COLLEGE AND REDLANDS SCHOOL DISTRICT AWARDED 5-YEAR, $1.5 MILLION GRANT

Approval was received by the College on April 2 from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Office of Education, for a grant which will reach a total of $1.5 million over a five-year period.

$75,000 will be received in June by the College and the Redlands Unified School District, each, as joint-participants in the Teacher Corps program.

Application for the grant was forwarded to Washington, D.C. last December by Wilson Riles, State Superintendent of Schools.

The project will provide faculty development for the College and the school district, the latter on all three levels, elementary, junior high and senior high school. It will be directed by Joe Gray, Asst. Professor of Education.

The College will be able to provide the development activities for faculty on campus, including conferences, materials for audio-visual facilities, library materials, special consultants and much more.

$10,507 GRANT RECEIVED FOR ECONOMIC EDUCATION

The College Foundation has received word that a grant of $10,507 has been awarded by the National Science Foundation to conduct a seminar on campus this summer in economic education for elementary teachers in kindergarten through sixth grades.

The project, to be called "Pre-College Development in Science," is under the direction of Jim Charkins, Asst. Professor of Economics.

Dr. Charkins will also serve as principal instructor of the seminar, assisted by other area teachers. The purpose of the class is to instruct the teachers in basic economic concepts and to teach them methods of getting the subject across in their classrooms. Areas such as the economics of energy, unemployment, inflation, and roles in the economy will be explored.

A similar seminar was offered on campus by Dr. Charkins last July.

SPEAKERS BUREAU SETS NEW RECORD IN MARCH

The Speakers Bureau reports a record number of speeches given by faculty and administrators recently.

During the month of March, 50 speeches were presented. From Big Bear to Murietta Hot Springs, Palm Springs to Upland, and just about every town in between, the faculty has journeyed to give lectures to high schools, colleges, senior citizens, fourth and fifth graders, professional groups, service organizations, churches and adult education classes.

Only 12 of the 50 speeches were given in San Bernardino. Three speeches were made on weekends: one on Sunday and two on Saturday.

Even though March was the wettest month of the year, the speakers were undaunted by it. (One went in a torrent to talk to two high schools miles apart.) Some encountered sleet and snow (Big Bear, Lake Arrowhead and Crestline); others left their homes in the early morning hours to arrive at a destination 50 miles away to make a presentation to a 7:30 a.m. class; and some fulfilled late evening engagements out of town which made their return home late at night.

Barbara Nolte, Director of the Bureau, states that she is more than gratified at the response and utmost cooperation the Bureau has received from the faculty this year.

90 COURSES AVAILABLE A bulletin outlining the extension program course offerings for the spring quarter is available.

One need not be a regularly enrolled student to participate, yet he or she can choose from about 90 courses that are being offered by the Office of Continuing Education.

Included in the spring session are classes in administration, education and nursing and other areas ranging from popular topics including disco dancing, wines of California and hypnosis.

Most classes, offered on weekends and evenings to accommodate working people, are scheduled to begin this month. For many of the courses, pre-registration is required.

More information and the free extension bulletin is available from the Office of Continuing Education.

GEAN RECEIVES HUMANITIES GRANT William Gean, Acting Chairman and Asst. Prof., Philosophy, has been granted a National Endowment for the Humanities stipend of $2,500 for the summer of 1979.

Next fall he will teach a course on "Emotions and Feeling" in which he will use material from his book.

In 1973-74 Dr. Gean also received an award from the National Endowment for the Humanities, when he was granted a year's Younger Humanist Fellowship.
At Your Service, Ma'am

ESCORT SERVICE TO BE PROVIDED BY POLICE

The College Police will provide students, staff, faculty, and visitors with uniformed escort service to all parts of the campus beginning next Monday, April 9.

The new service will be available from 7 to 10 p.m. each evening, Monday through Thursday. Service may be obtained by going directly to the Escort Service Booth on the first floor of the Library or by calling the College Police at Ext. 7555.

EARLY 1900s IN SAN BERNARDINO SHOWN BY POSTCARD EXHIBIT

A glimpse into the San Bernardino of the early 1900s will be provided through an exhibit of nearly 200 picture postcards now on display in the Library.

The exhibit is on loan to the Library from Norman Sturgess of San Bernardino.

For easier viewing, the postcards have been grouped together by subject. The categories are street scenes, home and fellowship, San Bernardino 1912, hotels, advertising, parks and railroads.

Most of the cards are dated between 1910 and 1920, which was the peak period for the picture postcard.

The exhibit will be on display through April 20.

UCR COLLEGIUM MUSICUM IN WEDNESDAY NOON CONCERT

The Collegium Musicum from UCR will recreate musical sounds of the 17th Century in a free noon concert held in the Recital Hall Wednesday, April 11.

The program will feature English and German music from the early 1600s. Directed by Fred Gable, Professor of Music at UCR, the 18-member Collegium Musicum has been in existence since 1965. It attempts to recreate the original performance conditions of the earlier music so that it will sound close to the way the composer intended it to sound. The instruments include krummhorn, viola de gamba, cornetto and sackbut. Performers include an English consort ensemble, keyboard players and solo singers.

FOREIGN FILM FESTIVAL GOES GERMAN TOMORROW AND SPANISH NEXT WEEK

The Spring Quarter offerings of the Foreign Film Festival begin with a showing of the German film "Paracelsus" tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in PS-10. Directed by G. W. Pabst, this English subtitled film tells a story of an unconventional Swiss physician.

The following Saturday evening, April 14, the Spanish film "Dona Perfecta," will be shown. It is the story of a proud and intelligent woman who rules not only her daughter but the entire town of Santa Fe with an iron hand.
