Barbara Bel Geddes; and "The Time of the Cuckoo," starring Jean Stapleton's "All in the Family" fame (April 2-May 11). Ahmanson has a special student group rate as well as special rates for educational personnel. There are also special reserved seats for students for all available seating and are good for Cyrano de Bergerac performances on Oct. 11, (8:30), Oct. 13, 20, 27, 30 and Oct. 15, 18, 20. They cost $3.50. For more information, contact the Pawprint office or call (213) 627-7211.

- YWCA: The New York City Opera opens No. 14 with Donizetti's "Anna Bolena." The opera opens Sept. 23 and runs until Dec. 9, with other operas scheduled. Contact Pawprint Office for more information.

And now for all you culture loving humans, here's a list of what we've received from the various theatres and opera production companies in the San Bernardino-L.A. area. If you have any questions, get in touch with the Pawprint office as we've saved all the brochures.

- Music Center, Ahmanson Theatre: The four plays this season will be as follows: "Cyrano de Bergerac," starring Richard Chamberlain with Joseph Hardy directing (Oct. 24-Nov. 6, 1973); Jean Kerr's comedy, "Finishing Touches," starring Barbara Bel Geddes; and "The Time of the Cuckoo," starring Jean Stapleton's "All in the Family" fame (April 2-May 11). Ahmanson has a special student group rate as well as special rates for educational personnel. There are also special reserved seats for students for all available seating and are good for Cyrano de Bergerac performances on Oct. 11, (8:30), Oct. 13, 20, 27, 30 and Oct. 15, 18, 20. They cost $3.50. For more information, contact the Pawprint office or call (213) 627-7211.

- YWCA: The New York City Opera opens No. 14 with Donizetti's "Anna Bolena." The opera opens Sept. 23 and runs until Dec. 9, with other operas scheduled. Contact Pawprint Office for more information.

And now for all you culture loving humans, here's a list of what we've received from the various theatres and opera production companies in the San Bernardino-L.A. area. If you have any questions, get in touch with the Pawprint office as we've saved all the brochures.

- Music Center, Ahmanson Theatre: The four plays this season will be as follows: "Cyrano de Bergerac," starring Richard Chamberlain with Joseph Hardy directing (Oct. 24-Nov. 6, 1973); Jean Kerr's comedy, "Finishing Touches," starring Barbara Bel Geddes; and "The Time of the Cuckoo," starring Jean Stapleton's "All in the Family" fame (April 2-May 11). Ahmanson has a special student group rate as well as special rates for educational personnel. There are also special reserved seats for students for all available seating and are good for Cyrano de Bergerac performances on Oct. 11, (8:30), Oct. 13, 20, 27, 30 and Oct. 15, 18, 20. They cost $3.50. For more information, contact the Pawprint office or call (213) 627-7211.

- YWCA: The New York City Opera opens No. 14 with Donizetti's "Anna Bolena." The opera opens Sept. 23 and runs until Dec. 9, with other operas scheduled. Contact Pawprint Office for more information.

And now for all you culture loving humans, here's a list of what we've received from the various theatres and opera production companies in the San Bernardino-L.A. area. If you have any questions, get in touch with the Pawprint office as we've saved all the brochures.

- Music Center, Ahmanson Theatre: The four plays this season will be as follows: "Cyrano de Bergerac," starring Richard Chamberlain with Joseph Hardy directing (Oct. 24-Nov. 6, 1973); Jean Kerr's comedy, "Finishing Touches," starring Barbara Bel Geddes; and "The Time of the Cuckoo," starring Jean Stapleton's "All in the Family" fame (April 2-May 11). Ahmanson has a special student group rate as well as special rates for educational personnel. There are also special reserved seats for students for all available seating and are good for Cyrano de Bergerac performances on Oct. 11, (8:30), Oct. 13, 20, 27, 30 and Oct. 15, 18, 20. They cost $3.50. For more information, contact the Pawprint office or call (213) 627-7211.

- YWCA: The New York City Opera opens No. 14 with Donizetti's "Anna Bolena." The opera opens Sept. 23 and runs until Dec. 9, with other operas scheduled. Contact Pawprint Office for more information.

And now for all you culture loving humans, here's a list of what we've received from the various theatres and opera production companies in the San Bernardino-L.A. area. If you have any questions, get in touch with the Pawprint office as we've saved all the brochures.
Non-voters: Register Now!

Record Reviews

As Platter Turns

THE SESSION

Jerry Lee Lewis
Mercury (SRM-2-803)

By the age of fourteen, Jerry Lee Lewis was going to high school by day and tripping into Natchez at night to play at the Blue Cat Club for $10 a night. Jerry Lee later trekked into Memphis, to boogie or bust. Not exactly hustling (but not bugging, either), he walked into Sam Phillips' Sun Records to cut some records. Encouraged by some acceptance, Phillips & Co. urged Jerry Lee to do more, which he did. In 1957, the 25-year-old piano player and singer from Ferriday, Louisiana, walked into the studio and, in one three-minute take, cut "A Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On," a monster hit that was to eventually sell more than six million copies.

Jerry Lee followed up his success with "Breathless" and "High School Confidential." Then he was on an aborted tour of England. When he returned, he found that he'd been blackballed by puritanical disc-jockeys for marrying his distant third-cousin, who was 14 at the time. It wasn't until 1967 that he made it back on top, with a country & western tune written by Jerry Chestnut called "Another Place managed to stay."

A few of the lines in the book-record sound ripped-out of Confessions, like "one who has touched excellence in learning has no need for that kind of (self-limiting) promise." The tone, however, is more Heinslian, as is the elitism of Bird Paradise or whatever one calls a fowl's heaven.

The only complaint I have with this album has nothing to do with the music or the mixing, but with the "inner notes," which are virtually non-existent.

JONATHAN LIVINGSTON SEAGULL

(Told by) Richard Harris
Dunhill (DSD-50160)

Harris' narration adds a touch of vitality and believability to what could otherwise be a rather boring old-fashioned tale. What SFAGULL's author could have done, basically, is wed Buddha, Christ and Aldous Huxley. This unusual manage a treat is carried out through the philosophical person of a bird, JONATHAN LIVINGSTON SEAGULL.

A few of the lines in the book-record sound ripped-out of Confessions, like "one who has touched excellence in learning has no need for that kind of (self-limiting) promise." The tone, however, is more Heinslian, as is the elitism of Bird Paradise or whatever one calls a fowl's heaven.

Jonathan, finding flight to be a reason for living (as opposed to just eating, sleeping and being bored into an early grave), winds up in what he believes to be a "quills" heaven, where he continues to perfect his flight skills. Becoming near perfect and overcoming both time and space, he returns to earth to teach "the meaning of kindness and love." (Jesus Christ, Superhero!) Where this album-narration warts is in Terry James' pseudo-classical music score, most of which would be best left in the supermarket. Particularly irritating is the five-minute prologue of cherub played in heaven to simulate religious awe.

Off-Campus Degrees Offered

Opportunities to earn academic degrees are made possible by regular on-campus classes will increase this fall with four additional programs in the arts, humanities, and sciences. The programs will be offered by CSC Sonoma, CSU San Bernadino, CSU San Diego and CSC Sonoma.

They will bring in 14 of the number of campus sponsored plans making the programs of their master's degrees more accessible to adults at locations near their homes or places of employment. Under sponsorship of Cal State, a master's degree in elementary education will be available to Coachella Valley—Indio area residents for teachers seeking advanced degrees, includes six of facilities of College of the Desert, Palm Springs, classes will be taught by faculty from the San Bernardino campus.

For additional information regarding this program: Ms. Edie Strohm, Director of Public Affairs 8867-611.
Mushroom Madness

The Food and Drug Administration has ordered a nationwide examination of all canned mushrooms still stored in warehouse after an FDA examination revealed that fully half of the mushroom canning plants had abnormal or swollen mushrooms that is “leaking, is poisonous. The FDA was quoted as saying that any consumer who finds a can of canned mushrooms must be discarded immediately.

An agreement has been reached with Westfield State College, Massachusetts, whereby students at the California State College, San Bernardino may attend Westfield as residents if a Westfield student comes to Cal-State, San Bernardino. A copy of the Westfield Catalog is available from the University of California, Davis, Office of the University of California, Davis, California 95616.

Ann Landers is a questionable source when it comes to assessing the reliability of her information about the homosexual community. Her views of morality tend to prejudice the information printed in her column. To help foster a more informed opinion about alternative sexual lifestyles, reference librarian, Johnie Ralph has designed a two-page spread that will be used in the bulletin of the California State College, San Bernardino.

In Stock Now!

Pocket Calculators

- HP-45 (Advanced Scientific)
- HP-35 (Scientific)
- HP-80 (Business)

HEWLETT & PACKARD

Come In For Literature and Free Demonstration

- Open: Mon.-Thur. 8:00 A.M.-9:00 P.M.
- Fri. & Sat. 8:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M.
- PHONE: (714) 683-5787

3615 CANYON CREST DRIVE, RIVERSIDE, CALIFORNIA 92507
In Praise of Beauty

by Becky White

Billy Jean King — what a beautiful woman! I couldn’t take my eyes off the TV set once she started performing her art for us in the match against Bobby Riggs.

Her body was absolutely beautiful — not the 36-24-36 stereotyped sort of beauty most people in our male-dominated culture believe is truly beautiful — but the beauty of a well-conditioned athlete with immense power, firmness, and grace. Her confidence was unshakable and her command of the court was immediate and overwhelming. Her movements were like a dance to me and I felt pride in being associated with her, both as a woman and an athlete.

My feelings of joy in watching her were combined with feelings of anger as I realized that even after this match most people would still not be aware that women enjoy training for sports or that many of us want to make competition and athletics our profession.

Openings Revealed

An unexpected windfall in federal funds for CSBSF’s Work-Study program has permitted job openings for students subsisting on a modest income.

Since Work-Study programs across the nation are funded by the federal government, the number of schools that compete for the limited funds determines the amount that will be eventually allocated for specific campuses.

The increasing requests from vocational schools for Work-Study funds have caused a reduction in available money for other schools. However, CSBSF was able to latch onto more of this money than was originally planned, thereby creating new job openings.

Financial Aid Advisor, Ted Krug said, “We encourage interested students to come into our office and submit applications for available jobs.”

Starting pay is $2.07 per hour, with incremental raises and consideration of previous experience in determining salary. Students are limited to a fifteen hour maximum work week.

What will it take for Americans to treat women athletes seriously? I don’t know, but I do know that the neglect of women in athletics is criminal and I will gladly discuss it with anyone who disagrees or agrees.

Editors note: This is the first column from one of our Sports writers, Becky White, who will be doing articles on women in the sports world, both in and out of Cal State. If anyone has ideas for articles, comments, or questions, be sure to drop by the Pawprint Office. We can always use more input.

3rd World Social Work

“The Consortium of Texas Graduate Schools of Social Work is currently involved in a program funded by the National Institute of Mental Health that involves the recruitment of economically disadvantaged students, including Mexican Americans, African Americans, and Blacks, into graduate social work education. Stipends of $200 per month including tuition and dependence allowances of $50.00 per month are provided through this program. In addition, applicants are eligible for other stipends provided by the schools.”

Interested applicants should contact: Juan Armendariz, Assistant Professor Project Director, “Social Work Education for Economically Disadvantaged Groups,” School of Social Work, The University of Texas at Austin, Austin, Texas 78712.

John Holt, Charles Silverman and Dr. William Glasser are among a dozen educational theorists and practitioners who are “lecturers” in a unique television series designed especially for teachers.

“Human Relations and School Discipline” is a college credit course which explores methods and techniques to improve human relations in the schools and achieve a positive, beneficial discipline climate.

The course is offered for credit by California State College, San Bernardino and will be broadcast on KECT Channel 38, on Tuesdays at 6:30, beginning Oct. 9.

Additional participants in the series include: Dr. Thomas Harris, author of “You’re OK”, James Horndon, author of “The Way It Spozed To Be”; Herbert Kohl, author of “The Open Classroom”; Dr. Thomas Gordon, author of “Parent Effectiveness Training”; Jonathan Kozol, author of “Free Schools”; Dr. Madeline Hunter, principal of UCLA’s experimental University Elementary School; Professor Lillian Weber, director of the Workshop Center for Open Education at City College of New York; Dr. Lee Salk, author of “What Every Child Would Like His Parents To Know”; and others.

The presentation of the educators are illustrated with documentary film shot at schools from Harlem to Harvard and are a positive, beneficial discipline climate.

Teachers may get enrollment information by contacting their school principal, or by writing Cal State, San Bernardino. The course carries three quarter units of extension credit at a cost of $34. Several papers will be required.

The Placement Office is now seeking students who wish to register for paid tutoring and child care job opportunities in the community. Students should contact Jan Hinke, Placement Advisor, SS-120 for further information.

Any students wishing to secure off-campus part-time employment should complete an application in the Placement Office. Previous applications must be updated each quarter. Current job openings are posted on the bulletin board outside the Placement Office.

Client simulators are needed by the San Bernardino State College Psychology Department Counseling Center. As a supplement to our clinical training program, we want to provide our students with an opportunity to try to be helpful to persons with minor psychological concerns. We would like volunteers who have personal problems, concerns, anxieties etc., who would be willing to talk about with a graduate student in supervised clinical training. We hope this experience will be interesting and helpful for the volunteer.

Anyone interested in taking part is asked to contact Dr. Warren Aitken, Assistant Professor or Dr. T. F. Smith, Director, Psychology Department.

Answers to Puzzle No. 11:

Unique TV Series: Silberman & Others

The course is offered for credit by California State College, San Bernardino and will be broadcast on KECT Channel 38, on Tuesdays at 6:30, beginning Oct. 9.

Additional participants in the series include: Dr. Thomas Harris, author of “You’re OK”, James Horndon, author of “The Way It Spozed To Be”; Herbert Kohl, author of “The Open Classroom”; Dr. Thomas Gordon, author of “Parent Effectiveness Training”; Jonathan Kozol, author of “Free Schools”; Dr. Madeline Hunter, principal of UCLA’s experimental University Elementary School; Professor Lillian Weber, director of the Workshop Center for Open Education at City College of New York; Dr. Lee Salk, author of “What Every Child Would Like His Parents To Know”; and others.

The presentation of the educators are illustrated with documentary film shot at schools from Harlem to Harvard and are a positive, beneficial discipline climate.

Teachers may get enrollment information by contacting their school principal, or by writing Cal State, San Bernardino. The course carries three quarter units of extension credit at a cost of $34. Several papers will be required.

The Placement Office is now seeking students who wish to register for paid tutoring and child care job opportunities in the community. Students should contact Jan Hinke, Placement Advisor, SS-120 for further information.

Any students wishing to secure off-campus part-time employment should complete an application in the Placement Office. Previous applications must be updated each quarter. Current job openings are posted on the bulletin board outside the Placement Office.

Client simulators are needed by the San Bernardino State College Psychology Department Counseling Center. As a supplement to our clinical training program, we want to provide our students with an opportunity to try to be helpful to persons with minor psychological concerns. We would like volunteers who have personal problems, concerns, anxieties etc., who would be willing to talk about with a graduate student in supervised clinical training. We hope this experience will be interesting and helpful for the volunteer.

Anyone interested in taking part is asked to contact Dr. Warren Aitken, Assistant Professor or Dr. T. F. Smith, Director, Psychology Department.