U.S. EDUCATION RESEARCH GRANT TRANSFERRED TO CSCSB FOUNDATION

A research project originally granted through Michigan State University has recently been transferred to the CSCSB Foundation.

Rosaria Bulgarella, project director for the $110,000 U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare grant, has established a Human Learning Center in San Bernardino which will continue the research begun one and a half years ago in Michigan.

Titled "Facilitation of Cognitive Development Among Children with Learning Deficits," the purpose of the research is to induce number readiness in retarded children by training them to attain certain abilities which are necessary for understanding numbers, according to Dr. Bulgarella.

Approximately 100 educable retarded and 100 trainable retarded school children from the San Bernardino area, ages six to 12, are involved in the program which tests and trains children in special education school classes for certain abilities and examines their

PROUTY AND STANTON NAMED TO CSC ADMISSIONS COUNCIL

H. Stephen Prouty, Associate Dean of Admissions and Records, and Gordon Stanton, Associate Professor of Education, have been named by Chancellor Dumke to a newly-established California State Colleges Admissions Council.

The council has been formed for the purpose of revamping the state college system's admissions policies. Sixteen members will meet to begin evaluating the present admissions policies throughout the 19 state colleges and recommend changes.

"One of the things we might consider would be the establishment of a central computer data bank that would tell us how many students are applying and how many duplicate applications we actually have," Dean Prouty said.

The board is part of the phase-in of a "common admissions" program for all of the 19 campuses.
RESEARCH GRANT (continued) performances on math tests later.

At the learning center assisting Dr. Bulgarella are: a project coordinator, two graduate assistants from UCR, two students from CSCSB and a secretary. The center is located at 3274 N. "E" St., Suite D., San Bernardino. It is expected that work on the project will continue through 1971.

Dr. Bulgarella, who received her M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in experimental psychology, is the wife of Dominic Bulgarella, Assistant Professor of Sociology at CSCSB.

CSCSB EXPERIMENTS DESCRIBED IN CHEMISTRY JOURNAL

Research conducted by chemistry students and faculty during the past four years is described in an article by Ralph Petrucci and Lee Kalbus in the Journal of Chemical Education, leading international publication in the field. The students assisted in developing quantitative analysis techniques which were incorporated into G.S. 125 and 126. Normally these experiments are not attempted with beginning students. The professors believed the techniques are the best way to get to the heart of basic concepts of chemistry. Students recognized in the article for their assistance are William Woerz, Michael Tallman, David Randolph and James Bishop.
