Nicole Bustamante logs 5000 volunteer hours with Sheriff’s Explorers

On June 2,1998, Nicole Bustamante appeared before the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors to be honored with a board resolution from Second District Supervisor Jon Mikels, when she recently completed 5,000 hours of volunteer work with the Sheriff Department’s Explorers! In addition, Bustamante received a resolution from Assemblyman Joe Baca, who commended the young student for her voluntary work.

Bustamante, who attended Rancho Cucamonga High School and in her final year at Chaffey College, has been with the Explorers for six years, following in the steps of her sister, Dominique.

“Since I was a little girl, I always wanted to be in law enforcement work and that’s why I joined the Sheriff’s Explorers,” she said.

Her proud father is Arthur.

Assemblyman Joe Baca's Primary Victory Statement

"I want to thank the voters of the 32nd Senatorial District for selecting me as their Democratic nominee tonight. And I want to thank my many volunteers and contributors for all their incredible efforts."

"My primary opponent, Paul Avila, ran a decent campaign for which I congratulate him. And although the general election will be hard-fought, there is no reason that campaign cannot be conducted in a dignified and decent manner also, I am calling on my general election opponent to join me in respecting the intelligence of our voters by campaigning on legislative solutions to such problems as education, public safety, fair taxation economic development, and medical care.

"Let's take the high road in this general election by discussing the issues that make a difference to the people of the Inland Empire. And let us conduct ourselves in such a manner that in November we can look back and be proud of the campaign we have run."

Congressman Brown received notification last week that the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Offices will be relocated to the City of San Bernardino. The eight-year lease has been approved at 290 N. "D" Street, and occupancy is scheduled for December 1998. Approximately 200 people are currently employed at the Iowa Street location in Riverside.

"We are glad to add the IRS office to the complement of federal agencies in the City of San Bernardino," said Brown. "Having IRS on D Street will strengthen the economic base of the downtown area."

Earlier this year, Congressman Brown and Lewis wrote a joint letter to the IRS adding San Bernardino to the search area for a possible new agency in San Bernardino County.

IRS Moves to San Bernardino

The City of San Bernardino, in partnership with the National Orange Show will sponsor a free dump day for City residents on Saturday, June 20, from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. at the National Orange Show, east parking lot located at 600 South Arrowhead Avenue. The dump day is for city residents only, proof of residency will be required.

Residents are limited to one truckload and two tires per household. Hazardous waste and commercial waste will not be accepted. For more information and additional rules call 384-5335.

"This is unprecedented. History was made yesterday when California voters elected three Latinos to appear on the November ballot seeking statewide office," said Guillermo Rodriguez, Executive Director of Latino Issues Forum. "Not since 1871 when Romualdo Pacheco was elected Lt. Governor has a Latino held statewide office. Now California voters will have three chances to make history," added Mr. Rodriguez.

"The Giant is awake! Fifty percent of all major party candidates for statewide office and 16% of all major party candidates for State Assembly are Latino. Latino Assembly candidates have spread all over, no longer are just electing Latinos from East LA, but from places like San Luis Obispso and Monterey. Eight of the 25 Latinos seeking an Assembly seat are Republican and three of them are in safe conservative districts - Latino politics are changing" commented Mr. Rodriguez.

"The overall turnout in the Primary elections was low. However, our estimates show that Latino voter turnout was historic for a primary election. In 1994 Latinos were 9% of the total primary vote. Yesterday, we estimate that 13% of the vote was Latino — a 44% increase" said Luis M. Arteaga, Senior Policy Analyst and Associate Director of Latino Issues Forum. "Our goal between now and November is to increase Latino registered voters from 2.3 million to 3 million," Mr. Arteaga announced.

"Latino voters denounced Proposition 227. A LA Times Exit Poll demonstrated that 63% of Latino voters opposed this measure. This confirms early polling of Latino voters by LIF which showed that Latinos voters do not want to end bilingual education as erroneous media reports have stated," said Roberto P. Haro, President of the Hispanic Coalition on Higher Education.

The seven State Senate candidates by districts are: Deborah Ortiz, 6, Liz Figueroa,10, Richard Alarcon, 20, Richard Polanco, 22, Hilda Solis, 24, Martha Escutia, 30 and Joe Baca, 32.

Eighteen AVID Seniors Recognized for Outstanding Achievement

SAN BERNARDINO - Eighteen seniors from San Bernardino and Riverside counties were recognized this month as students of the year in the Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) program.

The program is sponsored by the San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools (SBCSS) and the Riverside County Office of Education.

Five of the 18 seniors honored also received scholarship funds for their outstanding achievement. Receiving $2,000 scholarships were Jennifer Lim, Corona High and "Sam" Saroeum Ngeth, Colton High. Medical Technology:
Dr. Patricia Pompa, D.D.S. of Rialto practices latest techniques in painless dentistry

Dr. Patricia Pompa is one of a few dentists in the area that specializes in advanced micro air abrasion technology, a procedure that utilizes a newly developed and FDA approved Kreativ Air Jet 2000. According to Pompa, who has practiced dentistry since 1980, the new technique eliminates the conventional drilling of the enamel of the tooth. She said that in most cases of early detection, 85% of small cavities can be corrected with this new technology.

"This new procedure is especially helpful with young children who are afraid of the dentist. There is no need for injection of Novocain/Lydocaine to numb the tooth and surrounding area," said Pompa.

The procedure uses high pressure of micro air abrasion and a special abrasive power to remove the decay on the tooth. The procedure is painless due to only a feeling of fine jet of air, which pleases the patient. Using this procedure also saves/re- tains more of the tooth structure, which prolongs the life and durability of the tooth. "We don't waste the enamel and tooth structure and this leaves a stronger and healthier tooth."

Many patients, stated Pompa, choose white composite fillings over alloy silver fillings for appearances and health. The procedure is an advantage by etching the surrounding surfaces with newer resins typed filling and bonds more securely to the tooth.

Pompa practices family and children dentistry, cosmetic dentistry, dentures and accepts insurance and union plans.

Pompa attended the University of California, Riverside, for undergraduate studies. She graduated with a degree in dentistry from the University of California, Los Angeles and appointed to Loma Linda University for one year of residency.

Dr. Patricia Pompa has her office at the Rialto Family Dental Center, 228 W. Baseline Ave., Rialto, (909), 874-3210.

The County of San Bernardino Board of Supervisors recently appointed Elias S. Cortez to the position of Chief Information Officer, Information Services Department, whose responsibility is to provide the overall computer communications to individual departments throughout the county area.

"Mr. Cortez comes to the Chief Information Officer position after an extensive nationwide search. He brings to the table considerable cutting-edge knowledge and skills of a technical nature, which will serve this County well as it faces the challenges of the year 2000. We are very pleased and proud to have him with us," said Jim Hlavek, County Administrative Officer.

Cortez stated that computer technology is changing very rapidly every year and organizations have to meet the challenges of updating the systems.

"In order to prepare for the 21st century, our department has to analyze and plan, in terms of the direction the county is headed. We are responsible for the development of goals and objectives that will guide our department in planning for the future.

"Our department’s challenge is to establish those strategies in computer technology, methodologies and support services to meet the demands of future services to be provided to our customers, the county departments."

IEHP named Community Provider Plan for new Healthy Families Program

SAN BERNARDINO, CA. - The State of California has designated Inland Empire Health Plan (IEHP) to be the Community Provider Plan (CPP) in Riverside and San Bernardino counties for Healthy Families, the new federally funded health insurance program for low-income children.

Healthy Families is designed to cover children whose parents earn too much to qualify for Medi-Cal, but not enough to buy insurance on their own.

Initial budget will fund affordable health care coverage for some 580,000 uninsured children of California’s working poor. Families with income between 100 percent and 200 percent of the federal poverty level (presently $16,450 and $32,900 respectively for a family of four) are eligible to enroll their children in Healthy Families for a modest monthly premium.

Monthly Healthy Families premiums for families with income up to 150 percent of the federal poverty level (FPL) in Riverside and San Bernardino counties will range from $4 per child to $18 maximum for two or more children enrolled with IEHP as the Community Provider Plan. Those who enroll in pay would pay $7 per one of the eight other commercial plans approved for Healthy Families child up to $14 maximum for two or more children.

For families with income above 150 percent, but less than 200 percent of the federal poverty level, monthly Healthy Families premiums will be just $6 per child with IEHP up to $18 maximum for two or more children.

"IEHP is honored to be the Community Provider Plan for the Inland Empire," said IEHP’s Chief Executive Officer Richard Bruno. "The Community Provider Plan designation is awarded to the plan in each county with the greatest percentage of traditional and "safety net" doctors, clinics, and hospitals in its network."

Using drug asset forfeiture funds, Ontario Police Dept. has funded the PeaceBuilders Program for 840 children at Euclid Elementary School in Ontario. PeaceBuilders is a proactive and effective approach to preventing youth violence.

In addition to Judge Morris' role on the bench of San Bernardino’s drug court, he has worked extensively with statewide and national associations for the support and development of drug court programs in many other parts of the country. In July of this year, he is scheduled to carry the same message overseas to Great Britain and, later, will be presenting the concept to the United Nations.

On Tuesday, June 2, 1998 at 11:00 a.m. Fifth District County Supervisor Jerry Eaves acknowledged Judge Morris' impressive record of success in the intervention, treatment and rehabilitation of drug offenders. Judge Morris has gained nationwide attention. In fact it has recently been designated as one of the Nation's seven “mentor courts”, providing guidance and direction to the more than 400 other drug court programs in existence across the country.

Inland Agency is the first nonprofit to introduce the program in California. The U.S. Centers for Disease Control has selected the Inland Agency's PeaceBuilders Model to be considered as one of the five best practices to prevent youth violence in the country.

PeaceBuilders uses proven and effective research-based procedures and techniques to change child behavior to become more resilient, thereby reducing the chances of gang involvement and drug use. Studies show that the concepts in PeaceBuilders could reduce youth violent crime by as much as 50% within five to ten years. The program teaches children to Praise People™, Give Up Put Downs™, Seek Wise People™, Notice Hurts™ and Right Wrongs™.

Educational Technology JPA Moves Forward on Network

SAN BERNARDINO - The San Bernardino County Educational Technology Joint Powers Authority (SCBET JPA) today made the decision to rebid a project to install a high performance wide area network for educational technology that will link all of the 448 schools in San Bernardino County.

The SCBET JPA is investing $25 million for a telecommunications management system that was secured from the California State Allocation Board in September 1996 on behalf of all 33 county school districts, in the network. The JPA hopes to leverage the 25% million to gain additional resources for the network through the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Universal E-rate discount program.

According to Loren Sanchez, superintendent of Upland Unified and president of the JPA Executive Committee, "The high performance network will provide a digital transport system capable of conveying voice, video and data at a speed and band width which will accommodate an estimated educational technology needs for the next five years county wide."

At its April 13 meeting, the SCBET JPA made the decision to reject all bids submitted from vendors to install the high performance network after protests were made regarding the bid licensing and award.

After analyzing the protest, conferring with the Contractors State License Board and upon advice from JPA legal counsel, the Executive Committee decided to reissue the bid for the wide area network portion of the project.

Due to the popularity of last year's Citizen's Academy, the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department is offering a second academy to acquaint citizens with the operations of the Department.

This second "A Journey Behind The Badge" is much the same as the first - a series of classes: taking place one evening (Wednesday) per week for 10 weeks. It is an overview of the Department including officer training, jail, dispatch and patrol operations. Attendees will tour the Sheriff's Regional training Center, headquarters, correctional facilities, aviation, dispatch and a local Sheriff's station.

The classes are an opportunity to learn about everything from the hiring process for sworn officers to the ways crimes are investigated and why certain information cannot be released before trial. Citizens will learn about the legal constraints under which the jails must operate, as well as overcrowding and early-release issues. Another topic will be how to avoid becoming a victim of crime.

This is a "hands-on" program. Attendees will be invited to participate in scenarios involving use of force training, building searching and the actual shooting of firearms. They will tour the Emergency Vehicle Operations Center (EVEC), and will have an opportunity to participate in scenarios such as traffic accident avoidance, a simulated pursuit and the "skid pan," where vehicles slide on water.

The free course concludes with a de-briefing and graduation. A slide show will be presented, showing students as they progress through the academy.

Attendance is by invitation. Members of the media are invited to apply to attend the entire program for their own learning experience, or to attend a specific part of the academy for news coverage purposes.

The course is coordinated by the Sheriff's Department's training division. Captain Greg Kyritsis, commander of the Sheriff's Regional training Center, will be available for interviews, as well as Corporal Troy Cook, training center instructor.

NOTE: the first class (July 22) will be held at the Sheriff's Training Academy, north campus, 18000 Instruction Road, Glen Helen.
