Shakespeare is coming to campus with the opening of his lively comedy, "Love's Labour's Lost," next Thursday, May 15.

Costumes from the Napoleonic period, renaissance music and baroque dancing are featured in the Players of the Pear Garden production, directed by William Slout. Dr. Slout states that he chose the Napoleonic period to get away from Elizabethan bloomers and to bring the play forward in time for modern audiences.

The comedy, about youth and the frivolities of love, has allowed the director to make full use of the natural spontaneity and youth of the actors.

Theatre patrons are urged to check with the Drama Department, FA-102, Ext. 7452, for availability of tickets for all performances.

Performances, in addition to opening night, continue May 16, 17; 20-24. Curtain time is 8:15 in the Little Theatre.

TIBETAN AND INDIAN DANCES FEATURED IN ASIAN CONFERENCE

Classical dances of India and Tibet will be performed by Sujata and Asoka, natives of India, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 14.

The public is invited to the program, which is part of the two-day Asian Conference of Southern California. Admission to the dance concert, held in the Gymnasium, is $1 for those not already registered for the conference.

The renowned husband and wife dance team has appeared at the Los Angeles Music Center, in motion pictures and television, and on concert stages throughout the world.

ASIAN CULTURE AND POLITICS SUBJECT OF TWO-DAY CONFERENCE

All phases of Asian life, culture and politics will be discussed at the Asian Conference of Southern California next Wednesday and Thursday, May 14 and 15 here on campus. An Asian dinner, and other cultural events, including films are also part of the event, open to the public.
Discussion panels will be conducted by Asian specialists from colleges and universities throughout California. Also represented are Northern Arizona U., Purdue and the U. of Wisconsin. Brij Khare, Chairman of the Political Science Department, is conference coordinator.

Activities begin Wednesday, May 14 at noon with registration. Registration on Thursday, May 15, will begin at 8 a.m. in LC-500. An Asian dinner starts at 7:15 p.m. on Thursday, with advance registration needed by today. Price: $6.

The community is invited to take part in the conference. Registration for the entire two-day event is $10, including the dance and dinner. Individuals may also attend specific events.

An authority on ground forces in NATO will speak on campus Wednesday, May 14. Col. Carl F. Bernard, U.S. Army, Prof. of Military Science, UC, Berkeley, will speak at 3 p.m. in LC-211. The public is invited to join the International Security and Defense Strategy class of Richard Ackley for the discussion.

The noted author and lecturer has served as war plans officer, Central Army Group Europe 1965-67; plans officer on U.S. Army Europe General Staff 1969-70; Chief of NATO and USAREUR Mission to the French Army 1970-72. He will discuss the "Soviet Military Threat," as well as tactical nuclear weapons and the need to restructure NATO ground forces in Dr. Ackley's class.

Robert Yeager, a senior chemistry and biology major and honor student, recently received a research appointment from Argonne National Laboratory in Illinois. He was one of 59 undergraduate students selected from 726 applicants throughout the U.S. to do nuclear biomedical research there this summer.

Linda Grotke, administration major and graduating senior, will be presented the Federal Government Accountants Assn. scholarship award at the meeting of the San Bernardino-Riverside Chapter on May 14. Ms. Grotke is entering the Administration M.A. program at CSCSB.

CSCSB students voted in yesterday's run-off election to decide the ASB presidential contest between Raul Ceja and Kevin Gallagher. Results will be announced this morning. Successful candidates for other AS offices include Patricia Eggeter, vice pres.; Patricia Motz, secretary; Steve Sparks, treas. Other run-off candidates are Marilee Baxter and Mike Miller for AS Judicial Rep. An amendment to the AS constitution giving limited discipline powers was passed by 567 to 58 votes.

Food sculptures are featured in the senior art exhibit of Lee Catherine Lindley. The show, ending May 10, may be seen on the Third Floor of the Library.

Robert Senour, Director of A-V Services, has been notified that the 1975-76 Title VI grant application has been recommended to HEW for funding by the Calif. Post Secondary Education Commission.

Dr. Senour also announces a Plato IV computer-
A-V news (Cont) based educational system is scheduled for this campus for three weeks in May, beginning May 9. The system will be located in LC-67. Times of use and introductory briefings will be announced. Call A-V, Ext. 7296 for details.

Student Art Show is a popular attraction. Nearly 100 visitors each day attest to the popularity of the art show in The Gallery this month. The juried exhibit of 24 CSCSB students contains 43 pieces which represent the best of more than 200 entries judged by members of the Art Department faculty.

The show is colorful and varied, has something for everyone, from glass sculpture, furniture, ceramics, prints, oil paintings, weaving, photographs, wood objects, to a subtle kinetic piece, a tall glass tube in which cones are moved by fluids and air pressure.

The show, dedicated to Mavis A. John of Redlands, an art student who died last month, includes two of her pieces.
