Dr. Frances Berdan Named CSU Outstanding Professor

Dr. Frances Berdan (Anthropology) is one of two named outstanding professors for The California State University for 1983. She is the first nominee from Cal State, San Bernardino to receive the systemwide honor. Also chosen was Dr. Alan C. Ling, professor of chemistry at San Jose State. Dr. Berdan, a member of the faculty since 1974, is chair of the Anthropology Department.

The campus community is invited to an informal reception for Dr. Berdan from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., Tuesday in the Lower Commons.

As outstanding professor, Dr. Berdan will receive a $1,000 award and have the opportunity to address colleagues at other CSU campuses. Her name will be added to a plaque containing the names of CSU outstanding professors selected throughout the years. The plaque will hang near the Academic Senate Office in the Headquarters Building in Long Beach. All nominees from the 19 campuses will be honored at a reception at the State University House. The top awards will officially be presented at a CSU Board of Trustees meeting later.

Food Chains Give $4000 Scholarship Grant To College

A $4000 scholarship award for students in business administration has been given to the college by the Western Assn. of Food Chains, an organization of leading food chains in the western United States.

Jack H. Brown, a director of the association who presented the check to President Anthony H. Evans, said the funds are to be used for four $1000 scholarships to full-time students in the School of Administration. Brown, who also is president of Stater Brothers Markets, is a member of the Board of Councillors for the School of Administration.

"Many of us in the food industry feel close to students in the state colleges because we too had to work to complete our college education," Brown said. He described Cal State as "on the horizon for further greatness."
