World Affairs Council
To Hear Noted Linguist
On Campus Monday

Mr. Bostain is a scientific linguist, instructor at the Foreign Service Institute of the U.S. State Department in Washington. He lectures on problems of communication and supervises instruction in Burmese, Vietnamese, Japanese, French and German. He opposes what he considers to be the universal tendency people have all around the world to project into others their own attitudes and expectations.

His visit to the Southland is sponsored by San Bernardino Valley College's Center for the Study of World Peace and World Affairs Council of Inland Southern California.

CSCSB faculty, staff and students will be admitted to the dinner and lecture for the member price of $5 per person. Deadline for paid reservations has been extended to 10 a.m. Monday. The College Community may make them at the office of President Pfau. (Dinner, 7 p.m.)

Students are invited to hear the lecture at 8 p.m. without charge.

Coffee will be served.

This marks the first time the World Affairs Council has held a program on the Cal State campus.

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS featuring noted Hollywood guest artists will be presented on campus tonight through Sunday, March 2-4. Entitled "Three Sides of the Coin," the plays are directed by Helene Koon, Asst. Prof. of English, who lives in Hollywood, and has arranged for the guests' campus appearances.

Appearing in "Box and Cox," will be Al Molinaro, Leo Matranga and Eleanor Lee, television actors. Also appearing in the casts are Marte Boyle and Mary Barnes, actresses and wives of CSCSB drama professors, and Mike Stapleton, CSCSB graduate and veteran campus actor. The latter three will appear in "Rosalind." Ms. Boyle and Ms. Barnes will also be in "The Stronger."

The plays will be performed in FA-117 at 8:15 p.m. with the exception of Sunday's 7 p.m. curtain. Admission: $2.

A PERFORMANCE of the Drama Department entry in today's Invitational Drama Program at College of the Desert will be presented on campus Tuesday, Mar. 13. The "Macbeth" cutting, directed by William Slout, features Don Blair and Pat Casey. Sandra Stiglinski designed the costumes and Ronald Barnes the lighting effects. Show time: 11 a.m., Little Theatre.

AUDITIONS for John Guare's "Cop-Out" & "Home Fires" will be held in FA-116, 7 p.m., Tues. and Wed., Mar. 6 and 7. To be presented mid-May, intensive rehearsals will not begin until Spring Term. The contemporary American satires require a number of actors and actresses. All CSCSB students are invited to audition.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION PILOT PROJECT TO BE TESTED IN SPRING TERM

A unique innovation in testing knowledge and giving credit is being pioneered on campus. Students will have the opportunity to receive a quarter's credit through one examination.

Leslie Van Marter, Professor of Philosophy, and originator of the proposed program, "Comprehensive Examinations: An Alternative to Multi-Course Classroom Instruction," states that under the program the student may take one examination over the content covered in three courses, and if he passes, earn 15 quarter units of credit instantly.

One of the significant factors of the project will be to determine whether students can be motivated to undertake more responsibility for their own learning. The student who earns 15 units must have done a considerable amount of independent study.

The study is made possible through a $19,774 grant from the CSUEC Fund for Innovation and Improvement. Working with Dr. Van Marter are Bernhardt Mortensen, sociology; Wallace Cleaves, psychology; Ronald Taylor, biology; and Walter Zoecklein, philosophy.

Students interested in participating in the project should contact Dr. Van Marter or his colleagues any time from now through registration.
Salvador Bru

Recent Paintings and Prints

The artist has been widely exhibited in the United States and abroad and is currently featuring large-scale paintings using raw canvas and metal-base paints. In a one-man show at the Jodi Scully Gallery in Los Angeles a year ago Mr. Bru presented the first of a series of metallic paintings of the type which will be featured in the CSCSB show.

The Bru show will be at The Gallery through Mar. 30 and is open to all free of charge.
