2-14-1992

February 14th 1992

CSUSB

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle/311

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives – California State University San Bernardino at CSUSB ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Coyote Chronicle by an authorized administrator of CSUSB ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@csusb.edu.
Storm pounds campus

by Steven Jennings
Chronicle photo editor

University officials scrambled to combat the widespread flooding that occurred on campus Wednesday during the second of three powerful winter rain storms. The flooding disrupted normal operations in the campus' newest building. The deluge frustrated students in University Hall, jeopardized valuable electronic equipment, and forced physical plant personnel to work overtime.

According to Paul Frazier of the Custodial Services office, problems occurred in U Hall once the heaviest of the day's rains began coming down.

"University Hall is equipped with sump pumps to clear out rainwater through the storm drains," Frazier said. "The pumps became overloaded and then the circuits blew, shutting down the whole system."

He said the overload then triggered the building's automated emergency system.

"The emergency flood alarm sounded and because of it Custodial Services was able to control the flooding within 10 to 15 minutes," he said.

By two o'clock Wednesday afternoon a section of the downstairs corridor in U Hall was cordoned off and a detour was made through a computer classroom.

Frank Slaton oversees the computer facilities in the building's lower level and pedestrian traffic was directed through his make-shift office. Slaton was forced to pick up his high-tech equipment, including robots and newly purchased computers, and move them to a second floor.

Slaton did not feel the situation was too serious.

"I had to unplugged and move the equipment, but I would say this is a disruption, not a disaster," he said.

Across the hall from Slaton, Communication Department administrators scrambled to remove computers from room number 33, The Chronicle production room. Water began seeping underneath the room's baseboards around one o'clock and reached a depth of a quarter inch of standing water by four o'clock.

Newspaper production was then conducted Wednesday night in The Chronicle's upstairs office, once the computers were on-line.

"We moved production of the paper upstairs to our business office," said Charlene Hurley, editor-in-chief. "Fortunately, we have a dedicated staff that overcame the afternoon's setback and struggled to get a special edition of the paper out, despite the adverse working conditions."

"There are always some problems when you commission a new building," he said. "Once these problems are discovered they can be investigated and handled accordingly."

De Mauro said U Hall was experiencing the flooding because of the type of building it is.

"U Hall is a below grade structure, that means it's built below the ground level," he said.

Behind the library, between the Physical Sciences building and the temporary classrooms, a large pool of standing water collected. Associate Director of the Physical Plant Jim Hansen supervised the draining of the water with two pumps.

"The amount of water we received in such a short amount of time exceeded the capacity of the drains," he said. "We will be observing the draining of this area until the evening hours."

On the other side of campus, water caused a few moments of havoc in the campus' bookstore. Water collected in the store's outdoor unloading bay to a depth of one foot.

Bookstore workers were then confronted with a deluge of water on the inside which covered the storeroom floors with two inches of water. The flood endangered the bookstores display computers and soaked numerous boxes of inventories.

Employees called the physical plant and advised them of their situation, asking for assistance.

"It took them 20 minutes to respond."

"Caution, Flooded" sign in U Hall.

According to a bookstore employee, "Apparently, they had to make the sandbags right then; they did not have any prepared."

When physical plant workers arrived they sandbagged strategic areas around the bookstore after they cleaned out the clogged storm drains.

Forecasters are predicting the largest of this series of storms to hit the area tomorrow.

Staff writers Rebecca Cooper, Tom Figueira and Natalia Romano contributed to this story.
Students plan protest of fee hikes

by Stacy McClendon
Chronicle Managing Editor

Students concerned about the proposed 40 percent fee increase for Cal State system students have called a CSUSB rally for Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 11:30 a.m. in front of the PUB. The rally is scheduled to run through the afternoon.

CSUSB and California State Student Association officials will speak and those who attend will be invited to write postcards to state legislators voicing their opinions. These postcards will be hand-delivered by Association students, who are going to Sacramento to lobby against the fee increase on Feb. 22-24.

Last year, the trustees voted to raise the fees by 10 percent with the guarantee that this year, the fees would be rolled back by 10 percent. Rather than following through with the decrease, the trustees voted in January to raise the fees by 40 percent.

According to the CSSA, state law requires that CSU fees drop by 10 percent this year to remove the 1991-92 surcharge. However, Gov. Pete Wilson has proposed that the CSU Board of Trustees raise fees by 50 percent, which is the maintenance of the 10 percent surcharge and an additional 40 percent increase, to close the $130 million budget gap.

This is a clear violation of the Metty act, said Cal State, San Bernardino's CSSA representative, Russell Bogh. The only way the trustees can legally raise the fees is for the legislature to change the law.

The only way the trustees can legally raise the fees is for the legislature to change the law.

"We're on our own. The Board of Trustees proved they didn't want to work with the students. They did not understand what they were doing to students; they are locking us out. If fees are raised by 50 percent, it's like showing students the door. I've lost faith in the Trustees," Kim Williams, Chair of the CSSA said.

Students and Sen. Tom Hayden, chairman of the Committee on Higher Education, think there are alternatives to the fee increase. They propose reforms which include cutting journals from libraries which would save $5 million to moving to a year-round collegiate system which would save $200 million.

Career Workshops

The Social and Behavioral Sciences Student Advisory Committee will be presenting two workshops that will focus on career and educational development. The workshops cover a wide range of subjects including, resume writing and the application process to enter graduate school.

The workshops will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 19 from 5-7 p.m. in the Eucalyptus Room of the lower Commons and on Wednesday, Feb. 20 from 12:20 p.m. in the Panorama Room of the lower Commons. For information, call Dr. Lammy Fields at 880-5500.

CSUSB in brief

Financial Aid Deadlines for 1992-1993

Financial Aid priority filing date, scholarship application deadline and Cal Grant deadline is March 2, 1992.

Communications Club

The next Communication Studies Club meeting will meet on Thursday, Feb. 20 at 6 p.m. in CA 223.

GLU Dance

A Valentine’s Day dance will be held in Cal State, San Bernardino’s Lower Commons tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. It will be the quarterly dance held by the Gay and Lesbian Student Union. Admission to the dance is $4 per person. Proceeds will go into GLU’s general fund. The fund supports a newsletter and scholarships.
by Lee Romano
Chronicle staff writer

It's Valentine's Day, 1992, and you can be sure there will be plenty of hugs, kisses, flowers, candy and all the other romantic notions that go along with this holiday. But where did it all come from?

Valentine's Day comes on the feast day of two Christian martyrs named Valentine. The lives of these saints had nothing to do with the customs associated with this holiday. The World Book Encyclopedia says that the holiday probably originated with an ancient Roman festival called Lupercalia which took place every February 15. The festival honored Juno, the Roman goddess of women and marriage and Pan, the god of nature.

The festival of Lupercalia was a festival for young people. Partners were chosen for the festival by drawing names from a box. In many instances courtships developed, and eventually marriage.

The pagan festival changed with the spread of Christianity. In 496, Pope Gelasius I moved the Lupercalia festival to February 14, and changed the name to St. Valentine's Day, but the romantic and sentimental meaning of the holiday endured to the present day.

Many beliefs and customs have been associated with Valentine's Day over the centuries. An old English superstition warned that unmarried girls in a household would not be married within the year if white snowdrop flowers were brought into the house before Valentine's Day. Many customs involved the choice of a mate. Single girls would write the names of boyfriends on scraps of paper and roll them in pieces of clay. They dropped the clay in water and the first name to pop to the surface was supposed to be her true Valentine.

Others pinned five bay leaves to their pillows on the eve of Valentine's Day. The charm was supposed to cause the girls to dream of their future husbands that night. Other customs included circling churches, chanting, looking through keyholes and striking foreheads with rose petals.

Today there aren't many superstitious charms involved with Valentine's Day, but Valentine's Day still flourishes as a day for friends and lovers.

Sylvia,
Thanks for being a wonderful roommate & for laughing with us! Happy Valentine's Day! Kwunida & Rose

Randy,
Remember, you taught us everything we know even our basketball manners! Thanks for your support. Your Loyal Fans!

To my adorable Joshua, You hold a very special place in my heart and are truly dedicating my life. Thank you for all the laughter and smiles you bring me. Yours truly, Bridget.

Tiger,
Seven years of friendship was a great beginning to the wonderful relationship we have now. Let's try for another seven years! Love Always, Turkey

AΦ SISTERS-
Happy Valentine's Day! Natalie

The Butcher, There ain't no party like a playground party! Happy Valentine's Day! I.T., Daisy

Krista,
You're the greatest lil' sis' ever! I hope you have a great Valentine's Day!
A-PHI LOVE & MINE, Daisy

TIME
TUE
WED
THU
FRI
SUN
8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. Classic
10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon Classic
12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m. Jazz
2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Interviews
4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Classic
6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Classic
8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Classic
10:00 p.m. to MIDNIGHT Classic

KSSB Program Log

Madam Pres., Thanks for all of your support! Appreciate our friendship, Happy Valentine's Day! Your Trusty ASt.

ALPHA PHI I've never been prouder to belong to the top organization on campus! Happy Valentine's Day! AΦ, Cheryl-Marie

NSO Planning Committee, Thanks for all of your hard work. Let's make this the best orientation ever! Cheryl-Marie Anissa, Thanks for being such a supportive big sis! Let's get together soon. Happy Valentine's Day! A-PHI LOVE & MINE Your Lil' Sis.

Tamara, I'm glad we have our special bond! Keep smiling & Happy Valentine's Day! AΦ, Your adopted big sis.

David & Kristin, Only 2 more weeks! Hang in there & enjoy your Valentine's! Love, Your A.S.I. FAM-ILY

Tina, Through the years we conquered everything together & I'm glad college added to our list. Happy Valentine's Day! BIG NERD!

Etta (Sigma Chi) You are AMERICA'S MOST WANTED! I'm sure it was the disco dance! Happy Valentine's Day Pal!

Julie, Your standards are high, but ALWAYS ask for more! Happy Valentine's Day! KDSF, Trouble

Kathy, Keep your perspective. Remember, men are a luxury, not a necessity. KDSF, Michele

Johnny, I'm shameless when it comes to loving you. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Rencey

Daisy, Thursday at Bobby's is only a party when we get there! You are the best! Carmelita

Purity, Thanks Cheryl-Marie for showing me the ropes here at CSUSB. Let me on! Chastity
NEXT YEAR YOUR FEES ARE GOING UP 40%

Unless you do something about it

Tuesday January 14, the Board of Trustees voted to increase your student fees 40%. This fee is in addition to the 10% surcharge that was implemented last year. The university fee is to be increased from a based rate of $936 to $1310, yet the Trustees cannot guarantee that classes will not be cut or financial aid increased.

In Order to collect this fee increase, the Trustees will have to seek legislation which will enable them to collect over the state Mandated 10%.

WHAT CAN STUDENTS DO?

* CALL OR WRITE YOUR STATE LEGISLATURE AND LET THEM KNOW YOU ARE OPPOSED TO THE FEE HIKE.

Drop your letters off at the ASI Office and we’ll pay for the postage.

Your local Legislators are:

The Honorable Gerald Eaves
Member of the Assembly
224 N. Riverside Ave, #A
Rialto, CA. 92376
(714) 820-1902

The Honorable Bill Leonard
Member of the Senate
400 N. Mountain Ave, #109
Upland, CA. 91786
(714)946-4889

The Honorable Paul Woodruff
Member of the Assembly
300 E. State Street #480
Redlands, CA. 92373
(714) 798-0337

The Honorable Ruben Ayala
Member of the Senate
505 N. Arrowhead Ave. #100
San Bernardino, CA. 92401
(714) 884-1465

The Honorable Steve Clute
Member of the Assembly
3600 Lime St. #401
Riverside, CA. 92501
(714) 782-3222

The Honorable Robert Presley
Member of the Senate
3600 Lime St. #111
Riverside, CA. 92501
(714)782-4111

*FILL OUT THE FORM BELOW AND DROP IT OFF AT THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OFFICE, WE WILL DELIVER IT FOR YOU.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT RUSSELL BOGH IN THE ASI OFFICE.

DEAR SENATOR / ASSEMBLYMEN

I am a student at the California State University, San Bernardino. I am opposed to balancing the state budget on the backs of students. I urge you to VOTE NO ON A 40% INCREASE IN STUDENT FEES.

Name ____________________________________________ Major ______________
Address _________________________________________ Phone# __________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________