LONG BEACH-Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke today implemented a major restructuring of general education-breadth requirements for students entering The California State University and Colleges.

The requirements, adopted by the Board of Trustees in May, will reshape the educational programs of more students than any single reform effort instituted anywhere in higher education.

Among the changes will be a 20 percent increase in minimum requirements, or from 40 to 48 academic units of general education courses required for students to earn bachelor's degrees.

For the first time, the country's largest system of senior higher education institutions has, as a result of the requirements, a unified statement of purpose for general education on the 19 campuses.

Chancellor Dumke implemented the new requirements by signing Executive Order 338 at a brief ceremony at which Dr. Allan C. Shirreffs, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs; Dr. Robert Kuly, Chair of the CSUC Academic Senate; and Dr. Carl Wagener, a member of the Senate's Executive Committee, were present.

Dr. Wagener, professor of sociology at CSC, San Bernardino, is Chair of the Chancellor's Advisory Committee on General Education-Breadth, which will follow the implementation of the new requirements within the system.

Chancellor Dumke commanded the Senate for its dedication to the improvement of general education, initiated in 1977 with the Chancellor's appointment of a task force headed by a former Senate Chair, Dr. Charles C. Adams of ESU, Chico.

Many of the campuses in recent months, aware of the pending changes, have acted to bring their requirements into harmony with the Trustees' action.

The changes will apply to students enrolling in fall 1981 and subquent terms who have not previously been enrolled continuously at a campus of the CSUC or the California Commmity Colleges.

The General Education-Breadth requirements include:

- A minimum of nine semester units in communication in the English language, to include both oral communication and written communication, and in critical thinking, to include consideration of common fallacies in reasoning.
- A minimum of three semester units in study and development of themselves as integrated physiological and psychological entities.
- A minimum of 12 semester units among the arts, literature, philosophy and foreign languages.

Faculty Oppose CSUC Proposal

Recent Poll results show that CSUC faculty favor rejecting a proposal to change the professor's salary schedule of the California State University and Colleges by a ninety percent margin.

This proposal, which includes eight specific alterations in the professor's salary schedule, was submitted to the September Board of Trustees meeting by the Chancellor of CSUC Glenn Dumke.

The results of the CSCSB poll indicate that ninety percent of the faculty reject this proposal, mainly on the grounds that there was not appropriate consultation before its submission.

The Academic Senate, who had less than a week to decide on this proposal, endorsed a resolution at the Board meeting that called for the Chancellor to overhaul the Academic Senate CSUC, the campus senates/councils, and appropriate faculty representatives.

The trustees' Faculty and Staff Affairs Committee voted to keep this proposal as an information item for the November meeting and not take it up as an action item until January.

Two of the largest faculty employee organizations, the Congress of Faculty Associations and the United Professors of California, feel that this proposal is a scheme on the part of the Chancellor to push through a new pay schedule before a collective bargaining election to be held some time in April or May of 1981.

At that time the CSUC faculty will have the opportunity to pick an employee organization to represent them in collective bargaining, or they can vote for 'no representative.'

Although the CSCSB poll indicates that a large majority of professors disapprove of the new plan, there is less one-

While the UCP and the CFA agree that the new proposal is unacceptable, they disagree on the method to defeat it.

The UCP feels that this is the last straw in a series of moves made by the Chancellor in his attempt to degrade the faculty, and they have called for his dismissal.

UCP attorneys feel that filing an unfair labor practice charge before the Trustees in 'legally premature' at this time.

The CFA has filed an unfair labor practice charge with the Public Employment Relations Board against the CSUC, because they feel the Chancellor has violated the agreement.

President of the CFA Dr. William Crist feels that calling for the removal of the Chancellor is a 'strategic blunder,' causing the Board of Trustees to stand behind their chancellor.

Bill Leonard

Assemblyman Bill Leonard was scheduled to speak in the SUMP Room last Thursday, but very low attendance precluded his appearance. This is the third time in about a week that this event has been cancelled due to low attendance, which is due to general apathy of the students.

Assemblyman Leonard, who represents San Bernardino County, did consent to a private interview with some interested students who spoke on issues ranging from rape crisis centers, justice system reform, and proposed tuition increases for the Cal State System of colleges. Mr. Leonard is a member of the Education Ways and Means Committee in the Assembly.

Not concerned with the lack of participation, Leonard praised the Cal State, San Bernardino students for driving so far, putting up with the higher winds and said, 'Keep up the good work!'
Off the Wall

In last week's issue, a letter to the editor appeared regarding a column in the previous issue's article on Loose Bruce Kerr. I have received a number of requests for a response to these comments. Nothing did.

One thing I should point out is that the author of the letter to the editor was responding to a review of a music event and was critical of the religious diatribe against the music. Nothing did.

Nothing that appeared in the article was questioned.

The author of the letter to the editor was simply not used to the context in which one letter was written.

This is not a proper subject to yell and scream about in a college newspaper. With the exception of the comments made in the letter to the editor on the music, the issue was not an issue that had anything to do with the politics.

The comments made in the letter to the editor, although I enjoyed receiving them, had little or no bearing on reality and seemingly were the product of a mine cut off and isolated from what little reality is left to us in the world after thirty years of television.

I encourage anyone who objects to anything that is said in the PawPrint, or is even stimulated by what appears, to write letters to the editor expressing their feelings. Bear in mind, that after all is allowed, I will be able to make my comments.

The comments in this issue are not limited to the m e n of the letter but to all the new-fad Christians who are attempting to dictate everyone's moral standard.

Just because Christ walked on water, and just because you 'v i l l be walking on water, does n ' t mean that you too, also walk on water.

For all we truly know today beyond FAITH, maybe we just knew where the rocks were.

God may make judgements on his creations. God is entitled to make judgements on his creations. But simply believing in God or Christ has never implied the right to the belief of others not to act for God.

World War I Exhibit Shows
The Way It Was

What was it like during World War I? What were the soldiers like? What songs were sung? What terminology and slang was used? And what was the citizen reaction and support?

An exhibit of World War I Materials and memorabilia will be on exhibit on the first floor of the Library Nov. 4-Dec. 7.

The display offers a glimpse of the way it was during the world's war was by providing an overview of literature and photographs.

For instance one section focuses on the soldiers' mess. There is a pamphlet of the 1917 government notice to register for the draft. There is a pamphlet, "The President's War Message- Woodrow Wilson," dated April 2, 1917.

Other pamphlets include one on the "War Vegetable Garden and Home Storage of Vegetables.

Photos, post cards, posters, souvenir programs and patriotic buttons of the era add color and perspective to the show.

One post card displays an exhibit form the 1918 National Orange Show. And there are a couple copies of the March Air Force Base newspapers, The Fly Leaf, from 1919.

Other photos are of airplanes, ships, the equipment and soldiers of the day. There are newspapers, both American and foreign, as well as a song book, "Camp Jingles and Songs," by Martha S. Gielow, and a "Welcome Home Song Sheet.

Highlighting the show are large color reproductions of two of the recruiting posters. Women in uniform are shown on both. One displays a pretty, smiling girl in uniform along with the words: "I wish I were a man."

Sen. Lewis Speaks On Campus

This Nov. 4th the 37th District Congressional seat goes up for grab and that fact had Republican incumbent Jerry Lewis and his Democratic challenger Don Rusk at Cal State last Tuesday, Oct. 28. The U.S. Congressman spoke in the S.U.M.P. Room and was immediately followed by Mr. Rusk, who has taught at Cal State and at San Bernardino Valley College in recent years.

Sen. Presley spoke on a number of topics including the danger of single issue politics and the role of the U.S. in world affairs during the next few years.

He also emphasized the need for reform in the U.S. Congress. He said that part of the danger lies in rules changes made by the leadership which prescribes that one-third of a full committee may be called a quorum, therefore allowing a handful of congressmen to decide millions of dollars of tax money.

Congressman Lewis also answered questions on a number of issues and seemed to feel sure of a win this Nov. 4.

As Sen. Lewis left the room, Don Rusk, who has been actively campaigning for more that a year, began to heavily criticize Sen. Lewis' remarks and his voting record for the last two years.

Rusk characterized Sen. Lewis as a "very political politician," and pressed quite forcefully that there was some difference between Sen. Lewis, public statements and the facts in actuality. Mr. Rusk responded to many questions during the hour he spoke and also predicted a victory for himself.

Outstanding Professor, 1980-81

Each year the CSUC system selects two professors from among the faculty of participating campuses who are named Outstanding Professors of the year. The faculty selects a substantial cash award and a certificate of recognition. Faculty at CSU-CSB will be eligible to participate in the program for the first time this year.

While only tenure-track faculty and administrators who hold faculty status may nominate candidates for the awards, students and alumni may participate by petitioning a faculty member to nominate their candidate.

Because the primary criterion used in selecting the Outstanding Professors is superlative teaching, student and alumni participation is particularly encouraged by the Selection Committee.

Complete statements of nominating criteria and procedures and all necessary petition forms are available at department offices at the Circulation Desk of the Library, at the Office of the Associate Students' Board of Directors, at the Student Union Information Desk and at the Alumni Office.

The deadline for the submission of completed nominations is 5:00 p.m.

November 26, 1980, so if you are interested in seeing a particular faculty member nominated, timely action is advised.

Questions may be directed to members of the local Selection Committee. They include:

- Humanities and Library representative and Chair of the Committee: Andy Bhatia, Administration and Education representative: Stu Ellins, Social and Behavioral Sciences representative: Arlo Harris, Natural Sciences and Student Affairs Officer representative: J. C. Robinson, Administration representative & James Lyne, Associated Students representative.

The Alumni representative has yet to be named, but Alumni may contact the Alumni Office for information.

CHAMBER ENSEMBLE TO PERFORM AT CAL STATE

A chamber music ensemble which attempts to re-create as closely as possible the performances of the 17th and 18th centuries will play Friday evening, Nov. 14 at California State College, San Bernardino.

The concert starts at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building. The public is invited.

The ensemble, called Mcintyre's Recreations, is in residence at Claremont Graduate School where the members spend their time researching the tempo, rhythm, pitch and ornamentation of early chamber performances. They incorporate their findings into their concerts.

Other photos are of airplanes, ships, the equipment and soldiers of the day. There are newspapers, both American and foreign, as well as a song book, "Camp Jingles and Songs," by Martha S. Gielow, and a "Welcome Home Song Sheet.

Highlighting the show are large color reproductions of two of the recruiting posters. Women in uniform are shown on both. One displays a pretty, smiling girl in uniform along with the words: "I wish I were a man."

Mentor Friend

Children need friends. But with parental consent, Mr. Frank Frankel is suggesting that students consider mentors, too. Frank Frankel is organizing a "Mentor Program," under which students who are interested in becoming a "Mentor" can sign up.

The idea is to match students with someone who can provide guidance and support.

A program like this is not new. But Frank Frankel is working on a plan to make it accessible to students.

A form, a mentor form, is enclosed. In order to be matched, the student must fill out the form and return it to the Student Affairs Office.

Colleagues of a sort request this form to use in order to be matched. For a new mentor, Frank Frankel suggests this form.

"This is very exciting," he says.

"But it can be a difficult job."

Listening Takes More Than Two Ears

"I know you think you heard what I said, but what you heard wasn’t what I meant... So goes, approximately, an old joke, but there is more than a grain of truth in the humor.

The college is offering a one-day seminar designed to improve the effectiveness of listening skills. The seminar will be offered on the campus Saturday, Nov. 15. Another session will be offered in Palm Desert at College of the Desert, Saturday, Dec. 6.

Although people spend 45 percent of each day listening, they lose within eight hours more than two-thirds of the information received; statistics on divorce and suicide indicate they lose within eight hours 60 percent of what is communicated. Teachers.

The seminar will cover the following:

- Information about college regulation.
- Dropping classes.
- Rights for matters pertaining to advising, academic difficulty, student support services, and student grievances.
- Grade checks.
- Change of major.
- Parking details.
- GRE, GMAT Booklets.
- Information about campus clubs, career workshops, and "Escape" trips.
- General information, advice, service and "creative problem solving."

The policy will allow for night-time students to be able to cash checks in the Student Union, in addition to check-cashing in the bookstore.

One of the more demanding works of the program is Schubert’s Quartet in D minor, known as ‘Death and the Maiden,’ Consistent with the character of the second movement, the quartet is darkly serious throughout.

The concert by the Harris String Quartet will launch its new season with a Sunday afternoon concert Nov. 9, in the recital hall of the Creative Arts Building.

The concert Nov. 9, is one of six composed and dedicated to the Grand Duke Paul of Russia in 1781. The third quartet called 'The Bird,' because of the grace notes, contains some of Haydn’s finest music for quartets.

Mrs. Ochoa also said that she and Russ Castle, office assistant and master of all trades, would be there to solicit ideas for and other services that they might provide. Some of the services available now include:

- Information about college regulation.
- Dropping classes.
- Rights for matters pertaining to advising, academic difficulty, student support services, and student grievances.

The office is located on the second floor of the Library in Room 236 and is open from 6:00 to 8:30 pm, Monday through Thursday. Don’t forget the open house or just drop in and say "Hi." We think you’ll always find a smile there.

A.S. BOD TV’S & CHECKS

In the Associated Students Board of Directors' meeting Monday, October 20th, the board approved a bid to purchase a large-screen television for use in the pub.

The Sony 7200 large-screen television will cost $2,648.94, including sales tax. Although five bids were sent out for the purchase, only two out-of-town companies responded. Adry-Mart, Inc. was the lowest bid. A savings of over $1,000 was realized by self-installing the unit.

A policy regarding campus check-cashing privileges was also adopted at Monday’s board meeting.

The policy will allow for night-time students to be able to cash checks in the Student Union, in addition to check-cashing in the bookstore.
The Little Monsters

More than 20 children from Cal State's Child Care Center at Kendall School descended on campus last Friday (Oct. 31) for their annual trick or treat excursion.

Some parents accompanied their children, while others were escorted by aides from the Center.

The children first visited the offices in the Administration Building and then walked through the Student Services Building.

The parade was then loaded on the train which made stops at the Bookstore, the Library and the Physical Science Building.

The kids were last seen hugging bags full of candy toward awaiting automobiles which drove them back to Kendall School.
The children and their parents cruised around the campus in the tram.

The Hulk was on the prowl for candy.

Halloween

Campus celebrities including President and Mrs. Pfau were on hand Friday night to judge pumpkins and costumes in the Commons. Badger's jack-o-lantern won first prize, wonder where they got the bow-tie?). Tokay came in second and Morongo came in third. Shandin won first prize for dorm participation, enthusiasm and costumes. Arrowhead got second place and Joshua got third.

Campus police are still looking for these two in connection with wrecked police cars.
