Cal State's Gay students are conducting meetings all campus every Thursday at 8:00 p.m. Off campus? one wonders as he reads. The answer is obvious- protection of Gay students from Cal State's Administrators. The Gay Students Union is the brand child of thee many Gay students on campus who feel a vehicle necessary for expressing Gay protest. G.S.U.'s purpose is to increase awareness amongst those who are Gay and to educate non-Gay's in the field of Homosexuality.

Our activities for the preparation of the academic year includes a Gay Pride Week to be held in late March. Possible speakers include Tristan Capote, Jeff Bean — speaker on Gay prisoners. Jan Osebus on Lesbianism; and Morris King. Some (clicks under consideration are "The Queen," "Boys in the Band," and Some of Your Best Friends.

Other activities include a drag show in the lower commons during lunch and Gay-Straight Rap Radio during the fifth floor of the library. Climaxing the week will be a dance with a guest appearance of Sylvester. All indications promise to a very fruitful week.

G.S.U. is presently investigating the conditions for Gay prisoners in San Bernardino County prison and establishing a Gay Line for the Gay community in San Bernardino. Results from our previous meeting in G.S.U.'s own motto— "Come Fly Away With Cal Gay." Accused of this lack of school spirit or campus involvement cannot be directed at G.S.U.

Everyone is welcome to G.S.U.'s first Gay-Straight Rap in P.S. 107, Tuesday, February 4, 1974 (twelve room.

Further information on G.S.U.'s meeting location and procedures will be obtained from Richard Beauchene in Trailer SC-Extension 516.

Let's Get the CLEF

Open Letter To All Concerned

I would like to bring to your attention the possible further discussion at the Statewide level, information about the College Level Examination Program (CLEF) test. This test is a Credit-By-Examination test designed by the Carnegie Foundation to replace the original College equivalency General Educational Development (GED) test. This CLEF test has been administered by the United States Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) directly to the Armed Forces since 1965. College credit is awarded to those who score in five area examinations of general educational subjects counting six units each. This test is now accepted at over 1,000 colleges and universities across the country including most of the "Dry League" schools and all nine campuses of the University of California, but not in the State College System. Their is an obvious reason why it should not be accepted. After World War II another group of veterans took the GED test and returned college credit for it. The CLEF test has been accepted for validity than the GED and was designed specifically to

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Veteran's Office of Cal State publishes a newsletter that is sent to all veterans attending Cal-State. Usually the newsletter contains good news on how a Veteran can insure that his State benefits will arrive on time or how many units constitute full time attendance.

The January newsletter that was handed to all Veterans during registration contained an article by one Captain Knromenhook that asked all former servicemen to consider reenlisting into the National Guard and becoming a weekend warrior. The Infantry Captain tells about all of the monetary gains that can be had for just a few hours of your time each weekend.

Sgt. Pete does not tell you that once you put your name on the dotted line you're back into the same machine that took all your constitutional rights away once before. If the Veteran's Office is really concerned with the well

Organic Consciousness

John Whitehair

Organic Consciousness is an abstract idea that means that human beings should try to be aware of their earthly heritage. At one time life was very simple and there was no pollution or any other actions that would disrupt the environment.

People of this early time period were more concerned with making a living than keeping up with the Joneses. Along came some people who believed that it was good and proper to make large sums of money at the expense of others. These people searched every avenue in their never-ending battle to convince the population that their ideas were more concern with making a living than keeping up with the Joneses. They tried to make us believe that the more money we had the more important we would be. This is how we were taught to think and it has caused us to waste energy in order to have more money.

The only tools you should need to conserve water, energy and soap are a screwdriver and maybe a small valve at its base. The stove for fear of blowing up the lights on your stove and oven. The cans will have to be replaced every couple of days, but for the additional matches you use, the annual gas bill will more than pay for this service.

Recently I overheard the comment that I heard. "How is it that people are so interested in making more money at the expense of others?" I must agree that this statement is true. The population has been brainwashed into accepting these crazy ideas. People of this early time period believed that it was good and proper to make large sums of money, at the expense of others. These people searched every avenue in their never-ending battle to convince the population that their ideas were more concern with making a living than keeping up with the Joneses.

Physical Plant Goes Back to 5 Days

In August of 73 the Physical Plant servicing Cal State San Bernardino began its experimental four day work week program. On August 28, after a six month trial run, they returned to the regular five day shifts. There were two basic reasons for the return, according to the Supervisor of Building Tradesmen Andy Maurel. One was that the “staggered” shift resulted in an unbalanced distribution of workers. Mondays through Thursdays were the with 8 employees on hand—but Fridays saw only three workers available to service the entire college.

Secondly, the four-day, ten hour per day shift required that the workers begin at six in the morning—unbearable for some because there is little light at that hour, but also since the supervisors’ shift does not start until eight. Thus there were two unsupervised hours at the beginning of each work day. Finally, though a poll of the employees revealed the majority of workers preferred the four day week, the school’s administration felt the four day shift was not conducive to the utmost in efficiency. They felt there were no benefits to be obtained from the experimental shift which were not obtained by the conventional schedule.

ZPG Needs Support

The Zero Population Growth organization has had literally zero growth in its San Bernardino-Riverside county chapter. According to Ms. Sandra H. George, the area’s coordinator, there has not been a successful meeting held in this area for well over a year. The reason is simple—the attendance at these meetings has been so low that the San Bernardino-Riverside chapter has been declared “inactive.” Odd when one realizes that many of the problems this area, in addition to other cities, are directly related to what ZPG is all about—population. Many of these problems—pollution, food shortages, rising costs coupled with diminishing produce—may in part be traced back to the crisis of overpopulation. Why then such a curious lack of interest in ZPG? An interesting question indeed, perhaps one all of us should consider. If you have difficulty in arriving at a satisfactory answer, maybe you should consider getting in touch with the ZPG people in this vicinity. You may write them at 1563 Riverside Avenue, Riverside 92502, if you have any comments, questions or ideas pertaining to their organization.
