- Dr. Frederick Newton
  Psychology
  Academic year 1983-84

- Dr. Elliott Barkan
  History

- Larry Kramer
  English

- Dr. Ralph Petrucci
  Academic Planning

Dr. Christie plans to work on manuscripts about a model predicting and explaining public administration behavior during times of funding shortages. Dr. Clarke will complete a book on environmental policy making. Dr. Dolan will re-acquaint himself with school administration at the local, county and state levels.

Dr. Heeren will continue his work on the social and psychological effects of the Panorama fire. Two projects are in line for Dr. Khokhlov: research in the field of political psychology and completion of his book The Logic of Psyche. Dr. Newton plans to continue work on the relationship between physiological responses and psychological variables.

Dr. Barkan’s plans include travel to Israel to research ethnic relations and to teach American history. Kramer will work on his second book of poems. Dr. Petrucci plans to complete the fourth edition of his college chemistry text.

Dr. Ralph Petrucci will step down from his position as dean of academic planning next September to complete the fourth edition of his college chemistry text, General Chemistry: Principles and Modern Applications, along with various supplementary manuals. He plans to return to the classroom at Cal State as professor of chemistry in fall 1984.

As dean, Dr. Petrucci has overseen the development of curricula at graduate and undergraduate levels and the counseling of students with special academic problems. He joined Cal State, San Bernardino as professor of chemistry in 1964 and was chair of the Division of Natural Sciences from September 1966 until his appointment as dean of academic planning in September 1972.
ITALIAN OPERA THEATRE FESTIVAL
AT CAL STATE DURING JANUARY

Opera performances, master classes, a benefit concert and workshops are part of the Italian Opera Theatre Festival on campus during January. Sponsored by the Inland Art Society, the events will be held in the Recital Hall.

Joan Dornemann, coach, accompanist and prompter for the Metropolitan Opera, will give the first master class from 4 to 7 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 2. Famed mezzo-soprano Elizabeth Mannion will conduct a master class Monday, Jan. 10. The fee is $25 each.

Ms. Mannion will be accompanied by John Perry, professor of piano at USC, during a benefit concert for the Inland Art Society at 8 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 9. The program will include works by Schumann, Purcell, Bernstein, Tchaikovsky and a contemporary work by Piere Vellonnes. Admission is $10.

Thirty-eight vocalists from across the United States will present three operas by Handel beginning Sunday, Jan. 16. Michael Recchiuti, music director of the Aspen Vocal Institute, will conduct "Rodelinda"; Dr. Richard Saylor (Music), "Acis and Galatea"; and Fiora Contino, director of the Aspen Choral Institute and professor of music at the University of Texas at Austin, "Giulio Cesare." Preceding each performance will be an introduction by opera historian Dr. Martha Novak Clinkscale, who teaches at the University of Redlands and UC, Riverside.

The schedule for the 8 p.m. opera performances is: "Rodelinda," Sunday and Wednesday, Jan. 16 and 19; "Acis and Galatea," Monday and Thursday, Jan. 17 and 20; and "Giulio Cesare," Tuesday, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 18, 22 and 23. A matinee performance of "Rodelinda" will be at 2 p.m., Jan. 23. Admission is $5 per performance.

Daily workshops on intensive Italian, acting, opera improvisation and opera repertoire are in progress. A schedule is available from Colene Schwandt, president of the Inland Art Society, 825-4856. Tickets for performances and master classes may be obtained from the Music Department, Ext. 7454.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION OFFERS EIGHT-WEEK READING CLINIC

A special eight-week clinic designed to help elementary and secondary students with reading problems will be offered Saturday mornings beginning Jan. 22 by the School of Education.

The students first will be evaluated and assigned a time slot by Dr. Margaret A. Atwell (Education), the program coordinator. Participants will receive an hour of individual tutoring each week from graduate students working toward a specialist's credential in reading education.

Parents of prospective participants should call the School of Education, Ext. 7571, between Jan. 3 and 5, for initial registration and interview with Dr. Atwell. A $15 enrollment fee will be charged each student.
SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED
To Honor William H. Wilson

A $5,000 memorial scholarship honoring William H. Wilson, a prominent San Bernardino attorney and friend of the college, is being established to aid area students. The endowment fund was created with memorials and contributions honoring Wilson, who died Oct. 4, 1981. A $500 scholarship will be awarded annually, beginning in the 1983-84 school year.

The recipient will be selected from among full-time students, graduate or undergraduate, preferably from the San Bernardino area. The award will be based upon both merit and economic need. Applicants must have maintained a minimum grade-point average of B.

Wilson, a past president of the San Bernardino County Bar Assn., had been active in many civic, social and professional organizations. He had been involved with Cal State through membership on the college Advisory Board.

SHOW IN LIBRARY RECORDS

"Generation to Generation: Sharing the Intangible," a photography exhibit in the Pfau Library, records some of the ways the elderly share their life experiences, wisdom, crafts, music and dance.

On loan from the Library of Congress, the exhibit includes 51 black-and-white photos selected from collections of the American Folklife Center, Farm Security Administration and the Office of War Information. The show is an outgrowth of the 1981 White House Conference on Aging. It closes Sunday, Jan. 16.
