Gov. Brown has signed a bill that permits the state for the first time to establish a home loan program for public employees. The bill, effective Jan. 1, 1981, authorizes the Public Employees' Retirement System to make home loans through private lending institutions to the 425,000 active public employees who are members of PERS.

Under the provisions of the bill, PERS will be authorized to establish a home loan program for its employed members. Lending institutions will make the loans which will then be sold to PERS as part of its investment portfolio. Under an agreement with PERS the private lending institutions will also service the loans. The loans could be made for up to 95 percent of the purchase price of the home for a public employee buying his or her first home.

While details of the loan program have not yet been worked out by PERS, employees seeking additional information should write or call Jim Smith, Investments Division, Public Employees' Retirement System, P.O. Box 1953, Sacramento, California 95809, (916) 445-1656.
