Candidates for the office of A.S. President

Kathy Fortner

Last Thursday night provided a good example of how the present A.S. administration is wasting your money. There was a performer in the Pub that was publicized well and went over really big. Competing with this was a disco in the multi-purpose room that was put on over the objections of the Activities Committee, having been ram-rodded down their throat by A.S. President Kathy Fortner just three days before it took place. It received very little publicity, and only had a mediocre turnout.

Now, the entertainer in the Pub was playing for $50. The disco cost $200. ($200 is what is usually paid for the best discos with elaborate light shows. This was not one of the better discos.) Your money is wasted once again. What has A.S. done for you this year besides the same old thing? It received very little publicity, and only had a mediocre turnout.

But then, this year's administration has a long record of broken promises and inaction. What has A.S. done for you this year besides the same old thing? But we have plenty of talk, for Fortner promises much. Last fall, she told us that she had "many more activities and services planned". No one has ever even seen these plans, much less any actual activities or services. That's why, this year, I'm asking you to elect people who have proven that they get things done rather than just talk about them.

The list, of course, starts with myself, Tim Hamre, known to most this year as the Managing Editor of The PawPrint, the one who sees to it that a newspaper is produced every week. Last year, as Executive Assistant to the A.S. President, I was responsible for a long record of broken promises and inaction. (It would work great if we had the right people.) The previous year, as Business Manager for The PawPrint, I was one of the architects of the most dramatic improvement The PawPrint ever had on this campus. (We more than doubled circulation, doubled the size, and doubled the budget while I almost tripled the advertising revenue.) I have a long, established record of getting things done and doing them well.

John Flathers, my running mate for Vice-president, has been very active in Serrano Village where he's known for getting things done. None of the other VP candidates has a record of doing anything concrete this year. Veronica Rodarte, a newcomer this year, has been accomplishing things in MEChA. The five candidates for the Board of Directors, all of whom are on our ticket, are also doers instead of talkers.

The Fortner campaign is using a slogan of "Leaders for a Change". (Cartier's 1976 campaign slogan.) It's interesting that an incumbent who has demonstrated a total lack of leadership should use this slogan. I agree that we need leaders for a change. That's why you should elect the winning team of HAMRE—FLATHERS—RODARTE. A Team for Positive Action in 1980.

Jim Fuentes is also running for AS President

For the past year I have worked for the students of this campus as A.S. President. I want to continue to work for you so I am running for a second term.

I have learned many valuable lessons through my experiences this past year. I know that this knowledge will make me a more effective president this coming year, if elected.

I have learned that you must have two things to make a student government more effective, continuing communication and team work. Communication must be ongoing to get feedback on present programs from the students on campus and to keep informed on the needs of our fellow students so that new programs can be developed. Team work is important, especially among the three executive officers so programs can be run and developed smoothly and quickly. Because I have learned how important team work is, I am running on a ticket with two people, Paul Woodruff and Wayne Thies. We feel that, while we could work with any other candidates, student government will be most effective if we can work as a team.

While I feel I am the best candidate for the job of President because of the experiences I have had this year, I also feel I can build on my accomplishments this year. For example, I worked with other student officers in order to strengthen communication between A.S. and the students that it serves. These goals included an on-going effort by each A.S. officer to talk with their constituents via coffee hours in which they go out to the students to gain their opinions on A.S. These efforts will continue throughout the year and the information gained will be used to evaluate programs and in planning for next year.

I have worked with individuals and clubs to gain funding for their projects and to help solve problems that they have with some facet of the campus, whether it be a academic grievance or a problem in gaining a necessary service. On a state-wide level I have worked through the California State Students Association to keep Student Services Fees from increasing, stopping tuition, and revamping the General Education Requirements. The CSSA is also working to get evaluations or reviews of administrators and tenured faculty.

My goals for next year, other than increasing communication and team work, are to get funding for an already developed commuter and evening students services program, and expanding a housing information service I began this summer and making the Student Services area and the Foundation more responsive to the needs of all students.

I believe that overall this year's A.S. administration was successful in many areas. While this administration suffered few minor setbacks, we were willing to identify problems, and react to constructive criticism from our fellow students. I ask that you once again vote for me, Kathy Fortner, for A.S. President.

Candidates for the office of A.S. Vice-President

Students who attended an A.S. Board of Directors meeting this year usually came away in shock. They could not believe that their fellow college students could run things so inefficiently. Sometimes it amazes me that they actually do "something" rather than just send it to committee.

A recent example of this is the funding request to pay for the student’s demands that the statement is appearing in. The A.S. executive officers (including current vice-president Sandy Case) had the request for over six weeks before the Board of Directors even heard about it!

There is a definite need for a better and stronger Vice-President. A.S. needs someone who will see to it that things get through the Board of Directors and get done. How can the Board of Directors act if the executive officers don’t even give them the information they need?

I am the person to fill that need. I’m John Flathers. Through my activities in the Saratoga Village Council, Sports Editor for The PawPrint, and as an intramural team organizer, I have shown that I am a person who gets things done. I don’t just talk about it.

I am also a person who recruits and motivates other people to act. Examples of this include circulating petitions in the dorms which gather 200 signatures overnight, and organizing volunteers from the Village to aid recent flood victims.

During the last two years, the people of California have been voting for tax cuts wherever and whenever the opportunity has presented itself. This year, another of the Howard Jarvis Tax Disasters will be before the voters and this time public services and student services will not fare as well as they did under Proposition 13. If Proposition 9 passes it is probable that tuition across the Cal-State system will be instituted or fees raised to a level that will eliminate thousands of students from the class rooms across the State. If Proposition 9 passes, the services and programs of the Associated Students would also be cut due to this decline in student enroll merit at a time of its most urgent need. A ticket that is offered you in the form of Fortner, Woodruff, Thies, is an opportunity to elect students that have the experience and energy to make these decisions and the budget cutbacks needed as well as well as minimizing the damage to student services.

Many of the dorm students have legitimate complaints such as food quality that should be heard and acted upon. This opportunity has come in an A.S. Government of Fortner, Woodruff, Thies. is an opportunity to do what we can bring pressure upon local government agencies regarding the transportation problems.

Night students also have expressed a feeling of being left out of the activities that are sponsored by the Associated Students. This problem is one which will be difficult to solve due to the fact that having two of the same activity, one at day and one in the evening is not practical or economically possible. However, the Associated Students could sponsor more programs during the evening class schedule.

I am running on a ticket with other candidates who are dedicated to action rather than talk. Presidential candidate Tim Hamre has been constantly doing things for the students of this campus for the last three years. Veronica Rodarte, running for Treasurer, has been active on campus clubs. And then there are all the candidates for the Board of Directors, which Tim and I recruited. Even though we hold a variety of views, we are dedicated to working with each other for beneficial action for the students.

If you want someone actually working for you, instead of just giving you lip service, then vote John Flathers for Vice President.

John Flathers

Initially, my intent had been to run for the office of President, in fact I have circulated petitions for both offices. I gave this matter very careful consideration prior to reaching my decision. I am well acquainted with the abilities and personalities of the two main and possible third write-in candidates for President. I feel that they all possess the experience and capabilities required of the office and would do acceptable jobs in this capacity. I then surveyed the field of declared candidates for the V.P. slot. In them, I could not find one that I would want to be saddled with as President; therefore I am running myself.

Last June, the Associated Students of which we are all members, adopted a new Constitution. In practical administration of the A.S. offices, the primary responsibility for campus affairs falls to the Vice President. This leaves the President free to handle the state-level matters, such as Fortner has been criticized for doing. This makes the V.P. job far more crucial and important than most students realize; one certainly worth of an experienced and well-qualified person.

I have been actively involved in student affairs since my arrival here at Cal State last year. As a member of the Rules Committee, I have seen firsthand the problems that have come to my attention and have worked to resolve them. As a member of the A.S. Executive Committee, I have had the opportunity to work with the Administration on many issues that affect campus life.

During the last two years, the people of California have been voting for tax cuts wherever and whenever the opportunity has presented itself. This year, another of the Howard Jarvis Tax Disasters will be before the voters and this time public services and student services will not fare as well as they did under Proposition 13. Candidates for the office of A.S. Treasurer

My name is Veronica Rodarte and I am running for A.S. Treasurer. Currently I am a freshman majoring in Criminal Justice and I am secretary for M.E.Ch.A.

I feel that I am a reliable person and when a task is put in front of me I get the job done. My past experiences with organizations have required leadership skills, as well as writing budget proposals and record keeping.

If I am elected A.S. Treasurer I will do my best to fulfill the duties of this office. I'm going into the job knowing what is expected of me and I am looking forward to the challenge. The job of Treasurer is not one of the easier positions but it is the one best suited for me.

Veronica Rodarte

Wayne Thies

My name is Wayne Thies. I am running on the Fortner/Woodruff ticket for Treasurer and I am presently a junior attending nite classes in business administration. Organizations that I am involved with during the day are: the publications board, president of the Newman Club, and part-time employee of the Boy Scouts of America.

Being a night student I understand their needs. Some of the desires expressed by night students I spoke with were: club meetings, seminars, and bands performing at night in addition to the day activities. It takes hard work and dedication to effectively implement these ideas.

After speaking to several dorm students I found among their many and varied needs a desire for a college social life. Cal State being located where it is can leave the dorm student without transportation feeling isolated and bored. I hope to alleviate this problem by putting greater emphasis on the needs of the students (i.e., B.B.Q.'s, hikes, outings, dances) these tasks take originality, imagination, and organization.

It takes teamwork to get anything done and in order to fulfill these needs if they are at all feasible, you need to elect a team that is willing and able to work hard together — Kathy Fortner (Pres.), Paul Woodruff (V.P.), and Wayne Thies (Treas).

Wayne Thies

Candidates for seats on the A.S. Board of Directors

School of Administration

The Larimore is running for a seat on the Board of Directors to represent the school of Administration.

School of Education

No candidate will appear on the ballot to represent the School of Education. Write-in candidates must receive at least 25 votes.

School of Humanities

No candidate will appear on the ballot to represent the School of Humanities. Write-in candidates must receive at least 25 votes.

School of Social and Behavioral Sciences

I would like to lead off this statement with some biographical information. My name is Mike Smith and I am a Political Science Major in my third year at ESCSB. I'm 21 years old and live in San Bernadino.

Although I am the only candidate for the Board of Directors from the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, I feel my reasons for wanting the job and my qualifications for running should be known to the students.

Why do I want to be on the Board of Directors? For the same reason I joined The PawPrint staff in the fall. I was tired of complaining about what was going on around campus and doing nothing more than griping about it. The best way to get something done is to do it yourself or find someone you know will get the job done. I want to get the job done.

What are my qualifications? During my three years here I have been involved and active in activities such as Intramurals, ESCAPE and The PawPrint. Since I joined The PawPrint I have risen from Assistant Editor of Intramurals to my present position as News Editor. Through all of these activities I have met a good cross section of students which in turn not only will help me represent my constituents but the entire student body as well.

I am running on a ticket headed up by Presidential candidate Tim Hamre. Tim's views run along the same lines as do mine and I whole heartedly support his election.

Mike Smith

School of Natural Sciences

Anthony Duncan is running for a seat on the Board of Directors to represent the school of Natural Sciences.

Interdisciplinary, Special & Dual Majors

Rhonda Booth is running for a seat on the Board of Directors to represent Interdisciplinary, Special and Dual Majors.

Undeclared Majors

I'm Umar Masoud, and I'm running for the seat on the AS Board of Directors to represent Undeclared Majors. Even though I'm running unopposed I felt that you should know who I am since it is you who I wish to work for.

One big problem with student government on this campus is that no one knows who they are because they keep too low of a profile. Do you know who your representative is?

I knew very little about student government until I was approached by Tim Hamre who is running for President, and I am backing him and John Flathers and Veronica Rodarte.

So who am I? I'm Umar Masoud. I'm a student from Pakistan who is enjoying this campus. I can be found in Mojave dorm where I live, and I'll be happy to talk with you anytime. So don't forget to vote for me on April 22 and 23.

Sierra Club Service Trips Work To Preserve Wilderness

Imagine... It is 6 a.m. From the center of camp, you can hear the cook starting the fire and heating water. A thin coating of frost on your sleeping bag gives evidence of the chilly night. Will the sun ever get down here? Brrr. Ow, those are some mighty musings. Well, they ought to be... you helped build a quarter-mile of new trail yesterday, around this meadow, to replace the old trail through it. Hard work, but people can sure get a lot done. After breakfast, you could read, or do some fishing, or look up the names of some of these plants. The leader keeps pointing out a few people are going up Mt. Pulaski, more power to 'em. For now, it feels good to just lie here under the sky, watching the trees grow... Every summer since 1958, the Sierra Club has fielded one or more Service Trips as a part of its National Outings Program. These 10-day outings combine the fun of group adventure in the wilderness with the rewards of a work experience. If you like cleaning up campsites (or abandoned buildings of wrecked aircraft) or restoring overused land, this summer, 19 such trips can be run in the U.S. and Canada.

Most Service Trips require some backpacking experience, but the main prerequisite is enthusiasm for the work project. If you're cleaning up a campsite or clearing a road, the students will participate in one of the 19 different outings.

Trips are open to Club members and to members of groups which grant reciprocal privileges (such as the Audubon Society). Food and cooking equipment are provided, trip members supply their own camping gear and transportation to the roadhead.

The trip fee of $65 covers only half of the trip expenses. Each trip's deficit is offset by the Sierra Club Outing Catalog, or by earmarked donations to the Sierra Club Foundation. Trip staff include a leader, an outdoor and camping expert, and a doctor. Doctors volunteer as trip staff in return for a waiver of the trip fee. Several doctors are still needed for the 1980 outings; interested persons should contact Dr. Robert Majors, Sierra Club Outing Cordinator, 3508 Williamsborough Court, Raleigh, NC 27609.

To learn more about particular outings: 1) Consult the 1980 Sierra Club Outing Catalog, or 2) request a detailed description, called a trip supplement, from the Club Outing Office, or 3) talk with the trip reservations staff at the OUting Office, 350 Bush St., San Francisco, CA 94108; (415) 981-8634.

Announced

At the conclusion of the programs, participants may spend an optional week in Cairo, Athens, the Middle East, Israel, or Amsterdam.

All American Forum programs are interreligious and intercultural. Participants include educators at all levels from all across the United States, Canada, and the West Indies. Clergy, journalists, artists, social workers, librarians, and health professionals also participate in the programs. Students can participate upon recommendation from their colleges.

Now in its 13th year, the American Forum was the pioneer of summer student study programs for educators in African Studies in Africa. More than 1800 have participated in the Forum's 34 previous programs.

A catalogue and additional information about the programs may be obtained by writing to the American Forum for International Study, 14311 South Woodland Road, Shaker Heights, Ohio 44120 or by calling 216-751-7171.
Past, Present And Future
by Dawna Gregory

Tickets are now on sale for the Theatre Arts Department's first production.

Past, Present And Future, a series of three one-act plays, will be directed by Theatre majors Corrine Soto and Don Gruber and Theatre Arts professor, Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill.

The significance of the title is that each era is represented by one one-act play. It will be combining the styles of Commedia dell'arte, realism and absurdity into a studio production to be presented in CA 143.

We will be taken back into the "Past" through Aria Da Capo written by Edna St. Vincent Milay. Directed by Corrine Soto, Aria Da Capo satirizes war and society of that time.

Next we will be brought back to the "Present" by Leonard Melfi's Ferryboat which takes place on a Staten Island ferryboat in New York. Don Gruber is the director of this realistic one-act.

And, finally, we will be taken into the "Future" via The Last Word! Or What To Say About It written by James Broughten and directed by Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill. The action for this one-act play takes place in The Last Chance Bar during a war in the near future.

This is a complete student produced project with the exception of Dr. Rudisill who is also the advisor for the production. Past, Present and Future is the first studio theatre production to be presented on campus and should prove to be an entertaining evening of adult theatre.

The stage manager for Past, Present and Future is John Higley with technical direction and scenic design by Thomas Huskey, lighting and sound by Don Gruber and make-up by Kenn Johnson.

The company of actors include: Christopher Brandon, Michael Donovan, Kenn Johnson, David Reese, Vicki Smith, Marisa Wine and Dell Vount.

Past, Present And Future will play from April 23-26 at 8:15 and Sunday, April 27 at 2:00. Tickets for all performances are $3 for general admission and $1.50 for students and senior citizens. Reservations can be made in the Theatre Arts Department office or by calling 867-7452. Seating is limited.

Chamber Singers Win Bronze Medal
by Billy McCluskey

The CSCSB Chamber Singers, under the direction of Dr. David Filbeck, attended their first International Collegiate Choral Festival in Mexico City during Easter week, and received a bronze medal.

Samuel Adler, Professor of Composition at Eastman School of Music in New York, was among the distinguished judges.

Two colleges from South Carolina and three other colleges from California were also a part of this relatively new program, organized under the auspices of the International Musical Festival, an organization sponsoring music festivals around the world.

Nineteen students, along with ten faculty members and family, traveled to Mexico City Wednesday, April 2. Once through customs, they checked into the beautiful Del Prado Hotel by Alameta Park where they spent their memorable and exciting week.

"It was a tremendously exciting educational experience for the students," Dr. Filbeck said. "We sang in the National Cathedral of Mexico which sits right on top of the Aztec ruins. We sat in Cortez's house, visited the Aztec pyramids, and we had the opportunity to sing in one of the best concert halls in the world, Teatro Nezahualcoyotl at the University of Mexico. We were also able to live in a culture that is so much different than our own."

The Chamber Singers performed by themselves and with other colleges in general performances. Classical works, such as Jesu, Nisiem Freude, by J.S. Bach, as well as sacred contemporary songs, such as Salve, Viritis Pectoris Virgo, and Patrona Galliae, by Julio Perceval, were among the selections performed.

Dr. Filbeck believes that students perform better and work closer as a unit when they are away from their home environment. He also feels that the Mexican people, as a whole, are more receptive to classical music than the people of the United States. Talk is already beginning for a European tour next year.
Tuba Recital On April 23rd

A tuba recital by the Director of Bands, Keating Johnson will be presented Wednesday, April 23 at the college.

The program will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

General Admission is $1.50, students and children will be admitted free.

The program will feature Johnson playing a romantic concerto by Lebedev, a composer of the Moscow Conservatory; a sonata by Horlitz: an avant-garde work by University of Redlands composer Barney Childs; and finally Sonata in E flat for flute and harp schord by J.S. Bach, transcribed for tuba by Johnson.

Johnson, a graduate of the University of the Pacific and the University of Wisconsin, has extensive background as a tubist. He has performed in organizations such as the San Francisco Symphony under Seiji Ozawa and the Milwaukee Symphony under Arthur Fiedler, the American Wind Symphony, the New Hampshire Philharmonic and the Brico Symphony.

He has studied with Floyd Conley, a tubist with the San Francisco Symphony, Don Heeren, a tubist with the Denver Symphony; and Arnold Jacobs, a renowned tubist with the Chicago Symphony.

As a soloist Johnson has performed concerts with the University of the Pacific Wind Ensemble, the University of Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra and other orchestras and bands.

His repertoire ranges from Bach flute sonatas (performed with the tube) and Strauss horn concerti to early 20th century and avant garde literature.

The Sheep Has Five Legs

by Dawn Gregory

The Sheep Has Five Legs, a French film made in 1935, is the film that will be shown free of charge to students and community members on Saturday, April 19. This 95 minute film directed by Henri Verneuil has French dialogue with English subtitles.

Acclaimed by the New York Times as "one of the cleverest and most hilarious French comedies since the war," The Sheep Has Five Legs features the famous French comedian Fernandel at his best. In fact, Fernandel, much to the delight of his fans, plays six different roles in the film.

Porgy And Bess

Tickets for San Bernardino Civic Light Opera's production of George Gershwin's musical masterpiece, "Porgy And Bess," which marks the first time this musical has been presented in the Inland Empire, are now on sale, according to C. Dale Jenks, Civic Light Opera general manager.

"Porgy And Bess," starring a cast of 45, opens for a limited engagement, May 2 through May 10, at the California Theatre of Performing Arts, 562 West 4th St., San Bernardino. Curtain time for all performances is 8:15 p.m. There are no performances on Sunday.

Big Band Era Revived At Disneyland

Disneyland guests will take a musical journey back to America of the 1940's when the Park presents "Make Believe Ballroom," Saturday and Sunday, April 26 and 27.

Headliner Cab Calloway, known as "His Highness of Hi-de-ho," will offer nostalgic tunes of the big band era such as, "Minnie the Moocher" and "You Are the One in My Heart" in a make-believe "live" radio broadcast. He returns to the Park during its 25th anniversary festival reunion year, having previously performed at the Magic Kingdom during the 1973 presentation of "Big Band Caravan."

Also spotlighted during the staged "radio broadcast" will be Helen Forrest, featured singer with the bands of Harry James, Benny Goodman and Artie Shaw, who will perform such all-time favorites as "I Had the Craziest Dream," "The Man I Love," "I Don't Want to Walk Without You, Baby" and "Someone to Watch Over Me."

The melodic score of "Porgy And Bess," includes such songs as "Summertime," "It Ain't Necessarily So," "Oh, I Got Plenty O' Nuttin," and "Bess, You Is My Woman Now."

Tickets for "Porgy And Bess" are available for all performances and can be purchased at the Civic Light Opera Ticket Office, 2079 North E Street, San Bernardino. Tickets can also be purchased by phoning (714) 882-2545 or 825-9452.

Tickets can also be purchased at all Mutual Agencies.

O'Malley Wins Two Championships

This week the venerable intramural participant of the week award goes to Brennan O’Malley! Brennan was a key player on “Dog & Puppies” co-ed volleyball champs and played center for the A-League Basketball champs, “Wounded Knee’s.” Brennan’s situation is both unique and rare in intramurals; he was involved in two championships in the same week.

Joe Long has your ticket, good for some eats at the Pub, so hurry on over, pick it up, and satisfy your hunger courtesy of the Pub and Intramurals! And remember maybe you will be next!

The Clippers cruised to a 48-34 victory to win the 1980 B-League basketball playoff.

In the first half it looked as though it was going to be a knockdown-dragout fight. Osmosis actually led at the half, 19-18. But in the second half the Osmosis offense fizzled and the Clippers surged ahead on the strength of John Placentia (10 points) and Jim Allo’s (22 points) shooting.

Tim Arner (7 points) pulled down eight rebounds while teammate Richard Allo grabbed seven. Benny Cunningham led Osmosis with 17 points while winning the war of the boards by snatching 10 rebounds in a losing cause. Cohort Rudy Covarrubias added ten points of his own. Jim Allo led all scorers.

The public has demanded that the Bull be put behind bars. It’s the right time to make the break from beer to Bull. Because now Schlitz Malt Liquor is on tap. And anyone who’s tried the smooth, distinctive taste of the Bull can testify to its many arresting qualities. So why not try Schlitz Malt Liquor on tap. We’re sure of what the verdict will be.

Cretin Trucks — Del Rosa is ready to defend the title they won last year. Paul Lemire’s powerline is said to be ready to try again to take it away. Also rumors are floating around that Shandin has put together a team that is ready to challenge both. It should be an interesting quarter.

Presently, there are 5 teams signed up in both the Coyote (4:00) and Rattlesnake (2:30) leagues. If you want to play and can’t find a team, you only have to find 2 more people to play. Get involved! Intramurals are fun. 25 percent of the student body can’t be wrong!

Net, 12 points led Varsity to a 59-49 victory over Lloyd’s Army. The Holies played good team ball. Robbie Wilson (Mister Inside) and Scott Charlesworth (Mister Outside) both made key baskets in the second half. The “ones” were solid on defense as well. Bill Bain and the Army did make a run at the Vickers late in the game on one of the Pointer’s weak points. Bain led all Army scorers with 15 points followed by Randy Crawford with 10.

The way Mystics were like: Susan Seakerise Tuatoo went to the free throw line to shoot two. He made both to apparently tie it up but James Williams was called for a lane violation to nullify the point. The final, 42-40, 3-Pointers.

James Williams led all scorers with 20 points while the Pointer’s Caboose and Duncan nabbed 13 and 11 respectively.

In another quarter-final match, the Holy Ones wilted to a 52-37 victory over the 3-Pointers. It was never close due to very consistent defense by the Mystics. The Holy Ones shot 23 percent from the floor, but the Mystics scored 11 on 3 in favor of the Mystics. This was followed by a 10-0 Mystics offensive run to shut off the 3-Pointers. For the Mystics, it was the second straight win over the 3-Pointers.

In the other semi-final game, it was the Holy Ones vs. the Aches and Pains. The Holy Ones were never able to get the team balanced and never able to get the team balanced. A & P’s Dexter Caffee was unbalanced and almost specular in his play. A & P’s was led by Jeff Frazier who attempted a turn around jumper that missed. A & P also committed only two shooting fouls.

Holy Ones shot 23 percent from the field. That line tells the story of this disappointing Lackluster A-League championship. The Holy One’s vaunted offense couldn’t get it going against the Wounded Knees better balanced attack (43 percent from the floor). An excellent defensive effort by the Mystics.

In the other semi-final game, it was the Holy Ones vs. the Aches and Pains. The Holy Ones couldn’t get the ball inside to Robbie Wilson, and they could not throw it in from outside. The Mystics led at the half 27-9.

Bob Boul dominated the boards for the Mystics. He was leading scorer with 14 points. The Mystics were never able to get the team balanced and never able to get the team balanced. A & P’s was led by Jeff Frazier who attempted a turn around jumper that missed. A & P also committed only two shooting fouls.

Bounded Knees brought the ball up court and passed off to Jeff Frazier who attempted a turn around jumper that missed. A & P’s also committed only two shooting fouls. Wounded Knees running game Jeff Wistas and Dave Prozanski both had huge nights. Bob Boul led all scorers with 17, Jeff Frazier had 14 and Tom Fashion scored 9 for the Mystics. Final 50-32.

In the first of three quarter-final A-League playoff matchups the 3-Pointers won a close, suspense filled upset over their previous nemesis: the Black Knights.

In a close throughout, the 3-Pointers stung the Knights by managing an 18-13 halftime lead. Ivan Glasco was instrumental in the victory, masking nine of his twelve points in the second half and collecting three of four points from the charity line. Chester McIntosh (12 points) led a late second half resurgence by the Knights but his effort was to no avail.

With the score 41-39, Seakerise Tuatoo went to the free throw line to shoot two. He made both to apparently tie it up but James Williams was called for a lane violation to nullify the point. The final, 42-40, 3-Pointers.

Self contained and un-assured she stands talking to the stars while reaching for the moon's amorphous face. Like all, she'll settle for a single change in height I hope. While flinging flaming clovers spreading a light beyond and into circle where death looms bright in hope of few scanning luminous details.

Flaming hair heralds a generous distribution of fiery cobalt clouds, death by pale beneath glow.
loosing delivered penance alive in a failure to achieve the distant

Why climb a tall when you can pluck the stars and feel the mountful unfulfilled excitement of missing the moon, on having it slip uncatchched between awkward hands that burn interminably from embarrassment, more so than heat.

And look up to see a persive thoughtfull waried face who never mentioned her.

But oh the sighs and breathe away that struggling up the hill reveal to an eye jaded with lust and blind ecstasy.
And if I look away, will that act cause me to betray whatever self-respecting face I have to go without a trace?

I don't know and little care for the lovely to betray whatever self-respecting face 1
that struggling up the hill reveal

But oh the sights and breaths away why climb a hill when you can
And look up to see a pensive, thoughtful have to go without a trace?

And none did their place to yield
Where the masses did their strain
The strife surges on, on the plain
O'er the trampled dead.

Then arisr— dripping a suhrtse red
As overall swirls the multi-fight
The men shout their pain
The horses cry their anger
Each body pulses the danger

Yet, there Death laughs his victory refrain
And none did their place to yield
When, his reasoning is correct
And none did their place to yield
For several hundred million stimulations

His counselor could have helped.

If he'd only asked. You see, that's what counselors are for. They can help you plan your career before you graduate. Which is precisely the topic of our next issue of "Insider"—the free supplement to your campus college newspaper from Ford.

We'll tell you how counselors can help take the mystery out of planning a successful career. By figuring out what you're best suited for... and then helping you go after it. Success doesn't have to be a big secret—if you plan it right.

While you're checking out the next issue of "Insider," be sure to check out Ford's exciting lineup for 1980. They've got some great ideas for getting you wherever you're going, in style.

"Insider"—Ford's continuing series of college newspaper supplements is coming next week. Look for it.
