PLANS UNDERWAY FOR OPEN HOUSE, ME FESTIVAL ACTIVITIES IN APRIL

The college will host the second annual Microtechnology for Everyone (ME) Festival and the spring open house April 27-28 with the return of popular events and the addition of new programs and activities.

Fifty percent more computer vendor exhibits are expected for the ME Festival. The show, open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days in the gymnasium, is free to the public and the campus community. It will be a rare opportunity to see such an exhibit locally and without an admission charge, said Frank Slaton, manager of the Computer Center and originator of the ME Festival.

Seminars, which will focus on topics of interest to educators and business people, will again be offered at a fee of $5 each. Tickets will be available about April 1 through the Foundation Office. The event sold out last year.

New this year will be the Robot Olympics, to be held under a Big Top tent near the Library. Students from local schools will compete in compulsory and freestyle events with robots, Slaton said. In keeping with the circus theme, music will be provided in the tent on a restored turn-of-the-century Gavioli band organ.

College open house events for Saturday, April 28 are being planned. Alumni activities expected for that day include an 11 a.m. gathering in the Lower Commons and a cocktail reception that evening at the San Bernardino Hilton Hotel. The Alumni Association awards brunch is slated for 11:30 a.m., Sunday, April 29 in the Commons. Distinguished graduates will be recognized for their service to the college, the community and their professions.

COYOTE IS OFFICIAL CAMPUS MASCOT

The coyote is now the official mascot for Cal State, San Bernardino. President Anthony H. Evans approved the coyote as the symbol for the college following completion of an extensive survey by an ad hoc study committee.

Under the direction of Dr. Tom Rivera (Educational Support Services), the committee sought opinions from students, staff, faculty and alumni on their favored symbol.

Originally, the St. Bernard was the school mascot, but in the late 1970s some students initiated a move to change to the coyote. Students were polled during winter quarter registration, staff and faculty during January, and ballots were included in the January 1984 alumni newsletter, the Panorama. Survey results were about two to one in favor of the coyote.

Since the coyote is an animal common to this region and the campus and is also the preference of those groups surveyed, it was approved by Dr. Evans.
Enrollment Open for Vision Plan

Initial enrollment in the voluntary vision plan for eligible faculty (Unit 3) and academic support (Unit 4) employees is open now through Feb. 29. Individual enrollment forms and information packets from Safeguard Health Systems, the carrier, have been distributed to those eligible.

This voluntary plan will be paid entirely by the employee. Eligibility criteria will be the same as for PERS health benefits (appointment to at least a half-time position for six months or longer). Employees in Units 3 and 4 who believe they might be eligible and have not received the vision enrollment package should contact the Personnel Office at Ext. 7205.

Black History Week

Events Begin Sunday

An afternoon program of gospel music this Sunday will begin Black History Week activities sponsored by the Black Student Union and the Associated Students. Four gospel groups will perform in the Recital Hall from 2 to 4:30 p.m. On Monday, Feb. 20, a group of community leaders will discuss issues concerning blacks in the political arena. The panel discussion will begin at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union Multipurpose Room.

On Tuesday, black business men and women will share their ideas with students interested in entering the business field from 1 to 3 p.m. in the SUMP. Opening comments for this event will be by Ms. Jackie Hempstead, corporate officer with Security Pacific Bank's Inland Administration Division.

Student talent will be featured in the activities beginning at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, in the Recital Hall. A group of students will present one act from the play, "A Raisin in the Sun." Included that evening will be a fashion show featuring styles by designer Anna Maddox of Rialto. Mrs. Lois Carson, director of the Community Action Agency of Riverside County will speak at 7 p.m. in the Lower Commons, under the sponsorship of the Baha'i Club.

A black film festival will be held in Student Union Rooms A and B from 1 p.m. until 7 p.m., Thursday.

Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, the first black woman elected to the U.S. Congress from California and past Los Angeles County supervisor, will conclude the week's activities at noon Friday with a speech on the week's theme, "A Time to Come Together." The event, which is not a luncheon, will be in the Lower Commons. Mrs. Burke is now an attorney in Los Angeles.

No Holiday

Monday, Feb. 20 will not be observed as a holiday on campus.
Diane Wakoski, recognized as one of the foremost poets in America today, will be on campus Monday evening, Feb. 27 to read from her work. The reading, open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Wakoski, one of the most imitated poets of the 1960s and 1970s, has published numerous slim volumes of poetry and has appeared in about 15 other collections, one of which was translated into Romanian. She is the recipient of a prestigious Guggenheim grant as well as other honors including a National Endowment for the Arts grant and a Fulbright scholarship for writers to go to Yugoslavia this fall.

Now a writer in residence at Michigan State University, Wakoski has had similar affiliations at 13 other universities throughout the country. She is a native of California, born in Whittier and a graduate of UC Berkeley. Much of her poetry is based in California.

Some of her previously unpublished poetry will appear in this year's edition of the Pacific Review, the college literary magazine.

A reception for the visitor will follow her poetry reading. Arrangements for the visit are being made by Dr. Larry Smith (English). Sponsors are the Graffiti Club, the college writers' club, and the Department of English.

Drs. Loren Filbeck, baritone, and Larry McFatter, pianist, will perform musical selections ranging from classical Chopin to contemporary Ives in the Recital Hall Sunday evening. They will be heard at 8:15.

Dr. Filbeck, chair of the music department, will sing Franz Schubert's "Die Schoene Muellerin" and a trio of songs by Ives in French and English. The Schubert piece is a collection of 20 German poems set to music.

Dr. McFatter, new to the college this year, will play Robert Schumann's "Papillons, Opus 2," and his own composition, "Strata." He will also accompany Dr. Filbeck. Tickets for this Music at Cal State series program, sold at the door, are $3.50 general and $1.75 senior citizen and student.

Because divorce and departure of the father from the home is especially traumatic for young boys, a special counseling program is being developed by three members of the Psychology Department, Drs. Charles Hoffman, Edward Teyber and Michael Weiss.

The goal of the five-week program is to teach men to stay involved with their sons although they have left the family home. The counselors will work with the fathers and their sons, ages 3 to 8 years, during the spring quarter. The project is funded by the campus Institute for Social and Public Policy.

Fathers who have recently separated and have sons within the specified age bracket are encouraged to call the Psychology Department, Ext. 7226, to inquire about the Fathers and Sons Together Project.
SERVICES FOR DR. ROBERTS
ARE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

A memorial service for Dr. Robert R. Roberts, who died Monday afternoon, will be at 3 p.m., today, Friday, at Bobbitt Memorial Chapel, 1299 E. Highland Ave., San Bernardino. Friends are invited to the family home following the service. Dr. Roberts, professor of history, was one of the first faculty members at the college. He joined the planning staff June 30, 1963, two years before the college opened for classes.
