Healthcare for all CSUSB Students

By Yesica Gonzales
Staff Writer

For CSUSB students, healthcare is incredibly important and they have been searching for those basic medical aids in the community at an affordable price.

There are many resources on campus that are affordable or at no cost. For uninsured university students, the health center provides students coverage for just $90.26 per quarter.

This includes seeing a doctor, psychologist, and basic care. But when it comes to x-rays and medicine, the cost is at a low fee.

Vaccinations like the flu shot, are being provided for free this quarter for students, while it is $10 for faculty and staff on November 7 at the SMUS.

The California Health Care Almanac has provided a health insurance statistic of all ages in the Riverside and San Bernadino County. The table demonstrates that 42 percent of the population has private insurance, 9.9 percent have Medicare and 39.5 percent have either Medi-Cal or other public program.

This leaves 17.2 percent of the population without any insurance.

When both counties are combined, there are about 4.4 million people living there. The California Health Care Foundation saw a recent insurance rate decline ever since October 2015 because of many people enrolling and gaining Medi-Cal.

CSUSB College of Natural Sciences professor, Yeon Kim, provided some support for people that don’t have insurance.

"California Care Force is a really big organization that can provide some help to those people that don’t have insurance. California Care Force is an ethnostate and the removal of monuments, Lopez said, “What’s stopping us from tearing down the Jefferson memorial or tearing down Union memorials? Because they did advocate for an ethnostate and the removal of Native Americans. Why aren’t we tearing those down? We should keep those to learn from our mistakes and not repeat

Confederate Memorial Debate Rages at CSUSB

By Paul Figueroa
Contributing Writer

On Nov. 1, associate professor of history Dr. Ryan Keating gave a presentation in the Pfau Library on "Confederate Memorials and the Lingering Legacy of Racism in America’s South," during which a heated, verbal altercation broke out between a group of students.

He explored the history leading up to the Civil War, the reconstruction period that followed, and the political shift that occurred in the South due to the repression of African American political rights during this period. After his presentation, Dr. Keating opened the floor up for student questions.

As the questions continued, the topic shifted from the issue of the statues to a general discussion of free speech, violence, and whether or not people who participate in rallies like those that occurred in Charlottesville and Gainesville earlier this year should be allowed to have a platform.

An argument sparked between a few students, during which a student wearing a jacket with a crossed out swastika, who was unavailable for an interview, extended the middle finger to another student who disagreed with him over the subject.

"Within his ideology, he doesn’t believe that there should be freedom of speech and I think that’s a very sad thing," said student Ruben Lopez about the man who made the obscene gesture.

Witnesses and officials are unsure if the suspect had any weapons, though they claim he carried a bag with him onto campus.

Officials say that white smoke seemed to come from the classroom for a moment, but quickly dissipated.

The reason for the outburst and hostage situation is still unclear, and family members state that Kennon had been acting different the days leading up to the incident.

Officials are investigating the details of the event and the motivation behind the encounter, trying to find an explanation for such behavior from a seemingly non-problematic parent in the past, according to school staff.

Teacher Held Hostage

By Andrea Engelhorn
Managing Editor

SWAT officers shot and killed an elementary student’s father that had been holding 70-year-old teacher, Linda Montgomery, hostage for over six hours.

The parent, Lavelle Kennon, had barged through the Castleville Elementary School office around 11:15 a.m. before breaking a substitute teacher’s nose. The substitute teacher had tried to stop Kennon from avoiding mandatory visitor procedures, triggering Kennon to grab Montgomery and drag her into a nearby classroom.

A teacher received a face wound by the outraged parent when trying to stop him from taking Montgomery into the nearby classroom. Kennon barricaded himself and Montgomery in a classroom where he expected his first grade daughter to be.

Kennon’s daughter was not in the classroom, but was out at lunch with all the other students.

Witnesses and officials are unsure if the suspect had any weapons, though they claim he carried a bag with him onto campus.

Officials say that white smoke seemed to come from the classroom for a moment, but quickly dissipated.

The reason for the outburst and hostage situation is still unclear, and family members state that Kennon had been acting different the days leading up to the incident.

Officials are investigating the details of the event and the motivation behind the encounter, trying to find an explanation for such behavior from a seemingly non-problematic parent in the past, according to school staff.

Inside This Issue

California Dairy Industry
Pg. 5

World Series
Pg. 11

Diy Flower Crown
Pg. 13
Mass Shooting in Texas

By Jason Samp
Multimedia Editor

26 people were killed by a single gunman at a church in Sutherland Springs, Texas on Sunday. Over 20 others were injured. The ages of the victims range from 18 months to 77 years with about half of them being children.

One family lost eight relatives from three generations including a one-year-old. The pastor’s 14-year-old daughter was killed as well. The pastor’s 14-year-old daughter was killed as well. The pastor’s 14-year-old daughter was killed as well.

“The massacre was cut short due to a local citizen who heard the gunfire, grabbed his rifle and opened fire on Kelley hitting him in the stomach by a NYPD officer. The significance of this is that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit conscious activity. Though by definition, this is not an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. The mayor also thanked the work of the officer who respond- ed quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”

The mayor and governor spoke after the attack about what actions they will be taking.

As of Tuesday evening, he is still alive but in critical condi tion.

Officials have declared this an act of terrorism after investigators discovered letters written in Arabic that pledged Saipov to the Islamic State. Based on information we have at this moment, this was an act of terror,” said New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio.

Though by definition, this is an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. However, there have been multiple arrests of other foreign er- ers from Uzbekistan, Saipov’s home country, that have been connected to ISIS. Saipov had residence in the U.S. via a green card.

This attack is similar to the one in France where a large vehicle plowed down a busy walkway, killing many people. The mayor said that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit acts of terrorism by using trucks to kill crowds of people. They also want attackers to finish off the attack with weapons, either blades or guns, while shouting and leaving letters claiming responsibility.

It appears Saipov acted alone in this attack as there is no evidence of any accomplices. Five of the victims were tourists from Argentina, a sixth was from Belgium. The neighbor who thanked the work of the officer who responded quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”

NYC Terrorist Attack

By Jason Samp
Multimedia Editor

A driver of a pickup truck charged down a popular bike path in Manhattan on Tuesday leaving eight people dead and 11 injured.

The truck driver was shot in the stomach by a NYPD officer after running into a school bus and leaving the truck. It is the deadliest terrorist attack in New York since the destruction of the World Trade Center buildings on Sept. 11, 2001. Police identified the terrorist as 29-year-old Sayfullo Saipov.

After crashing into the bus, Saipov ran down the roadway, waving a paintball gun and a pellet gun while yelling, “Allahu akbar.”

At this time, the officer discharged his weapon into the abdomen of Saipov and he was then sent to the hospital.

The ages of the victims range from 18 months to 77 years with about half of them being chil- dren.

One family lost eight relatives from three generations including a one-year-old. The pastor’s 14-year-old daughter was killed as well. The pastor’s 14-year-old daughter was killed as well. The pastor’s 14-year-old daughter was killed as well.

“The massacre was cut short due to a local citizen who heard the gunfire, grabbed his rifle and opened fire on Kelley hitting him in the stomach by a NYPD officer. The significance of this is that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit conscious activity. Though by definition, this is not an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. The mayor also thanked the work of the officer who respond- ed quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”

The mayor and governor spoke after the attack about what actions they will be taking.

As of Tuesday evening, he is still alive but in critical condi tion.

Officials have declared this an act of terrorism after investiga- tors discovered letters written in Arabic that pledged Saipov to the Islamic State. Based on information we have at this moment, this was an act of terror,” said New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio.

Though by definition, this is an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. However, there have been multiple arrests of other foreign er- ers from Uzbekistan, Saipov’s home country, that have been connected to ISIS. Saipov had residence in the U.S. via a green card.

This attack is similar to the one in France where a large vehicle plowed down a busy walkway, killing many people. The mayor said that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit acts of terrorism by using trucks to kill crowds of people. They also want attackers to finish off the attack with weapons, either blades or guns, while shouting and leaving letters claiming responsibility.

It appears Saipov acted alone in this attack as there is no evidence of any accomplices. Five of the victims were tourists from Argentina, a sixth was from Belgium. The neighbor who thanked the work of the officer who responded quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”

The mayor and governor spoke after the attack about what actions they will be taking.

As of Tuesday evening, he is still alive but in critical condi tion.

Officials have declared this an act of terrorism after investiga- tors discovered letters written in Arabic that pledged Saipov to the Islamic State. Based on information we have at this moment, this was an act of terror,” said New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio. Though by definition, this is an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. However, there have been multiple arrests of other foreign er- ers from Uzbekistan, Saipov’s home country, that have been connected to ISIS. Saipov had residence in the U.S. via a green card.

This attack is similar to the one in France where a large vehicle plowed down a busy walkway, killing many people. The mayor said that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit conscious activity. Though by definition, this is not an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. The mayor also thanked the work of the officer who responded quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”

The mayor and governor spoke after the attack about what actions they will be taking.

As of Tuesday evening, he is still alive but in critical condi tion.

Officials have declared this an act of terrorism after investiga- tors discovered letters written in Arabic that pledged Saipov to the Islamic State. Based on information we have at this moment, this was an act of terror,” said New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio. Though by definition, this is an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. However, there have been multiple arrests of other foreign er- ers from Uzbekistan, Saipov’s home country, that have been connected to ISIS. Saipov had residence in the U.S. via a green card.

This attack is similar to the one in France where a large vehicle plowed down a busy walkway, killing many people. The mayor said that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit conscious activity. Though by definition, this is not an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. The mayor also thanked the work of the officer who responded quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”

The mayor and governor spoke after the attack about what actions they will be taking.

As of Tuesday evening, he is still alive but in critical condi tion.

Officials have declared this an act of terrorism after investiga- tors discovered letters written in Arabic that pledged Saipov to the Islamic State. Based on information we have at this moment, this was an act of terror,” said New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio. Though by definition, this is an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. However, there have been multiple arrests of other foreign er- ers from Uzbekistan, Saipov’s home country, that have been connected to ISIS. Saipov had residence in the U.S. via a green card.

This attack is similar to the one in France where a large vehicle plowed down a busy walkway, killing many people. The mayor said that ISIS has been using media to motivate individuals to commit conscious activity. Though by definition, this is not an act of terrorism, there is no clear evidence of a link to ISIS. The mayor also thanked the work of the officer who responded quickly to limit the carnage of Saipov as well as all other first responders. He informed the public of increased police activity in the days ahead and asked all citizens to stay vigilant and report suspicious activity.

“Justice will be done,” said New York Governor Andrew Cuomo. “Don’t let them change us or deter us in any manner, shape or form.”
Confederate Monuments

...Continued from pg 1.

Although a few other students chimed in with their thoughts, most of the audience elected to stay silent during this argument. “It’s important not to downplay this call for violence that these people have,” said Brandon Fins, who attended the rally and witnessed the confrontation between the two students. “They can’t go to a debate stage, a public forum, and stay peaceful and debate their ideas based on their own merits.”

Despite this incident, Dr. Keating’s presentation was generally well received by the audience. After the speech, student John Sparks named, “The timeline of the monuments and schools,” as the most interesting aspect of the presentation, referring to a chart from the Southern Poverty Law Center that displayed the number of Confederate monuments dedicated every year following the end of the Civil War. Sparks, like many students, was surprised how recently many of these monuments were built and for what purpose.

The two periods during which the most monuments were dedicated were 1866-1868, to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Civil War, and the 1960s, as a reaction against the Civil Rights movement. While it may be tempting to dismiss the relevance of this issue to students in California, it’s worth bearing in mind that this state has also been a key battleground in the debate over Confederate monuments and free speech.

According to the Southern Poverty Law Center, even California has a smattering of Confederate monuments spread across the state. Throughout this past year, the state has also born witness to a series of violent protests over the topic of free speech on college campuses called “The Battle of Berkeley.”

As the incident during Dr. Keating’s presentation has shown, the same tension that sparked violence in Berkeley exists here at CSUSB.

Healthcare for all CSUSB students

...Continued from pg 1

The University of Riverside, School of Medicine provides their very own free clinic as well. Located in San Bernardino, the clinic helps underserved patients with various care of health screenings like hearing, mental health and blood pressure. Flu and pneumonia vaccines and acute medical care are also provided by nurse practitioners, undergraduate students and medical practitioners that are all supervised by the university’s faculty.

“Something should be done because undocumented immigrants are contributing to the economy and should be getting service at least with a low cost,” said Kim. There are talks about Trumpcare, and so far, Obamacare has gone from 750,000 people without coverage, down to about 350,000 in the Inland Empire. But despite these numbers, the professor believes that’s not enough.

“The government has provided some service for the people who are uninsured, but it’s limited and we need more of that service to be expanded,” said Kim. According to Professor Kim, just using a hospital room and being checked for a single day can cost around $3,000 for an uninsured person.

“Of course no one is free of diseases, so it’s best to go to research online about low cost or free medical services that are close to you,” shared Kim. In September, Kaiser Permanente announced that they will open 31 more retail clinics in Inland Empire.

It is important to recognize health issues early on. Hement, Irvine, Chula Vista and Santee in the next three years. Currently, there are four open clinics that are located in Fontana, Fullerton, San Diego and Vista, where the have cared for more than 50,000 patients.

The fee is $75 per visit on weekdays and weekends, and if necessary, it also includes a teleconference with a doctor. Awareness is key. Professor Kim suggests people to be aware of the events that churches or any non-profit organizations give out about health care services.
Women are underrepresented in fields of study like Cyber Security.

The film showcases a Palestinian and Israeli conflict in her master's thesis. This process was known as Zionism and was regarded as such by all who witnessed the event. According to the documentary, this is what contributed to the bloodshed during 1948.

Professor Ahlam Muhtaseb meeting with film watchers

1948: A Documentation of Palestinian Pain

By Rodney E Schmidt

Editor in Chief

After 10 years of filming, traveling, and investigating, Professor Ahlam Muhtaseb shares the stories of those who have been ignored regarding the Palestinian and Israeli conflict in her new documentary, 1948 Creation and Catastrophe.

The film showcases a piece of Palestinian history that many are not familiar with. This is the story of when Jewish communities relocated to Palestine and pushed out the Arab communities that were already residing there with the help of the British and United Nations.

According to Professor Muhtaseb, this film shows “the systematic expulsion of the Palestinian people.”

The narrative of this documentary is not a frequent account in conventional media. And because she is aware of this, Muhtaseb has dedicated her time towards educating all who are willing to listen to the stories of those who know what really happened during 1948.

“The mainstream media has a very, almost unified type of narrative on the Palestinian/Israeli conflict,” she stated. “Which is that Palestinians are terrorists and bad and Israelis are the victims, and it’s actually the other way around.”

When Anti-Semitism was on the rise and Jewish communities were forced to relocate, they found shelter in Palestine. This process was known as Zionism and was regarded as such by all who witnessed the event. According to the documentary, this is what contributed to the bloodshed during 1948.

After WWII, the United Nations developed a plan known as the United Nations Partition Plan. This plan gave 56 percent of the land to the Zionist and most of the land that could sustain crops. Before this plan, the Zionist owned only seven percent of the land. Jerusalem was maintained by the U.N. and the remaining land was given to the Palestinians.

1948 Creation and Catastrophe shows the needless destruction and violence that resulted in this partition. Many people from both sides were shot and killed. Sadly, this a war that continues to be fought today.

When Professor Muhtaseb started doing scholarly work in refugee camps, she began to wonder what she could do for the victims. This is where she learned how to help those in need.

“What they were really looking for is their voices to be heard,” she said. “This is where the idea for the film really started.”

In 2006, she started conducting interviews and collecting stories of those she met. Many stories ran parallel with the horrors of war but still were surrounding the events of 1948. It was during this time she was in Lebanon, barely starting this production, when Israeli invaded Lebanon. She was trapped in the middle of a war.

“I escaped and went to Palestine,” she said. “I was stranded for 35 days.” She was forced to give up on her passion project and head home. She continued to teach until the year 2008.

Eventually, she continued to document different stories and views of the event. All of which were supposed to go towards a book, but that quickly changed. The more people she spoke to, the more she began to question if she had enough information. One interview led to another and so on.

“It keeps on pulling you in,” she said. “There comes a moment when have to say, ‘this has to stop.’” The film has premiered at several film festivals in Arizona and San Diego. Both screenings have been well perceived by viewers of this shocking moment in human history. Regardless of one’s faith and background, it is an educational experience that should not be overlooked.

The film’s website, 1948movie.com, has a list up-coming festivals and screenings where people will be able to view the film. On March 31, 2018, the film will be screened worldwide.

Photo Courtesy of Ahlam Muhtaseb

Photo Courtesy of Ahlam Muhtaseb

Ahlam Muhtaseb meeting with film watchers
Dairy Industry in California

By Spencer Reifel
Staff Writer

The dairy farmers in California have been a huge resource for the state and the country, since the dairy industry is one of the largest in the state and still growing.

According to Real California Milk, there are over 1,300 dairy farms across the state, and 99 percent of them are family owned.

These families work hard to keep their cattle healthy and pass the trade down from generation to generation.

Since this industry is so important for the average Californian, more people are studying and getting degrees in fields that will help them to become more efficient in the trade of dairy farming.

33 percent of the United States exported dairy comes from California; this means California is feeding more than the state, but also other countries.

According to the California Milk Advisory Board, the industry has employed over 189,000 jobs, and produced more than 40.4 billion pounds of milk.

"Agricultural is one of the back bones of the California economy," said Professor Dr. Daniel MacDonald, at CSUSB. "I don’t see a short term of outsourcing in the dairy industry, because of the speed of the operation and the freshness of the product.

Within the California dairy farmers there is a group of farmers that primarily focus on the butter industry: the California Dairy Inc. (CDI).

CDI is made up of over 400 farmers that ship out more the 17 billion pounds of milk annually.

With high consumption rates within the dairy industry, and the dairy processing standards of the highest caliper in the start of California, many of states trail struggle to keep up.

Since the Transparency in Supply Chains Act of 2010 (SB 657) has been in place, farmers have been pushed to hire and pay workers a fair rate and maintain appropriate safety regulations established for the industry.

When dealing with a cow that weighs over 1600 lbs, the dairy industry makes sure that the people working with the animals treat them in accordance with the state of California safety regulations.

California has been the nation’s leading dairy state since 1990, when it surpassed Wisconsin in milk production. California is ranked first in the U.S. in the production of milk, butter, ice cream and nonfat dry milk.

California dairy producers are always concerned about the health, comfort and safety of their cows. That is why they maintain facilities that appropriate for desired conditions within the industry. Animal care is seen as a priority to ensure the cows are healthy and comfortable.

Currently, the state runs the most modern technologically advanced and efficient dairy operations in the world. The state is financially capable of maintaining systems and best practices for herd comfort and care.

more people are studying and getting degrees... to become more efficient in the trade of dairy.

California dairy cows grazing in an open field

Engage Literary Culture from a Christian Perspective

Earn Your Master of Arts in English

Program Highlights

• Investigate the ways Christian faith enriches the creative process of writers, scholars, teachers, and literary artists.
• Benefit from a comprehensive curriculum that explores everything from literature to composition studies to literary criticism to creative writing.
• Enjoy a versatile graduate program, designed to enrich students’ lives, solidify their passions, and prepare them for career opportunities.

Program units
30

Average completion time
1½–2 years

Location
Azusa

Apply by December 1 and start this spring!
apu.edu/english

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
Cultivating Difference Makers Since 1899

Real California MILK FACTS

The Real California Milk seal verifies a dairy product is made with milk from California dairy cows. Makers. Since 1899.

23,265 Pounds

increase in milk production per cow from 1995 to 2017.

55.1%

Milk Producer
in U.S.

19%

U.S. milk produced in California.

33%

U.S. dairy exports from California.

40.4B

Pounds of milk produced each year.

46%

Increase in California milk production from 1995 to 2017.

31.2%

of the Nation’s butter.

118M

Ingredient

394M

Cheese

Pounds

California, milk is the base for favorite
Cheese and Cream, helping make the state
#1 in butter and ice cream production and #1 in yogurt and cheese.

All data provided by the California Milk Advisory Board

Coyote Chronicle November 8, 2017
Redlands Art Walk

By Spencer Reifel
Staff Writer

The Redlands Art walk event was held Sunday, Oct. 29, featuring artwork from more than 100 local artists, spotlights galleries, live entertainment and food. This event, held twice a year and features tents with artwork from local artists focusing on local artists, including Augie’s Coffee, Parliament, Ozell Jewlers, and many more.

Attendees rush in for support and experience what these artists are all about. Without this event, many artists would not get exposure for their art work.

“My favorite part of the art walk is probably being around everyone,” said Marcus Mercado, a local artist who had a gallery at Darls pet shop. “It’s not everyday you can be talking with someone and another artist will walk up and join in the conversation.”

The DRT Artwalk represents the blending of the local art movement and the involvement of small businesses. This event started from the Redland’s community that felt the city needed an art walk. It is a way to get exposure for local businesses through art, and now gives artists more venues to show their work.

“It is our hope to grow this event into a self-sustaining, community-centric event that will happen on a quarterly basis,” said Rob Pearson, the founder of the art walk, which he started in 2010. “When we started the art walk, downtown was a ghost town on Sunday, but the walk has been a way to boost traffic and has been part of the art renaissance in the area.”

The event has grown from just an alleyway behind Augie’s Coffee House to a complete street closure for a few blocks to accommodate over 100 different artists.

“There will be something for everyone at the walk,” Pearson said. “In addition to extending its reach to Seventh and State streets, the event will feature more than 100 artists representing various mediums, from painting to ceramics, displaying their works and having a few knick knacks available for purchase.”

The local artist will also work on a piece of art during the event; Katie Cullen, a local pottery worker presented a live demo.

“At the artwork, you are literally surrounded by like-minded individuals that share a general idea, while throwing in their own spice to the mix,” said Mercado.

“Before you know it, everyone is excited to go walk on something new. It’s pretty amazing.”

With all this art to look at, there are places that you can fill up your stomach with food and drinks. The event has Mill Creek BBQ and Fire Pizza for food with beverages from Ritual Brewing Co., Escape Craft Brewery, and State Street Winery.

Pearson is now no longer the organizer, due to moving out of state. He is passing the torch to a local business manager and artist Blair Smith to keep the event on the same road of growth. “I want to focus on finding the best local artists and just keep getting people more involved in the local community,” said Smith.

The next coming art walk will be in 2018 in Redlands, CA.

KRACK WPA2-PSK WiFi Security Flaw

Protect yourself by becoming aware of the threats.

By Bailey Kasin
Staff Writer

KRACK (Key Reinstallation Attack) is a security flaw that was recently discovered in the WPA2 (WiFi Protected Access 2) protocol. WPA2 is the current method that most networks use to protect the connection from computer to router over WiFi. The flaw works by tricking the target computer into reinstalling the key established between the router and computer. This allows the attacker to give the computer their own key, letting them have the ability to watch all the traffic leaving the affected computer.

The way that the exploit works is especially effective against Android phones and computers using a version of the Linux operating system, but iPhones and computers using Mac or Windows are also vulnerable to the attack.

A few ways that individuals can protect themselves against the hack are by using the DD-WRT firmware on their router, which updated to protect against the hack in December 2016, and by making sure that all of their devices are completely up to date, as client devices can be updated to protect against the security flaw. The attack is also most effective against the WPAPersonal protocol, so using WPA2 Enterprise (which is what the school uses) can slow down someone attempting to use the exploit against your network. If the option is available, using a wired connection makes the attack completely ineffective, as it only affects wireless connections.

Thankfully, the vulnerability can be patched in such a way that will not require a new security protocol for WiFi. Due to the security exploit mainly targeting client devices, rather than routers and access points, expect updates to be released for phones and computers soon that should patch the issue. Some router firmware handles the connection to devices in such a way that updating the router will fix the issue too, though.

On the flip side of devices running popular operating systems such as Windows, iOS, and Linux being updated to protect against this attack quickly, Internet of Things devices will likely not be so lucky. This means that your Smart Fridge, Smart Security Cameras, Smart Thermostat, etc. are very likely to never receive an update patching the exploit, as most of them are either abandoned by the manufacturer right after they are released. Mathy Vanhoef, the man that discovered the exploit, released all the information that they have on it, as well as ways to test if the security flaw can be used against your devices. He also plans to give a talk about it at a conference on November 1st. Because the flaw was found by someone who is purely white-hat, the attack should be fixed on all operating systems soon, and without any major hacks and massive amounts of money being lost, like their were with exploits such as Eternal Blue.

In short, make sure to keep the software of all devices that own up to date with the latest security patches, check for updates to the firmware of your family’s router, and try to keep up to date on the latest security issues to look out for.

Mathy Vanhoef is the man that discovered the exploit.
There are many passionate professors on our campus, but Thomas McGovern separates himself from the field with his love for teaching, his photographic skills, and his appreciation for art, in any form. Thomas is originally from New York, where he found his love for artistic photography. In 1986, Thomas learned of some former friends who had passed away from AIDS, which at the time was a huge epidemic.

"There was a lot of stigma about having AIDS," said McGovern. "Many doctors wouldn't even treat you, it was really a crazy time."

In response to this Thomas, started a 10-year project to raise awareness on the disease. In his decade long project, Thomas became known as an insider for the AIDS crisis and was able to get published by numerous publications such as the New York Times and had his pictures shown at The Brooklyn Museum and the Museum of the City of New York.

In 1997, McGovern made the cross-country trip to California where he attended Cal State Fullerton and received his master of fine arts degree, the highest degree in arts. After his completion of the program at Fullerton, McGovern moved to San Bernardino and fell in love with the environment.

Thomas has worked on a few projects in the Inland Empire such as “People in Cars” which showcased people who participated in the Route 66 Car Show. He is currently working on a project named “Swap Meet: This is San Bernardino” where he photographs the hidden gems that are sold in swap meets.

In 2011, Thomas founded Dothephotozine, an annual magazine that showcased the best photography material from students and alumni from CSUSB. He loves to use this magazine as a way to get national exposure to his students and to give them an idea of what seeing their work in a magazine can feel like.

"I find people in all their flaws to be really interesting and beautiful," said McGovern. "I am an optimistic person, so I do see positive things in whatever I’m taking pictures of."

This optimism and happy-go-lucky attitude is what has separated Thomas from his peers and made him an excellent professor for the university. This mindset helped Thomas as he dealt with the death of his wife in 2016 and despite this tragedy in his life, he was able to see the positive and be thankful for his blessings.

"You have these tragedies befall you, everybody does," said McGovern. "That’s part of what makes life interesting and beautiful. If everything was perfect and you lived forever, we still wouldn’t appreciate it."

Today, Thomas is the chair of the World Languages and Literatures department. At the age of 60, Thomas is looking at retirement but is in no rush as he has a love and passion for his current work and is enjoying the ride.

"If you asked me what I’m going to do next year at this time, I couldn’t give you an answer," McGovern said. "And if you asked me five years from now… god, I have no idea."
Study Tips for Midterms and Finals

By Daniel Banks

With finals quickly approaching in the upcoming weeks, there are some useful study tips and resources on campus that students can use to do their very best on exams.

As a college student, tests can often be stressful. Having tests that are around the same time and preparing for each one can be a difficult task. There are some students who have a hard time figuring out what are the best methods to studying for a test.

Students use different procedures to prepare for a test that works best for them. Some use flash cards, take notes while they’re reading a chapter, or go to tutoring sessions.

“Usually, when I prepare for a test, I find an isolated place to study. I put my phone away out of my reach because it is a big distraction, and I start writing out all my material on flash cards,” said CSUSB senior Aline Jimenez.

Different material requires different methods of studying, so while some students make flash cards, others may make annotations or take notes.

“In preparation for a test, if it is based on reading, I always take side notes and go over the notes after I’m done with the reading. If it is anything besides reading, I mainly go over notes and tend to go to tutoring or office hours to further understand,” said CSUSB Junior Dynanna Torices.

While our study habits may seem to work in our favor, there is always room for improvement.

“I think I should procrastinate less and start studying days or at least hours before. Also, there are times when I am distracted by other things like TV or my phone. I need to work on being device-less, so that I can concentrate fully on studying,” stated Jimenez.

There are a lot of resources on campus that students can use to prepare themselves for a test or a writing assignment. One of those being the Writing Center located in the College of Education building. They have many tutors who help students with their writing assignments.

“One of the things that we emphasize is that writing is a process. One of the things that students get out of the writing center is thinking about writing in a different way and working with someone who has a lot of writing experience but is still a student, so they are aware of what it’s like to do that,” stated the director’s assistant of the writing center, Nathan Jones, said.

Students have improved on their writing skills since going to the writing center and they are applying what they have learned there to their everyday lives and classes.

“Our biggest goal is to help students not only make this one big paper better, but to help them figure out ways to improve their writing process for all writing assignments that they do,” Nathan stated.

There are many resources and study tools on campus for struggling students to take advantage of to better prepare for final exams and papers.
By Anthony Perez
Staff Writer

When you’re out on the road, you like to look good and feel good, but can you get that from just buying a car off the lot? The best way to get the car you want is to build it from scratch. It becomes more than just a way of getting from point A to point B; it becomes a lifestyle.

“I love my car because it’s mine,” Medina said. “I get to take it out whenever I want and without it, I wouldn’t be able to deal with my stress honestly.”

It’s more than just fixing up the engine or putting new rims on the car, it’s about the little things that make the car yours. It’s not always about the nicest car but rather making the car special.

“My favorite part of the car is the paint job I have on it,” said Val Rodriguez. “I chose this color because it was my late mom’s favorite color and I built this up when I was dealing with her loss.”

It’s so easy to think that a car is just a means of transportation, but when you begin to spend time with the car, you start to feel a special connection with it. Normally, people just turn the ignition on and drive without thinking of the work that was put into the vehicle. But, building the car up piece-by-piece gives you the perspective of what goes into the car and helps you better appreciate it.

Whether it be the Route 66 car show that just took place in downtown San Bernardino, or a random car meet in a parking lot of a grocery store, people can talk about the experience of putting in the hours and time to perfect their rides.

Raymond Ponce is a San Bernardino resident who is currently working on his 1987 El Camino. “I’ve put more hours and money into this car than I probably should have, but it’s my baby and I’d do anything just to see her running again,” said Ponce.

Next time that your start up your car, think about what it means to you. Is it just your way of getting around or are you proud of what it represents? Cars are more than just an engine, four tires, and a radio. It is a part of the driver and who they are.

Classic muscle car owners get together for cruises where they can share their passion with each other.

This owner likes to show off his car’s hydraulic capabilities.
Volleyball perfect at home in ‘17

By Lauren Jennings
Sports Editor

For the second consecutive season, the Coyote volleyball team has been apart of an undefeated season.

The last time the Coyotes lost a match at home was in the beginning of the 2015 season as they took on UC San Diego and fell 3-1.

Their current home win streak began on Sept. 25, 2015, and is now up to 29 wins.

The team earned home win number 28 on Nov. 3 as they beat CSU Los Angeles in a four-set match.

Before the game, members of the team honored faculty members on the court. Faculty members included Dr. Sang Ouk Wee, Dr. Becky Talyn, Dr. Mary Fong, Dr. Dwight Sweeney, Erendy Torres, Emily Haddad, Dr. Dwight Sweeney, Dr. Paul Vicknair.

The Coyotes scored first to start off set one, but from then on it was a back and forth battle between them and the Los Angeles Golden Eagles.

The Coyotes were up 23-22 when they scored two in a row to get the win on a block by Lydia Morohunfola.

Set two started in favor of the Coyotes again, as they scored two points to start the set. They never scored in the set, at one point scoring five times in a row.

After allowing LA to score two, they went on to score six in a row to take an 18-7 lead.

Set three was the only set the Coyotes lost at home all season. As with set one, it was very close throughout.

The Golden Eagles took an early lead, but the Coyotes scored five in a row to tie the score at 11.

After LA broke the tie, the score continued going back and forth, point for point.

CSUSB took a 22-21 lead, but the Golden Eagles quickly tied the score again before scoring three unanswered points that would give them the third set win.

Set four started in the similar back and forth fashion, but the Coyotes began scoring multiple points for every point that LA scored. They quickly got to 21 points before the Golden Eagles made it to 12.

They quickly wrapped up the rest of the set, making the final score 25-14.

The win gave the Coyotes an overall record of 16-7 and a CCAA record of 12-3. The loss pushed LA to 12-10 overall and 8-6 in the CCAA.

The team earned win 29 on Nov. 4 as well as celebrated the four seniors: Lauren Nicholson, Morgan Lyneis, Amanda Reifer and Kelsey Osgood, in a pre-game ceremony before taking on CSU Dominguez Hills.

Head coach Kim Cherniss modified her lineup to give more playing time to the seniors in their final home game as Coyotes.

They all worked hard with their fellow teammates and took the match in three sets.

The Coyotes and Toros tied at five early in set one before CSUSB went on to win 25-15.

Both teams were evenly matched in set two until the Coyotes scored six straight after trailing 16-14. They got the win on a kill by Nicholson.

In the third and final set at Coussoulis arena this season, the Coyotes trailed early. Eventually, they battled their way back, tying up the score multiple times.

The teams tied at 21 and then the Coyotes scored three to take a 24-21 lead. They got the win on a service error by the Toros.

The win moved CSUSB to 17-7 overall and 13-3 in the CCAA. The loss put Dominguez Hills at 12-12 overall and 8-7 in the CCAA.

The Coyotes will play one last regular season game on Nov. 10 at Humboldt State before advancing to the CCAA playoffs.
Astros win first World Series

By Lucero Roman
Staff Writer

The Houston Astros TAKE 17 winning their first World Series in franchise history. After 56 years, the wait is over for the Astros as they have defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers in a wild seven-game Fall Classic.

Clayton Kershaw was the starting pitcher for the Dodgers in game one and Dallas Keuchel started for the Astros.

With two outs in the bottom of the sixth Justin Turner hit a two-run home run, giving the Dodgers a 3-1 lead and the win.

Rich Hill of the Dodgers and Justin Verlander of the Astros started game two, which went eleven innings. Corey Seager, the Dodgers shortstop, hit a two-run home run to break the 1-1 tie in the bottom of the sixth.

In the top of the ninth, the Dodgers brought out their closer Kenley Jansen, who gave up a home run to Marvin Gonzalez which tied the game at three.

Each team then matched each other run for run until the eleventh inning, where the final score was 7-6 in favor of the Houston Astros.

Game three was played at Minute Maid Park, the home of the Astros, which was very helpful for them. The final score was 5-3 in favor of Houston.

In game four, Charlie Morton took the mound for the Astros and Alex Wood for the Dodgers.

A five run ninth inning gave the Dodgers the win and tied the series at two.

In game five, the two teams combined for a total of 25 runs scored. What was supposed to be a pitchers’ duel between Kershaw and Keuchel became a battle of the bats.

Game six had the same pitchers square off again as in game two. However, the outcome of this game was quite different. The Dodgers won 3-1, forcing a game seven.

Yu Darvish started and faced off against Lance McCullers Jr. in game seven. Darvish got in trouble early, allowing the Astros to score five runs in the first two innings. This forced Dodgers manager, Dave Roberts, to bring Kershaw in from the bullpen.

The five runs were all the Astros would need, as the Dodgers were only able to score one run.

A groundout from Seager would be the game-ending play that officially crowned the Astros World Series Champions.

The Most Valuable Player award (MVP) was given to George Springer, an outfielder for the Astros who hit five home runs in the World Series. His five home runs are tied for most in a World Series with Chase Utley and Reggie Jackson.

This World Series held the record with the most home runs with a total of 25 home runs combined from both teams. The previous record was 21 and was made during the 2002 World Series.

Brandon Morrow, a right-handed pitcher from the Dodgers, tied a record by appearing in all seven World Series games.

Both teams played re-markable postseason baseball that leaves MLB fans looking forward to the upcoming 2018 season. Spring training is within reach, so these teams will rest and rebuild to comeback and make more history.

Basketball ready for new year

By Breeze Rivers
Staff Writer

The men’s and women’s basketball teams will open their 2017-18 season this month, and basketball teams will open their season on Nov. 11 at 12 p.m. in the Coussoulis Arena.

For the women, their first scrimmage against Vanguard University at 7 p.m. in the Coussoulis Arena.

The men’s on Nov. 11 at 6 p.m. in the Coussoulis Arena.

The Hawks finished last season with a record of 11-5. They finished the regular season with a 4-4 record in the Al Football Conference (NFC) South division with a 5-3 in the NFC West division. The Seahawks finished last season with a record of 10-5.

The Rams are making quite the turn around from last season. With a current record in the NFC West division.

The Patriots scored three touchdowns, making the score 21-3.

The Patriots scored a touchdown and a field goal added to the scoreboard for a final score of 34-28 in favor of New England, making them the Super Bowl Champions.

The 2017 NFL regular season is in the halfway point, and the Patriots are in the lead in the American Football Conference (AFC) East division with a record of 6-2. They finished last season with a 14-2 record, an NFL best.

As for the Falcons, they are in third place in the National Football Conference (NFC) South division with a 4-4 record. They finished the regular season last year with a record of 11-5.

The Seattle Seahawks moved to second with a 5-3 in the NFC West division. The Seahawks finished last season with a record of 10-5.

The Rams, Giants, and New England Patriots are at the top of their division.

I think since we are so young, we are going to hit a rough path later in the season, ultimately not making the playoffs,” said Los Angeles Rams fan, Kyle Gruendyke. “But we will finish with a winning record and high expectations for the next year.”

The NFC South, New Or- leans Saints are in the lead with a record of 6-2. The Carolina Panthers are right behind the Saints at 6-3.

Both the Saints and Panthers seem to be, fairly, looking for a better season this season. The Saints are hopeful for their upcoming season.

As for our errors now, we will have no problem going into season,” said Sauter.

The first home game for the women will be against the defending West Region Champions, CBU, on Nov. 21 at 6 p.m. in the Coussoulis Arena.

The Dodgers have not hosted a World Series since 1988. The Astros have only played in one other World Series, in 2005.

The Dodgers hosted games 1, 2, 6 & 7 of the World Series.
Review: Super Mario Odyssey

By Dusty Alexander
Staff Writer

Odyssey allows players to take control of a T-Rex and rampage through levels early on, setting the fun tone for the rest of the game. This October marks the release of the first traditional 3-D Mario Bros game since 2010 on Nintendo Switch. Super Mario Odyssey, as it is called, doesn’t fail to make the wait worth the while.

That is not to say that Super Mario 3D World, released in 2013, was a bad game, but many Nintendo fans, myself included, have been eagerly awaiting a new 3-D Mario game that uses the style of gameplay created in Super Mario 64.

The game has had a strong release, selling two million copies in only three days, according to Nintendo’s own financial reports. This is easily impressive when one considers that there are only seven million Switch consoles sold so far. Odyssey is also averaging an impressive 9.7 on the review aggregate website, Metacritic.

Super Mario Odyssey, like its predecessors, is a 3-D platformer where the goal is to collect “Power Moons” to open new levels where you can collect more until you can reach the final level.

Power Moons can be earned through completing platforming challenges, defeating enemies, completing puzzles, helping various characters you find in the levels, and by exploring the levels for the many hidden moons they contain.

Unlike previous Mario games, the player is able to throw his cap at various creatures to “capture” them (their pun, not mine). Each of the 50 plus things to possess, from classic Mario enemies to giant slabs of meat, all have their own move sets and mix up gameplay.

Between this new feature and the level design, each level contains a unique adventure. This is aided by both how open the levels are, and the sheer number of power moons there are to collect. The game has around 10 levels (more if you count smaller levels), and each level is both huge and a treat to explore, densely packed with power moons and other collectibles and secrets to find.

Players will often deviate from the game’s main objectives because it is so easy to stumble upon another power moon to earn. It is the kind of game that is easy to get lost in and just have fun with.

As for the plot of the game, there is not much beyond Mario rescues Peach. But the game does not need much more. Rather than tell a story, the game gives you an experience as you travel across the globe to each level. I feel like I experienced my own story with that “traveling around the entire globe, aided by how the game lets you choose your own path at many points and lets you explore the levels in whatever way you like. In terms of the presentation, the game is delightful. Each level has its own visual and musical style, with no two levels really feeling alike, which I enjoyed. As far as faults go, more than not really a fault, more experienced players might find the game a bit too easy. I found the main story in under 15 hours. However, the game would take much longer to 100 percent clear, and some of the post-game content can be challenging.

On the other hand, this makes the game very accessible for anyone, new or experienced; inexperienced players can easily get through the main story, but experienced players can complete the game.

The game is also filled with references to older Mario games, making it a nostalgic experience for many. I felt a lot like I did when I was first playing Mario 64 some years ago, which was fun, well-crafted experience that works as both an introduction to Mario games, and fanservice for longtime Mario fans.

The Racism of Dr. Seuss

By Isaac Cardenas
Staff Writer

Dr. Seuss’s iconic picture books have been translated into over 20 languages and spawned countless TV cartoons and films.

The idea that Dr. Seuss, who is known for writing children’s books, was being considered racist was a shock to me and it was a complete contrast to what you usually think when you remember his work.

The controversy all started when a librarian, Liz Phipps, rejected to accept several Dr. Seuss books donated by first lady Melania Trump, citing that the books were racist propaganda and contained harmful stereotypes.

In another incident, several famous children’s book authors, Mike Curato, Mo Willems and Lisa Yee, as well as an interview with the Literature Festival at the Dr. Seuss museum in Massachusetts claiming that the mural at the museum featured a racial stereotype of a Chinese man that they found offensive.

The online response to the news was polarizing. Either you were going to start boycotting Dr. Seuss, or you were supposed to be outraged that “political correctness” was coming after innocent Dr. Seuss because people had nothing to worry about.

Racial stereotype from “And To Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street”

Both viewpoints held some truth. However, I didn’t find myself wanting to join either side. Was Dr. Seuss really a racist? Or were people just exaggerating? I decided to see for myself.

Doing a search of “Dr. Seuss racist” brought me to many offensive caricatures of Asian, African American, and Jewish people in his foreign political cartoons and artwork.

It didn’t take me long to see that someone was finding some of his work objectionable. One particular image that shocked me was a drawing he did in 1929 titled, “Cross-Section of The World’s Most Prosperous Department Store,” which depicts a department store and contains a prominent display of the N-word and people in blackface.

In case of Dr. Seuss, however, what is a person supposed to feel when not only is the artist’s character spotty but the actual art he created is problematic?

The reason why I don’t feel like Dr. Seuss should be deemed a racist at all together is the fact he seemed to outgrow his prejudice.

The caricature of the Asian man from the mural was from the book, And To Think That I Saw it on Mulberry Street and was actually reworked by the author himself. He created a less stereotypical version of the man because he realized how his original was offensive to people. More than likely if he was alive today, he would have done the same thing to the image that people still find offensive.

Not only did Seuss stop creating offensive artwork, but he wrote and created many books with anti-racism messages. Horton Hears A Who celebrates and advocates equality for everyone and his book, The Sneetches is about tolerance and diversity.

Many scholars also say that he regretted the political cartoons he did.

Continued on CoyoteChronicle.net
As Halloween quickly passes those who chose not to celebrate that particular occasion prepare their decorations for another holiday, Christmas. Halloween draws a big crowd and an even bigger hype, but Christmas enthusiasts don’t let this discourage them from sprucing up with holiday cheer.

My family was never big on Halloween, hence we always decorated for Christmas instead. I found that a big reason people don’t celebrate Halloween is religious conflict.

I conducted a survey among my Christian friends at Azusa Pacific University, inquiring if they were allowed to celebrate Halloween or not due to religious beliefs.

Of the 20 friends I surveyed, an astonishing 15 of them said they weren’t allowed to celebrate Halloween, but instead attend the church harvest festivals.

“I was taught that putting up Christmas decorations early was a way to shun the evil brought on by Halloween,” stated by APU student Melanie Cullen.

Evangeline Embry is not only my mother, but also the true queen of Christmas.

“By Halloween or sometimes earlier. They say decorating early is a sickness and that the decorations are metaphors for false joy and hope. People have their various reasons as to why they refuse to decorate early or at all,” Nathan Whimire, my old roommate at APU, stated: “I don’t hate Christmas, but the more I see the decorations, the more I’m reminded of a family tragedy that happened during Christmas”

Although I sympathize with those struggling through the holiday season for whatever the reason, nothing will stop my holiday joy and decorating.

Whether you’re decking the halls early, waiting for after Thanksgiving, or not deck the halls at all, please remember to spread joy, love, and peace this holiday season as the world we live in becomes darker and darker.

Perhaps if all of us were to give one smile or hug a day, people would have a merry Christmas, indeed.

---

Fall Flower Crown

By Michael Embry

Flower crowns are fun to make and are fashionable.

Fall Flower Crown

There are some pros and cons to early Christmas

By Michael Embry

Staff Writer

As Halloween quickly passes those who chose not to celebrate that particular occasion prepare their decorations for another holiday, Christmas. Halloween draws a big crowd and an even bigger hype, but Christmas enthusiasts don’t let this discourage them from sprucing up with holiday cheer.

My family was never big on Halloween, hence we always decorated for Christmas instead. I found that a big reason people don’t celebrate Halloween is religious conflict.

I conducted a survey among my Christian friends at Azusa Pacific University, inquiring if they were allowed to celebrate Halloween or not due to religious beliefs.

Of the 20 friends I surveyed, an astonishing 15 of them said they weren’t allowed to celebrate Halloween, but instead attend the church harvest festivals.

“I was taught that putting up Christmas decorations early was a way to shun the evil brought on by Halloween,” stated by APU student Melanie Cullen.

Evangeline Embry is not only my mother, but also the true queen of Christmas.

“It’s a good way to escape all the negativity and disaster in the world and to focus on something more positive and joyous. It is also wonderful to see the change in the family as they are surrounded by a positive presence,” said Embry, about decorating early.

“I’m aware that breaking out the Christmas decorations early can go against all kinds of protocol, but have to ask, “why this and not that”?”

People are so reluctant to even mention Christmas before Thanksgiving when both the holidays have the same connotative meaning: one of joy, thankfulness and togetherness.

I conducted a second survey among the same 20 friends, asking them if Christmas or Thanksgiving produced more happiness in their house. 80 percent of them thought of Christmas as the more joy-inducing holiday.

“There’s just something about Christmas: the colors, the music, the cookies, the warm hearts and smiles that fills my heart with joy,” stated by APU student Jason Garner.

For me, personally, I am all about giving thanks, but refuse to decorate for the holiday origins that are shady to begin with, being that after the day of Thanksgiving.

“My family was never big on Halloween, hence we always decorated for Christmas instead. I found that a big reason people don’t celebrate Halloween is religious conflict.

I conducted a survey among my Christian friends at Azusa Pacific University, inquiring if they were allowed to celebrate Halloween or not due to religious beliefs.

Of the 20 friends I surveyed, an astonishing 15 of them said they weren’t allowed to celebrate Halloween, but instead attend the church harvest festivals.

“I was taught that putting up Christmas decorations early was a way to shun the evil brought on by Halloween,” stated by APU student Melanie Cullen.

Evangeline Embry is not only my mother, but also the true queen of Christmas.

“It’s a good way to escape all the negativity and disaster in the world and to focus on something more positive and joyous. It is also wonderful to see the change in the family as they are surrounded by a positive presence,” said Embry, about decorating early.

“I’m aware that breaking out the Christmas decorations early can go against all kinds of protocol, but have to ask, “why this and not that”?”

People are so reluctant to even mention Christmas before Thanksgiving when both the holidays have the same connotative meaning: one of joy, thankfulness and togetherness.

I conducted a second survey among the same 20 friends, asking them if Christmas or Thanksgiving produced more happiness in their house. 80 percent of them thought of Christmas as the more joy-inducing holiday.

“There’s just something about Christmas: the colors, the music, the cookies, the warm hearts and smiles that fills my heart with joy,” stated by APU student Jason Garner.

For me, personally, I am all about giving thanks, but refuse to decorate for the holiday origins that are shady to begin with, being that after the day of Thanksgiving.

Fall Flower Crown

Fall Flower Crown

By Michael Embry

Flower crowns are fun to make and are fashionable.

Fall Flower Crown

There are some pros and cons to early Christmas
Good Night and Good Luck: Parallels in Modern Society

By Adam Vilas
Staff Writer

Good Night and Good Luck was released in 2005, yet it is still a relevant film 12 years after its initial release. The film takes place in the 1950’s during a time known as “The Red Scare.” It is a time when reporters and journalists were afraid to publish anything that spoke out against the government. Their fear was that if they spoke out against those in power, they would be accused of being a Communist, or at the very least, a Communist sympathizer. The movie was directed by George Clooney. It depicts a time not so long ago when certain American politicians, namely Wisconsin Senator Joseph McCarthy, began to use their status as political leaders to create a fearful climate in our country by often accusing people of being Communists with little to no evidence. “I thought it was a good time to raise the idea of using fear to stifle political debate,” said Clooney at the New York Film Festival news conference. It was during this dark period in history that Edward Morrow, host of the show See It Now, decided to speak out against McCarthy and oppose the senator who was creating a country that lived in constant terror by using facts to counter McCarthy. “We have an assumption that journalists are supposed to be objective and neutral and detached,” said Corrigan. “But there’s an important role for journalists to share well informed opinions too that can help citizens make up their minds.” The film is a reminder of the true purpose of news and journalism, and that is to inform the public and hold those in positions of authority accountable for their words and actions. It is an essential piece of our nation’s democracy and plays a key role in being a reliable resource of information for the American public. Morrow’s actions show that a person using their role as a public figure in media to point out flaws in the system and oppose injustice even at their own risk can produce great change. This film demonstrates the power of television and how it can be a tool that can shape the ideals of a nation. “This instrument can teach, it can illuminate; yes, and it can even inspire,” said Morrow during a speech in 1958. “But it can do so only to the extent that humans are determined to use it to those ends. Otherwise, it is merely wires and lights in a box.”

Artist Profile: The Music of Les Son

Folk singer Les Son, of Riverside, has just dropped his freshman album, The Trees. At a young age, Son learned the clarinet and trumpet. This progressed into him performing with the school orchestra, band, and choir. “One of my uncles wanted to learn guitar and he was also getting into the Smashing Pumpkins,” Les Son said. “He kind of forced me to learn the other parts so he could play along.” “The Trees” album cover This year, Son released his first album, The Trees. Due to time restrictions, he worked several months on demos for the album in the early mornings and late nights. Recorded at Son’s home, he deliberately wanted to be sparse when it came to equipment and used his iPhone 7 plus as his sole microphone, focusing mostly on songwriting. “If the content was good, then I wouldn’t need to rely on ‘studio magic’ and overly expensive gear,” he explained. For Son, it is less about studio polish and was inspired by the timeliness of records from the 60s. “When we compare the quality of studio recordings from today to those from the 60s or 70s, it’s noticeable even to the untrained ear and to a casual listener who isn’t a musician or engineer.” Link Wray’s 1971 self-titled album was an inspiration for Son. “It’s a low quality by today’s recording standards, but the songs are good and stand the test of time.” Other influences for the album were Matt Sweeney, Billy Corgan, Neil Young, Lianne La Havas, and Chris Cornell. Son enjoyed the entire process of writing, planning, editing, tracking, but found the mixing to be the hardest element which he meticulously worked on. The Trees is sparse sounding yet throughout the record, there are musical flourishes such as strings that expand and add depth. The instrumentations was all done by Son and he consequently made it that way. However, he is not opposed to working with a producer in the future. “This is simply not a project that I wanted to develop together with a group. To get what I wanted from the record and in shaping the music, I had to retain the control,” said Son. For The Trees, Son was also inspired by live performances, in how they can sound different from the studio version yet just as good, if not better. Two examples he gave were, a-ha’s “Take On Me” acoustic performance from MTV’s Unplugged and Lianne La Havas’s album Blood. “I couldn’t get out of my head how good those stripped down versions were and I wanted to produce something like that.” The Trees is lyrically rich with different themes and ideas that Son said he could only express via song and wanted the lyrics to be meaningful. “At the root of each song, I look back on it, I wanted it to be honest and at the same time I was processing my own deconstruction. In the past several years I’ve gone through a lot of deconstructing of values, in family and other outside communities.” Natural imagery is a theme that surrounds the album and is an aspect that Son did not purposely set out to do but was developed during writing. Album highlight “Thirsty” explores the theme of self-acceptance. “The song is an affirmation of what makes us human, of our loves and joys and diversity.” Another track, “Roots,” is about Son’s experience with poverty and longing for a place to call his own. “We Rise, We Die” draws from the life of Philando Castile who was shot and killed by police officer Jeronimo Yanez with the police officer later being acquitted of all charges. Addressing the verdict, Son said, “It’s a punch to the gut that leaves you breathless that yet another life had been taken needlessly by racism and the executor not held accountable and no justice given for Philando. Philando became another name added to the list, with Emmett Till, Michael Brown, Eric Garner, Sandra Bland, and on and on,” said Son.
A day in the Coachella Valley

The day begins with the sun peaking over the palm trees against an orange morning sky in La Quinta, Ca.

Take in exquisite artwork crafted by local artist at the scenic La Quinta Civic Center Park.

Have dinner at Bill’s pizza, a local pizzeria that shines the light on Palm Spring’s celebrity past.

For dessert, head towards Palm Desert and enjoy some beautiful-looking pastries at the French Corner Café.

The evening begins to dim with shadows falling over the unique architecture of the Coachella Valley.

As the night deepens, stroll through the streets of El Paseo shopping district as the parking lights guide you through the avenues.

All photos are courtesy of Crystal Harrell | Coyote Chronicle
A nuestros seres queridos
Les ponemos un altar,
Pues sus almas y latidos
Los sentimos regresar!

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

"Ausencia"
Mi corazón enfermo de tu ausencia.
expira de dolor porque te haz ido...
¿En dónde está tu rostro bendecido?
¿Qué sitios ilumina tu presencia?

-Efrén Rebolledo

"Chau número tres"
Te dejo con tu vida
tu trabajo
tu gente
con tus puestas de sol
y tus amaneceres.

-César Vallejo

Queridas almas contentas,
De saber que las queremos,
Recordamos sus amores,
Y esperamos su regreso!

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

"Flores para el muerto"
no pido lágrimas ni lamentos
Solo pido de verdadero corazón,
Flores para el muerto
Que el muerto soy yo

-Luis Salas

"Aunque no nos muriéramos al morirnos"
Muerte es que no nos miren los que amamos,
muerte es quedarse solo, mudo y quieto
y no poder gritar que sigues vivo.

-Gloria Fuertes

Hoy recuerdo a los muertos de mi casa.
Al que se fue por unas horas y nadie sabe en qué silencio entró.

-Octavio Paz

En este mes singular,
En que todo es fiesta y danza,
Recordamos con amor
Tradiciones y alabanzas.

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

La recompensa final de los muertos es no tener que volver a morir.

-Nietzsche

Para mi es un gran regalo
El poderlos encontrar,
En fechas tan especiales
Y poderlos disfrutar.
Si supieran mis muertitos
Cuánto los echo de menos,
Vendrían todos los días
Y se harían muy amenas!

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

Me queda tu sonrisa dormida en mi recuerdo,
y el corazón me dice que no te olvidaré;
pero, al quedarme solo, sabiendo que te pierdo,
al vez empiezo a amarte como jamás te amé.

-José Angel Buesa

Fuiste luz transparente en nuestras vidas,
como estrella en inmensa oscuridad,
que brilló dando luz a la amistad,
animada en las almas aún dormidas.

-Vicente Manzano Blazquez

La recompensa final de los muertos es no tener que volver a morir.

-Nietzsche

Para mi es un gran regalo
El poderlos encontrar,
En fechas tan especiales
Y poderlos disfrutar.
Si supieran mis muertitos
Cuánto los echo de menos,
Vendrían todos los días
Y se harían muy amenas!

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

"Sentado sobre los muertos"
Varios tragos es la vida
y un solo trago es la muerte.

-Miguel Hernández

No es que hayan muerto, se fueron antes.

-Amado Nervo

"Amigo"
Fuiste luz transparente en nuestras vidas,
como estrella en inmensa oscuridad,
que brilló dando luz a la amistad,
animada en las almas aún dormidas.

-Vicente Manzano Blazquez

En este mes singular,
En que todo es fiesta y danza,
Recordamos con amor
Tradiciones y alabanzas.

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

"Aunque no nos muriéramos al morirnos"
Muerte es que no nos miren los que amamos,
muerte es quedarse solo, mudo y quieto
y no poder gritar que sigues vivo.

-Gloria Fuertes

"Aunque no nos muriéramos al morirnos"
Muerte es que no nos miren los que amamos,
muerte es quedarse solo, mudo y quieto
y no poder gritar que sigues vivo.

-Gloria Fuertes

Para mi es un gran regalo
El poderlos encontrar,
En fechas tan especiales
Y poderlos disfrutar.
Si supieran mis muertitos
Cuánto los echo de menos,
Vendrían todos los días
Y se harían muy amenas!

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

"Aunque no nos muriéramos al morirnos"
Muerte es que no nos miren los que amamos,
muerte es quedarse solo, mudo y quieto
y no poder gritar que sigues vivo.

-Gloria Fuertes

En este mes singular,
En que todo es fiesta y danza,
Recordamos con amor
Tradiciones y alabanzas.

-Davina Guadalupe Ponce Martinez

"Aunque no nos muriéramos al morirnos"
Muerte es que no nos miren los que amamos,
muerte es quedarse solo, mudo y quieto
y no poder gritar que sigues vivo.

-Gloria Fuertes