Chancellor Reynolds, who is making a series of get-acquainted visits to all CSU campuses, will be here Monday, Feb. 28 to meet with college and community people.

Faculty are encouraged to attend a special meeting with Dr. Reynolds scheduled for 11 a.m. in PL 500 south. Students also will have an opportunity to talk with the chancellor at 2 p.m. in the Student Union. Dr. Reynolds' schedule includes a luncheon with community and college leaders, a tour of the campus and meetings with Dr. Anthony Evans, the Administrative Council, academic deans and the press.

Before her appointment as chancellor last June, Dr. Reynolds was provost of Ohio State University, where she was in charge of academic affairs for the university's six campuses. She is a widely published and award-winning scholar in developmental biology. Dr. Reynolds holds a B.S. in biology and chemistry from Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia; an M.S. and Ph.D. in zoology from the University of Iowa; and an honorary doctor of science degree from Indiana State University, Evansville.

The college will host a Microtechnology for Everyone (ME) Festival Friday through Sunday, April 22 through 24. Planned as the first annual event, it will feature dozens of low-cost seminars and a free exhibition by leading microcomputer and software vendors.

The only charge will be a nominal fee of $5 for each of the seminars, which will be held Friday and Saturday. Eight seminars designed with business people in mind have been set. The Computer Center staff, which is coordinating the event, also is planning general-interest seminars and several focusing on the uses of computers in the home and in the classroom. Persons wishing their names to be placed on a mailing list for information and registration material should call the Computer Center, Ext. 7293.

Microcomputer dealers and software houses from southern California have already subscribed more than half of the booth spaces in the gymnasium. Fees collected from these vendors are underwriting most of the costs of the ME Festival.
"Equus," the Tony award-winning play by Peter Shaffer, will be presented at 8:15 p.m., Thursday through Saturday, in the Theatre. Directed by Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill, performances also are scheduled Tuesday through Saturday, March 1 through 5. Tickets are on sale at the Theatre Arts Department Office, CA 175, at $4.25 general, $2 students and senior citizens.

Professional playwright and actor Harry Cauley will be guest artist in the role of Martin Dysart, a psychiatrist who explores the tortured psyche of a 17-year-old stable boy, played by Dell Yount. Also appearing are Geoff Berry, Randy Charnin, Marc Dietrich, Mark Duncan, Bill Greeley, John Koroulakis, Wendy Jackson, Jeff Perkins, Mark Peters, Valery Russell, Veronica Smith, Amber Talvi and Marisa Wine.

Fritz Lang's silent film "The Nibelungs" will be shown at noon Monday and Wednesday in the Recital Hall. This epic film on the death of Siegfried, a legendary German hero, was filmed in 1924 during the "golden age" of German silent movies. It has subtitles and a musical sound track dubbed with music arranged from Richard Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelungs." The free showings are sponsored by the Music Department.

Careers for foreign language majors were discussed by M. Dellaguardia, the French commercial attache; Ulf Bacher, Austrian press attache; and Emerenciano Rodriguez, the consul of Mexico, during a reception yesterday in the Lower Commons. Foreign language teachers and counselors from area high schools and colleges attended the event, hosted by the Department of Foreign Languages.

The Children's Center is working on a project to provide care for children of evening students, staff and faculty. If financially feasible and approved by the acting dean of students, the program would begin in September. Care would be provided from 6 to 10 p.m. for children ages two through 14 who are registered with the center, not on a drop-in basis. The fees would be about $1.50 per hour for a minimum of two hours. Persons interested in placing their names on the mailing list should call Pam Dortch, Ext. 7724. The program is on a first-come, first-serve basis.
CAROL CHEEK TO GIVE VIOLIN RECITAL WEDNESDAY

Violinist Carol Cheek (Music) will perform sonatas by Brahms and Mozart, as well as pieces by Richard Jones and Norman dello Joio at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, in the Recital Hall. Pianist Althea Waites (Music) will accompany her.

Tickets for the program, part of the Music at Cal State series, will be available at the door for $3.50 general, $1.75 students.

Ms. Cheek holds a master of music degree in violin performance from USC and a B.A. in music with honors from Pacific Union College. She plays first violin with several area orchestras and has been soloist with the Stanford Chamber Orchestra, Little Orchestra of Loma Linda University and concertmaster of the Herbert Blomstedt International Institute of Orchestral Conducting and Symphonic Performance.

FAMILY PERFORMANCE SERIES FEATURES ‘MIKO’ THE MIME

Brownislaw Machalski, an internationally acclaimed mime known as "Miko," and actress Victoria Ann-Lewis will share the stage at 7:15 p.m., Friday, Feb. 18, in the Recital Hall. The program, which focuses on disabled performers, is part of the Family Performance Series. Tickets, available at the door, are $2 for adults, $1 for children age 12 and under.

Machalski, who is deaf, has won several international awards including grand prize at the International Festival of Mime in Poland, best solo performance at the Warsaw International Theatre and the UNESCO Prize of the Arts at the Festival of the Theatre National Populaire in Paris. Ms. Ann-Lewis, who had polio as a child, is artist in residence at the Mark Taper Forum and has appeared on television and in films.

CHROMOLITHOGRAPHS IN PF AU LIBRARY

Chromolithographs by Louis Prang dating from the late 1800s are on display through March 13 in the Pfau Library. Chromolithographs are printed pictures obtained by using several color plates, one after the other, to reproduce an original work. Occupying a unique spot in the history of American printing, the 30 pictures were used as "scientific" illustrations for the bird and mammal volumes of Selmar Hess' book "Our Living World," published in 1885.

SPECIAL EDUCATION CONFERENCE PLANNED

"New Directions in Special Education" is the theme of an all-day conference featuring presentations by 27 special education specialists Saturday, Feb. 26. Sponsored by the School of Education and the Office of Continuing Education, the conference is coordinated by Drs. Francesca Bero and T. Patrick Mullen (Education). Speakers from the college will be Ellen Kowalski (Physical Education and Recreation), Dr. Louise Burton (Education) and Dr. Steven Wagner (Education).

Advance reservations, which are requested, may be made by calling the Office of Continuing Education, Ext. 7527. Registration also will be taken at 7:30 the morning of the conference in the Creative Arts Building. The $26 fee includes lunch, refreshments and program abstracts. One quarter unit of extension credit will be available for an additional $14.

NO HOLIDAY

Washington's Birthday on Monday will not be a campus holiday. The time will be used, instead, as an in lieu floating holiday.
Speed Bumps Installed In College Entryway

Plant Operations is installing speed bumps at the entrance to the college to slow traffic to the maximum 15 mph limit for the safety of pedestrians crossing from the parking lot onto campus. The work is expected to be completed by Wednesday.

In addition, the Physical Plant team has been clearing unsightly shrub from the non-turfed area between the Health Center and the Physical Education facilities. Although they may overseed the area with rye, no funds are presently available for planing a lawn.

Meetings on Proposals For Collective Bargaining Set

The following exclusive representatives will present their bargaining proposals at 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, at the Office of the Chancellor:

The meeting for public reaction is at 10 a.m., Monday, March 28, at the Office of the Chancellor. The CSU will present its initial bargaining proposals for Unit 8 at 10 a.m., Wednesday, April 5, at Cal State, Fresno. Public reaction to the CSU proposals is scheduled for 10 a.m., Tuesday, April 12, at the Office of the Chancellor.

Copies of the proposals will be available in the Pfau Library.

A.V. Adds Three Cable Programs

Dr. Robert Senour (Audio-Visual) has reached agreements with three additional local cable companies to carry the college's bulletin of events. Added to coverage by Liberty Cable in San Bernardino and Field Cablevision in Redlands are Group W companies in San Bernardino and Fontana, and Buena Vista Cable in Colton. The messages now reach approximately 80,000 homes in the Inland Empire.

Dr. Crum To Speak On German Wines

Dean James Crum (Natural Sciences) will give a free presentation on "German Wines and Wine-Growing Areas" at 4 p.m., Wednesday, in PL 241. Dr. Crum, who is director of Chapter 175 of Les Amis du Vin and a member of the Wine Educator's Assn., will show slides of some wine-growing areas in Germany. The event is sponsored by the German Club in conjunction with a humanities course on "Studies in Culture: Germany."
Quentin Moses (College Police) will lead a discussion on protection tips and related security ideas for handicapped people at 1 p.m., Thursday, in the Multipurpose Room of the Student Union. A film will be shown. Everyone is invited.

Dr. Ronald E. Barnes (Theatre Arts) served on a subcommittee for theatre arts at UCLA Feb. 4 that drafted guidelines for the new fine arts elective requirement for admission to the University of California system. He also was an adjudicator at the Southern California State Festival of Community Theatres held Feb. 12 at the Gallery Theatre in Barnsdall Park, Los Angeles.

The Physical Education Department hosted the San Gorgonio High School boys and girls swim teams Feb. 8. The students viewed a video presentation of competitive swimming and diving and George Weiny conducted a stroke mechanics and analysis clinic. Following the clinic, the 35 students were given a tour of the Physical Education facilities and other buildings.

Dr. Wallace Cleaves (Psychology) recently completed a series of three workshops for the Riverside Unified School District on identification of the neurologically damaged child by school psychology assessment. Approximately 58 school psychologists from Riverside County attended the workshops.

Dr. Robert Cramer (Psychology) spoke to the North Park PTA on "Biology and Behavior" Feb. 15 in San Bernardino.
