Dr. Joseph K. Thomas, a member of the Cal State, San Bernardino administration since shortly before the college opened in 1965, announced he will retire from his position as vice president for administration at the end of the academic year.

Dr. Thomas has been involved in planning this campus from conception to a plant with a current value of more than $40 million. He began the preparation for the physical facilities while he was the facilities planner in the Chancellor’s Office assigned to this college. He then came to the new college as executive dean a few months before classes began. In 1971 he was named vice president and assumed additional duties.

"Vice President Thomas has played a major role in the development of the San Bernardino campus. He has done an excellent job of working with state agencies, architects, contractors and our physical plant staff in seeing that we have a beautiful campus and efficient buildings in which to work and study," said President John M. Pfau.

"Dr. Thomas has also served this college exceedingly well in working with community groups and governmental officials. In this capacity, he has made many friends for the college," the president continued. "His departure represents a serious loss to us all."

Dr. Thomas is the major administrative official responsible for such areas as planning and development, major and minor capital outlay programs, space and facilities data, liaison between college and off-campus agencies, physical plant operation, coordination of academic facilities and equipment, federally assisted projects, college publications and public relations. He organized the President's Club, a community support group for the college.

In his former position in the Chancellor’s Office, he coordinated campus facility planning with the Board of Trustees, State Department of Finance, State Office of Architecture and Construction, private architects, and various city and county agencies. He also was a coeditor of the College Facilities Planning Handbook.

He was chairman of the CSU Task Force on Planned/Programmed Maintenance which was charged with setting up a preventive maintenance program for the system. Presently he is on a CSU Technical Advisory Board in the collective bargaining process.

Active in the community, Dr. Thomas is a past president of the San Bernardino-Riverside Counties Industry Education Council and the San Bernardino Symphony Assn. He was a vice president of the California Inland Empire Council, Boy Scouts, and a member of San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce committees, the Redlands Community Hospital Corporate Body and the Redlands Community Music Assn. Board. He is active in the Cultural Arts Foundation and is a member of the Redlands Country Club.

In recognition of World Religions Day, which was designated by the United Nations as this Sunday, a panel discussion by representatives of six major world religions will be held from 3-5 p.m., Sunday, in LC 500. The panel discussion, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by the Philosophy Department and the Baha'i Community of San Bernardino. Audience members will have an opportunity to ask questions and make comments following the panel discussion.

Panel members will include Rabbi Hillel Cohn of Temple Emanu El in San Bernardino, representing Judaism; Dr. Richard Gatchel, professor of philosophy and religious studies at Crafton Hills College, Christianity; Bob Hart, a Baha'i member, Baha'i; and Kavon Guela, who was born and raised in Iran, Islam. Other panel members, not yet named, will discuss the Hindu and Buddhist faiths.

Today is the last day to make reservations for the "Business Awareness Week" luncheon for administration majors, faculty and staff. The luncheon will be from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m., Wednesday, in the SUMP Room.

Three free lectures, open to everyone, are also scheduled next week. Topics will be: "How To Handle an IRS Audit," 5 p.m., Monday, LC 500; "An Overview of the Information Processing Field," noon, Tuesday, SUMP Room; "A Day in the Life of a Stockbroker," noon, Thursday, Lower Commons.

Althea Waites (Music) will give a lecture and concert at noon, Thursday, in the Recital Hall. Waites will present "Copland Variations," a modern piece for the piano written in 1930. She will also play movements from Schumann's "Fantasy in C Major, Opus 17." The program is free and open to the public.

The Music Department is offering a recital and four-week workshop for pianists who serve as accompanists which will begin Friday, Jan. 22. The program will start with a recital and lecture from 3:30-5 p.m., Friday. Workshops, also from 3:30-5 p.m., will follow on Fridays, Jan. 29-Feb. 19.

The program will be presented by Barbara Rogers, an instructor at the School of Fine Arts in Pomona. She will introduce students to a large amount of literature for accompaniment by piano with voice or one other instrument.
ELECTRONIC MUSIC EXPLORED
DURING "ELECTRONIC DAYS"

Two electronic music concerts, a synthesizer demonstration and an electronic studio open house are on the agenda for "Electronic Days," a special three-day program that will explore the new, expanding dimensions of electronic music Monday-Wednesday.

"Music from the Electronic Studio," a concert featuring the best of the Cal State student compositions in electronic music will begin at 8:15 p.m., Monday, in the Recital Hall. The composers of the music, which will be presented in stereo and qudraphonic formats, are Nancy Boyles, Steve Heckman, Robert Simmons, Lacey Kendall, Patricia McPhee, Karen Wood and George Zadravec.

Admission is $3 general, $1.50 students and senior citizens. The director will be Dr. Richard Saylor (Music), who also is coordinating the three days of activities.

A free demonstration of the latest digital synthesizer will be presented from noon-2 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 19, in the Recital Hall. Following this demonstration will be an open house of the electronic studio from 2-4 p.m.

Akar, a classical violinist who electronically alters his music, will perform at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, in the Recital Hall. Admission is $5 general, $2 students and senior citizens. Akar creates unique sounds and interpretations of standard works by composers such as Bach, Mozart and Bartok. He has soloed with major orchestras and is a studio musician in Los Angeles.

PLAY PREMIERE
HELD OVER

The premiere of "Next Time for Real," a comedy by playwright-actor Harry Cauley, has been held over for two additional performances at 8:15 p.m., tonight and tomorrow (Jan. 15-16). Tickets are $3.50 general, $1.75 students and senior citizens. They can be obtained at the door the night of the performance or from 1-4 p.m. today at the Theatre Arts Department.

The additional performances will permit more people, including professionals from the television industry, to view the play and its actors.

DIRECTIONS 2000 SEeks
INPUTS ON CSU FUTURE

The CSU Committee on the Future will be on campus Monday and Tuesday to talk with members of the campus community about ideas for the future of education within the system.

The seven-member Directions 2000 Committee will hold an open forum from 2:30-5 p.m., Monday, in the SUMP Room. A wine and cheese reception will follow. All students, faculty and administrators also are invited to meet with committee members from 10:30 a.m.-noon, Tuesday, in SU A, B and Senate Room.

The visitation team also will meet with a committee of Cal State, San Bernardino representatives and with department chairs and faculty members. A complete schedule of the days' meetings is available by calling the Public Affairs Office, Ext. 7558.

Family Health Educator

Training Study Underway

Cal State, San Bernardino is one of five California State University campuses selected as a site for developing a curriculum for training family health educators. Part of this study, which begins this month, is the course Family Health (HSCI 440), instructed by Dr. Ansa Ojanlatva (Health Science and Human Ecology). Another family life education course which may become part of this program is an extension class proposed for spring.

Dr. Ojanlatva has replaced Dr. Sherrie Bartell (Education) on the planning committee for this project, which is based at San Diego State University. Dr. Bartell, who participated in the program's development, will be on leave winter and spring quarters.

Theme Sought For Winter Festival

Faculty, staff and students are invited to submit a theme for the Winter Festival (Feb. 4) to the Associated Students Activities Office in the Student Union. The winning theme writer will receive $10, and entrants may submit as many theme possibilities as they wish. The deadline is Wednesday. More information is available by calling Valery Russell or Greg Aarons at Ext. 7498.

Affirmative Action Registry Established

The California legislature has directed the California Postsecondary Education Commission to establish and maintain a registry of names and qualifications of ethnic minorities and women who are available for employment in academic and administrative positions in higher education. The participation of job applicants and of institutions is voluntary. No fee will be charged to the applicant or institution for use of the registry. Registration forms and instructions may be obtained by writing to: Registry, California Postsecondary Education Commission, 1020 12th St., Sacramento, CA 95814.

Cal State Associates Announce Drive Results

A total of $753 was contributed by 56 members of the campus community for this year's Scholarship Greeting Card Fund sponsored by the Cal State Associates club. This year's card and list of donors are displayed on the main bulletin board in the Administration Building. The recipients of the scholarship will be announced in the spring. The club will be trying to raise sufficient funds to enable it to offer two $400 scholarships this year.

Noteworthy

Dr. Hal Hoverland (Administration) has been reappointed as treasurer of the San Bernardino Area Chamber of Commerce for 1982. Hoverland also is on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the Chamber.

Dr. Ansa Ojanlatva (Health Science and Human Ecology) has attained the title of "certified sex educator" from the American Assn. of Sex Educators, Counselors and Therapists.

The topic of the section was "Update on Role Delineation Project and Implications for Texas Health Educating."

Raymond E. Sayre (Veterans Affairs) made a presentation on the problems of veterans in higher education and possible legislative strategies in addressing those problems during a meeting of the Assembly Select Committee on Veterans Affairs Dec. 14 in Los Angeles.
Prior to planning college facilities, Dr. Thomas was associate professor of industrial education at Long Beach State College for five years and a teacher and chairman of industrial education at Leuzinger High School for eight years.

A native of San Francisco, he earned his B.A. from Washington State University, his M.A. from the University of Southern California and his Ed.D. from the University of Missouri. In addition to his administrative post, he is a professor of education at Cal State.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas, who have lived in Redlands since 1965, have two daughters, Marijo and Deborah, and a grandson, Jeffrey Joseph. Mrs. Thomas (Verla) earned her B.A. in psychology with honors from Cal State.

The Thomases plan to stay in Redlands. Dr. Thomas served as general contractor and did the preliminary work on the home they built there. Very interested in the cultural arts, Dr. Thomas hopes to devote more time to the Cultural Arts Foundation and the Redlands Community Music Assn. The fund-raising skills he used at the college will be transferred to the arts. He also anticipates having time for his favorite sport, golf, and for travel.

President Pfau said he will not fill the vice presidency but will leave the search to the new president.
