UCR Official Receives New Title

Robert Nava, who has served as the University of California, Riverside’s liaison with local, state and elected officials for nine years, has been named assistant vice chancellor for governmental and community relations, a new title that recognizes the increased scope of the work his office performs.

Among the programs which Nava’s office has instituted is the University/Eastside Community Collaborative, a partnership between UCR, Riverside Unified School District, the city of Riverside and community groups and private companies to serve the needs of at-risk youth in Riverside’s lower-income Eastside community. The program was featured at the President’s Summit for America’s Future in Philadelphia in 1997 and was one of the programs cited in Riverside’s designation as one of the nation’s ten best cities in 1998.

“Those of us who have worked with Mr. Nava recognize his commitment to our campus and community. I can personally attest to the admiration in which he is held at every level of government,” he said.

In other community involvement, Nava has served on the Riverside Unified School District Board of Education since 1990. He is also a member of the city of Riverside’s Community Relations Commission and an adjunct professor in the Chicano studies department at California State University, Fullerton.

Our Lady of Guadalupe Shrine, Riverside

La Gran Fiesta Ranchera, Riverside’s largest and longest running parish Fiesta, will be held on August 1st and 2nd 1998, Saturday and Sunday respectively. The festivities will commence at 12:00 noon and end at 11:00 p.m. both days. There will be an admission charge of $4.50 for adults and children under 12 years of age will be admitted free. The event will be held at the Fiesta grounds, 4525 Victoria Avenue, Riverside, California.

The two-day typical Mexican fiesta will feature live entertainment by well-known artists led by Los Hermanos Villalobos directly from Mexico, Mariachi Los Halcones, Juan Manual Gonzales and other local singers. The event will also include other bands and conjuntos. There will be special presentations by some wonderful Ballet Folklorico groups including the Ballet de San Juan and the Avila Ballet Folklorico from our parish, as well as other groups from the area. Besides music, there will be a variety of “homemade” Mexican “antojitos” such as tacos, pozole, taquitos, gorditas, enchiladas, burritos, churros, etc.

The date was December 8, 1929 and the entire Eastside community of Riverside was gathered on the corner of Ninth and Park, grandparents, parents, youth of all ages, the girls choir trained by the Carmelite Sisters, a band that traveled all the way from Corona. Everyone was dressed in their Sunday best, and it was a beautiful day. This was the moment of anticipation in which many had patiently waited for a long time.

This momentous occasion was the placing of the cornerstone that would eventually become Our Lady of Guadalupe Shrine. This was a proud day for the people who would Continued on page 2
The History of La Gran Fiesta Ranchera

La Gran Fiesta Ranchera will be celebrating its 42nd year of fund-raising effort for Our Lady of Guadalupe Shrine. The first fiesta was initiated in 1956 for the parish and the Immaculate Conception Academy.

The first fiestas were small affairs with minimal booths and few people involved and eventually it has grown into the biggest annual event in the Riverside region. The current event is the fund-raising effort for the total parish.

The first fiesta chairperson was Jess Carlos, one of Riverside's foremost activist (Carlos community involvement was recognized with a bronze plaque which is located at the City of Riverside Library). He also served in 1967-68.

The Loya brothers, Prax, Robert and Henry have served as chairpersons or co-chairpersons since 1975.

Mary (Jenny) Barbarian Zaragoza, who is currently employed at the Centro de Niños, is typical of the families (13 girls and 3 brothers) in the Eastside. Barbarian was a small child when the family helped in the Fiesta. She was queen in 1967, her sisters, Jenny, in 1969 and Terry in 1981.

Each year a work crew constructs the booths and other preparatory work. The work crew normally consists of Porfy Luera, Rick Willis, Tony Lopez, Jess Martinez, Paul Martinez, Joel Blaine, Joe Avila, Ray Perez and Ray Buriel.

Nati Fuente, whose family has resided in the Eastside for decades, recalls of one individual, Juanita Contreras, who worked at a booth every single year until her recent death.

In a time capsule found behind a commemorative marker on October, 1979, was an original document which showed the 81 registered parishioners that attended the church cornerstone ceremony in 1929.

We feel honored to participate in the fiestas every year for the good of the Church and community. It is our duty to get involved.

Prax Loya has served as chair or co-chair for 18 years in La Gran Fiesta Ranchera.

Robert Loya has served as chair or co-chair for nine years in La Gran Fiesta Ranchera.

Mrs. Maurelia Flores has been the only woman chair of La Gran Fiesta Ranchera.

Jesse Carlos, above, in 1956, was the first chair of La Gran Fiesta Ranchera.

eventually worship in their traditional ways, their own language, religious traditions and social customs and just as important, the site would be in the heart of the Mexican Colony of Riverside!

The crowd of joyful people were aware that this occasion was the beginning for sacrifice and financial strain, where myriad of accomplishments would be in order to successfully completion of this sacred project.

This goal was the culmination of an effort by a group of men who had the foresight and knowledge of the community's spiritual needs, the growth of the "Colonia" and the necessity for planning and building a church.

The building committee was composed of a group of dedicated residents, the "abuelitos" of the area: Jose Quiroz, Felix Vasquez, Lazarro Vasquez, Proxepedez Arevalo, Cruz Barajas, Ambrosio Carrillo, Ramon Salazar, Jose Lopez, Limon Perez and Canuto Garcia, and others whose names were inadvertently not documented.

The concept for a new church was started in 1925, when the people from the Eastside walked to St. Francis de Sales for Mass. Permission was granted by the Diocese of Los Angeles with the understanding that the church would start as a mission working out of St. Francis.

The people named the new church Our Lady of Guadalupe at the time of the cornerstone ceremony in 1929, however, the diocese ordered the name be changed to St. Francis of Assisi, in the wishes of an important contributor to the church's construction.

The people of the parish did not give up, and on December 12, 1957, the Feast Day of Our Lady, the church was rededicated as Our Lady of Guadalupe Shrine, the Patron Saint of all. This last occurred in 1957-58.

The classification of being a mission remained a controversial issue, to say the least. By 1935, the progress of the "parish" outgrew the missionary status and a residence priest was assigned.

The church hall was constructed in the late 1930s and the rectory was built in the 1940s. Realizing the need for the education of the parish children, Immaculate Conception Academy was established on Victoria Avenue. The additional need to finance the Academy, the parish families initiated the La Gran Fiesta Ranchera, located at 4525 Victoria, the current Centro de Niño.

This year will be the 42nd Annual Fiesta on August 1st and 2nd at the Day Care on Victoria Avenue.

Bob Molina, committed union official memorialized for a lifetime of service

Bob Molina, 60, President of the Teamsters Local 63, who died on July 7, 1998 and was memorialized on Sunday, July 12, 1998

They came from California and Arizona, over 300 Teamster members, to pay their last respects to a fellow Teamster who was considered one of the most committed union officials in the union movement.

On Sunday, July 12, a memorial service was conducted for Bob Molina at the Teamsters Union Local 63, Rialto. Molina passed away on July 7 of cancer.

Father George Schultze, a Jesuit priest and authority on unions, who recently completed his thesis on "The Relationship Between Labor and the Catholic Church" at the University of Southern California, gave the invocation.

Randi Cammack, master of ceremony and Secretary-Treasurer of Local 63, spoke of Molina as a person with integrity, courage, family values and loyalty to the union members. "Mo was dedicated to the ideals of the union. He fought for our members with every strength of his body until the very last. My best friend of many years, he was a loyal and true friend of every Teamster.

Molina, a Teamsters member for 36 years, rose through the ranks. He served as shop steward, business agent, and in 1993 and 1995 was overwhelmingly elected president.

He served on the executive and grievance committees, negotiating teams, chief negotiator of the Pacific Southwest Bakery Drivers, appointed by the IBT to serve on the National Bakery Policy Committee and on the Bakery Trust.

"Bob Molina was good for the members of his union and he was good for the Slater Brothers family."

Jack Brown, Slater Bros. President

Assemblyman Joe Baca, who knew Molina for many years, stated: "Bob Molina fought for the underdog. "He was always concern for the dignity of the working men and women and understood the importance of every individual as a human being and communicated these noble feelings."

Baca had previously presented a lengthy State Assembly Proclamation, unanimously passed, to Molina at his home, stating the highlights of his career and noting that "Bob Molina be honored for a lifetime of service to his nation, community, the cherished Teamsters Union and beloved family, and commended on his outstanding qualities that included hard work, concern, and dedication that has enhanced the lives of many people who have had the pleasure of his association."

Baca remarked to Mrs. Molina that at the time of Molina's death, the Assembly adjourned in his memory.

"My father was very good to his family. He was always there for us. We are going to miss him very much at our Sunday family functions."

Lori Cadena, daughter

Norm Holman, a mentor for many Teamsters including Molina, spoke about the trials and tribulations and "the learning process" during the early days. "Molina's greatest asset was his determination and commitment to get the best for the members," he said.

Mrs. Barbara Molina releasing a dove during the Memorial Service on Sunday, July 12, to her husband, Bob Molina, President of the Teamsters Local 63.

The park behind the Teamsters administration office has been named the "Bob Molina Recreation Park."

Molina and his wife, Barbara, were married for 32 years, and were the parents of nine children and 14 grand children.

San Bernardino City Unified School District Billing Medi-Care for Services

Since 1995, the San Bernardino City Unified School District has been billing Medi-Cal for health services provided by the school district to students. Funds obtained from Medi-Cal must be reinvested in the enhancement of health, mental health, and social services for school children and their families.

The division's efficiency and expansion of the federal Social Security Act.

The program is funded in part through an employer can choose a plan to provide adequate health insurance for children and teenagers of low income families who earn too much income to qualify for Medi-Cal, but not enough to afford health care insurance.

Blue Cross Provides Coverage for Uninsured Children

WOODLAND HILLS, CA - Nearly 600,000 uninsured children and teenagers throughout California will now have access to low cost health care coverage through Blue Cross of California, thanks to Healthy Families, a new state program which provides low cost health insurance for children and teenagers of low income families who earn too much income to qualify for Medi-Cal, but not enough to afford health care insurance.

Blue Cross, the California subsidiary of WellPoint Health Networks Inc. (NYSE:WLP), was awarded participation in California's Healthy Families program, and is the only health plan to participate in all 58 California counties. In 36 counties - nearly 62 percent of the state - Blue Cross was designated as the Community Plan, offering the highest percentage of safety net providers of the plans available.

Healthy Families will be administered through Blue Cross' Medi-Cal Programs division, which was established in 1994 to service Medi-Cal contracts. The division's efficiency and strong provider networks have contributed to the program's rapid growth to more than 400,000 members.

The plan will function as a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) in counties where a Blue Cross Medi-Cal plan has already been established, and an Exclusive Provider Organization (EPO) plan, using Blue Cross' extensive Provider Buyer Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) network in other counties.

California was one of the first states in the nation to enact legislation to implement the federal Children's Health Insurance Program in the form of Healthy Families. Under the program, families earning less than 200 percent of the poverty level and without health coverage through an employer can choose a plan combination from a list of health, dental and vision insurers in their county that contract with the state.

Healthy Families offers no deductibles or co-pays for preventative care or hospital stays, and $5 co-payments for doctor visits and prescriptions. The program is funded in part from tobacco taxes through an expansion of the federal Social Security Act.
Cuomo Tells Conference That Empowerment Zones Succeed in Sparking $4 Billion in Investment and Creation of about 20,000 Jobs

WASHINGTON - Empowerment Zones and Enterprise Communities created by the Clinton Administration and a success story because they have generated an estimated $4 billion in private investment, helped create about 20,000 jobs, and helped provide education and job training to nearly 45,000 people, Housing Secretary Andrew Cuomo told a conference today.

Cuomo was the luncheon speaker at the White House Community Empowerment Conference, which brought together about 2,000 local government officials, representatives of community development groups, business executives and others from around the nation to discuss ways to revitalize economically distressed communities and create jobs. The theme of the conference, which began with a morning keynote address by Vice President Gore, was "Opening Doors to the New Economy."

"Empowerment Zones and Enterprise Communities are transforming some of our poorest neighborhoods in America and transforming the lives of some of the poorest Americans," Cuomo said in remarks prepared for the conference. "Our mission to build healthier cities for the 21st Century is a mission to build a healthier American for the century ahead. Failure is not an option. We must succeed."

In addition to discussing job creation and economic revitalization initiatives, those attending the conference came to learn more about President Clinton's proposal seeking $1.5 billion in the 1999 federal budget for the creation of 15 new urban Empowerment Zones in America's inner cities, along with five new rural Empowerment Zones. The Zones use performance grants and tax incentives to stimulate local economies and boost employment.

Many of those at the conference were from communities seeking designation of certain neighborhoods as one of the new Zones.

Another proposal in the President's budget hat was discussed at the White House Conference was for $400 million in grants for a Community Empowerment Fund to stimulate an estimated $2 billion in private investment in America's cities to create and retain an estimated 280,000 jobs.

In January this year, Los Angeles and Cleveland were designated full Empowerment Zones by the Administration. Zones receive a higher level of benefits than Enterprise Communities.

The President's State of the Cities report, issued last month, says Clinton Administration policies have brought important progress to our cities, but much more remains to be done. The report says urban America is rebounding and in the best shape in a decade but still faces the decades old triple threat of concentrated poverty, shrinking populations and middle class flight.

The State of the Cities identifies three critical challenges for cities: creating jobs for low-skilled workers, improving schools, and increasing the supply of affordable housing. It says these challenges arise from what it calls opportunity gaps dividing cities and suburbs: the jobs gap, the education gap, and the housing gap.

"We need to fulfill the promise of America - opportunity for all on an equal playing field," Cuomo said. "The American Dream belongs to everyone in our nation - no matter where they are born, no matter where they live, no matter how poor they are, no matter what their color, no matter what their ethnic heritage."

Latino Group: Pay Us, Ontario

Reprinted from the Daily Bulletin on July 16, 1998

ONTARIO - A youth soccer group, demanding $1 million in counseling services for 260 affected kids, a public apology from the city and 10 hours of city cable TV time.

"As you are aware, our float was the only Latino float participant and the only float deleted from the coverage," Union Guerro Youth Soccer League representative Evelyn Figueroa told the city. "Our parent(s) were gravely disappointed. Our children are traumatized and require some restoration."

The city claims the league violated parade policy by politicizing its float. Children riding on a flatbed trailer held signs, "Voto Latino," which had been inadvertently cut out.

"I don't understand what they're upset at. What's the issue?" he said. "If anything the city should be upset. That has nothing to do with race, ethnicity, religion or gender. This has to do with parade regulations that they chose to violate."

During the parade broadcast, a woman stepped in front of the camera and blocked the shot of the soccer float and the 100 children on it, said Yolanda Holguin, chairwoman of Voto Latino.

Mexican-American Political Association National Vice President Steven Skropis, had been inadvertently cut out of the cablecast in past years.

"I don't understand what they're upset at. What's the issue?" he said. "If anything the city should be upset. That has nothing to do with race, ethnicity, religion or gender. This has to do with parade regulations that they chose to violate."

The Republican float "did not symbolize" and "we're free expression right, too. He wonders how the city can avoid controversial issues like, "people may have misinterpreted what Voto Latino meant."

Holguin expressed outrage at comments that some Anglos won't vote, "if our kids are going to be killing each other's kids, I would have a problem with it."

Figueroa said children have a free expression right, too. He wonders how the city can avoid controversial issues like, "people may have misinterpreted what Voto Latino meant."

"They need to realize the Latino community is voting. It's a sleeping giant."
