"Forest" Opens May 14

by Terry Seal

The Petrified Forest, by Robert Sherwood, will be opening at the Col State Creative Arts Theatre tomorrow, May 14th. Presented by the Players of the Pear Garden, under the direction of Professor William Slout, the play is ostensibly concerned with the takeover of an Arizona filling station restaurant. The play goes deeper than that, however. This is a play about the thirties, "Agent Orange— A Search For Answers," and the other was called 'The Deadly Fog.' The former was produced by the Veterans' Administration, and while the film claimed to be sold the veteran 100%, it warned the viewer of the scarce scientific data available.

The second film examined links between various chemical contaminations around the United States and the world, showing the similarities of symptoms experienced by those who have been exposed to dioxin, the most deadly substance known to man, according to the speakers. Sulnick and Dronscomb both agreed that the second film did "Agent Orange is the general name given to the chemicals used in defoliation missions in Vietnam. Airplanes and helicopters would spray the chemicals on dense foliage to uncover enemy trails, as well as on agricultural crops of the enemies. Those veterans most likely to be contaminated are those who worked and flew on the Agent Orange aircraft, and the ground troops who entered areas after they were sprayed. The symptoms an individual may experience when exposed to Agent Orange or any other substance that contains the chemical component called dioxin, include claustrophobic (skin sores or rash), excessive tiredness, birth defects, cancer, problems with the liver, weight loss and lack of sex drive.

Two films were shown during the meeting. One was called "Agent Orange— A Search For Answers," and the other was called 'The Deadly Fog.' Sulnick continued to empha-size the need for veterans who feel they are suffering from any of these symptoms to contact their local V.A. office. "The mood of the country is zogar economic policies," he said.

'This is the moment in history, if we decide their we take care of Agent Orange. This court will look at it and determine it. This particular group will be apart of this moment in history. If people don't cooperate, if will not be possible, "Sulnick said.

If there are any questions concerning this issue contact Roy Savre, veterans' officer on campus at CSID, extension 7996, who about a year ago formed a non-profit organization "Veterans Working For Veterans" specifically designed for the specifically designed to help the Agent Orange problem. There have been some cases in which veterans did not experience symptoms until 10-12 years later. You're a Vietnam Veteran and wish to find out if you have been contaminated, you can set up a free physical at the Jerry, Profit Memorial Hospital in Loma Linda, Cal 925-7084 Extension 2285, or make an appointment at the reception desk. The hospital is located at 12001 Benton Street in Loma Linda.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

While mindlessly wandering to class last week, I chanced by the library and discovered that our campus now offers the magazine in its curriculum under the pretext, ROTC. This college- within a college offers to teach America's future graduates the art of war. (surely the art department has something to say about this) the psychology of mass murder, and the dehumanization of bodies behind the phrase, the "ends justifies the means." They must also be giving instruction about the economics of war and all duly assigned utilities.

Supposedly, rather than taking the few years normally required to finish a degree, participants in ROTC are entered to an additional four more years of service with the U.S. Army or reserve components. Mind you, I am not only offended by the presence of military concepts being taught in an institute of famed "Higher Education." (Was I wrong, I thought that we were here to learn something! (overmind?) but I am appalled by having paid Army Recruiters permanently stationed here at Cal State San Bernardino. Of course, what is done is done, and I am told since the ROTC was approved by the Faculty Senate, which acted to fulfill some student demands regardless of how unconcerned and unprepared the majority of them are. I am writing to you because I am scared! This college has never before had any tangible direction or goal save for its many individual callings. With the introduction of military training on Campus, the focus upon collegiate pursuits might be lost, the ideologies of war will not.

Sincerely, C.O.

Crime Control

A special editorial by State Senator Robert Presley

Fear of crime has become epidemic in California- in fact, all across the nation. Poll after poll tells us that our citizens do not feel safe even in their own neighborhoods. Senior citizens are sometimes afraid to go out even in the daytime.

The California Legislature has heard this tall, loud, and clear. This year, crime legislation is the top priority among legislators.

The state Senate recently approved six major bills which, when they become law, strengthen our ability to prosecute and sentence criminals who have been apprehended- criminals who have too long had their way. In recent years, the California Supreme Court has gone for beyond federal standards. As a result, criminals, even when obviously guilty, have been allowed to go free on "technicalities."

SCA 7 (Introduced by Presley) would prevent the California courts from placing stricter limits on the gathering of evidence than are required by the U.S. Constitution. If SCA 7 is approved by the Legislature, it will go before the people for a vote. If approved by you, the changes should result in a greater rate of convictions than we are now able to obtain.

SCA 7 and SCA 10, another of the measures of which I am the author, are considered perhaps the two most far-reaching proposals on crime which the legislature is considering. SCA 10 would require a judge to consider safety of the public in setting bail for persons accused of serious crimes. Another criminal bill, SCA 54, would place strong restrictions on the use of the "diminished capacity" defense. This legal maneuver permits a defendant to plead that he or she was incapable of appreciating the wrongfulness of the action or the time of the crime.

Defenders have often used this technicality when they have been intoxicated or on dangerous drugs when committing a crime. Lawyers, using worldly psychopathic lemmings, pleaded "diminished capacity" on behalf of their clients so that they can escape the full penalty for the crime. SCA 54 would close this loophole.

Other legislation which just passed the Senate include Senate Bills 383, 390, 2151 and 538. SB 383 would make it more difficult for a defendant to appeal his or her pleading guilty. Sometimes, criminals plead guilty to get a lighter sentence, and later want to go back on that deal. This practice has led to a backlog of court cases in California.

Current law encourages people to rob houses during the day, so that if they are caught, their punishment will not be as severe. SB 200 would eliminate the statutory advantage of night-time and night-time home burglaries. This bill also requires at least a 90-day jail term for all first degree burglars.

We are also increasing penalties for armed robberies committed in a person's home through SB 251. The new terms would be a mandatory 4, 6, or 8 years in prison, depending on the circumstances. I introduced this bill also.

Finally the Senate approved SB 538, which changes the rules under which a person can plead insanity. Many of us believe that an "insanity" defense should be limited to instances where the defendant did not know his criminal action was wrong. The definition that is presently applied in such cases is much broader.

The recent Senate passage of these bills does not end our work. Other bills dealing with plea bargaining reforms, child molestation, handling of mentally disordered sex offenders, bail setting, burglary, rape, and other violent crimes are currently under consideration by the Senate. The passage of these bills are ready to be heard on the Senate floor, and will be acted upon by us in the near future.

All too often nowadays, voters tell me that they feel their representatives have stopped listening, have lost touch. I assure you that when it comes to crime, we have heard you.

Sincerely, Senator Robert Presley

Draft News by Brett Wyatt

Early this month the Selective Service started to take applications for Draft Board selection officers in the state of Kentucky. The job of these officers is to screen and accept applicants for Draft Board service as part of an experimental program that is already being conducted in Maryland and will soon be nationwide.

For those readers with brothers or sons in high school the Selective Service has been notifying high school principals to inform Selective Service of the names of graduating seniors who are eligible for the draft.

So far there have been no reported prosecutions of persons who have failed to register. It is believed that these procedures will not begin until the case of U.S. vs Woollman is decided.

A bill has recently been introduced to the Califormia State Legislature making available to the armed forces all student deferments from conscription through-out the state. If you feel as many others do, that such an act is an infringement of your right to privacy, contact your local representative and let them know.

ONLY THE ARMY GIVES YOU TWO WAYS TO LOWER THE COST OF EDUCATION IN JUST TWO YEARS.

LOAN FORGIVENESS

If you have a Guaranteed Student Loan or a National Direct Student Loan (made after October 1, 1975) hanging over your head, consider spending a couple of years in the Army.

If you train for certain specialties, the government will release you from 1/3 of your indebtedness (or $1,500, whichever is greater) for each year of active duty.

Obviously, a three-year enlistment would eliminate 100% of your indebtedness. But you may prefer to take a shorter route and sign up under the Army's two-year enlistment option (and put 2/3 of your debt behind you).

Or you might want to join the Army Reserve. If you qualify, as a Reservist you can stay home, get paid for your active duty, and receive 15% loan forgiveness (or $500, whichever is greater) for each year you serve.

But we're not just offering you loan forgiveness. With your education, you can probably qualify for a higher rank and pay grade. You'll have your choice of many sophisticated Army skills.

And you may be eligible for generous monetary educational incentives.

TWO-FOR-ONE SAVINGS PLAN

If your dream is to continue your education someday, joining the Veterans' Educational Assistance Program can bring that day closer.

In fact, in just two years you can accumulate up to $9,200 for grad school. (Only the Army can offer you a two-year enlistment.)

It's not a loan, so you'll never have to worry about making payments. It's simply a savings program between you and the government.

If you save between $25 and $100 of your monthly Army pay, the government will match that amount two-for-one. On top of that, you might qualify for an exclusive Army educational incentive of $2,000. (Longer enlistments can result in higher incentives.)

And you can participate in VEAP at the same time you're receiving loan forgiveness.

So, in just two years, you can go back to school with 2/3 of your debt behind you and up to $9,200 for your education ahead of you. (Of course, a longer enlistment could result in more educational benefits and 100% loan forgiveness.)

To find out more about both ways to serve your country as you serve yourself, call 800-421-4422. In California, 800-252-0011; in Alaska and Hawaii, 800-423-2244. Ask for the name of the Army's college representative nearest you.
