Next Monday, February 13, is the day officially set aside by the State for the observance of Lincoln's Birthday. However, it is not authorized as a holiday for the College on that date. Classes will be held and offices will be open as usual.

The day will be earned as holiday credit by staff for an in-lieu-holiday to be taken on July 3, 1978, during the Independence Day weekend.

CSCSB'S OWN TICKETS GO ON SALE MON.

Tickets go on sale Monday, February 13, for a brand new, original Sherlock Holmes play, uniquely CSCSB's own. Written by two senior Theatre Arts majors, Paul De Meo and Danny Bilson, the new play will be the first original student-created script ever used for a major production at the College.

The world premiere of "The Houdini Deception" will be presented on March 2, continuing on March 3-4 and 7-11. Curtain time for all performances is 8:15 in the Theatre of the Creative Arts Building.

The play is a semi-roman à clef, bringing together a fictional character, Sherlock Holmes and a historical person, Harry Houdini, in a light-hearted melodrama filled with adventure and intrigue.

William Slout, Prof., Theatre Arts and the director, states he is very pleased with the professionalism of the script turned out by the student playwrights, saying that it compares very favorably with professional scripts he has seen - and in some cases even better - than some performed on Broadway.

Picture Baker Street, London in 1908 and a momentous meeting between Holmes and Houdini, against a backdrop of clever clues, magical stunts and suspense.

General admission is $2.50; $1.50 for students and senior citizens with identification. For reservations call 7452 from 1 to 4 p.m. and 887-7680 other hours.
