Friday Bulletin
Mort Sahl
At Gym
Tonight

Students may still pick up their free tickets to the Mort Sahl performance, according to Doris Scott of the Activities office (S-116).

The renowned comedian, who is an astute observer and commentator on politics, will zero in on today's American political scene.

The show will begin at 7:30 tonight in the College Gymnasium with Folksinger Alicia Cory.

Tickets will be available at the door at $2.50 each.

... ANOTHER POLEISH STORY

A long-range plan between the College and the Southern California Edison Company was realized last Monday when the remaining power pole was removed from campus.

Workmen under the most recent site development project and the Edison Company placed all electric power lines underground, allowed by the power shut-down last weekend.

This is part of the general campus beautification program developed under the office of Vice President for Administration.

TWO CANDIDATES TO APPEAR ON CAMPUS NEXT WEEK

Appearances by two political candidates are scheduled on campus next week, sponsored by the Political Science Department.

Talks by George Brown, former Congressman, seeking the Democratic nomination in the new 38th Congressional District, who will speak at 11 a.m. Monday, April 24, on the Fifth Floor of the Library, and Senator William Coombs, seeking re-election to the 20th Senatoral District, who will speak at 9 a.m., Friday, April 28, also on the Fifth Floor of the Library.

The public is invited to attend.
Favorite and flavorful recipes of the CSCSB Faculty Wives have been compiled in the form of "College Courses," a cookbook now on sale in the Bookstore for $3 donation (tax deductible) per copy.

Proceeds from the sale of the cookbook go toward the scholarship fund and other community activities of the Faculty Wives. Listed among the "prerequisite courses" are appetizers, canapes and soups. "Major and minor courses" include meats, poultry, seafood and vegetables.

The attractive plastic-covered book designed by Marilyn Pace, contains "extra-curricular," "elective" and "extension" courses, also. The manuscript was prepared by Antreen Pfau and Barbara Robinson, coordinated by Iluminada Kellers.

Other members of the cookbook committee are Donna Bas, Anne Crum, Kyla DeRemer, Joan Hatton, Jan Herold, Nancy Khare and Verla Thomas.

Counselors from high schools and area community colleges have been invited to attend conferences sponsored by the College. Next Thursday, April 27, the high school counselors will be on campus to learn about the latest plans for curricular changes and other programs of the college. On Thursday, May 4, the college counselors will meet.

Both conferences will begin at 1:30 p.m. with a tour of the Residence Halls and Library. Robert Blackey, Relations with Schools Officer, will serve as chairman for both conferences.

Local CSEA Chapter 184 has nominated the following slate of officers for 1972-73: president: Sharon Ward and Walt Kadyk; vice president: Barbara Nolte; treasurer: Susan Boynton and Bernard Higuera; secretary: Judy Meenan; and academic representative: Dominic Bulgarella. Ballots are expected to be distributed next week.

All children from 5 to 12 are invited to the Children's Art Fair, a fun-filled day where young hands will create wood projects, model in sand and clay, weave, paint on easels, murals, balloons and all kinds of gadgets.

The College event, part of the Fifth Arrowhead Allied Arts Festival, is sponsored by the Cal State Faculty Wives and will be held from 1 to 3:30 Saturday, April 29, in the Quad. A 10¢ fee for supplies for the children will be charged. Adults are invited to guided tours of the campus and stitchery demonstrations.
SPRING PLAY TO "The Revenger's Tragedy," described by Director William Slout as a "blood and thunder melodrama which has humor mixed with violent action," will open Friday, May 12, in the College's Little Theatre.

The 17th Century play by Cyril Tourneur is the third and last play in a season entitled "A Panorama of the English Theatre," and is the Spring production of the Players of the Pear Garden.

The cast is headed by Mike Tachia, Mike Stapleton, Dan Redfern. Supporting actors are Philip West, Muner Hanafi, Ron Albright, Ron Linares, Larry Brown, Barbara Nichols, Randi Stewart, Robert Elliott, Lori Capparelli, John Roth and Marvis Kisselburgh.

FRESHMEN INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN MAY CO. This year the May Co. of San Bernardino is extending membership to college and junior college freshmen in 1972-73 Young Adult Career Council program.

The project, to provide active business involvement for students interested in the many areas of business, will give those students selected to the board opportunity to communicate with the public through on-floor selling, modeling and an active community service program.

Students who are interested should contact Gladys Hubbard, S-118, for referral cards as soon as possible.
