April 24th 2006

CSUSB

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle/647

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives – California State University San Bernardino at CSUSB ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Coyote Chronicle by an authorized administrator of CSUSB ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@csusb.edu.
CSUSB hypnotized
Campus News

After hours of studying, hundreds of students received scores they did not deserve. From left to right: Ha Sarreorg, Melissa Garcia, Leesy Ramirez.

Jaysen Merritt/Chronicle

Approximately 4,500 high school students that took the SATs last October scored better than the original score they received in the mail.

The Coyote Chronicle

SATs scored wrong due to rain

Monday, April 24, 2006

Almost 4,500 high school students that took the SATs last October scored better than the original score they received in the mail.

The Coyote Chronicle

SATs scored wrong due to rain

Monday, April 24, 2006

Almost 4,500 high school students that took the SATs last October scored better than the original score they received in the mail.

The Coyote Chronicle
Continued:

More than 2 million students take the SAT annually, and the October test was taken by nearly a half million students.

Overall, the error affected less than 1 percent of the results.

The scoring errors were most blamed on manual-scored sheets that got wet during transit.

Jaymee Merritt/Chronicle

For those interested in a life under the limelight, or utilizing their communication skills, there is no better place than the theater.

The theater department is designed to build on the strength of the faculty, and to very beneficial to this region because of the many benefits of the arts will be a wonderful laboratory for students creativity.ing programs are not eligible for.

Correction:

In the "Correctional Literacy Program" story, the Golf Tournament was held in Lake Arrowhead, not held at Arrowhead Country Club.

The program will have three main

In the "Correctional Literacy Program" story, the Golf Tournament was held in Lake Arrowhead, not held at Arrowhead Country Club.

The On-Campus Scholarship Program is open to all CSUSB undergraduate students.

The Asian Faculty, Staff, and Students Advisory Committee is accepting applications for the 7th annual scholarship award.

The application for the On-Campus Scholarship Program is due by Monday, April 24.

The scholarship is open to all students of CSUSB, regardless of ethnicity.

For more information please go to http://www.calstatecsusb.edu/scholarships/indicators.html.

California Pre-Doctoral Program students at CSUSB are eligible to apply for a full or partial scholarship at a CSU campus for at least two quarters of the 2006/2007 academic year for the California Pre-Doctoral Program.

Applicants will require to submit a 2-3 page essay discussing their life circumstances, why your education has been interrupted, your future plans, and the importance of a college education.

Applicants will be reviewed for the total stress this has caused the committee would revisit the policy changes to the course.

More than 2 million students take the SAT annually, and the October test was taken by nearly a half million students.

Overall, the error affected less than 1 percent of the results.

The scoring errors were most blamed on manual-scored sheets that got wet during transit.

These eight day workshops will be hosted in Western Pennsylvania, Providence, Barcelona, Prague, Delphi, and Hawaii.

These exciting summer workshops in Europe and New York are available to participants in state and develop educators' creativity and the stu­

Whether you are an administrator, a classroom educator, in areas as diverse as math, the arts, hard or social sciences, history or literature, you can help design new ways of teaching, mentoring, and teaching.

For more information please go to http://www.calstatecsusb.edu/scholarships/indicators.html.

Campus Incident Reports are compiled in the Campus Police Department.
Dangers of cell phone driving

Kristen Kuzma
News Editor

While driving along you suddenly hear your cell phone ring. Trying not to take your eyes off the road, you first reach out and snatch the passenger seat, purse, or jacket, as the oncoming rain squalls.

Still not finding it, you are forced to take your eyes off the road and search with your right hand until you see it, two inches from your reach on the floor beneath.

Now you pull just a bit, using the steering wheel as leverage to grab the now yelling cell phone. Not realizing that you've just pulled the car to the wrong side of the road.

This scenario probably sounds familiar to the majority of cell phone owners.

Cell phone usage and driving has not only become a serious problem, but a hot topic of political debate.

Auto Insurance Co. surveyed their drivers on their opinions of cell phone usage while driving.

According to the survey, 78% percent of respondents believed that cell phones impaired a person's ability to drive.

More than 40% of those drivers had also seen in a "close call" or "near miss" due to cell phone.

Two percent of surveyed drivers had actually been cell phone related accidents.

Having 40% of drivers in those "close call" situations increased the odds of cell phone related accidents.

As more and more accidents are being caused by the distractions of drivers talking on the phone, these bills have more and more support.

New York has become the first state in the United States to ban the use of handheld cell phones while driving, a bill signed by Gov. George Pataki in June, 2001.

As a result of the bill, violators receive fines ranging from $100 for the first, $250 for the second, and another $500 if drivers are caught after that.

Thirty nine states are considering similar legislation, though many cities and counties already have bans in place.

In a study done by Harvard University's Center for Risk Analysis, it was reported that "the risk of being killed by a driver talking on a cell phone is 1.29 for one million." Compared with the "1.76 for one million chance of being killed by a drunk driver," that almost doesn't seem like such bad odds.

But then we already have laws to prevent drinking and driving, as well as programs to prevent the action.

We do not have anything to help prevent deaths by cell phone.

Mayor Patrick Morris was invited to CSUSB to speak about his goals for the city of San Bernardino and about the University's role in helping with the development of the city.

Calling back from his recent visit to the campus, the mayor was happy to see the campus again and said to the audience, "and now they prosper."

Mayor Morris expressed his opinions of the city in the city and said, "After it, but we can do better." He discussed the city housing issues, explaining that over the last 20 years, the homes that people have purchased are over 50 years old. He also discussed poverty in the city.

Mayor Morris said that one third of the families that live here are using the welfare system. Therefore 82.3 percent of students come from low income families.

He said that San Bernardino is the lowest income city in California.

Mayor Morris wants to change all of these problems. He said that the school systems need changes and he wants to get every student a quality education they offer. The Sheldonattin and quality interaction (CBI) professors offer warranted the investment.

My CBU professors were experts and gave me the support I needed to keep going and finish. They gave me the tools that degrees gave me in education that has propelled me into the career of my dreams.

Mayor Morris wrote a plan of action to fight crime in the city of San Bernardino called Operation Phoenix. The Mayor said, "These latest criminals [of violent crimes] were victims, not only of the community [criminals] who pulled the trigger, but our city's failing police," according to the Operation pamphlet.

He also came up with a Strategic Plan, called Myshooma Circle, which was named after a girl named Myshooma Crenshaw, who was killed in her home by a gang related shooting on Nov. 19, 2001.

We can no longer sit back and watch as our sons and daughters are placed in danger, we need to take action now!" says Mayor Morris.

Mayor Patrick Morris and Joel Joshua, Extension Learning Dean, on the same track. "We are family," the mayor said.

In addition, the mayor talked about fixing the city by lowering the crime rate. He stated that San Bernardino is the 18th most violent city in California, and that we need to cut down the incidents of child abuse, decrease the number of people put behind bars, and increase the number of parolees in the city.

On Dec. 25, 2005, the Mayors write a plan of action to fight crime in the city of San Bernardino called Operation Phoenix. The Mayor said, "These latest criminals [of violent crimes] were victims, not only of the community [criminals] who pulled the trigger, but our city's failing police," according to the Operation pamphlet.

He also came up with a Strategic Plan, called Myshooma Circle, which was named after a girl named Myshooma Crenshaw, who was killed in her home by a gang related shooting on Nov. 19, 2001.

"We can no longer sit back and watch as our sons and daughters are placed in danger, we need to take action now!" says Mayor Morris.

Mayor Patrick Morris was invited to CSUSB to speak about his goals for the city of San Bernardino and about the University's role in helping with the development of the city.

Calling back from his recent visit to the campus, the mayor was happy to see the campus again and said to the audience, "and now they prosper."

Mayor Morris expressed his opinions of the city in the city and said, "After it, but we can do better." He discussed the city housing issues, explaining that over the last 20 years, the homes that people have purchased are over 50 years old. He also discussed poverty in the city.

Mayor Morris said that one third of the families that live here are using the welfare system. Therefore 82.3 percent of students come from low income families.

He said that San Bernardino is the lowest income city in California.

Mayor Morris wants to change all of these problems. He said that the school systems need changes and he wants to get every student a quality education they offer. The Sheldonattin and quality interaction (CBI) professors offer warranted the investment.

My CBU professors were experts and gave me the support I needed to keep going and finish. They gave me the tools that degrees gave me in education that has propelled me into the career of my dreams.

Mayor Morris wrote a plan of action to fight crime in the city of San Bernardino called Operation Phoenix. The Mayor said, "These latest criminals [of violent crimes] were victims, not only of the community [criminals] who pulled the trigger, but our city's failing police," according to the Operation pamphlet.

He also came up with a Strategic Plan, called Myshooma Circle, which was named after a girl named Myshooma Crenshaw, who was killed in her home by a gang related shooting on Nov. 19, 2001.

"We can no longer sit back and watch as our sons and daughters are placed in danger, we need to take action now!" says Mayor Morris.
We're holding your seat.

Chapman University College's Inland Empire campuses are now accepting applications for the upcoming term.

Chapman University College, one of California's most highly respected universities for adult learners, is also the perfect transfer choice. New terms start every 10 weeks and our accelerated programs are taught at convenient times by professionally and academically accomplished faculty who are focused on your success.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE PROGRAMS

Computer Information Systems (BS) • Criminal Justice (BA) • Health Services Management (BS) • Organizational Leadership (BA) • Psychology (BA) • Social Science (BS) • Sociology (BA)

For further information, visit:
http://www.chapman.edu

One student, Brad Johnson, was hypnotized into believing that he was holding a million-dollar lottery ticket. Another began to argue with the stuffed animal, and came to the staffed animal in monkey slay.

At the end of the show, one of the students who was hypnotized, Evan Yantis, said, "I find it good. He said that he did not remember the thing he had done while he was hypnotized.

Intramural sports for spring

Venessa Czirr
Staff Writer

Intramural sports are made available to CSUSB students, staff, faculty, and alumni through the Recreational Sports Department.

The term, intramural sports, will offer volleyball, football and soccer.

Volleyball will be offered on Wednesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Flag football will be offered on Wednesdays at 3, 4 and 5 p.m. Softball is offered on Fridays for 5 p.m., and 6 p.m. for co-ed teams.

Intramural sports are highly competitive. Intramural sports participants are a cut above the rest. Intramural sports are a great way to increase athleticism, leadership and cooperation within a team.

CSUSB gets hypnotized

Yessenia Martinez
Staff Writer

The Annual Hypnosis Show sponsored by the Student Union Program Board (SUP) was a big event that produced much laughter.

"The event was held at the Santa Monica Student Union's main room.

The show began with a game, created by the SUP, to find out which couples were the best looking.

The winning couple received two Six Flags tickets as a reward. The winner being chosen was a SUP member and host of the game said, "More students should come out to see this event.""All of our events are free of charge to the students of CSUSB.

They are being paid by our contacts, as well as we would like to take advantage and enjoy these events.

The hypnotist for the night was Barry Jones. He is originally from England, and has been a hypnotist for over 17 years. He travels around the world, ranging from Las Vegas to New York City, and does over 100 shows a year. His clients include MBC TV, and he recently worked on a reality show. He said the show will be called Ground Hog Day, and will consist of hypnotizing participants that will go on a date with three women.

Before Jones began to ask for volunteers, he said, "People may only get hypnotized if they are willing to allow these events."

The way a person may realize they are being hypnotized when their muscles begin to relax, and their body becomes that of a "Gumby."

After this, Jones then said, "Your eyes will begin to flicker, and become heavy, and soon your fingers will receive a tingling sensation.

Many students participated, and as expected, a couple did not get hypnotized. However, two students left right away, even before Jones had begun his hypnotic process.

These were students that had said that they were hypnotized before. Jones made these students do things that amazed and even shocked the audience members with laughter.

Yessenia Martinez/Chronicle

Courtesy of http://campusrec.csusb.edu/intramurals

Men's intramural team enjoy a softball game through the Recreational Sports department.

Intramural sports for spring

Venessa Czirr
Staff Writer

Intramural sports are made available to CSUSB students, staff, faculty, and alumni through the Recreational Sports Department.

The term, intramural sports, will offer volleyball, football and soccer.

Volleyball will be offered on Wednesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Flag football will be offered on Wednesdays at 3, 4 and 5 p.m. Softball is offered on Fridays for 5 p.m., and 6 p.m. for co-ed teams.

Intramural sports are highly competitive. Intramural sports participants are a cut above the rest. Intramural sports are a great way to increase athleticism, leadership and cooperation within a team.

Benjamin Cervantes and Intramural sports "build up our team."
The best love is real

Fortune McPike
Staff Writer

(Options)

In Hollywood-produced love stories, we typically see the boy chase the girl and then eventually get the girl. Hollywood portrays a wonderful image of what love is. However, in reality, love may not always be as pleasant. Eventually, the boy may give up and stop chasing, or he may continue to chase the girl and never get her. There is a very thin but real line between real love and make-up Hollywood love.

Hollywood love movies typically and happily ever after when the guy or girl finds the perfect person or the person of his or her dreams. Many also end with the ideal couple remaining strong. The movies lead us to believe that love is something that is supposed to work out that way. In the movies, love seems to be something that is supposed to make you smile and make you feel good and warm inside, so why do we constantly hear things like love hurts? I suppose real love is a lot different from Hollywood love.

Hollywood movies can cause us to create a definition of love, but in reality, love is something that is felt within. It is not something that can be easily defined because everyone has a different experience and a different definition of it.

The movies lead us to believe that love is something that simply flows and always has a happy ending. Because of Hollywood movies, some might also believe that real love does not take hard work in order to become and remain strong. I think that it has become very difficult to recognize the difference between Hollywood love and reality because Hollywood love seems to be "flawless."

Due to Hollywood-produced love movies, we often think in our mind that the ideal couple consists of the tall, handsome man that is madly in love with the beautiful girl and they have the perfect relationship. In these movies, the characters seem to always find the perfect person, but real love does not come by finding the perfect person, it comes from learning to see an imperfect person perfectly.
Antonio Banderas stars in the successful "Take the Lead." From Join Learn Stop Ballroom Entry-level GIS server, across the enterprise, in a mobile environment, and on the Web. ESRI, more about career opportunities at (GIS). a.m. - 3:00 p.m. Talk with the technology and market leader in geographic information systems, and recruiters about job opportunities in these and other areas.

"Take the Lead" is a fantastic movie for anyone who loves dancing. I really enjoyed watching the movie because the dancers were so talented and moved with grace. The film was released on April 7 and has made $22,660,819 so far in the box office. Antonio Banderas, Rob Brown and Affie Woodard star in the film directed by Liz Friedlander. The whole idea of the film came from a segment on the CBS Early Show featuring Pierre Dulaine, a New York public school dance teacher. Diane Nussbaum, producer, was so intrigued by a man teaching ballroom dancing to inner-city students that she searched for Dulaine and made a movie about him. Nussbaum said, "I knew immediately that I had to tell this story, no matter how long it took to get it on screen," according to www.rotten tomatoes.com.

I never knew that this movie was inspired by a true story. Antonio Banderas is the leading character who portrays Dulaine as an internationally acclaimed ballroom dancer. The plot of this film is about a professional dancer who volunteers to teach in the New York City public school system. When he begins to teach his classic etiquette style of dancing, it conflicts with the urban dance style of the students. I like the fact that he became a mentor for students who were in a year-round detention program. Dulaine (Banderas) was determined to inspire his students to have the opportunity to shine by competing in a major ballroom competition against some of the best student dancers in New York. "Antonio's such a good person that you know he would have the heart of poetry to bring into the character. He understands what it is to give and therefore he is fully able to understand and relay to Pierre. Both Antonio and Pierre have an Old World flavor to them that rings true," said Liz Friedlander, according to www.rotten tomatoes.com.

The story line of the movie was intrigued and made me want to dance. My 21-year-old daughter got up to go dance during the movie. I made it laugh because she tried to copy the moves of the dancers. Even though I had to watch most of the movie from the entrance of the theater, it was worth it because my daughter was having fun.

Alex Napovnyshchik, the cinematographer, showed the progress of the students with his cinematography. The class was held in the school basement, which had old and hard fluorescent lighting. He used contrast by taking more light through the windows as the students' scoring progressed. I think he really captured every angle of film. Aaron Zigman, a traditional film composer, and hip-hop producer Swizz Beatz collaborated to make the score. Some of the scenes used real music and provided a somber poetry tango with a hip-hop beat.

"We tried to create a new sound of music with this film," said Benzio Greenberg, the music supervisor. "At every opportunity, we tried to merge different worlds of music together," according to www.rotten tomatoes.com.

I really enjoyed every minute of the movie and hope other viewers can also appreciate the film. The dancers moved in a way that makes you envision that you are also their dancing with them.

---

Classic Carrey comedy

By Robert Mognesen

It looks as though Jim Carrey has given up on trying to win an Oscar and is making hip-hop albums with comedians once again. "Fun with Dick and Jane" starring Jim Carrey and Tea Leoni was released to DVD on April 11.

This movie is a remake of the 1997 film starring Sigourney and Jane Fonda. This time around the film grossed $10,322,770 in U.S. theaters, and is one of the top selling DVDs in stores now.

Directed by Dean Parisot, this film has a run time of 96 minutes and has a PG-13 rating for brief language and sexual content. Dick Harper (Carrey) becomes the new vice president of Communications for his company Globalbwy. His first task is to go on TV and answer questions about the company’s financial status, but as he is able to do the company folds and he looks like a crook.

Unfortunately for him, his wife has already quit her job and now they have no source of income. They both try getting new jobs, but have too many problems and start getting depressed. Jane (Leoni) sells her body to science and ends up in a wheelchair, driven by Din, meanwhile, has run out of options and now works outside a hardware store along with some Hispanic men.

Before the day is done, he finds himself jumping a fence to get into the U.S., and sleeping from "La Migra." He was picked up by immigration officers and deported to Mexico. He does n’t look Hispanic, but nonetheless is deported in a pretty comical scene.

With no money and all of their possessions repurchased, including the love they, decide to take matters into their own hands. They become armed robbers and try to steal their old life back.

Jim Carrey gives a hilarious performance in this movie, but it doesn’t come close to his performance in movies like "Dumb and Dumber," or "Ace Ventura." His comedy style in this film is much different than some of his earlier work, in which he just acted like a mad man. If I were to rate his style of acting in this movie to one of his other movies, I would say that it is good like that of "Bruce Almighty."

If you see this movie in theaters, you should still rent it.

---

Classic Carrey comedy

By Robert Mognesen

Carrey and Leoni deliver several chuckle-worthy moments.

Because of the hilarious special features the DVD offers. Like any good comedy DVD, this movie offers several deleted scenes and a gag reel. The movie is available in a wide-screen or full-screen format, and has the option of subtitles and audio commentary.

One of the unique special features offered on this disc is publicity out-takes of Jim Carrey and Tea Leoni during press interviews for the movie. The two have good chemistry together, and make a really good comedy match.

Next time you go to the store to rent or buy a movie, don’t pass up the chance to watch the newest Jim Carrey movie.

---

Fun with Dick and Jane" DVDs enticingly span the walls in just about every movie rental joint. Strauss Banderas stars in the successful "Take the Lead."

Ready for a New Campus?

Join ESRI, the technology and market leader in geographic information system (GIS) software. We develop and support innovative tools for managing and analyzing geographic data on the desktop, in a server, across the enterprise, in a mobile environment, and on the Web. Find out more at the Career Expo Wednesday, April 26 from 10 a.m.-3:00 p.m.

Talk with ESRI recruiters about job opportunities in these and other areas:

- Entry-Level GIS Analysts
- Marketing Coordinators
- Junior Programmers
- Human Resources Generalists
- Web App Programmers
- Accounting Representatives

Learn more about career opportunities at ESRI by visiting www.esri.com/careers.

(C)1996 - 2006 New York Times, Bellows, CA 93373-8100

"Fun with Dick and Jane" DVDs enticingly span the walls in just about every movie rental joint.
Rascals do it again

Jerseys has it all

Get the adrenaline going, yours and whoever reads about it on your resume.

AUDITIONS
Brand New CSUSB News Show
We are looking for Talented and interesting people for the following positions:
• News Anchor
• Writers
• Scene Alert
• Creative Director
• Technical Professionals
• Host/Assistant
• People who want to be featured in Campus Commander

Thursday, April 27th 2006
Santos Manuel Student Union
Rooms 220 & 221
2PM - 6PM
You must be currently enrolled at CSUSB to have an audition.

Jerseys' vegetarian pizza is only one out of endless choices offered at their three locations.

Pablo Garcia
Staff Writer

Jersey's Pizza is one of my favorite places to eat pizza, with friends. Jersey is known for being a local hang out for college students. Jersey's restaurants are located in Upland, Redlands and San Bernardino and are popular amongst locals.

You don't have to eat while you're there, you can just grab a beer from their full bar and hang out. They have ample choices on tap like Guinness and Bad Light, my favorite being Foster's. If you are not 21, you can still sit with your friends at the bar and drink a beer.

The friendly staff makes you feel right at home. The decor is eclectic with random posters and outputs of everything from basketball players to the Pope. I love just hanging out here with friends after work,

According to the bands official website.

Rascal Flatts have been highly anticipated the new album and that is here I believe the fans will be quite happy with the two-year wait.

The albums first single, "What hurts the most," is currently number one on the country ballot chart and with the follow-up release of the album's title track, "Me and My Gang," currently at number 39 on the charts. The album has a great sound and I believe that many of the songs on the album will do very well.

I decided to review four of the 13 songs on the album that, at first listen, jumped out at me as "good" songs. "What hurts the most," "Thisworld," "Backwards," and "Words I Can't Say." What hurts the most" is a love song about loss and remembrance. The harmony, lyrics and overall sound are definitely first rate. It's no wonder the song is currently at number one.

"Thisworld" is by far one of my favorite songs on the album. The song is very touching and is reminiscent of the bonus song "Skin," which itself is quite touching and is so melodic and emotionally this record took us to another place. We are excited to bring this new music to the fans.

Jersey's is the only vegetarian pizza place in town and it is close to campus. It's definitely worth a try.

The atmosphere is a relaxed, t-shirt and jeans kind of place. I ordered a small vegetarian pizza and a small chicken gyro. The pizza had to be the best I have had ever and it is not usually a big fan of veggie. It came with mushrooms, green and red onions, roasted red peppers, and broccoli all piled on top of each other.

This is the only vegetarian pizza I can eat," said Rangel Villagio, a Crafton Hills College student. There are many specialty pizzas, but you can also choose from toppings such as cheeses, artichoke hearts and anchovies. Pepperoni is the favorite among patrons. Pizza prices begin at $5.25 for a small and go up to $13.59 for a large. Each additional topping is $1.00. Speciality pizzas like teriyaki chicken range from $10.19 to $18.95.

The pastas was a little more, predictable but good nonetheless. The large servings of spaghetti and cheese mixed were good. All the pasta plates come with either marinara or mace. If you pay just a few cents more for your dinner you get a salad and garlic bread. The pasta plates cost from $6.00 to $9.55, which is a good deal for casual dining.

If you're on a diet, you can order a small salad for $2.00, and it was well worth it. The salad had basil, lettuce, mushrooms, and olives. Everything on the menu is good as Jersey's. After dinner and a few drinks with friends, I left one of my favorite pizza places satisfied. Jersey's Pizza does a top job and it is the food, but also by being a great place for people to come together.
Supporting opportunities

Ashley A. Jones

Several students at CSUSB show support for the Immigration Reform protest and encourage others to do so.

Ashley A. Jones/Chronicle

TEACH!

In as LITTLE as 9 Months*

The College of Education at CSUSB
Lets You Touch the Future

We offer program options in:

• Elementary and Secondary Education

• Bilingual Education (with a Master's Degree)

• Special Education (with a Master’s Degree)

FOR INFORMATION CONTACT:

San Bernardino Campus

• Elementary*, Secondary, and Bilingual Education
  Faculty Office Bldg., Room 126
  (909) 537-5650 or (909) 537-5603

• Special Education
  Faculty Office Building, Room 146, (909) 537-5621

Palm Desert Campus

• Credential and Graduate Programs in Education
  Indian Wells Center, Room 102
  (760) 341-2883 ext. 78108
  or (760) 341-2883 ext. 78109

California State University San Bernardino
Visit our website at www.csusb.edu/edu for more details

Accredited by NCATE and CCTC

*Bachelor’s degree and subject matter competency required

CSET coaching is available (http://rimspi.csusb.edu)

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Attendees are exposed to opportunities to learn and to meet people from across the world.

Expiration HACU this year

Jennifer Galvan
Multicultural Assistant

The Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities is not accepting applications for scholarships to their national conference through June 1, 2006.

HACU is an organization that "represents more than 400 colleges and universities committed to Hispanic higher education access in the U.S." It is the result of the合并 of the Hispanic Educational Access Project and the National Hispanic Student Association.

Representatives of colleges and universities committed to Hispanic higher education access in the U.S., Puerto Rico, Latin America, Spain and Portugal were present at the conference.

They state their mission is "to prevent the development of an illegal population by deporting the immigrants. "The immigrants will leave with practically nothing, resulting in poor living conditions."

A devoted participant in the promotion of the Immigration Reform protest is the Regina-Hat笙 Angeles group with about 500 people.

Glenda Alvarado, a member of the group, said it would be a honor to be at the conference.

It is open to students, seniors and graduates.

It will provide the chance to network with graduate schools, corporations and government agencies.

It will provide students with the opportunity to meet people and to get involved in the community.

It is a great opportunity for students to get into contact with other people that will help them move up in the world.

We want to give members of the campus community the opportunity to attend if they want, and this is a great opportunity to be part of the event and to help as well.

Pringle said volunteers are needed for a variety of unassigned events.

Regular tickets are $125 per person.

For more information visit JACU’s website at www.csu.net or call Deborah Buck at 537-3321 or 537-5024.

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

WANT TO HELP?

The battle against the Immigration Reform bill has impacted millions of individuals.

In the past month, a number of California residents have seen and experienced protests and walkouts by U.S. residents who hope to put an end to the Reform bill.

The bill suggests firmer policies against immigrants entering the U.S. as of late March.

The U.S. House of Representatives passed legislation making illegal entry into the U.S. a felony.

Penalties will be enforced on employers who hire illegal immigrants.

In a brief interview with Manuel Mestas, the former executive director of the California State University's Ombudsman, he said, "I am numbers line.

There are 16 to 21 openings so you need to get everything in order soon.

Anyone interested can go pick up an application in the Administration building in room AD-101, or go online to http://www.csusb.edu/apply and fill out an application.

The conference is open to all students regardless of ethnicity.

For more information visit the HACU website at www.csusa.net or call Deborah Buck at 537-3321 or 537-5024.

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Contact Pringle at (909) 537-3321.

We want to give members of the campus community the opportunity to attend if they want, and this is a great opportunity to be part of the event and to help as well.

Pringle said volunteers are needed for a variety of unassigned events.

Regular tickets are $125 per person.

To find out more about volunteering to work at the event, contact Pringle at (909) 537-3321.

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

The battle against the Immigration Reform bill has impacted millions of individuals.

In the past month, a number of California residents have seen and experienced protests and walkouts by U.S. residents who hope to put an end to the Reform bill.

The bill suggests firmer policies against immigrants entering the U.S. as of late March.

The U.S. House of Representatives passed legislation making illegal entry into the U.S. a felony.

Penalties will be enforced on employers who hire illegal immigrants.

In a brief interview with Manuel Mestas, the former executive director of the California State University's Ombudsman, he said, "I am numbers line.

There are 16 to 21 openings so you need to get everything in order soon.

Anyone interested can go pick up an application in the Administration building in room AD-101, or go online to http://www.csusb.edu/apply and fill out an application.

The conference is open to all students regardless of ethnicity.

For more information visit the HACU website at www.csusa.net or call Deborah Buck at 537-3321 or 537-5024.

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Contact Pringle at (909) 537-3321.

We want to give members of the campus community the opportunity to attend if they want, and this is a great opportunity to be part of the event and to help as well.

Pringle said volunteers are needed for a variety of unassigned events.

Regular tickets are $125 per person.

To find out more about volunteering to work at the event, contact Pringle at (909) 537-3321.

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

The battle against the Immigration Reform bill has impacted millions of individuals.

In the past month, a number of California residents have seen and experienced protests and walkouts by U.S. residents who hope to put an end to the Reform bill.

The bill suggests firmer policies against immigrants entering the U.S. as of late March.

The U.S. House of Representatives passed legislation making illegal entry into the U.S. a felony.

Penalties will be enforced on employers who hire illegal immigrants.

In a brief interview with Manuel Mestas, the former executive director of the California State University's Ombudsman, he said, "I am numbers line.

There are 16 to 21 openings so you need to get everything in order soon.

Anyone interested can go pick up an application in the Administration building in room AD-101, or go online to http://www.csusb.edu/apply and fill out an application.

The conference is open to all students regardless of ethnicity.

For more information visit the HACU website at www.csusa.net or call Deborah Buck at 537-3321 or 537-5024.

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Volunteers needed for black tie event

Contact Pringle at (909) 537-3321.

We want to give members of the campus community the opportunity to attend if they want, and this is a great opportunity to be part of the event and to help as well.

Pringle said volunteers are needed for a variety of unassigned events.

Regular tickets are $125 per person.

To find out more about volunteering to work at the event, contact Pringle at (909) 537-3321.
Artistic youth display art at CSUSB

Housing receives diversity award

Units on the first floor are two bedroom, one bath apartments. Units on the upper floors are one bedroom, one and a half baths. Each unit has a balcony, living room, kitchen, dining area, and an in-unit washer and dryer. The apartments include a community center with a pool, spa, fitness center, and laundry facilities. The complex is located near the University of California San Bernardino, California State University San Bernardino, and San Bernardino Valley College.

Housing receives diversity award

The Western Association of College and University Housing Officers (WACUHO) recently bestowed its Institutional Award on CSUSB, based on its resident assistant program. This award means that the university is recognized for its commitment to diversity in housing programs, and include housing programs, and include diversity awareness efforts, such as diversity training, diversity activities, and diversity services. The award recognizes that the university's Black History Month program, the overnight stay program, and the diversity week program are recognized for their diversity efforts. The award also recognizes the diversity efforts of the Black Student Union, the Gay and Lesbian Student Union, and the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Student Union.

CSUSB's Robert V. Fullerton Art Museum displayed art made by students from San Bernardino, Riverside, and Los Angeles counties. The museum's annual art contest was held in February, and the winners were announced in March. The museum also hosted an exhibition of art by students from the Cal State University San Bernardino and the Cal State University Fullerton art departments.

CSUSB's Robert V. Fullerton Art Museum displayed art made by students from San Bernardino, Riverside, and Los Angeles counties. The museum's annual art contest was held in February, and the winners were announced in March. The museum also hosted an exhibition of art by students from the Cal State University San Bernardino and the Cal State University Fullerton art departments.

CSUSB's Robert V. Fullerton Art Museum displayed art made by students from San Bernardino, Riverside, and Los Angeles counties. The museum's annual art contest was held in February, and the winners were announced in March. The museum also hosted an exhibition of art by students from the Cal State University San Bernardino and the Cal State University Fullerton art departments.
Strike a record, kill history

Jennifer Krest
Staff Writer

Some believe the stroke of a pen can right the wrongs of the past. The Alabama State Legislature seems to think they are doing just that with a bill that passed unanimously on Monday, April 17.

The bill, dubbed the Rosa Parks bill, would pardon Rosa Parks, Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., and several hundred others who were arrested for their civil disobedience during the Civil Rights era.

I consider it a noble gesture on behalf of the very state that caused such reprehensible laws. I believe it is another large step towards racial harmony and it reflects the immerse progress we, as a nation, have made in the past 45 years.

But the gesture also has potential to do some damage. My fear is that by pardoning our Civil Rights heroes we could be erasing an essential part of our nation's history.

I believe that the images burned into the memories of those witnessing the violent protests, the scars covering the bodies of those beaten for their beliefs, and the marks on the records of Parks and King should never be hidden. They should be displayed prominently as a reminder of the turbulent times we have endured and as a symbol of unity for the future so that we never encounter a time like that again. It's not pretty, but justice seldom is.

I also wonder to what extent the bill's implications will be felt. The bill proposes to erase records dealing with segregation laws from the books back in 1960, so we are talking about 40 to 106 year-old convictions!

What is the point of this?

Most of the individuals with these convictions have either already passed away or are out of the work force. I could understand if we were proposing this legislation 50 years ago to erase those with convictions that their valiant actions would not punish them in the job market. However, at this point, I just think it is action taken too late to really be of any use to the people it is abroving.

Some argue that it really is not about the negative effects in the job market. They say that the bill allows to allow the personal anguish that stems from the stigma of simply having a criminal record.

While they make a valid point, I doubt the marks on their records really upset Parks and King. Considering the context, the marks were probably more of a triumph as they exposed institutional bigotry and marked a shift of pubic opinion in their favor.

I hate that America used to be segregated. I hate that Americans were arrested for claiming their rights. I hate this ugly past of history for its gross injustice. But what I hate even more is that it could all be forgotten.

If you're planning to buy Beatles songs from the Internet, do yourself a favor and buy the record, you'll thank me later.

Educational collapse

Jessica Schwartz
Staff Writer

"Idiots, a student's education should cost around $10,000 at CSUSB."

On average, students spend about $6,900 to graduate as well-rounded, intellectual individuals but bottom line, they want your money.

From is currently working on his photography major and has found that he is required to take multiple art courses that have absolutely nothing to do with photography.

Not only are students finding that a lot of their required courses have nothing to do with their major, but many have found that several classes are either a repeat of a high school class or are strangely familiar to classes they have taken from another department.

"For example, during the last winter quarter I took Health Science 150 for my life science requirement. This spring I am taking Kinesiology 205, which is one of the three requirements for life-long understanding that all students need to finish," said a student who wishes to remain anonymous.

Thus far, I have found the kinesiology course to be extremely interest the Health Sciences course.

"It's a Health Health Science class of high school. Yes, I could have taken Biology instead, but I also had Biology in high school.

"I do think I remember much from my high school science classes, but this again I don't recall even quite a bit of the information I learned last quarter in Health Science.

Aimee Rivera, a CSUSB Liberal Arts major, said, "My first year was really overwhelming and I don't do even remember much of the stuff that I was taught in 10 weeks."

While for Rivera, Liberal Arts major it seems more pertinent to re-study basic math, grammar, science, and history, there is also a certain amount of Liberal Arts majors that goes something like, "Liberal Arts major know a little of everything, and a little of nothing,"

I cannot speak for all students, but I know that personally I would want to say that about my education in my three years that I am here, I have completed a multitude of courses. I started with a minor in photography but an absolute nothing to do with photography.

The world where I was is a world where I have not only to not pay for classes, they have already taken in high school, but to also spend an extra ten hours in two of three year's major courses.

The time and money could either be put toward move in depth study of a student's major, or he could jump into the work force quickly.

As students, we spend a good three of our Freshmen in school, not to mention the money we put in to high school, but to also spend an extra ten hours in two of three year's major courses.

The time and money could either be put toward move in depth study of a student's major, or he could jump into the work force quickly.

As students, we spend a good three of our Freshmen in school, not to mention the money we put in to high school, but to also spend an extra ten hours in two of three year's major courses.

The time and money could either be put toward move in depth study of a student's major, or he could jump into the work force quickly.

As students, we spend a good three of our Freshmen in school, not to mention the money we put in to high school, but to also spend an extra ten hours in two of three year's major courses.
2 Duke lacrosse players arrested

Amber Garland
Staff Writer

Duke University’s Lacrosse team is under fire for allegedly sexually assaulting and beating a dancer. The woman was hired to perform at a March 13 team party at the lacrosse house, off-campus in Durham, North Carolina.

On Tuesday evening, two Duke lacrosse players were arrested for the alleged rape of the 27-year-old exotic dancer. After the two players were arrested, Colin Finnerty and Rande Seligman, both of which are sophomores, the police searched the two player’s dorm room for more evidence.

According to the 27-year-old woman who is making the accusation, the two Duke University’s Lacrosse team players beat, strangled, raped and sodomized her.

Duke’s president, Richard Brodhead, suspended the scholarships of the nationally-ranked Blue Devils lacrosse team until further allegations of the sexual assault are resolved, but he has not come forward with any answers. Although the season is cancelled, the team continues to practice.

The next court appearance is set for May 15 for both Seligman’s and Finnerty’s arrest.

49 Student athletes earn ‘Leader of Pack’

The award is named by these student-athletes who achieve a grade point average of 3.4 or better during each quarter of the year. The recipients represent 25 percent of the total number of student-athletes who are participating in 11 NCAA-sponsored sports at the university.

The women’s cross country team had 10 members earn “Leader of the Pack” awards followed by women’s soccer with eight, men’s soccer and women’s volleyball with six each.

The award is named by these student-athletes who achieve a grade point average of 3.4 or better during each quarter of the year. The recipients represent 25 percent of the total number of student-athletes who are participating in 11 NCAA-sponsored sports at the university.

COURTESY OF GOOGLE IMAGES (L-R)
Amber Garland
24
April 2006
Chronicle Page 12
Sports

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.

We focus on your success through smaller classes, greater emphasis on the individual and personalized career development. Most notably, we provide a proactive engagement infused with excitement, intellectual challenge and vast opportunity.

As the only ABA-accredited law school in the fast-growing Inland Southern California region, we offer full- and part-time legal education programs that include:

- A highly diverse student body and faculty
- A cooperative learning environment with a strong sense of community
- Time-honored teaching methods integrated with the most advanced technology available
- An educational emphasis on advocacy and ethics
- Practical training in lawyering skills, including hands-on experience in law firms and courtrooms
- Plentiful career opportunities in the fastest growing metropolitan area in the U.S., a region dramatically underserved by attorneys
- Generous scholarships

You can learn more at our website:
http://law.laverne.edu
or call (877) 888-4529.

If you have any questions, contact our Admissions Office at 909-478-1100.

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.

You’re smart. You’re talented. You belong at University of La Verne College of Law.
The Coyote Locker Room

Krista Hernandez: Featured Athlete, 3-2, 2-2 Outfield softball player is a Nushakl: Krista Hernandez is the power hitter for the Coyote softball team. Hernandez had 16 home runs and 33 RBI in 2005. She set a team record for walks in a season with 33, and also led the team in steals with 10. Hernandez is a great asset to the women's softball team and she continues to be a big player for the Coyotes.

The softball team has had their ups and downs, yet Hernandez and the team remain optimistic. With a top batting average of .370, she stays grounded. Hernandez said, "I don't think about playing much I just go out and play like everyone else, I'm confident in my team and I know that I can't get the 2B done, somebody else will!"

Age: 20
Home town: Rancho Cucamonga
High school: Rancho Cucamonga
Favorite musical artist: Garret Don't have a preference and I'm a music lover.
Favorite athlete: Garret
Favorite管理模式: Mom and Dad
Future goals: Hernandez said she earned Freshman of the Year, it was really good. "I'm proud of it and the way the team played."

Sports

Need that ‘W’

Matt Phelps Staff Writer

The Coyote softball team needs to rebound from a string of losses that have come in recent games. They lost four games up at the UC Davis tournament and then a game to Cal Baptist on April 13.

At the UC Davis tournament, CSUSB was not able to pick up any victories against 3-2-2. This tournament has been held for 28 consecutive years. It is a two-day tournament with two games played each day.

On the first day of the tournament, CSUSB played Indians and Loyola Marymount Indians. Loyola Marymount Indians jutted up a 9-1 lead in the fifth inning and was able to hold on to CSUSB's rest of the way. Coach Sharen Reneker, Bridget Borg, Amy de Jonckheere, and Tina Torres all scored in the match. Against Loyola Marymount, CSUSB had an even tougher time. Loyola Marymount took a 7-1 lead in the fifth into the half and came away with an 11-3 victory over CSUSB, holding them scoreless in the second and third periods. Borg scored twice and Reneker once in the game.

On the next day of the tournament, CSUSB played Cal State Bakersfield and Santa Clara. CSUSB held periods, with only one goal and then outscored them 5-3 in the final seven minutes. Reneker had two goals and Kacey Carruthers and Freya Berg each had one.

CSUSB final match of the tournament against Santa Clara. CSUSB could not stop Santa Clara from scoring three goals in each period in Santa Clara's 2-1-3 victory.

Torres, Reneker and de Jonckheere each scored a goal. The loss gave CSUSB its 4-6 record in the tournament.

Their most recent game was a loss to Cal Baptist University. CSUSB was able to rally in the fourth period and come within one goal of taking the lead with 4:12 left. However, Cal Baptist University was too much for them, scoring twice during the final minutes of the game.

Before game four, seniors were honored for Senior Day. Those seniors were Sarah Raneker, Bridget Borg, Tina Torres, and Amy de Jonckheere. Borg and de Jonckheere both had goals, with Berg scoring three and de Jonckheere scoring one.

UC Santa Barbara has a tournament that CSUSB will play in on April 22. This would be a good time for the team to bounce back and close the season playing well. With a 10-16 record, any wins they can pick up will definitely be a plus for the team.

Yottes split with CSUDH

Justin Hixson Staff Writer

The Coyote baseball team, which took on Cal State Dominguez Hills this past weekend, came out of the four game series with a split. There are some things in life you don't mind splitting, such as a bill or gas money. Splitting a series during the stretch run is not something you like to split.

Although a split is not great, it could have been worse for the Coyotes. After losing the first two games of the series to the Toros, the Coyotes bounced back with win in the second game of the doubleheader on Saturday and the win up game this past Monday. After giving up a combined 18 runs in the first two of the games, the Coyotes pitching staff woke up. They backled down and allowed only four runs in the final two games, three of them earned. The Coyotes, who uncharactetristically had a combined seven errors in the series, did not get hurt by these mistakes as bad as they had in the past two series. The Coyotes pitching staff was strong, remaining consistent throughout the series.

The Coyotes, who did not have a strong weekend, will be strong again in the upcoming series. The Coyotes pitching staff were able to rally in the fourth period. The Coyotes went 4-4 in the series.

The Coyotes have a chance to strengthen their playoff position as the last place in the conference. Chico State and Sonoma State, placed each other in a four game series.