Bush plans for a better economy

By Matthew Woods
Staff Writer

This past January, President Bush announced a new proposal that he hopes will result in an improved job market and a stronger economy. The proposal, which the Senate and the House have been tussling for some time over, includes three main components: encouragement of consumer spending, promotion of investment by individuals and businesses, and administration of essential support to the unemployed. The shared purpose of these goals is to encourage economic growth and create more jobs. Although it has been said that everyone who pays taxes will benefit from the President's plan, the people who will earn the most significant tax breaks are those who fall into the middle- and moderate-income levels.

Generally speaking, the largest tax breaks will be given to married couples, families with children, single parents, and elderly taxpayers. Others who will see direct benefits from the economic plan include small business owners, those who invest in the stock market, and those who qualify for unemployment benefits - all workers who have been laid off or fired.

So what does this mean to the seemingly insignificant, average Cal State University San Bernardino student, you ask? What do you get out of the plan if you're young, single, and childless? Well never fear - you too may have reason to breathe a sigh of relief.

Although students in general are not included in the list of those who will gain directly from the proposal, if everything goes as planned, they may reap benefits in the long run.

CSUSB economics professor Thomas Pierce explained that these potential benefits ultimately depend on how quickly the economy recovers from its slump. One of the primary objectives of Bush's plan is to create more jobs. And jobs are of great importance to students.

Pierce admitted that we can not yet predict how, or when, the plan will have an impact on the economy. He did, however, add that while "(this policy) may not affect students directly, tax cuts will influence the job market, and that would be of concern to students."

American POWs return home

By Jenn Gardner
News Editor

April 19, the seven prisoners of war in Iraq are scheduled to be arriving at the base in West Texas, known as Fort Bliss.

The seven to be returning to homeland, U.S. are Specialist Solomon Johnson of El Paso, Texas; Specialist Edgar Hernandez of Mission, Texas; Specialist Joseph Hudson of Alamogordo, New Mexico; Pfc. Patrick Miller of Warner, Kansas; and Sgt. James Riley of Piedmont, New Jersey; and Apache helicopter pilots Chief Warrant Officer Officials David Williams and Ronald Young Jr.

These POWs spent approximately three weeks as POWs in Iraq.

At press time, President George W. Bush was scheduled to attend an Easter Sunday gathering with soldiers at Fort Hood, where two of the POWs are stationed. President Bush has made no plans to meet with Chief Warrant Officers Williams and Young.
Campus police encompass SBC jurisdiction

Fred Navarro
Staff Writer

Students may be wondering the extent of the jurisdiction of the campus police.

Our regular Chronicle readers may have read last week that an individual was cited for driving without a driver's license and displaying the wrong license plate. However, since there has been an increase in car thefts at the university, the campus police are limited to the jurisdiction of the city of San Bernardino County police, if necessary.

The campus police, currently consisting of thirteen officers: five sworn police officers, four sergeants, one chief, one lieutenant and two detectives, assist the San Bernardino County police if necessary.

The campus police vehicles consist of the typical Crown Victoria cruisers as well as having one truck that is equipped to go four by four up in the hills if necessary.

"The campus is like a small city, it has every type of crime, except, they occur in small increments," according to the Dispatch and Operations Supervisor, Scott Kovach.

The university police also offer an escort service that is available to any student at night. By calling them at university extension 5165, the campus police will gladly accompany a student who feels insecure at night.

"I never see them. They should stick to the campus," says Mike Nelson a CSUSB junior, regarding the campus police patrol area. Whether you see them or not, keep in mind the next time that you are driving either on or near campus that the campus police can and will give you a ticket if you break the law.

Soggy Coyotes: April blooms bring allergies

Students at Cal State University, San Bernardino can be thankful: at least Spring Break was somewhat "springish.

Rather than having progressively warmer and sunnier days — eventually culminating in the dreaded heat of the summer months — most CSUSB students were given a healthy dose of rain this past week.

For some students, the weather may have been a nuisance. For others, the danger of drowning conditions prevailed them from attempting cross-country activity.

The rain left the campus at CSUSB with flooded roads — that more closely resembled reservoirs small lakes. This week's rain can be blamed for nourishing the swelling plant life of the desert back to life, and also for causing more allergic reactions to increased pollen in the air.

Blackey honored for his work

By Marie Thomson
Staff Writer

Robert Blackey, a Cal State San Bernardino history professor, was recently named as one of the winners of the 2003 Wang Family Excellence Award in the social and behavioral sciences.

The award was established in the fall of 1998 in honor of Trustee Stanley T. Wang. The award is designed to "celebrate those CSU faculty and administrators who, through extraordinary commitment and dedication, have distinguished themselves by exemplary contributions and achievements in their academic disciplines and areas of assignment."

Nomination for the award comes from the president of each campus and they may only nominate one faculty member from each of the four discipline categories. Blackey was aware of the nomination beforehand and was told a couple of months ago that he would be representing Cal State.

Blackey was among 22 nominees from the other CSU campuses and only five of the nominees would receive the award. The news of winning came from President Albert K. Karkashan a few days before the news was released to the university.

"My reaction was one of surprise and joy; in fact, I got choked up," said Blackey. He also said that it was an honor to be chosen to represent Cal State and it was an even greater honor to be chosen as a winner among the other campus winners. The recipients will receive the award at the May 13 CSU Trustees' meeting.

Recently, Blackey's colleague at Cal State in 1968 where he was able to "convey to (his) students (his) love of history and its great value to us as individuals and to our nation and the world," he says. He also likes to show how history can be fun and fascinating in all kinds of ways that students do not expect.

Recently, Blackey's colleagues at the American History Association honored him with the 2002 national Eugene Asher Award for Distinguished Teaching; this is the national association's highest award for classroom teaching. Blackey was the first to receive this award in the Cal State and UC system. Blackey says that he does his best to generate excitement about history and interest in studying it.

World News

Pope remembers victims in Good Friday services

Pope John Paul II remembered "victims of hate, war and terrorism" in Good Friday services held.

Thousands of flickering candles held aloft by the faithful lighted the procession around the Colosseum, a traditional Roman Catholic event symbolizing Christ's path to his crucifixion.

A wooden cross was carried the half mile procession by a variety of people, including a woman and her daughter who fled Baghdad several months ago so that her husband would not have to fight and the widow and son of Carlo Urbani, an Italian doctor with the World Health Organization who first alerted the world to SARS (severe acute respiratory syndrome) who succumbed to the illness March 29.

John Paul asked God to “look upon the bloodshed by so many victims of hate, war and terrorism and kindly permit that the course of world events play themselves by .exemplary contributions and achievements in their academic disciplines and areas of assignment."

Nomination for the award comes from the president of each campus and they may only nominate one faculty member from each of the four discipline categories. Blackey was aware of the nomination beforehand and was told a couple of months ago that he would be representing Cal State.

Blackey was among 22 nominees from the other CSU campuses and only five of the nominees would receive the award. The news of winning came from President Albert K. Karkashan a few days before the news was released to the university.

"My reaction was one of surprise and joy; in fact, I got choked up," said Blackey. He also said that it was an honor to be chosen to represent Cal State and it was an even greater honor to be chosen as a winner among the other campus winners. The recipients will receive the award at the May 13 CSU Trustees' meeting.

Robert Blackey earned his undergraduate degree from City College of New York, and his master's degree in history from New York University, where he also earned his doctorate. Blackey began teaching at Cal State in 1968 where he was able to "convey to (his) students (his) love of history and its great value to us as individuals and to our nation and the world," he says. He also likes to show how history can be fun and fascinating in all kinds of ways that students do not expect.

Recently, Blackey's colleagues at the American History Association honored him with the 2002 national Eugene Asher Award for Distinguished Teaching; this is the national association's highest award for classroom teaching. Blackey was the first to receive this award in the Cal State and UC system. Blackey says that he does his best to generate excitement about history and interest in studying it.

"My reaction was one of surprise and joy; in fact, I got choked up," said Blackey. He also said that it was an honor to be chosen to represent Cal State and it was an even greater honor to be chosen as a winner among the other campus winners. The recipients will receive the award at the May 13 CSU Trustees' meeting.

Robert Blackey earned his undergraduate degree from City College of New York, and his master's degree in history from New York University, where he also earned his doctorate. Blackey began teaching at Cal State in 1968 where he was able to "convey to (his) students (his) love of history and its great value to us as individuals and to our nation and the world," he says. He also likes to show how history can be fun and fascinating in all kinds of ways that students do not expect.

Recently, Blackey's colleagues at the American History Association honored him with the 2002 national Eugene Asher Award for Distinguished Teaching; this is the national association's highest award for classroom teaching. Blackey was the first to receive this award in the Cal State and UC system. Blackey says that he does his best to generate excitement about history and interest in studying it.

"My reaction was one of surprise and joy; in fact, I got choked up," said Blackey. He also said that it was an honor to be chosen to represent Cal State and it was an even greater honor to be chosen as a winner among the other campus winners. The recipients will receive the award at the May 13 CSU Trustees' meeting.

Robert Blackey earned his undergraduate degree from City College of New York, and his master's degree in history from New York University, where he also earned his doctorate. Blackey began teaching at Cal State in 1968 where he was able to "convey to (his) students (his) love of history and its great value to us as individuals and to our nation and the world," he says. He also likes to show how history can be fun and fascinating in all kinds of ways that students do not expect.
Student picnic
Associated Students, Inc. will provide a free student picnic on April 22. The event will take place west of the Social and Behavioral Sciences Building, on the grass near Lot M. The picnic will be held from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

First Annual CSUSB Talent Show
Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Student Union Program Board and ASI will be having the First Annual, CSUSB Talent Show on April 23 at 7 p.m. in the Student Union Event Center.

There will be four categories: acting, dancing, singing and sports. A sign-up sheet will be posted on the door of the Student Union Program Board office or email Zeta.Ladies5005@yahoo.com

For any more questions email us at our web site at P2Z2Gzst,hypermart.net.

The Career Development Center
The Center for Career Development will be setting up job interviews with employers in the business industry, and government professions. April 23 through June 9, interviews will be set up. For more information contact the Career Development Center at (909) 880-5250.

“$400,000 in Stolen CDs, Masks, and Amplifier

The stereo, CDs, and amplifier were stolen.

Incident: Vehicle Burglary
Student parked vehicle in Lot F at approximately 9:30 a.m., returned at approximately 10:25 a.m., officers responded to the CSUSB parking decal from the front passenger seat, when she returned she discovered that unknown person(s) stole her CSUSB parking decal from the near view mirror of her vehicle.

Disposition: Report taken.

Incident: Injured Student
At approximately 9:08 p.m., officers responded to the CSUSB Waterman dorms regarding a report of a petty theft. A student reported that unknown person(s) stole his CSUSB parking decal from his vehicle from the near view mirror of his vehicle.

Disposition: Report taken.

Incident: Burglary
Morgon
Residential Hall student left her room door open as she went to the restroom and when she returned she discovered that her purse was stolen.

Disposition: Report taken.

Incident: Vehicle Burglary
Student parked vehicle in Lot F at approximately 9:30 a.m., returned at approximately 10:25 a.m., officers responded to the CSUSB parking decal from the front passenger seat, when she returned she discovered that unknown person(s) stole her CSUSB parking decal from the near view mirror of her vehicle.

Disposition: Report taken.

Incident: Medical Aid
At approximately 11:36 a.m., officers responded to the CSUSB University Hall regarding a report of a sick female student. Female student felt dizzy and was treated at the Visual Arts Center. The student proceeded to the Health Center where she was treated for her injury.

Incident: Medical Aid
At approximately 11:41 a.m., officers responded to the Health Center where she was treated for her injury.

Incident: Possession of Marijuana
Student cut her finger when attempting to cut a notch in a stick with a utility knife inside her dorm. She was transported to the Health Center where she was treated for her injury.

Incident: Unauthorized Cultivation of Marijuana
At approximately 9:30 p.m., officers served a search warrant in the residential building housing #6, where a student was growing marijuana. Three marijuana plants, approximately foot high, and other evidence was confiscated.

Health Patients’ Rights Ignites HMO Lawsuits

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) was passed during the Clinton Administration in 1996; it has now taken effect, as of April 14, 2001, and without controversy. Hospitals, doctors, and clinics nationwide have spent millions of dollars to keep patient privacy.

HIPAA requires that patients have supremacy over their medical records and confidentiality information be kept from invading third parties, such as employers and health maintenance organizations (HMOs).

The controversy over HIPAA is with the rising health care costs involved with providing such federally mandated provisions often without funding. HIPAA regulations include preventing employees from being notified of employees existing health conditions such as cancer, heart attacks, HIV/AIDS, sexual dysfunction, and infertility.

Patients feared that employers’ access to confidential medical data would create a window of opportunity for on-the-job discrimination or hinder the employee’s promotional success.

Negatives of HIPAA include the public acknowledgment by medical staffs that have issued higher rates for services in order to continue to comply with the regulations; resulting in increases in billing HMO’s, which will eventually lead to higher prices for consumer monthly premiums for health care.

For further information on HIPAA and how the regulations affect the consumer, please contact your local medical care provider or the U.S. office of Health and Human Services at www.hhs.gov/ocr/hipaa.
The Roving Reporter

What role do you think the U.S. should play in Iraq?

By Vincent Dass
Staff Writer

Name: Henry Ho
Major: English Composition
Year: 1st year grad student

"The U.S. should act as intermediates in order to help develop the structure for a government."

Name: Saeed Moride
Major: Marketing

"It's good to take Saddam, but the Iraqi people should choose the next ruler as soon as possible."

Name: Vicki Merrill
Major: Liberal Studies
Year: Senior

"The U.S. should work with the Iraqi people to establish an effective and humane government."

Name: Maria Cardenas
Major: International Business
Year: Senior

"The U.S. should help Iraq to be a better economy."

Look for the Roving Reporter all over campus.

Have a question you would like to see students answer? Email us at sfbrom@csusb.edu

Faculty Spotlight

Wesley Niewoehner, Ph.D.

By Beatriz Barragan
Scene Editor

A hands-on approach guided researchers to a new understanding. Wesley Niewoehner, PhD, professor of anthropology at CSUSB, lead a research team that came to the understanding that the Neandertals were much more similar to modern human beings than previously thought.

For many years, it has been surmised that early species of sapiens were not able to survive due to the formation of their hands that prevented them from holding a firm grip on tools that could have helped the advancement technology used for survival.

Extensive research focused solely on the hands of various skeletons. Niewoehner’s team was able to use computer scans to reconstruct and then compare Neanderthal hands with that of modern human beings.

"The hand is a very important part of the body, the hand tells us how we advance in technology," said Niewoehner. The research was published in the journal Nature which concluded that Neanderthals were capable of making and using tools similar to those of modern humans. With the help of the computer-modeling program, Niewoehner and his team were able to determine that the Neanderthal were capable of having histhumb and forefinger touch, therefore, were able to hold a tighter grip on tools that had more extension like that of a hammer.

"It is still a mystery as to why the Neanderthals went into extinction when they were capable of using tools that could have helped in their survival," said Niewoehner.

With Niewoehner’s research, there is advancement in evidence used for what are the origins of humans.

Niewoehner is in his second year teaching at CSUSB after he taught at University of New Mexico where he also received his Ph.D. from. Niewoehner teaches many anthropology classes but also specializes in paleoanthropology, functional anatomy, osteology, and forensic anthropology.

"He's a great teacher, I can easily understand everything he teaches," said freshman, Lilian Nunez.

High demands for blood

By Jennifer Jackson
Staff Writer

Fraternity Sigma Phi Epsilon held its quarterly blood drive in the Lower Commons, in participation with Blood Bank of San Bernardino and Riverside Counties.

The expected projection of donors was 115 and at 1 p.m. there was only 23 people who donated so far, which was a pretty low turnout compared to usual.

The donor cannot donate blood again until 56 days period over is over.

For many years, it has been surmised that early species of sapiens were not able to survive due to the formation of their hands that prevented them from holding a firm grip on tools that could have helped the advancement technology used for survival. For every pint of blood donated, three lives are saved. Their are many circumstances that call for blood transfusions. Many cancer patients, for instance require a blood transfusion to start their treatment. Someone’s life could be saved if that person ever gets into a car accident or emergency surgery or if someone is having emergency surgery and has lost a lot of blood.

The process is also safe. All of the supplies used are sterile making it nearly impossible for disease to spread. If you have ever wondered about donating blood, please don’t be. It is practically painless and not time consuming. At the end, you’ll be saving someone’s life.
Easter comes early to CSUSB housing residents

By Marilyn Valdez
Staff Writer

On a cold night, why would a total stranger knock on your door and ask you for a hair extension? Maybe because this person was trying to win this year's scavenger hunt. On Tuesday, April 15, the Village Square hosted the Battle of the Halls Easter Scavenger Hunt at 7:30 p.m.

The Battle of the Halls is an ongoing competition that begins as soon as you become a Serrano Village resident. Residence halls compete against each other for points. Some of the past events have included lip sync contests, volleyball games, tug-of-war and flag football.

"This is a great way to encourage interaction between residents, while still having fun," said Fernando Gonzales, resident advisor for Badger Hall.

To celebrate the Easter holiday, anxious scavengers met at the Village Square on Tuesday night to receive a list of the 15 items that needed to be collected. Items included purple gloves, a complete pack of Eclipse gum and hair extensions.

The residents were given 30 minutes to gather all the items on their list. If the contestants showed up just one second past 8:30 p.m., they were automatically disqualified.

Each item had to be a tangible item, no pictures or drawing of the wanted items were allowed. The scavengers were only allowed to collect items from their own hall or apartment building. This resulted in a chain of door knocking along the hall ways. The contestants would yell out if someone had the item, and at times they reply was, "No, I don't have it but I know someone who does!"

The winner was to be determined by who had the most items collected, and every item was worth five points each.

Vaseline, baby powder and brown teddy bears were in high demand that night, as hunters scoured for their last items. Some proved to be very tricky and slide around the rules.

"The rules said you could not draw a picture of the item but it didn't say you couldn't make the item yourself," said Arrowhead resident Elena Velez, who craftily made a set of purple gloves out of construction paper.

Although the event did not attract that many residents from each residence hall, the people who participated had an exciting night competing against other halls.

"I'm glad I can participate in events like these, so I can distract myself from my everyday stress," said freshman Juno Fernandez.

As the clock almost struck 8:30 p.m., residents ran into the village square to turn in their remaining items. Arrowhead Hall residents were the last participants to present their items, but resulted victorious at the end, as they tied with Building 4 for first place.

"Yeah, building four always wins. But sometimes they cheat us out of our points," said resident advisor, Cynthia Magana with a laugh.

The following day, all residents were able to participate in the Easter egg decoration contest at the Village Square.

---

Coyote Dating is back!

Anyone interested in finding the perfect match, just fill out the questionnaire and turn it in to the Chronicle Office in UH 037.

1. Gender: Female Male
2. Year: Freshman Sophomore Junior Senior
3. How do you describe yourself?
   A. Party Animal until the early dawn
   B. Hard-working and rarely can go out
   C. Lazy and won't even get up from the couch
4. Of the following, which one is your perfect date?
   A. A romantic walk on the beach
   B. A rockin' concert featuring your favorite band
   C. A sporting event
   D. Stay home and do nothing
5. If any actor was going to portray you in a movie, who would you be?
   A. Vivica A. Fox  A. Benicio Del Toro
   B. Jennifer Lopez  B. Brad Pitt
   C. Janeane Garofalo  C. Tobey Maguire
   D. Lucy Liu  D. Omar Epps
6. Who did you vote for?
   A. George Bush
   B. Al Gore
   C. I don't waste any time with politics
7. What personality traits do you value the most in a person?
   A. Smart
   B. Humor
   C. Looks
8. Would you prefer to date a female or male?
   A. Female
   B. Male

Name:
Contact Info:
Coyote Lite
Alcohol and College Students
Adapted from an article in Today’s Dietitian, Feb. 03 issue
Dorothy Chen-Maynard, PhD, RD
Director, Nutrition and Food Sciences Program

Effects of alcohol: alcohol is a central nervous system depressant and the level of blood alcohol affects the person's ability to function. Here is a sampling of blood alcohol levels and their effects on the body:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>BAC Alcohol Level</th>
<th>Effects on the Body</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0.00</td>
<td>Lower Inhibitions and promotes social interactions</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.10</td>
<td>Results in slurred speech</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.20</td>
<td>Motor impairment, incoordination</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.40</td>
<td>Slurred</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.60</td>
<td>Possible coma</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Respiratory paralysis and death</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Alcohol is mainly absorbed by the small intestine (70-80%) and in the stomach (20%). If alcohol is consumed with food, the amount of alcohol released from the stomach into the intestines is delayed so the amount of alcohol that goes into the blood is lower in a given time period.

Binge-drinking: for women, 4 or more drinks in a row, for men 5 or more drinks in a row.

Frequent binge drinking is defined as 3 or more episodes of the behavior within a 2-week period.

What is a drink? One 4-oz glass of wine One 12-oz beer A shot of any liquor

*A mixed drink containing one shot of liquor.

Drinking statistics (according to the Harvard School of Public Health’s study):
* 45% of college students were binge drinkers
* 55% of men were binge drinkers
* 30% of women were binge drinkers
* Among the binge drinkers, approximately 50% of them were frequent binge drinkers

Alcohol fact quiz:
1. caffeine counteracts alcohol. true false
2. Wine has less alcohol than beer or hard liquor. true false

Answers:
1. false, Caffeine is a stimulant and will increase the effects of alcohol.
2. false, Five ounces of wine is equal to about the alcohol content of a 12-oz beer and one shot of hard liquor.

Alcohol and Health: a drink of alcohol (4 oz wine) consumed WITH MEAL may help to reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease, either due to stress reduction and/or antioxidant in the wine. So, enjoy a drink with your dinner if you can help to reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease, either due to stress reduction and/or antioxidant in the wine.

Note to readers,
The Scene Editor would like to apologize to the readers and those who participated in the article entitled “Festival features world dances,” on April 7, 2003. The article mentioned the festival was sponsored by the Agricultural department when in fact it was the Anthropology Department. One of the performers, Nubia Boudiah, also had her name spelled incorrectly.

Beatriz Barragan
Scene Editor

A helping hand

CSUSB students volunteer to help bring Easter to community.

By Beatriz Barragan
Scene Editor

With donations and volunteer work, a community was able to bring happiness to many children this Easter holiday.

Pastor Joseph J. Mack and the New Beginnings Outreach Christian Church brought together an Easter meal, clothes donations, and a large U-Haul of gifts to needy children and their families at Fifth Street Park on Saturday, April 19.

“One of our goals is to show people that we have this type of support in our system and in our country,” said Pastor J.J. Mack.

Food was provided from families who volunteered and from many restaurants around the community of San Bernardino.

Coco’s, Denny’s, and Marie Calender’s each donated several pies and cakes. State Bros. and Food4Less also contributed with food. Walmart donated Easter gift baskets and toys.

CSUSB also played a big part in the community service event. Many of the organizations and CSUSB students donated their time and money to make Easter baskets that were given away to the minors.

“Students from Dr. Patricia Little and Dr. Mary Texiera’s sociology classes donated money to sponsor this event,” said Pastor J.J. Mack.

Students showed up Saturday morning and...
The Kurds: Who they are and where they originated

By Susie Medina
Copy Editor

It's a difficult position to be in, not having a sense of home. For years, the Kurds have been in conflict with countries like Iraq, Turkey, and the United States; and in this war, it is most important for this small group to choose a side.

The only Kurdish homeland that historians have been very lucky with the lack of hate crimes on campus. He says, "You have to be vigilant, they happen everywhere. We've been fairly fortunate, we haven't had much in terms of experience with violence acts." He says the reasoning for this is purely because of the many diversity, and campus related issues.

Kamig says that he would like to have a numerical representation of people and faculty on campus. He believes that diverse backgrounds add to the experience of CSUSB students receive on this campus. He admits that it is not as diverse as it could be but that it has come a long way in that aspect.

As of now the campus has 10-11 percent African Americans, it also has 30-35 percent Latino attendance, both making it the fourth highest in California. Kamig says that these numbers will only continue to grow because of or increased in minorities, especially Latinos who have accounted for this. This has lead to an important increase of people to this area.

Kamig also admits that the faculty on campus is not as diverse as it could be. He says that this is due in part to the pools in which to draw these perspective people from not being very large. For example, the rate of persons with PhD's is only 3 percent Latino.

Kamig says that there have been very lucky with the lack of outside views, espe­­ciately on this campus, they are not as much diversity as it could be. They have a long history of disappointments and that is not too terrible.

Kamig also admits that the faculty on campus is not as diverse as it could be. He says that this is due in part to the pools in which to draw these perspective people from not being very large. For example, the rate of persons with PhD's is only 3 percent Latino.

Kamig says that he would really like to have a numerical representation of people and faculty on campus. He believes that diverse backgrounds add to the experience of CSUSB students receive on this campus. He admits that it is not as diverse as it could be but that it has come a long way in that aspect.

As of now the campus has 10-11 percent African Americans, it also has 30-35 percent Latino attendance, both making it the fourth highest in California. Kamig says that these numbers will only continue to grow because of or increased in minorities, especially Latinos who have accounted for this. This has lead to an important increase of people to this area.

Kamig also admits that the faculty on campus is not as diverse as it could be. He says that this is due in part to the pools in which to draw these perspective people from not being very large. For example, the rate of persons with PhD's is only 3 percent Latino.

Kamig says that there have been very lucky with the lack of outside views, especially on this campus, they are not as much diversity as it could be. They have a long history of disappointments and that is not too terrible.
The Latin American Conference visits CSUSB

By Fred Navarro
Staff Writer

Living to tell a tale, the Latin American Conference came to campus this week. The conference brought a group of Latin cultures in the future years of the importance of linking with the Latin American community to CSUSB to remind students of the importance of understanding Latin American connections with the state of California. "Latinos make up ten percent of the population of California and the Latin American connection is the most important interconnection of Latinos in California," stated Cisneros about the large population of Latinos in California. Latin American connections California consist of are more than just our neighbors in Mexico.

The international connection of California and the Latin world include many other countries such as El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Panama, Colombia and others. The link between California and Latin America will increase because of the many modern advances of the modern age. For example, air travel will make more of Latin America accessible. The telecommunications industry is making it freer to reach places. There is even the soon to be real possibility of real time translating systems that will facilitate communications with Latin America for Californians.

The United States has a high demand of workers. There is a need for a younger work force. Most of the population of this country is over the age of 35. The average age of Latinos in this country is less than 25. This gives Latin Americans a wide range of opportunities in jobs because of the high level of employment.

We can expect heightened levels of trade between Latin America and the United States in the near future. There will be higher levels of government interaction between this country and the Latin American countries. There will also be a higher level of cultural interaction between people of California and Latin Americans. There are no centers of excellence of international relations in the North California sets the standards in the Latin American studies and interaction.

Cisneros remarks on the preparation for a future of intense international involvement. "We must learn languages, both Californians as well as Latino Americans," says Cisneros. This is in order to try to understand the contrast of the systems of the lands of the south as well as becoming informed of other people's culture, poetry, music and philosophy. By learning other languages is the only way to have a window into other people's lives.

Cisneros also stressed the importance of traveling, studying and working abroad. Studying abroad helps understand language. Working abroad aids in understanding the economy of other countries.

For further info contact Richard Piccola at x5469 or the International Institute x5190.

This day in history: Brothers found Rome

According to tradition, on April 21, 753 B.C., Romulus and his twin brother, Remus, found Rome on the site where they were suckled by a she-wolf as orphaned infants. Actually, the Romulus and Remus myth originated sometime in the fourth century B.C., and the exact date of Rome's founding was set by the Roman scholar Marcus Terentius Varro in the first century B.C.

According to the legend, Romulus and Remus were the sons of Rhea Silvia, the daughter of King Numitor of Alba Longa. Alba Longa was a mythical city located in the Alban Hills southeast of what would become Rome. Before the birth of the twins, Numitor was deposed by his younger brother Amulius, who forced Rhea to become a vestal virgin so that she would not give birth to rival claimants to his title. However, Rhea was impregnated by the war god Mars and gave birth to Romulus and Remus. Amulius ordered the infants drowned in the Tiber, but they survived and washed ashore at the foot of the Palatine hill, where they were suckled by a she-wolf until they were found by the shepherds Faustulus and his wife, Faustulla.

Reared by Faustulus and his wife, the twins later became leaders of a band of young shepherd warriors. After learning that an evil giant, the wicked Amulius, and restored their grandfather to the throne. The twins then decided to found a town on the site where they had been saved as infants. They soon became involved in petty quarrel, however, and Remus was slain by his brother. Romulus then became ruler of the settlement, which was named "Rome" after him.

To populate his town, Romulus offered asylum to fugitives and exiles. Rome lacked women, however, so Romulus invited the neighboring Sabines to a festival and abducted their women. A war then ensued, but the Sabine women intervened to prevent the Sabine men from seizing Rome. A peace treaty was drawn up, and the communities merged under the joint rule of Romulus and the Sabine king, Titus Tatius. Tatius' early death, perhaps perpetrated by Romulus, left the Roman as the sole king again. After a long and successful rule, Romulus died under obscure circumstances. Many Romans believed he was changed into a god and worshiped him as the deity Quirinus. After Romulus, there were six more kings of Rome, the last three believed to be Etruscans. Around 509 B.C., the Roman republic was established.

Another Roman foundation legend, which has its origins in ancient Greece, tells of how the mythical Trojan Aeneas founded Laviniun and started a dynasty of kings. Many Romans believed he was changed into a god and worshiped him as the deity Quirinus. After Romulus, there were six more kings of Rome, the last three believed to be Etruscans. Around 509 B.C., the Roman republic was established.

Aeneas told of how the mythical Trojan Aeneas founded Laviniun and started a dynasty of kings. Many Romans believed he was changed into a god and worshiped him as the deity Quirinus. After Romulus, there were six more kings of Rome, the last three believed to be Etruscans. Around 509 B.C., the Roman republic was established.

The United States has a high demand of workers. There is a need for a younger work force. Most of the population of this country is over the age of 35. The average age of Latinos in this country is less than 25. This gives Latin Americans a wide range of opportunities in jobs because of the high level of employment.

We can expect heightened levels of trade between Latin America and the United States in the near future. There will be higher levels of government interaction between this country and the Latin American countries. There will also be a higher level of cultural interaction between people of California and Latin Americans. There are no centers of excellence of international relations in the North California sets the standards in the Latin American studies and interaction.

Cisneros remarks on the preparation for a future of intense international involvement. "We must learn languages, both Californians as well as Latino Americans," says Cisneros. This is in order to try to understand the contrast of the systems of the lands of the south as well as becoming informed of other people's culture, poetry, music and philosophy. By learning other languages is the only way to have a window into other people's lives.

Cisneros also stressed the importance of traveling, studying and working abroad. Studying abroad helps understand language. Working abroad aids in understanding the economy of other countries.

For further info contact Richard Piccola at x5469 or the International Institute x5190.

You Say

a graduate degree costs too much?

Here's a great investment tip: Cal Baptist.

A graduate degree is supposed to pay dividends for a lifetime—but not all graduate degrees are created equal. At Cal Baptist, you can count on personalized attention from talented faculty, widely recognized graduate programs, and an ethical focus that distinguishes you from the crowd. So don't think of your Cal Baptist graduate degree as money out of pocket. It's more like money in the bank.

Cal Baptist's Graduate Degree Programs

Master of Business Administration
Master of Science in Counseling Psychology
Masters Degrees in Education
Master of Arts in English
Education Credential Programs

Cal Baptist also offers undergraduate degree programs that lead to more than 20 minors.

~Rome

cont. on page 17
Most Iraqis live below the poverty line.

What you didn’t know about Iraq

By Alexandra Rodriguez
Staff Writer

At a time where movies and the nightly news dominate American perceptions of the world, Arabs are often misunderstood.

Stereotypical images fail to represent a culture permeated with unique, scientific and historical beauty. The people of Iraq now awake to a new day, where a 30 year dictatorship has reached its end and a very uncertain reality lies ahead. Since becoming a “republic” in 1958, Iraq has been ruled by dictatorships, the most recent being Saddam Hussein. Despite the dark blanket placed by Hussein’s regime, Iraq contains a people deeply rooted to the land they call their own. The Iraqi nation is immersed in the Arab, Islamic and Middle Eastern worlds.

However, each term is not synonymous with the other. Arab refers to a culture that extends from Syria to Sudan and Arabic is the language spoken in Iraq, while Middle East refer to a geographical location Islam refers to a way of life, and although the two are intertwined, Professor Yasha Karan states, “Islam is not Iraq.”

What Iraq is, is a combination of diverse elements, with 80 percent of the country being Arab and 20 percent of the population being Kurdish. Kurdish is one ethnic minority in Iraq. Also, 97 percent of the country belongs to the Muslim religion, and although it may not seem like it religious beliefs are also diverse with, for example, Shia and Sunni Muslim people.

Countries located in the Middle Eastern part of the world are included in the term “Middle East”, A Middle Eastern country does not equal an Arab nation. Countries such as Turkey and Pakistan are non-Arab but are part of the Middle East. Iraq happens to be a unique country, where the terms Islam, Middle East and Arab are all integral parts of what makes up the Iraqi culture.

Because of resources such as natural gas and petroleum, Iraq has the ability to be a very wealthy nation, but in reality most people live below the poverty line. For example, in reference to an Iraq school www.chanelone.com states, “Most of the classrooms had only one light bulb, if any at all.” www.chanelone.com also states, “the economic sanctions imposed by the United States (through the United Nations) as punishment following the Gulf War, in the early ‘90s, have severely affected the ability for schools to operate as usual.” In addition, Saddam’s regime severely affect the pockets of the Iraqi people, and has also left families with painful memories and lost loved ones.

In 1979, immediately upon coming into power, Saddam silenced all political opposition in Iraq and converted the country into a place of terror and fear. Since the recent American invasion of Iraq, Saddam Hussein’s regime has fled the capital city of Baghdad and Iraq is no longer a place of tyranny and darkness. The women of Iraq also no longer live in fear and again are free from oppression.

On the religious end, Easter celebrates the rebirth of Christ. It is the compilation of religious events during Holy Week. It begins with Palm Sunday, which reflects the return of Jesus to Jerusalem, Holy Thursday, which honors the last supper, and Good Friday which tributes the crucifixion of Jesus.

Most holidays are widely known, people know what they are celebrating and why. Take Christmas for example, it is widely known as the birth of Jesus, and a time to gather around with family and friends. Presents are given, because the three kings brought presents for the new baby. Easter is not one of those holidays. There are still a few ambiguities, did you know that the word “Easter” was associated with religion, it was meant to celebrate the arrival of Spring.

Easter is a blend of Paganism and Christianity. The word Easter is derived from the Estre (also know as Ostara) who was an ancient Anglo-Saxon goddess. She symbolized the rebirth of life in spring. Goddess Estre was worshipped through her earthly symbol, the rabbit. Thus, the Easter bunny is widely associated with Easter.

On the religious end, Easter celebrates the rebirth of Christ. It is the compilation of religious events during Holy Week. It begins with Palm Sunday, which reflects the return of Jesus to Jerusalem, Holy Thursday, which honors the last supper, and Good Friday which tributes the crucifixion of Jesus.

Finally Easter Sunday celebrates the resurrection after his death. Jesus’ resurrection also celebrates the celebration of new and endless life.

If this is what Easter means now, then what do chicks, lambs, Easter bonnets, baskets, and eggs have to do with it? Lamb, chicks and all other baby creatures are all associated with spring, symbolizing the birth of new life. The Easter bonnet symbolized the end of a cold winter and the beginning of spring.

The Easter basket on the other hand was a Catholic tradition. Baskets were filled with hams, cheeses and other foods for Easter dinner. The basket was taken to church early Sunday morning to be blessed. This tradition evolved into baskets filled with chocolates, jelly beans, and various toys. The lamb is actually the oldest symbol of Easter, it was offered to Estre around springtime. Easter eggs painted with bright colors represent the sunlight of spring. With all the games and candy Easter is associated with, do people still look at the religious aspect of it? Sophomore Cheryl Caliva, would definitely say yes.

She celebrates Easter by going to church with her family. “Easter is a day to be gathered with family and loved ones, to share one’s feelings of Christ.”

Jean Rudatsikira also celebrates Easter Sunday by attending Church with his family. He believes that Easter represents a second chance in life, because Christ is alive in him.

The Easter Bunny vs. Jesus

By Zahra Mohammed
Staff Writer

Most holidays are widely known, people know what they are celebrating and why. Take Christmas for example, it is widely known as the birth of Jesus, and a time to gather around with family and friends. Presents are given, because the three kings brought presents for the new baby. Easter is not one of those holidays. There are still a few ambiguities, did you know that the word “Easter” was associated with religion, it was meant to celebrate the arrival of Spring.

Easter is a blend of Paganism and Christianity. The word Easter is derived from the Estre (also know as Ostara) who was an ancient Anglo-Saxon goddess. She symbolized the rebirth of life in spring. Goddess Estre was worshipped through her earthly symbol, the rabbit. Thus, the Easter bunny is widely associated with Easter.

On the religious end, Easter celebrates the rebirth of Christ. It is the compilation of religious events during Holy Week. It begins with Palm Sunday, which reflects the return of Jesus to Jerusalem, Holy Thursday, which honors the last supper, and Good Friday which tributes the crucifixion of Jesus.

Finally Easter Sunday celebrates the resurrection after his death. Jesus’ resurrection also celebrates the celebration of new and endless life.

If this is what Easter means now, then what do chicks, lambs, Easter bonnets, baskets, and eggs have to do with it? Lamb, chicks and all other baby creatures are all associated with spring, symbolizing the birth of new life. The Easter bonnet symbolized the end of a cold winter and the beginning of spring.

The Easter basket on the other hand was a Catholic tradition. Baskets were filled with hams, cheeses and other foods for Easter dinner. The basket was taken to church early Sunday morning to be blessed. This tradition evolved into baskets filled with chocolates, jelly beans, and various toys. The lamb is actually the oldest symbol of Easter, it was offered to Estre around springtime. Easter eggs painted with bright colors represent the sunlight of spring. With all the games and candy Easter is associated with, do people still look at the religious aspect of it? Sophomore Cheryl Caliva, would definitely say yes.

She celebrates Easter by going to church with her family. “Easter is a day to be gathered with family and loved ones, to share one’s feelings of Christ.”

Jean Rudatsikira also celebrates Easter Sunday by attending Church with his family. He believes that Easter represents a second chance in life, because Christ is alive in him.

Tired of eating the same old’ food?
Check out the Ethnic Foods Section!

This Week it’s Borsch, a Ukrainian beet soup. Enjoy!

In a 6 quart stock pot, add the following vegetables:
2 beets - cut into thin strips
3 carrots - sliced
6 y potatoes - cubed
1 onion - cubed
2 tomatoes - cubed
1/3 head of cabbage - shredded

Fill the stock pot with water and add salt and pepper to season. Add about 1 tablespoon of chopped dill and 2 bay leaves. Bring to boiling. When it boils, lower the heat to simmer and cover for a couple of hours. Before serving, add about 2 Tbs. Lemon juice. Serve warm with a dollop of sour cream in each bowl.

Most holidays are widely known, people know what they are celebrating and why. Take Christmas for example, it is widely known as the birth of Jesus, and a time to gather around with family and friends. Presents are given, because the three kings brought presents for the new baby. Easter is not one of those holidays. There are still a few ambiguities, did you know that the word “Easter” was associated with religion, it was meant to celebrate the arrival of Spring.

Easter is a blend of Paganism and Christianity. The word Easter is derived from the Estre (also know as Ostara) who was an ancient Anglo-Saxon goddess. She symbolized the rebirth of life in spring. Goddess Estre was worshipped through her earthly symbol, the rabbit. Thus, the Easter bunny is widely associated with Easter.

On the religious end, Easter celebrates the rebirth of Christ. It is the compilation of religious events during Holy Week. It begins with Palm Sunday, which reflects the return of Jesus to Jerusalem, Holy Thursday, which honors the last supper, and Good Friday which tributes the crucifixion of Jesus.

Finally Easter Sunday celebrates the resurrection after his death. Jesus’ resurrection also celebrates the celebration of new and endless life.

If this is what Easter means now, then what do chicks, lambs, Easter bonnets, baskets, and eggs have to do with it? Lamb, chicks and all other baby creatures are all associated with spring, symbolizing the birth of new life. The Easter bonnet symbolized the end of a cold winter and the beginning of spring.

The Easter basket on the other hand was a Catholic tradition. Baskets were filled with hams, cheeses and other foods for Easter dinner. The basket was taken to church early Sunday morning to be blessed. This tradition evolved into baskets filled with chocolates, jelly beans, and various toys. The lamb is actually the oldest symbol of Easter, it was offered to Estre around springtime. Easter eggs painted with bright colors represent the sunlight of spring. With all the games and candy Easter is associated with, do people still look at the religious aspect of it? Sophomore Cheryl Caliva, would definitely say yes.

She celebrates Easter by going to church with her family. “Easter is a day to be gathered with family and loved ones, to share one’s feelings of Christ.”

Jean Rudatsikira also celebrates Easter Sunday by attending Church with his family. He believes that Easter represents a second chance in life, because Christ is alive in him.

Tired of eating the same old’ food?
Check out the Ethnic Foods Section!

This Week it’s Borsch, a Ukrainian beet soup. Enjoy!

In a 6 quart stock pot, add the following vegetables:
2 beets - cut into thin strips
3 carrots - sliced
6 y potatoes - cubed
1 onion - cubed
2 tomatoes - cubed
1/3 head of cabbage - shredded

Fill the stock pot with water and add salt and pepper to season. Add about 1 tablespoon of chopped dill and 2 bay leaves. Bring to boiling. When it boils, lower the heat to simmer and cover for a couple of hours. Before serving, add about 2 Tbs. Lemon juice. Serve warm with a dollop of sour cream in each bowl.
Local band spotlight

Hollow: ‘We’re not marketable’

By Jesse Henderson

Guitar recital showed off Cal State Talent

By Scott Borch

New Art Exhibit: Pleasing to Senses

By Frances Chavez

Art & Entertainment

April 21, 2003

They played the House of Blues in Anaheim on Wednesday, and on Saturday before that they headlined a benefit show with local bands Sanger, Not For You, and the Stick-e-Radish that raised $1,000 for a child’s charity. Their recent release, Karma, took 8 days to record, but 21/2 years to develop.

Hollow’s lead singer, Steve Pollard, and bassist, Justin Van Westbroek, talked about the band, their new album, and the music industry last week on beautiful Easter Sunday.

When did you start the band?

S. If I put the band three years ago, in August.

J. The band started originally in August, I think

S. May be in 95.

J. Yeah in 98, I’ll say that.

When did you guys start catching on?

S. Well, we started playing everywhere just for the hell of it, because I like to play. Then we played the Rocks Club in Riverside, and that’s where we met Sean, manager guy. Ever since then he’s been trying to push it and help us out. That was the same spot we met John Desantis, and he really liked us. He started helping us out more and more, and now we’re pretty tight with X.

About that year and half ago.

J. Less.

S. About a year and half ago.

Since after that year, have you seen it grow?

J. No, I don’t think so.

S. Ah yeah; I never thought it would be like this.

I never thought we’d be headlining shows at the Rocks or anything, playing at the House of Blues.

...or slides to aid them with their play.

Just the use of their hands and an acoustic guitar bent over their knee.

The exhausting work paid off as all were pleased with the outcome.‘We are very proud of our student’s joint effort,” said Gteen.

“The guitarists played without the flash and glamour of modern and/or country.

The guitarists played without the flash and glamour of modern and/or country.

The guitarists played without the flash and glamour of modern and/or country.

The guitarists played without the flash and glamour of modern and/or country.

Illustration by Jesse Henderson

Justin Van Westbroek on the left and Steve Pollard on the right

playing with everybody.

Do you see a tour in the future?

S. I don’t think so.

If we fund it ourselves yeah.

J. We’re too ugly to be marketed.

If we like it that means something is going to happen, because if we like it that much then we’re not afraid to show everybody what we do.

What do you think people like about you guys?

J. It’s not only the music we play, we perform on the stage and we give people more than just music we give them a show.

S. Plus, having half our friends there helps.

J. If we like it that means something is going to happen, because if we like it that much then we’re not afraid to show everybody what we do.

Who do you look forward to playing with?

S. Slayer and Pantera.

J. 311 I’d like to play with Tool, I don’t know I’d like to play with anybody, I look forward to playing with everybody.

Do you see a tour in the future?

S. I don’t think so.

J. If we sell it ourselves yeah.

If we wanted a band out, quit our jobs, and tried to do it on our own.

Get inside and have someone pay for you to die around, play music, and go on tour and rock havoc across the country. That’s a good dream.

Illustration by Jesse Henderson

A view from outside the cab.

“i like to show things is M, but the show that was -the fluai pnece, that was
By Ivan Fernandez & Marcos Landin

ANGER MANAGEMENT

IMDB Synopsis: Sandler plays a businessman who is wrongly sentenced to an anger-management program, where he meets an aggressive instructor.

Ivan: I wonder why this didn’t happen sooner. Nicholson and Sandler they make a good team. Granted, you’re not going to see the evolution of a brand spanking new and never-played originals.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

Luckily in the years to come, the popularity of Warped picked up so now fans can have their fill of food shortages. This was somewhat solved when a friend of Lyman’s donated cases of Heckler Brau to the tour (he owned a microbrewery). There weren’t any problems with food shortages. This was somewhat solved when a friend of Lyman’s donated cases of Heckler Brau to the tour (he owned a microbrewery). There wasn’t much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

The brilliant man who created the Warped Tour is Kevin Lyman. The Southern California punk-rock fan started the tour in 1994. However, it didn’t start out with a lot of music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.

This year the Warped Tour fan can expect a variety of offshoots from different record companies; Definititely good for the impatient music mongrels who don’t like to wait while the roadies break out new material. There won’t be much complaining by the crowds.
Monday 4/21

The Faint w/LA Savy Fav, September
Tm @ Henry Fonda Theater
Zwan @ RIMAC
Frank Black and The Catholics, David Lovering @ El Rey
OAR @ Ventura
Groovie Gimpsthes, Throw Rag, The Aopers, The Carneisons @ Chain Reaction
Sepultura, Vaved @ HOB, OC

Tuesday 4/22

Cave In white start, The Jealous Sound @ Troubadour
Bone Thugs N Harmony @ HOB, LA
Frank Black/Lovering @ El Rey
Jeffrey Gaines/J. Cabera @ Coach House, OC
OAR @ Venue Theater
Clay Pepper, Stolen Babies, The Leeches (from England), Lithargia @ The Garage
Recon (R.A.W., Tester, Jaz @ The Hilly Gully in Downey 310-354-4004
Substance(Phar, D Dimas) @ Tantra in Hollywood
ICONS (The Shapeslifters, Dushik, Dhaman, DJ Juice, Bizni, Kayri, Missing Page Crew, Relative Patients, Circuit, Squeregon, Charmain Jazu) @ DZero Night Club 5523 S. Harvard Blvd., Riverside

Wednesday 4/23

Mellowdrone w/Woven, Enemy, The Like @ Troubadour
Boysetfuir, Nuxx, The Hope Conspiracy @ The Roxy
AFI, The Explosion @ Hollywood Palladium
Annie Lennox @ Copley Symphony Hall
Ben Harper @ Jerry Craig Pavilion
Bone Thugs N Harmony @ HOB, OC
Super Soul Sisters, Betty Wright, The Emotions, Denise Williams @ Willern
Y and T @ Coach House, OC
Intestinal Stagnation, Union 13, Upground @ East LA Coliseum
Xiao Xin, El Guapo, Paperchase @ The Cafe
Insect Surfers CD Release Party @ The Garage

Saturday 4/26

Sean Healy Presents: Hesedpace, Chocolate Covered World, Wicked Relish, X-Syndrome, Multil @ El Rey
Jesse Malin @ El Rey
The Skatalites and Almabfa @ Knitting Factory
Mother Superior, Motorcrhist, Pleasure Seekers, Railed, TSAR @ Trinity

The Baptists Generals @ The Spaceland
Atmosphere, AWOL ONE @ Henry Fonda Theater
Coachella Music Festival (Beastie Boys, Ben Harper, Queens of the Stone Age, Blur, Groove Armada, Blue Man Group, The Donnas, N*E*R*D, Boysetsflre w/The Hope Conspiracy)

Thursday 4/24

The Dirty Three @ Henry Fonda Theater
Groove Armanda w/Supreme Beings of Leisure @ The Palace
Maria Makos w/Gary Jules @ The Roxy
Motorhead w/The Dwarves @ HOB, OC
Rocket From The Crypt, sonny Vincent, Spitzer @ El Rey
Cursive, The Applesseed Cast, No Knife @ The Glasshouse
Loudon Wainwright III/ John Gorka @ Coach House, OC

Friday 4/25

Motorhead w/The Dwarves, High On Fire @ HOB, LA
Maria McKee @ The Roxy
Cursive w/No Knife @ Henry Fonda Theater

---

As the page turns

By Charissa Collins
Staff Writer

Winner of the prestigious RITA award and the finalist for the ECPA Gold Medallion for Fiction for three of her novels, Dee Henderson has released her latest novel from her popular O’Malley family. Released in April 2003, “The Rescue” is book six from Dee Henderson’s award winning series, O’Malley Family.

Henderson has based her series on seven orphans who become best friends in an orphanage. When these seven individuals get older they decide to legally change their name to O’Malley, creating their own family. Each novel in Henderson’s series focuses on one of the brothers or sisters, and shows how the family pulls together to help them in time of need.

Not only are these characters serious about their family, they all have very serious jobs. Ranging from hostage negotiators to forensic pathologists, each character adds his or her own flair to their novels. Henderson’s series focuses on one of the siblings in the O’Malley family, Stephan. Stephan has spent his entire career on being a paramedic but the struggles of being an EMT are getting to him.

Between the stress of his job and the loss of a dear family member, Stephan gets away and retreats to an old friend. From the strength of his old friend and Stephan’s desire to refresh his life, Stephan is introduced to something that will change his life forever.

Henderson has also been honored for her other popular series, The Uncommon Heroes Series. So to find out what life altering change Stephan discovers, be sure to check out Henderson’s newest edition of her popular series. And, if you liked “The Rescue,” check out some of Henderson’s other novels, “Danger in the Shadows,” “The Guardian,” “True Devotion,” and “True Home.”

---

National Condom Week

Bring this ad to the Planned Parenthood nearest you to receive a free goodie bag during the month of February.

---

Our Services Include:
- Birth Control, Emergency Contraception, STD testing and treatment, Male Sterilization, Pregnancy testing & options, Education

For more information, or for the Planned Parenthood medical center nearest you, call 1-800-230-PLAN.
Uncensored: The Randy Coyote
The truth behind the "No-No spot"

By Matthew Taylor
Managing Editor

Readers: when engaging in any sexual activity that consists of more than one person it should be consensual and done in a safe manner...in other words: USE CONDOMS.

Have you ever been in bed with your partner kissing and groping and they grab your behind you both are getting real..."no-no" spot. What do you do? It's a little too far. Where that spot orifice is for one use only.

Because all bodies are basically built the same, there is not a taboo. The taboo of anal sex is just that, tabu. Why the taboo?

Some people jump in and bear it. Why the taboo? Some people jump in and bear it. Why the taboo? Some people jump in and bear it. Why the taboo?

Many stay away from this activity that consists of more than one person it should be consensual and done in a safe manner...in other words: USE CONDOMS.

The Coyote Chronicle is published every Friday, for distribution on Monday, during the academic session by the Department of Communication Studies, California State University, San Bernardino.

The opinions expressed in the Chronicle are those of the student writers, and editors, and do not reflect the views of the university, its administration, faculty, or any other person or institution unless expressly noted.

The appearance of any advertisement in the Chronicle does not represent the Chronicle's or its views.

The Coyote Chronicle reserves the right to edit all editorials submitted to the paper without notice.

---No-No continued on page 17---

Letter to the editor

April 15, 2003
Dear Coyote Chronicle and Concerned Readers:

I have been reading the "Letter to the Editor" section of the paper and unfortunately, I have been sugar-coated with the situation at hand. I have taken more than a moment to reflect on the content of the letters submitted by Jacqueline Rhodes and Angela Asbell, as well as the subsequent responses offered by Matthew Taylor, Managing Editor.

As a member of the "significant portion of the CSUSB population" to which the issue of hetertosexism is deeply offensive and reprehensible, I want to share the following comments. I applaud the criticism of the Coyote Chronicle for hosting a heterosexist devianting of our campus. When opposition to systems of oppressions becomes prominent, the entire world is made better. Yet I wonder, what is the value of continuing to make light of the serious? I acknowledge, addressed, and apologized for.

The responses of the Managing Editor were not more than a dismissal of or attack on an individual that the concerns of Jacqueline Rhodes and Angela Asbell were. The issue at hand remains, and neither letter to the editor offers a solution to the problem above what was done by the Coyote Chronicle (See the new application for participating in the dating services).

The Coyote Chronicle is a student publication, susceptible to error, even those made in unintentional ignorance or honest misunderstanding. In accordance with a more constructive criticism would include offering a GLBT candidate for the dating services as an example of hetertosexism or non-preferred gender and journalistic guidelines.

No such alternative was offered, the invitation for a meeting with the concerned reader remains unanswered as of this date. Matthew Taylor and numerous other campus members, who are part of the "significant population" pruduced from the dating service because of its gendered language, would have opportunities where actualizing change exists to be so acted upon.

The GLBT communities, All communities, and feminist communities on this campus are not organized and not able to do so in a cohesive manner.

Many small groups exist, but do not communicate with one another. This could also be the reason heterotanism lurks within campus organizations and institutions. I urge everyone to attend GLBT meetings on Tuesdays at 5pm in the Women's Resource Center or the events held by the GLBT Campus Resource and Women's Resource Center. In addition, information about other groups or events can be submitted to the Coyote Chronicle...

---Letter continued on page 17---

---HUNGRY? THIRSTY? NO $$$?
WE'LL TAKE CARE OF YOU! FANATICS HAS BROKE STUDENT SPECIALS
1/2 OFF Mondays
All dishes are 1/2 off from 5pm-12am.
50 cent Taco Tuesdays
From 5pm to 12am. Please is only.

Thursday $1.50 pizza slices/beer
From 7pm to 12am. Please is only.

College Days decorated to please your friends.

Panthers is on the corner of Kendall & University. Handicap accessible your spot for private parties and events. Call 673-3904.
By Alan Vacks
Staff Writer

"Bowling for Columbine" focuses on the "culture of fear" that the media instills in us through violent visual imagery and racial stereotypes, which in effect causes the citizens of the United States to commit far more crimes with firearms than any other country.

With director/producer Michael Moore participating in precisely the same type of one-sided, less-than-objective tactics that he vilifies the media for,

Moore blames not only tele­vision and popular entertainment. He also cites a work-for-welfare program as one reason why a mother neglected to be with her six year-old son the day he shot a classmate with his uncle's gun.

Moore said that Moore's filming compa­ny spent a month staging the film to boost his credibility among movie patrons.

"This critical information was printed in the "Detroit Free Press," with the headline: "Boy's home 'shameful'-Police find drugs in trash-strewn residence." However, Moore decided to leave these pertinent facts out of his film to boost his credibility among movie patrons.

Moore said, "Guns don't kill people, Americans kill people" in an interview with CNN's Tim Russert. So, is Moore's film about condemning guns or making Americans look stupid?

There is a statement made by Moore culminating a scene in "Bowling for Columbine" when Moore says, "I put a $50,000 in a long term account, they did the background check, and, within an hour, I walked out with my new Wethersby", a rifle. Moore is referring to a bank that he would like you to think also deals guns. However, Jan Jacobson, who worked with Moore on his account said, "What happened at the bank was a rearranged thing—typically you looking at a week to 10 days waiting period." Jacobson also said that Moore's filming compa­ny spent a month staging the scene. That wasn't in the film; only what Moore wants you to see is in the film.

During Moore's depictions of the Columbine massacre cou­ntrywide with 9-1-1 calls and crying victims, a film excerpt of an NRA meeting with Charlton Heston holding a rifle over his head saying, "...from my cold, dead hands," sparked a lot of debate in the segment. Bravo, film editing at its best, the ability to take something out of context and make someone look foolish, that is worthy of a "documentary," don't you think? Actually that excerpt of Heston's speech was a year after the Columbine Massacre.

Moore said the NRA decided to hold its big pro-gun rally just two weeks after the Columbine incidents, in nearby Denver, when the meeting was scheduled years before the massacre. Furthermore, to be fair to the NRA, they did cancel many of the scheduled events of that meeting out of respect for the vic­tims of the tragedy. The NRA only proceeded with sessions necessary by NRA bylaws. Yet, Moore wants you to believe that the NRA held that meeting in defiance of the victims of the Columbine massacre and protestors who voiced their opinions across the street.

The fact is that Moore points his finger at many aspects of American life as the cause for our society's "culture of fear," which leads to so many fatalities from firearms.

Moore attempts to render your judgment against these terri­ble mass media forces that ULF us with so many violent images. Isn't Moore attacking your intel­ligence and willingness to ques­tion what you are and hear by assembling a pseudo-fictitious film that so many people dub as "documentary." He assumes that you would believe everything in his film, take sides and ultimately start thinking freely about guns and gun owners.

Americans do have an obsession with guns and Moore does a good job of illustrating it through film. However, Moore is punder­ing in the very media practices he blames for our "culture of fear." In the process he is getting rich, gaining clout in the film industry and inducing more fear among Americans. Is Moore a hypocrite, a modern day hero of the right-wing movement or simply a filmmaker?

As viewers of "Bowling for Columbine," we should try to be more objective than Moore's film allows, exercise your right to a freethinking process. Gather information on your own and decide for yourself if Michael Moore's tactics are ethical and moral or if his just Hollywood propaganda aimed at your heart­strings.
Monday, April 21
Taking The Financial Road Less Traveled
Sponsored by; Student Union Adult Re-Entry Center
Student Union Events Center A
12 p.m. - 1 p.m
X5253

Violence Prevention with Campus Police
Sponsored by: Student Union Women's Resource Center
Time: (TBA)
x7601

Free Camp Day
Student Union Game room
All Day
x2195

Salsa & Swing Club
6th Floor
6:00 p.m
For more information, contact us at ssalsa swingclub@yahoo.com

Tuesday, April 22
ASI Finance/CAB Board Meeting
Student Union Board Room
10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m
X5253

ASI Board of Directors Meeting
Student Union Board Room
12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m
X5932

Wednesday, April 23
Book Discussion Based On: "The Seven Habits Of Highly Effective People"
Sponsored by: Student Union Adult Re-Entry Center
12:30 p.m. - 1:30 p.m
x5253

Talent Show
Sponsored by: Student Union Program Board
Student Union Events Center
7:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m
X5943

Thursday, April 24
Take Back the Night
Sponsored by: Student Union Women's Resource Center
All Day Event
x7203

Sunday, April 27
Metro City Church Services
Student Union Board Room
8:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m
X7203

A Space Like this one could be yours for a low low price. Does your club or organization need some advertising. Advertise with the Chronicle Call or email for more information 909 880 5289 or sbchron@csusb.edu

Baskin Robbins
Students! Faculty! TOGO'S GREAT SANDWICHES
10% discount off your purchase at either Togo's or Baskin Robbins with valid CSUSB student or faculty ID. Please present I.D. at the time of order. Not valid with any other discount, coupon or promotion.

Togo's/Baskin Robbins
4375 North University Parkway, Suite 100
San Bernardino, CA 92407
909-473-7494
Next to McDonald's

3205 W. Kendall Dr. #2B
San Bernardino, CA 92407
Mon-Fri: 9AM-7PM
Saturday: 9AM-6PM
Sunday: 10AM-5PM
(909) 880-9098

Why Weight?
Eat Healthy.

PARADISE
NAILS & SKIN CARE
Early Bird Special 9AM-3PM Mon-Thur Full Set $16.00 Fill $ 9.00 Waxing
(909) 443-9500

Go Chronicle!

TAKING BACK THE NIGHT
MARCH 24, 2003
ALL DAY
STUDENT UNION WOMEN'S RESOURCE CENTER STUDENT UNION COURTYARD
FOR MORE INFORMATION, CALL X7203

Student Union corner
Grad Days is your FIRST opportunity to pick-up your commencement tickets!

One-stop shopping for CSUSB's Class of 2003

Come to Grad Days and take care of all your Commencement needs at one time, in one place.

Get your Grad Pack, cap & gown, commencement tickets and more!

The CSUSB Grad Pack Only $35

Get your Grad Pack and save BIG at Grad Days

- Show off your alumni status and school pride with a custom CSUSB Alumni license plate frame (a $35 value) You'll also enjoy a one-year membership in the CSUSB Alumni Association — your lifelong connection to Cal State, your classmates, and professors (Prudent)

- Take advantage of a 25% Grad Days-only discount on CSUSB emblematic clothing, gifts and items at your Coyote Bookstore. Join the Alumni Association and always receive a 25% discount.

- Get $5 off the cost of your graduation cap and gown.

- Save an additional $20 on the purchase of your Jostens or Anaconda class ring.

Plus... get many more exclusive, members-only benefits and privileges. For information on current benefits, log on to www.csusbalumni.com.

Get the Alumni Advantage

Wednesday and Thursday, April 23-24, 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Coyote Bookstore
Easter continued from page 6

served mashed potatoes, ham, vegetables, and salads to everyone who was present.

"The kids came up to you and they are really thankful and that makes me feel good because I know I was a part of it," said junior Alejandra Santiago.

When it was time to clean up, it was evident then how important volunteering to help the needy is. So many kids and families were desperate to get something for the Easter holiday that it became difficult to pass out toys.

More than 100 kids waited patiently for Easter gifts while parents argued over position in line and the gifts being distributed.

After the parents were satisfied with the gift distribution event was again put on the children.

"There are just so many kids and too little of us," said volunteer and CSUSB student Diana Murcia.

"This event was very important to us and I wanted to bring my kids," said Joe Chapman who brought his daughter and niece to the event.

No-No continued from page 13

next thing is to make sure you have a good supply of lube. Once you have those things you are on your way to testing the new waters.

In best if you lay down so that you can relax. While lying down apply some lube to one of your hands and with the other take a finger into it. Then using that finger, apply the lube to your anus in a circular motion. Once you think your body has been relaxed enough and you feel that your ready to penetrate.

Keep in mind that you're exploring something very sensitive. Be gentle Men - if you continue with the penetration when you have an orgasm your sphincter muscle will contract and your orgasm will be heightened.

Before I go, I have to briefly mention lube. Lube is a necessity. Water based lubricants are better because if you become dry all you have to do is add a little bit of water and your good as new. That's cost effective plus it stops you from using household items like Crisco that might be more harmful to your body. An irritated anus is not pretty.

Finally, I must say that anal sex deserves two thumbs up and that you wont know what you're missing unless you try it.

Warp

Can't from page 11

labels as well as from closing lines such as Atticus, Welcom, Second, but tagging you can carry all your freebies in; you're available too, so if you bring a backpack, you can just stash it in their most likely vendors giving out free stuff.

Synonyms for the word nebulous include hazy, indistinct, uncertain, confused and vague. Perhaps the band is sending a message about their state of mind these days and how they felt while recording "Ball." The song culminates into what seems like a "Me and the Devil Blues" groove.

Over all, "Ball" is a truly strange experience, indulging in many styles and musical cultures. The album illustrates the band's identity.

If you get signed to a major label and get one chance to show them you can make money. And if you sell records that's a fair trade for the artist as well as from closing lines such as Atticus, Welcom, Second, but tagging you can carry all your freebies in; you're available too, so if you bring a backpack, you can just stash it in their most likely vendors giving out free stuff.

Synonyms for the word nebulous include hazy, indistinct, uncertain, confused and vague. Perhaps the band is sending a message about their state of mind these days and how they felt while recording "Ball." The song culminates into what seems like a "Me and the Devil Blues" groove.

Over all, "Ball" is a truly strange experience, indulging in many styles and musical cultures. The album illustrates the band's identity.
Jordan retires for third and final time

Wesley Collins
Assistant Sports Editor

Spring is in the air, basketball is upon us and, the NBA playoffs have arrived. I believe this is the year of the Sacramento Kings and I will tell you why.

Starting in the east, I believe that Detroit will beat Orlando in a tough six game series.

Jersey will beat the Bucks in five games on the heels of J. Kidd.

Indiana will handle Boston in seven games on Reggie Miller’s heroics and the NBA playoffs have arrived.

Sacramento Kings, and I will tell you games on Reggie Miller’s heroics and with Iverson’s supremacy.

Detroit against No. 4 Philly, and No. 2 Pistons in seven games due to the fact that Ron Artest and Jermaine O’Neal will show up big time for the Pacers.

The Pacers win in seven and represent the Eastern Conference Championship which will feature No. 3 Indiana against No. 4 Philadelphia. The Pacers win in seven and represent the Eastern Conference in the NBA Finals.

Now comes the big boys in the Western Conference bracket.

San Antonio will have no problems with the Suns of Phoenix and will win that series in a sweep.

Sacramento will silence old Stockton and Malone for another season in first round.

Portland will show Dallas that they need to stop pretending to play with the big boys and will beat them in six games.

Lastly, LA will send Kevin Garnett and the Timberwolves packing in the first round for the seventh year in a row by beating them in five games.

So the second round LA will show San Antonio that they own them and will send them home for the third year in a row by beating them in seven games.

Sacramento will overwhelm Portland with their deep bench and beat them in six games.

So the Western Conference Championship will come down to a rematch of last year’sslugfest. No. 2 Sacramento vs. No. 5 LA.

This year will be different for the Kings who will be up for the challenge and they will win the series in seven games.

The 2003 NBA Finals will showcase the Sacramento Kings and the Indiana Pacers.

The Kings will soundly defeat the Pacers in six games to capture their first NBA title in their illustrious 15 year NBA career.

With Jordan leaving the game for good the torch has been passed on to the next crop of outstanding NBA players.

We should all feel lucky that we had the privilege to witness one of the greatest players in NBA history, he is Michael Jordan.

He can either stay with the Wizards and become a co-owner again, or maybe go to the new Charlotte franchise.

Whatever Jordan’s new endeavor will be, you can rest assured that it will probably be highly successful.

Probably because his quest to improve Washington and take them to the playoffs, ended in failure.

With Jordan leaving the game for good the torch has been passed on to the next crop of outstanding NBA players.

Kobe Bryant has filled Jordan’s shoes nicely, but not completely. We will never see another player like Jordan, because no other NBA player can carry a team on their back and carry them the way Jordan did.

We should all feel lucky that we had the privilege to witness one of the greatest players in NBA history play.

Michael Jordan leaves the game with the No. 1 scoring in NBA history, he is also second in steals, fourth in points and a member of the top 50 NBA players of all time.
Schioppi Looking to catch All-American

By Wesley Collins
Assistant Sports Editor

CSUSB WIRE

DAVIS — No. 1-seed Cal Poly Pomona captured five singles in straight sets to clinch a 5-0 victory over No. 8 Cal State, San Bernardino in the first round of the 2003 California Collegiate Athletic Association Women’s Tennis Championships Thursday morning at Fickley Courts.

With the victory the Broncos improve to 17-4 on the season and will now face Grand Canyon, a 3-2 winner over Sonoma State, in the championship semifinals Friday.

Cal State, San Bernardino (12-7) will face Sonoma State in the consolation semifinals at 9 a.m. Friday. The loser of that match will play the 7th-8th place final on Saturday. The winner advances to the consolation final match.

The first four matches of the first round began with singles first as rain clouds threatened, play in the first match of the day.

Pomona’s No. 1 player, Anne Claire Ortiz-Luis, earned her team-leading 22nd victory of the season with a 6-2, 6-0 win over Coyotes sophomore Jennifer Newman in the top singles position.

The only match not to finish, at No. 5 singles between Pomona’s Karin Holmberg and San Bernardino’s Lisa Duncan, was suspended due to rain with Holmberg leading 6-1, 3-2.

With the victory already clinched the three doubles matches were not contested.

The CCAA championships continue through Saturday.

Cal State senior catcher Tracie Schioppi has been a bright spot for the "Votes in 2003.

"She’s a great all around player, not only within our team but also within the conference," says first year head coach Dawn Castaneda.

Along with being the starting catcher Schioppi is also a co-captain for this year’s team.

"I know if I was a player on this team she would definitely be a player I would look up to," says Castaneda.

Schioppi leads the team in 15 statistical categories some of which include batting average, hits, runs scored, home runs, walks and steals.

"I do take pride in it (stats) and try to stay motivated by the stats... it inspires me," says Schioppi of her achievements this year.

Schioppi is currently batting a solid .349 and has a .555 slugging percentage, seven home runs, 51 hits and 29 runs scored to go along with it.

Even with her impressive high offensive numbers coach Castaneda insists on pointing out that Schioppi is also a great defensive player.

"Tracie really knows the game well when she’s behind the plate... she keeps base runners honest... I trust her decisions behind the plate more than I trust my own decisions," says Castaneda. "I have respect for her as a ballplayer," she adds. Schioppi currently owns an impressive .957 fielding percentage.

Schioppi is currently batting a solid .349 and has a .555 slugging percentage, seven home runs, 51 hits and 29 runs scored to go along with it. Even with her impressive high offensive numbers coach Castaneda insists on pointing out that Schioppi is also a great defensive player. "Tracie really knows the game well when she’s behind the plate... she keeps base runners honest... I trust her decisions behind the plate more than I trust my own decisions," says Castaneda. "I have respect for her as a ballplayer," she adds. Schioppi currently owns an impressive .957 fielding percentage.

Senior tracie Schioppi is congratulated by Head Coach Dawn Castaneda after crossing home plate.

Robert Whitehead/CSUSB

Hear the band, shake Pete’s hand.

Go to www.attwireless.com/meetpete

mLife Local plan

eat two tickets to see Pete Yorn live and meet him after the show

also get unlimited night & weekend minutes

and 900 anytime minutes

with nationwide long distance included all from your Home Service Area

'99 a month

plus get a

FREE PHONE after mail-in rebate

sales tax applies to original purchase price

add million for exclusive wireless access to Pete’s concert news, music and more

G O T O A T T W I R E L E S S . C O M / M E E T P E T E

mLife, your mobile life made better

AT&T Wireless Stores

SAN BERNARDINO
1700 Corral Road #116
909-598-7987

Important Information:

An additional monthly $17.50 Regulatory Program Fee will be added to your bill for each line of service to help us AT&T Wireless comply with various government mandated programs. This is not a use or a governmental mandated charge.

© 2003 AT&T Wireless. All Rights Reserved. Requires new activation on a qualified plan $39.99 or above, credit approval, valid credit or debit card, a $36 activation fee, minimum one-year agreement, to transmission limitations. Not available with other offers. Offers available for a limited time or while supplies last. Other restrictions apply. See store or www.attwireless.com for full details. Mode not available with this phone.

Schioppi is currently batting a solid .349 and has a .555 slugging percentage, seven home runs, 51 hits and 29 runs scored to go along with it. Even with her impressive high offensive numbers coach Castaneda insists on pointing out that Schioppi is also a great defensive player. "Tracie really knows the game well when she’s behind the plate... she keeps base runners honest... I trust her decisions behind the plate more than I trust my own decisions," says Castaneda. "I have respect for her as a ballplayer," she adds. Schioppi currently owns an impressive .957 fielding percentage.

Senior tracie Schioppi is congratulated by Head Coach Dawn Castaneda after crossing home plate.
Nicks not wasting water polo ticks in pool

By Wesley Collins
Assistant Sports Editor

The CSUSB women’s water polo team is having a highly successful 2003 season. Their success is due to the outstanding play of each person on the team, however senior 2-meter defender Liz Nicks is playing head and shoulders above the rest this year.

Nicks scored only three goals the entire year last season, however this season is an entirely different story. Nicks has had an amazing turnaround this season and is currently the leading scorer on the team with an impressive 64 goals scored. She scored almost as many goals against UC Irvine (2) than she did all last season.

Nicks feels that she never had the coaching that it took to help transform herself into the all around player she has become. She feels all of her offensive success is due to first year head coach Tom Finwall. Nicks and Finwall simply wish they had a few more years with each other. "If I had a couple more years with her no body would be able to touch her," says Finwall.

"My expectations were to play like I’ve played for the past seven years," says Nicks of her preseason expectations. "I would get into the pool thinking that I’m going to stop people; I never thought I’d be scoring over those people," adds Nicks.

Coach Finwall also believes Nicks has far surpassed his preseason expectations of her. "I was hoping she could establish position and get us a goal or two ... I never expected her to be our leading scorer," says Finwall.

Nicks is playing the 2-meter defensive position - a position that takes most girls three or four years to become productive in. Finwall points out that Nicks has become a dominant 2-meter defender in only three months.

"I’ve seen some of the best 1-meter defenders around that can’t guard her," says Finwall of Nicks’ awesome play this year. Nicks is playing the 2-meter position - a position that takes most girls three or four years to become productive in. Finwall points out that Nicks has become a dominant 2-meter defender in only three months.

"I’ve seen some of the best 1-meter defenders around that can’t guard her," says Finwall of Nicks’ awesome play this year.

Finwall points out that in order to be successful at the 2-meter position, which is one of the toughest positions in water polo, the player must possess good passing abilities, size, ability to read defenses, strength enough to get shots off and an ability to absorb the punishment that comes during games. All of these attributes is what make Nicks a great 2-meter defender on the offensive and defensive sides of the ball.

Golf Toting optimism into CCAA tourney-

By Wesley Collins
Assistant Sports Editor

The men’s golf team just finished the George Buzzini Invitational Tournament at Cal St. Stanislaus on Tuesday. At the Turlock Country Club, they finished 12th out of 14 teams. Coach Greg Price called it, "We played terrible...probably our worst tournament of the year."

Sophomore Adam Sepulveda was the Coyotes’ low scorer tying for 38th place shooting 16 over par, even though he shot 80 on the final day. Junior, J.R. Reyes finished 44th, while senior Frank Firman was only three strokes behind J.R.

Host, Cal St. Stanislaus, won their own tournament hitting only nine strokes over par as a team. The next stop for the Coyotes will be the CCAA championships at Diablo Grande Country Club in Patterson on the April 21 and 22. They will prepare for the tournament by having a practice round on Sunday, then look at the course and figure out some strategy.