ITCN Closes Its Doors

Ethan Waters
Tribute
Val Limar-Jensen brings
Ethel back to life.

The Scene
Mr. and Miss.
CSUSB
A look inside the 2nd
Annual Pageant.

Page 6
Page 8

February 28, 2005
SERVING THE STUDENTS OF CSUSB FOR 38 YEARS
VOL. 38 ISSUE 15

NEWS BRIEFS

Mask your Retreats

Does your organization's past sometimes seem like a blur of time? Come join us as we point techniques that will empower your event, and fuel your event.

No t-shirts or single use clothes since we will be using the experienced model of instruction (first simple exercises, then moves the outcomes.

It will be held on March, 5, 2005 at the new Commons from 4 to 6

Please RSVP to the Office Leadership and Development at 714-253-6104.

College of Extended Learning Launches Online Registration System

The College of Extended Learning here at campus has one new, secure on-line system that allows students to register easily and pay for classes online and parking passes.

The new online registration is open 24 hours a day and nights, the College of Extended Learning has staff available.

For information, contact the university's public relations office at 815-696-2831, or exten.exten.edu

Upcoming ASI Elections

Amber Disney
Staff Writer

Extra! Extra! Read all about it:
ASI elections are underway and students can pick up packets today.

Packets are available starting Monday, Feb. 28 in the ASI office.

The packets are due back in the ASI office no later than 3 p.m.

on Wednesday, March 23.

There will be two mandatory candidate meetings April and then campaigning starts April 17.

Voting begins Wednesday, April 27 and runs through Thursday, April 28.

Electronic results will be announced on Friday of this week.

CSIU students have the option of working a polling station, if they do not want to run for ASI.

Students working at a polling station will earn extra money.

Those CSIU students looking for a challenge can run for an office, get financial assistance through a monthly stipend and receive training in gaining great experience.

CSIU President Earlut Bonilla said, "With the current funding crisis that the CSU system is facing, the increase in student fees, it is important that CSIU students know they have the leaders they need to speak on their behalf.

Local businesses were unaccustomed to ITCN's economically beneficial and high impact media approach Pringle said. Another complicating factor, Pringle said, was the time it took to produce PSA-like segments that were easily received by local businesses, which turned to the existing radio stations, magazines and newspapers that offer cheaper advertising alternatives in the Inland Empire.

This was the only television network based in, and catering to, the Inland Empire and surrounding mountain communities.

President Albert Kettig said, "CSIUSB was uniquely positioned to serve as a catalyst for launching the regional cable network, which is the first in the nation to be initiated by a university."

He added that "The State was able to secure the collaboration of the cities and their community cable channels to form a regional, news public affairs television network that would join one million citizens on cable alone. To be sure, it was experimental, yet I believe the effort made a significant contribution to the region."

Any students who have interests with ITCN need to step by their respective department, and ask to be on the mailing list through, because this closing comes three weeks before the quarter ends.

JASON K. HANCE
Executive Editor

Election results will be announced on Monday, March 28 in the ASI office.

The packets are due back in the ASI office no later than 3 p.m.

on Wednesday, March 23.

There will be two mandatory candidate meetings April and then campaigning starts April 17.

Voting begins Wednesday, April 27 and runs through Thursday, April 28.

Electronic results will be announced on Friday of this week.

CSIU students have the option of working a polling station, if they do not want to run for ASI.

Students working at a polling station will earn extra money.

Those CSIU students looking for a challenge can run for an office, get financial assistance through a monthly stipend and receive training in gaining great experience.

CSIU President Earlut Bonilla said, "With the current funding crisis that the CSU system is facing, the increase in student fees, it is important that CSIU students know they have the leaders they need to speak on their behalf.

"The students need to be encouraged that they will continue to have access to a quality education at a reasonable price.

"By serving on the election's committee, working at the booths and helping run for office, you can do your part in promoting the quality of your education not only for yourself but for your friends, younger siblings, and the next generation of CSIUSB students.

ASI Elections Chair Steve Shelton said, "Being apart of ASI is a lot of work, but the benefits far outweigh the cost. I feel like I am part of making the University a better place and it is a great way to prepare for life outside of college."

ASI President Bonilla said, "You get to work face-to-face with some of your professors on a professional level and with various University Administrators such as the President, vice presidents and deans of the college.

"It is a different kind of experience you do not receive in the classroom. The skills you obtain are exactly what employers look for when you are out searching for a job after college."

So, come join in the fun, meet new people, get involved in what goes on with your school and make a difference.

INLAND EMPIRE TELKWCENCE SCIENCE

Photo by courtesy of CSUSB
Silent Film Speaks Words

Garbo's "Dancing Fool"

"Dancing Fool" - Silent Film

Month of March Turns Green

Charles is Likely a Lycia

Ch凌ens Shows Us His Real 'Lyfe'

This Day in History

February 28

1906: Westmeister Abbey opens

February 27

1937: Final TV episode of "MASH" airs on CBS, a record 125 million watch.

1994: The Brady Law, imposing a wait-period to buy a handgun, goes into effect.

March 1

1781: Continental Congress adopts The Articles of Confederation.

1932: Charles Lindbergh's Kidnapped is published in 20 months. In New Jersey, he is charged with the abduction of his baby son.

1961: President Kennedy establishes the Peace Corps.

March 2

1819: The US passes its first immigration law.

1924: Cigarette companies come under federal control.

1967: US Congress creates the Department of Education for the first time.

March 3

1971: Congress establishes US Mint

1983: American Telephone & Telegraph, also known as AT&T, is incorporated.

1995: The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, modernly known as NASA, is founded.

1963: Martin Luther King Jr. is assassinated.

1995: Camilla Parker and Israel Weston Jr. divorce.

March 4

1899: Madison becomes the first US President inaugurated in American capital.

1992: American Automobile Association, also known as AAA, is founded.

1992: FDR is inaugurated as the 32nd President. He pledges to pull the US out of the Great Depression.

March 5

1868: The Statue of Liberty is patented in England by C. H. Goddard.

1977: "Alien" is released.

1979: "King Go" is first televised.

March 6

1883: Edgar Allan Poe is removed from West Point military academy.

1977: "Rocky" and "Network" share the Oscar for best picture.

March 7

1813: The "Prussian" steamboat on the Rhine.

1944: During the "Battle of the Bulge," American paratroopers captured a German airfield.

March 8

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 9

1923: The first radio station, WGY, begins broadcasting in Cobleskill, New York.

1961: "Deadly Nightshade" is released.

March 10

1920: The first radio station, WGY, begins broadcasting in Cobleskill, New York.

1961: "Deadly Nightshade" is released.

March 11

1918: "The Jazz Singer" is released.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 12

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 13

1961: "Deadly Nightshade" is released.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 14

1918: "The Jazz Singer" is released.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 15

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 16

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 17

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 18

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 19

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 20

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 21

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 22

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 23

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 24

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 25

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 26

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 27

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 28

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 29

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 30

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.

March 31

1923: "Roads" is the first film to be released on 35mm film.

1949: "The Ten Commandments" is released.
Cyclists’ Hit the Road

The Scene

February 28, 2005

CFA Wants Student Input

Appendix: The SCION xB

Op/Ed

December 5, 2005

The SCION xB

December 12, 2005

Op/Ed

February 25, 2005

The Scene

Cyclists’ Hit the Road

The Scene

February 28, 2005

CFA Wants Student Input

Appendix: The SCION xB

Op/Ed

December 5, 2005

The SCION xB

December 12, 2005

Op/Ed

February 25, 2005
“Gonzo” Journalist Remembered

HUNTER S. THOMPSON IN 1995

by David Thompson

Hunter S. Thompson's life and work are the subject of the documentary film "Gonzo: The Life and Work of Hunter S. Thompson," which explores the life and career of the famous journalist and writer.

“Stormy Weather

Léa Linette Jensen embodies the wonderful singer that she is.

Léa Linette Jensen sings the last song, "Be Cool," on the stage and wows the audience. The performance is in good spirits and the audience loves it.

Cal Baptist University

Apply now for the following graduate programs:

- MBA
- Counseling
- Education
- Psychology (MFT)
- English
- Kinesiology
- Music
- Teaching Credentials

Apply Now

1-877-228-8866
www.callbaptist.edu

"Eminem because I think he is a wonderful dad and his lyrics inspire me."

"Eminem because I think he is a wonderful dad and his lyrics inspire me."

"Am I because she is funny, smart, I like her style, and she makes me happy."
The NBA trade deadline has passed and some big names went to some new homes.

The Story's score in acquiring the All-Star guard was one of the NBA's best all-around talents: teammate Walker, who was traded by the Celtics a few years ago, has returned to Boston. And Baron Davis, the Hornets best player, is now going to dig the rock for the Warriors.

In the C-Web trade, the Kings got Brian Skinner, Kerri Thomas and Chris Mims. "We actually like our team," said coach Bob McMillan, who played with the Kings.

In another goodget, the Golden State Warriors played up on Baron Davis who can deliver the ball like a UPA driver during the holidays. Davis joins Jason Richardson a three point threat and the 2002 and 2002 back-to-back slam dunk contest winner.

The Warriors are working on the tailpipe of a 16-38 season, but have a good record to look ahead. "We're thrilled to be able to acquire a proven player like Baron Davis," Mullin said in the King's.

The Nets will need Webber to play big, but the trade of Allen "Black Bear" Pratt to New Jersey to not actually get to see Webber with Webber's height. C-Web's first power will help the Nets in a back-to-back to divisional for the playoffs.

Glen Robinson was also dealt by the Nets to the Hawks for two good shooters in Jamal Mashburn and Rodney Rogers. Playoff hopeful is leading up to 52 minutes a game for the remaining to their game with another.

Academic Office