Inauguration

by Mary Wilton and Carol Leish

Dr. Anthony H. Evans was officially welcomed as the second president of our college in a very impressive inauguration ceremony last Tuesday, May 17.

The inauguration began with a processional lead by 50 honor students. They were followed by dozens of distinguished guests from various campuses, all wearing their dignified robes and school colors.

The Wind Ensemble, directed by Keating Johnson played "Proud Heritage" by William Latham during the processional. Ralph H. Petrucci opened the ceremony.

After the opening, Rabbi Hillel Cohn gave the Invocation. He said that understanding and discernment are important in establishing an institution of learning.

Chancellor Reynolds from the California State University hosted the colorful affair and introduced the speakers. Representatives from the Board of Trustees, the Faculty, the Staff, the Associated Students, and the Alumni all brought greetings from their respective groups. The central theme seemed to be "Let's build upon the excellent foundation that our departing president, Dr. Pfau, has so graciously established.

The major speaker of the afternoon was Michigan's Supreme Court Justice James H. Brckley. He is a close friend and colleague of our new President. His speech centered on "A New Challenge for Education." He began by exclaiming the "beauty of this paradise" (Cal State) and how we're so lucky to be a part of this fairly new campus. He said "in order to perform, indeed, survive, you must be surrounded with good people." Then, he took the audience back in time to the 1950's, where higher education showed "unprecedented growth and confidence." Government aid was started to encourage more student enrollment and college presidents spoke with authority. He proceeded to the 80's when the "explosion of growth and enrollment" continued at record levels. The 1970's brought student revolts and lower standards of education. Political issues were allowed to cloud educational goals, and the momentum of higher education was seriously damaged. Justice Brckley called this decade "the age of confusion." The lowering of admission standards and the expansion of curriculum combined to seriously erode the quality of higher education.

He stated that the 1980's have so far seen public spending cutbacks and lower enrollment, but Brckley feels that the new leaders like Dr. Evans, "people are ready for college, if we're ready to give it to them." Now is a great opportunity for the educators and the educated.

Dr. Evans responded to everyone's welcome with a shy smile and great emotion as the college's Presidential Medallion was placed around his neck. He began his speech by quietly thanking everyone who helped him attain his goals, from his wife to his supervisors. He consistently referred to Sir Walter Scott's "Lady of the Lake" "the will to do, the soul to dar", and talked about future potential for our growing college. He firmly stated that he "accepts the challenge to lead us into the new, emerging issues of the 80's."

The program concluded with warm and enthusiastic applause from the near-capacity crowd. The inauguration was truly an impressive affair that was followed by a spectacular reception in the commons.

Career Week

The Career Planning and Placement Center's annual Career Week continues with two workshops today. The first workshop, entitled Career Perspectives In Journalism, will be presented by Bettye Miller, County Editor of The Sun. The workshops will be held from 10-12 in the Student Union Senate Chambers. This afternoon, an Interview The Interviewers panel involving eight personnel directors from local school districts will be held in the Student Union Multi-Purpose Room from 2:30-4:30 p.m. This workshop is designed for prospective teachers to ask a variety of questions regarding employment opportunities in the teaching profession. Panel members will include: Joe Carrillo of the San Bernardino City Unified School District, Charles Jordan of the Colton Joint Unified School District, Elton Etheredge of the Fontana Unified School District, Kent Campbell of the Jurupa Joint Unified School District, Charles Luciano of the Rim of the World Unified School District, Donald De Santis of the Rialto Unified School District, Paul Payntor of the Riverside Unified School District, and Veola Kirk representing the Redlands Unified School District.

Tomorrow (Thursday) a Career Opportunities Fair will be held in the Student Union Multi-Purpose Room from 10-2 p.m. The Fair is specifically designed as an information session for all students. Representatives will be available to answer questions regarding career opportunities within their respective organizations.

Marketing Association Stikes Again, Again

by Brad Uhi

The Marketing Association went on another great knowledge expanding field trip last Friday. Nine students were invited to the L.A. Times to meet with the head honchos of the marketing research department. Here is a little of what they had to say:

The L.A. Times is a subsidiary of the Times Mirror Corporation which is involved in a lot of vertical integration acquisitions including the ownership of numerose and paper mills. The L.A. Times is the second largest publisher in the world. Their market involves 9.6 million people. The Times has the largest marketing research staff with over 40 employees in five divisions. The five divisions are Consumer Survey Research, Special Projects, Economic and Statistical Research, Advertising and Sale Presentations, and Graphic Marketing.

The goal of the research department is to provide the utmost in quality and accuracy in the data they research.

The trip was very successful. You talk about getting your foot in the door, the entire Market Association nearly left employed by the Times. When you get out there in the cold, cruel world and find out how hard it is just to get an employer to say "take a hike" you'll come running to the Marketing Association and be a part of the force that can get you where you want to be.

Environ. Act. Council to Show Forbidden Canadian Film

by Bernard Zaleha

The Environmental Action Council (EAC) to show the film Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery on Wednesday, June 1 at 12 noon in the SUMP. There is no charge. The film is one of three films produced by the National Film Board of Canada which have recently been declared "foreign political propaganda" by the U.S. Justice Department. The other two films were Acid from the South, a film about acid rain, and If You Love This Planet, a film about nuclear arms. The propaganda label legally requires film distributors to report the names of organizations which rent the films to the Justice Department. The American Civil Liberties Union and the Attorney General of the State of New York have filed a lawsuit to try to unobtain the Justice Dept. from applying the propaganda label to the films and from enforcing the reporting requirement. Some of the plaintiffs in the suit include the Environmental Defense Fund, The Environmental Task Force, the State of New York, and the New York Library Association, which could be penalized under the law if they comply in disclosing to the Justice Dept. the names of patrons who borrow the films.

Dr. Moorfield Presents a Lecture-Recital

Dr. William A. Moorfield, professor of music at CSUSB, will present a lecture-recital illustrating the historical function of the pipe organ in the Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque worlds, Thursday, May 26 in the college Recital Hall.

Before coming to Cal State in 1973, Dr. Moorfield taught at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, California Lutheran College and the University of California, Riverside. He was a clarinetist and arranger in the United States Military Academy Band at West Point from 1951 to 1956.

Admission to the program is $3.50 general and $1.75 for students and senior citizens.

Amphitryon 38

Jean Giraudoux's delightful comedy about the foibles of the Roman gods, "Amphitryon 38," will open Thursday, May 26 at the Theatre at Cal State, San Bernardino.

Performances are scheduled at 8:15 p.m., Thursday through Sunday, May 26-29, and Tuesday through Saturday, May 31-June 4.

When Giraudoux completed the play in 1929, he chose a title to indicate the historical popularity of the god Jupiter's attempts to seduce Alkmene, a mortal woman who prefers to stay faithful to her husband, Amphitryon. The first version in play form was by Roman playwright Plautus in about 200 B.C. Giraudoux's play, which subsequent research revealed is actually the 39th rendition, was translated into English by S. N. Behrman and debuted in New York with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontaine in the leading roles.

More than his predecessors, Giraudoux focuses on the strength of the quick-witted Alkmene. Nancy Johnson of Calimesa will play this role in the Cal State production. Bill Gleyer of Grand Terrace will play Jupiter, and Randy Charnin of New York will have the role of Mercury. Directed by Dr. Ronald E. Barnes, professor and chair of the Theatre Arts Department, the cast also includes John Koroluk, Mark Duncan, Gary Roberson and Timothy Reilly of San Bernardino; Jodi L. Julian, Fontana; Sybil Anne Matzke and Mary Manthing, Highland, and Tammy Monohan, San Luis Obispo.

Admission is $4.25 general, $2 students and senior citizens. Tickets may be obtained by calling the Theatre Arts Department, 887-7452.

Workshop Company

The newly formed Workshop Company under the director of Dr. Amanda S. Studis, director of the Theatre Arts, has begun presenting workshop sessions and demonstrations in the preparation and performance of Readers Theatre scripts developed from children's literature. These workshops are designed for in-classroom use and are adapted to fit the needs of teachers, K-12. These additional workshops are useful for anyone directing performance oriented activities, such as might be used by recreation leaders, camp or church youth directors, librarians, etc.

Workshop Company is a part of the Music at Cal State Series. Admission is $4.25 for adults and $2 students. Tickets will be available at the Theatre Arts Department, 887-7452.
