Moser-James: AS President Or Not?

by Jeanne Houch

"cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better, a minimum of 7 units of academic credit each term while in office..."

The memo also states that "These requirements are independent of any additional institutional, student government, or student organization requirements.

Moser-James stated that the rules governing student officers are set in the AS Elections Code, which states that "students must meet the requirements of their organization to hold office..."

Pfau added, "and she was an excellent PawPrint editor. She has done a lot for this college, and the system..."
Free Lecture On White-Collar Crime

What's the number one crime category today? Not burglary, auto theft, or even rape, but white-collar crime.

Embezzlement, petty business theft, commercial fraud, and the like make up the bulk of the crime problem, according to Gilbert Geis, author of the best-selling book, "White-Collar Crime," who will speak here tomorrow at 8 p.m. in PS 10.

His topic will be "Respectable Crime and Respectable Criminals: White-Collar Crime."

In his book, Richard J. Bennecke, professor of social ecology at the University of California, Irvine, will examine the problems and reasons of white-collar crime, defined loosely as offenses committed by persons in government, business and the professions in their occupational roles.

His book, "White-Collar Crime," is considered the primary work in the field. He has published more than 200 articles, research papers and books in this area and has conducted research in England, Sweden and Australia.

He has studied at the University of Stockholm, Colgate University and Brigham Young University. He received his doctorate from the University of Wisconsin.

Students Wanted For Student Union Board Of Directors

The Student Union Board of Directors currently has two student vacancies on the Board and would like to invite interested students to apply for appointment to these positions. Applications may be obtained from the Associated Students Office, or the reception counter at the Student Union Building. Interested individuals should apply by May 30.

The Union Board of Directors develops policies and general guidelines for the effective and efficient operation of the Student Union. The total budget approximates $80,000 annually which supports the programs and functions of the Student Union.

If you are interested in gaining some first-hand knowledge regarding the intricate operation of a corporation, then pick up your application today. For additional information, please contact Richard J. Bennecke, Activities/Union Coordinator at the Student Union.

Campus Attacked! Police Chase Bovine Villains With Screaming Sirens

by Mark Kemenovich

During the early afternoon of Tuesday, May 8, Campus Police engaged in a cross country vehicular chase to catch a large herd of bovine villains.

The bull, known to the recipients of the attack as Tamayo said last week the best-selling book, "White-Collar Crime," who will speak here tomorrow at 8 p.m. in PS 10.

His topic will be "Respectable Crime and Respectable Criminals: White-Collar Crime."

PawPrint Visits Child Care Center

by Pattie Wagner

Last Friday morning, when everyone else was participating in the same "ho-hum" routine of attending classes, I set out with the PawPrint Undercover Agent, Dan Kopulsky and the well-known photographer, Miles Boyter to visit the CSCSB Child Care Center.

While Dan entertained some of the children (or vice versa) and Miles took pictures, I decided to be useful and find out some details about the Child Care Center. Here is what I discovered:

The Child Care Center primarily serves students at CSCSB. It allows single parents to have the opportunity to take classes. In addition, some of the members are children of faculty or staff, and some are children of the community.

Since the Center is state-funded, the majority of parents don't have to pay for the services. The amount of cost per family is based on income. The amount of income is the topic for the Career Planning and Placement Center. It is designed to provide students with an opportunity to talk informally with a person in a particular professional or career area. Freshmen through seniors are invited to participate in the Conversation. Questions will be welcomed.

Work For Uncle Sam

"Entry Level Positions in the Federal Government" is the topic for the Career Conversation on Wednesday, May 23. The event will be held in Student Union meeting rooms A and B beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Ada Halbrook from the Social Security Administration in San Bernardino will be the resource person. She has worked in various Federal office locations in including Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, and several California cities.

The questions she will be describing require a bachelor's degree but not advanced degrees such as the master's or doctorate. These are people-centered jobs requiring interaction with clients; and include managing one-to-one situations in which procedures and requirements are explained.

Most of these entry level positions begin at the GS 5 level, which currently is $10,507; the positions are part of a career ladder arrangement which goes to $17,532. There are no restrictions regarding academic major.

Halbrook is knowledgeable about the entire process including the PACE examination and related application details. This will be an excellent opportunity for students to become aware of federal career possibilities at the bachelor's degree level.

It is designed to provide students with an opportunity to talk informally with a person in a particular professional or career area. Meanwhile, Back In The AS Office . . .

They're On The "Horns Of A Dilemma"

You never would have guessed that the office of AS President was vacant (see "Moser-James: President Or Not?" page 1) if you had walked into the AS office last week. I'm sure that on our campus, Vice-President Bruce Jeter and Treasurer Pat Sweeney have no idea what's going on. AS President Monroe explained it like this: "As far as I know, there is no law that says students must be informed of an officer's ineligibility, although there are numerous laws protecting an officer's privacy."

"Usually when an officer is asked to resign, they resign," Monroe continued. "This sets off a sequence of events - the Vice-President becomes President, the Senate Pro-Tern becomes Vice-President - that is picked up by the press. In this case these things didn't happen." In other words, it is not only conceivable that students would never know why but never even know an officer was no longer eligible.

Moser-James was no longer president, except for a few administrative offices, because it was up to him to assume the office of presidency. Jeter has decided not to assume the position, and is calling himself "Acting President" and "Vice-President." Jeter says he didn't inform the AS officers or the press about the "problem" because he was expecting the Administration to change their position any day." He said the felt it would make it easier for the Administration to change sides if the added pressure of publicity was eliminated.

Since the PawPrint interview with Moser-James, the Senate and Cabinet were officially informed about the "problem." According to Jeter, it will be up to them to decide whether the AS office will operate as it has been doing the past few weeks, or whether the 1979-80 AS officers should come in early to take their positions.

Whether or not Moser-James has to be forcibly removed from her office in the Student Union at a later date, she should still be applauded for bringing to light an important problem with the eligibility requirements of the AS Elections Code.

The AS Elections Code is not in compliance with the Chancellor's memo on faculty and staff participation in campus activity. In other words, it is not only conceivable that students would never be informed of an officer's ineligibility, although there are numerous laws protecting an officer's privacy.

In other words, it is not only conceivable that students would never know why but never even know an officer was no longer eligible.

Jeter was the only person officially notified that Moser-James was no longer president, except for a few administrative offices, because it was up to him to assume the office of presidency. Jeter has decided not to assume the position, and is calling himself "Acting President" and "Vice-President." The AS Elections Code is not in compliance with the Chancellor's memo — be it policy or suggestion — and the people at the Chancellor's Office are giving out two different opinions on it anyway. Number one: somebody should make up their mind about what that memo really means, and Number two: they should inform our AS on their decision.

Everybody has a bad quarter now and than, perhaps with less excuse than Moser-James. Moser-James says she spends about 60 hours a week on the AS, and was on the road 21 days last quarter. Moser-James has been too competent a President for nothing good to come out of this mess.

—Jeanne Houck

in Support Of The GSU

Editor, the PawPrint:
Throughout this year, as well as previous years, the Gay Student Union has provided many beneficial programs for the campus community. Each quarter we have three or four meetings in which topics are discussed concerning gay men and women in our society. These topics encourage gay students, as well as gay staff and faculty, to express their views on gay lifestyles. Moreover, we can learn more about ourselves, and counteract the negative social biases we have been given. Gay men and women, as well as supportive non-gay students are encouraged to attend.

Although discussions entail much of our program, we also have sponsored other events and activities. For example, during the fall quarter, our efforts in the No On Proposition 6 campaign proved to be a rallying force for many students, faculty, and staff who were stirred by such threatening legislation. In the winter quarter, our special presentation of the documentary, "Word is Out!" produced a large audience.

Our future activities include: Wednesday, May 16th, 1 p.m. in the Free Speech Area (between Administration and Library) a picnic; bring your lunch. Wednesday, May 30th, in the Student Union meeting room A: an open forum with Dr. Pat Blumanthal, psychologist, speaking on counseling with gay people.

In conclusion, the Gay Student Union has been and continues to be an organization actively supporting the students on our campus. The GSU provides an opportunity to meet and know each other; to learn about our lifestyle and counteract negative self-images; and to develop a healthy, integrated identities as men and women who happen to be gay (in a society which often understands little about sexuality, and less about diversity in lifestyles).

There will be a general meeting for the Committee For Clubs on Monday, May 21, in the Student Union meeting rooms A and B at noon. It is important that all clubs send a representative to this meeting. We will be electing officers for next year, approving a small change in the Rules and Procedures and discussing the guidelines for the "Club of the Month" award. . . . The Spanish Club meets every Monday at noon in LC 271 . . .

The Gay Student Union will meet tomorrow at 1 p.m. in the Free Speech Outdoor Arena, between the Administration building and the Library. This will be a casual affair and will give students a chance to get to know each other. In case of rain the GSU will meet in Student Union meeting room A.

INTRAMURAL UPDATE, WEEK OF MAY 4-9:

10-PERSON SOFTBALL: Early Bird League-Broken Arrow Gophers defeated the Mojave Indians 13-7. Tom Favorite and Jeff Frazier were excellent in that game.

Rattlesnake League-Arrow Waterman defeated the Softballers 22-6. Cretin Trucks Del Rosa rolled over the Roosters 12-2, led by Al Estrada and Mike Oden, both of whom scored 3 runs in the game. Tokay Powerline crushed Teaching Machines 23-5, led by captain Paul Lemire, who smashed 3 home runs, a single and a double.

Coyote League-Los Banditos de Los Basepaths tripped up Fine Arts 16-5. Byron Waggoner, Dave Sleruga and Tom Scott played well for the Banditos. In the other game, Garret-Morris 10 got by the Newts 9-6.

COED SOFTBALL: Super Mexx beat the Bad News Pears 11-7, led by Jose Rios; Cretin Trucks-Delmann Hts. destroyed Mojave 21-2. Al Estrada, Rudy Covarrubias, and Bill Baln each scored 3 runs to extend their team's winning streak. In the final contest, Shanandin defeated Supply and Demand 10-2. Paul Wilkerson, Amy York and Mark Cameron were excellent in the game.

LADIES 2/2 BASKETBALL: Triple Trouble 5-some outlasted Amelia Earnhart 2 games to 1, while Instant Funk took 3 straight games from the Born Losers.

COED VOLLEYBALL TRIPLES: Blues Power were defeated by Barking Spikers 15-11, 15-6, 15-11. Barking Spikers look like the favorite in the title, but BluesPower could come back. The Improved Tami & The Titans got by Tom's Team 15-6, 15-12, 14-16. The "highlight" of the game was when Paul Wilkerson hit teammate Judi Pendleton in the face with the ball. Wilkerson was retrieving the ball from the balcony and the unsuspecting Pendleton was sitting on the bench below. It is rumored that she still has all of her teeth.

Hocker Anyone?

by Janet Pepper

So, "What's Hocker?" you ask. Well, it happens to be the easiest, most exciting game to come along.

The rules? There almost aren't any. You might say that Hocker is a combination of soccer and hockey, only you play with a big, rubber ball, which can be hit, kicked, or passed with any part of the body. Anyone can become an expert Hocker player within five minutes of playing. And you can have your first chance to join in the fun and competition in CSCSB's first annual Intramural Hocker Tournament to be held on Saturday, May 19, right here on the campus.

All you need to participate is a co-ed team consisting of eight members who are willing to have lots of fun, and enjoy competitive, non-violent sports. No one gets hurt in this game, and, gals, this is your chance; you can push the guys, but they can't push back. If anyone doesn't believe that, just ask one of our resident Hocker "pros" like Gordon McIlnnis, Scott Hamre, Val Devlin, Janice Brown or Ivan Glassco. Wilkerson will tell you all these people be back this year to push your chance; you can push the guys, but they can't push back. See The Winter's Tale This Thursday

by Patty Wagner

The Theatre Arts department's presentation of Shakespeare's The Winter's Tale will open this Thursday at 8:15 in the Creative Arts Theatre.

Theatre Arts Professor William Slout is the director, Theatre Arts lecturers Fred Chuang is the designer, and Theatre Arts junior Suzanne Kruk is the stage manager for this production which features 22 actors and a huge supporting crew.

Chuang is responsible for the set, lights, and costumes of this play.

He is using only a plain platform and a few props for the entire set, and as was done in Shakespeare's time.

Lighting plays an integral part on this set as it provides all the background effects. To create different effects with the lights, Chuang is using "gobos," square pieces of metal with a design carved in them. When attached directly to the lights, gobos send out spectacular arrays of light shapes on dark backgrounds.

The costumes were designed in a fundamentally Gothic fashion. Chuang modified the fashion a bit both because he prefers individual expression over strict historic design, and because of the lack of time needed to build authentic Gothic costumes.

Although this is Kruk's first position as stage manager, and she has had minimal past experience, according to Slout, she instinctively knows what the director wants from her and what she must do to accomplish it.

Kruk says that through this experience she has learned that there is a lot of work involved in a production and that everybody must work together to "launch it off the ground."

When asked why he chose a Shakespearean work, Slout stated that this is an "educational institution" and that his main objective in a production is to "train young actors." He can see no better way to do this than performing Shakespeare. For in Shakespeare, said Slout, the challenges are endless and the young actors encounter various problems which they must solve.

Winter's Tale will be presented May 17-19, and May 22-26. Call the Theatre Arts department for tickets at 887-7452 or 887-7560. Students with ID's and senior citizens will be admitted for $1.50, everyone else $2.50.
Choir To Sing With San Bernardino Symphony

The CSCSB Concert Choir will join with the Riverside City College Chamber Singers and Victor Valley College Singers for a performance with the San Bernardino Symphony on Sunday, May 20.

The combined 70-voice choirs and symphony will present Ralph Vaughan-Williams’ “‘In Windsor Forest” at 3 p.m. in San Bernardino's California Theatre of Performing Arts. The special presentation is part of the San Bernardino Symphony’s season program.

Directing the musicians will be Alberto Bolei, who is in his second season as musical director of the San Bernardino Symphony Orchestra.

“In Windsor Forest” is a five-movement cantata arranged from Vaughan-Williams’ opera, “Sir John In Love,” which is based on Shakespeare’s “Merry Wives of Windsor.”

The first movement, “Sigh No More, Ladies,” will feature the women’s chorus and orchestra. The second piece, “Drinking Song,” will be for the men’s chorus and the orchestra. In the third section, “Falstaff and the Fairies,” Carol Woodruff of Highland, a junior music education major at Cal State will be the soprano soloist.

The final movements, “Wedding Chorus” and “Epilogue,” will feature the mixed choirs and orchestra.

Popular selections by the symphony will complete the afternoon’s program.

The Cal State choir is directed by Loren Filbee, associate professor of music. John Ross is the director of the Riverside City College Chamber Singers and Thomas Miller directs the Victor Valley College Singers.

Admission tickets will be available at the California Theatre of Performing Arts box office a half hour before the concert. General admission is $5; students with identification will be admitted for $2; the price for children under 12 is $1.

Jazz Ensemble Performs Tomorrow Night

CSCSB’s Jazz Ensemble, Dixieland Band, and Jazz Combo will present a free concert tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

Paul Curnow, director of bands for Cal State, will conduct the student musicians in a variety of popular and original jazz tunes.

The 21-member Jazz Ensemble recently was invited to perform at the Western Regional Music Educators national conference held in Anaheim. The local group was one of two jazz groups chosen from the state to perform. More than 5,000 music educators and students from seven western states attended the conference.

The Jazz Ensemble will present seven tunes, two of which are originals. “M&M&M” by Daniel Sanchez, a senior music major from Fontana, and "‘For The Time Being,” by Mark Ulmer, a senior business major from San Bernardino, will be premiered.

Other selections by the Jazz Ensemble Include: “Chump Change” by Quincy Jones, “Milestones” by Miles Davis, “Checking the Cell Structure” by Gordon Goodwin, “A Hunk A Hunk” by Thad Jones and “Fast Forward” by Les Hooper.

Cal State’s eight-member Jazz Combo will present all original selections. They include: “Keaumoku Street” by Mark Ulmer; “For’eva” by Daniel Sanchez; “Once Loved” by Arnold Johns of San Bernardino; and “All For One” by Pat Sieben, a sophomore music major from San Jacinto.

The seven-member Dixieland Band will play for four early jazz standards: “Who’s Sorry Now” by Ted Snyder, “Ain’t Misbehavin” by Harry Brooks, “High Society” by Porter Steele and “Clarinet Marmalade” by Larry Shields.

Both the Jazz Combo and Dixieland Band are made up of members of the Jazz Ensemble.
