Approval Expected Monday For California's Newest University

The California Postsecondary Education Commission is expected to give final approval Monday to the college's application to become a university. When the anticipated approval is received, California State College, San Bernardino will become California State University, San Bernardino.

The first act of celebration will be the changing of the sign at the front entrance to the campus. A ceremony to strip off the word College and insert the 10 new letters spelling University will be held at 9 a.m., Tuesday. Staff and the summer faculty and students are invited to attend. Supervisors are urged to provide opportunities for their staffs and themselves to attend.

The founding president of the college, Dr. John M. Pfau, will place the first letter on the sign and the current president, Dr. Anthony H. Evans, will complete the word. Other participants will include Dr. Carol Goss, representing the faculty; Dr. Yolanda Moses, dean of the School of Arts at Cal Poly, Pomona, representing the Alumni Assn.; Steve Winker, 1983-84 Associated Students vice president, representing the student body; Mayor W. R. Holcomb and Councilman Gordon Quiel, representing the city; Mrs. Luella Cohen and Mrs. Gloria Macias Harrison, representing the Advisory Board; and Wilmer Carter, a community leader.

Vice President Gerald Scherba will preside at the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Loralee MacPike, chair of the planning committee. Representatives of the media are being invited to witness the historic event.

The CSU Board of Trustees granted its approval for the name change May 23, certifying that the college has met the necessary requirements for becoming a university. The change comes as Cal State, San Bernardino prepares to enter its 20th year of operation. Students enrolling this fall will be the first to register for classes at San Bernardino's first university.

Other festivities will be planned for the fall quarter, when all faculty and students will be able to participate.

Financial Aid Hours Changed

Due to the volume of applications to be processed, the Financial Aid Office will be closed Tuesday and Thursday mornings beginning Aug. 1 until further notice. Any emergency needs of students on those mornings will be handled by the Dean of Students Office.

The Monday, Wednesday and Friday hours will remain 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Tuesday and Thursday hours are noon to 5 p.m.
Trustees Reduce Student Fees

Highlights of the CSU Board of Trustees meeting July 11 include a lowering of State University fees effective this fall. The reduction is $42, from $402 to $360 per academic year for full-time students taking six or more units.

The fee for part-time students taking 5.9 units or less is reduced $30, from $132 to $102, per year. Fees for postbaccalaureate students are reduced from $438 to $396 for full time and from $168 to $156 for part time.

Other actions by the board included:

* increasing the student services fee by $3, from $210 to $213 per academic year for all students, effective this fall;
* acknowledged the resignation of Trustee August F. Coppola, who accepted appointment as dean of the School of Creative Arts at San Francisco State University;
* authorized the Chancellor to issue and revise regulations governing the administration and operation of those self-support and out-of-state and out-of-country instructional programs conducted through the Continuing Education Revenue Fund;
* changed the meeting date of the Committee on Faculty and Staff Relations from June 18, 1985 to Feb. 13, 1985. The location of the meeting remains at Cal State, San Bernardino.

Chronicle Will Publish During Summer Session

The student paper, The Cal State Chronicle, will be published during summer session. New Editor Diane Lang said the paper has been funded for four to six editions.

Ms. Lang, who was selected by the campus Media Commission May 15 to oversee the Chronicle operation during the coming school year, was previously the paper’s business manager. A transfer student from Pima Community College in Tucson, she is a senior psychology major.

A 27-year-old Long Island native, she says her goals for the publication include featuring more news about students and improving appearance of the paper. Also, she is looking forward to instituting a sports page for coverage of the college’s entrance into intercollegiate athletics.

Noteworthy

Dr. Ronald Barnes (Theatre Arts) adjudicated performances by actors from Canada and the Netherlands at the 1984 International Amateur Theatre Festival in Los Angeles July 12-15.

Dr. Judith Rymer (Education) has been appointed by Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds to a two-year term as a faculty representative of the California State University on the board of directors of the California Articulation Council.

The California State College, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published Fridays by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, extension 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.

Dr. El-Ahraf Named
Associate Vice President

Dr. Amer El-Ahraf, founding chair of the Department of Health Science and Human Ecology, will become associate vice president for academic resources Sept. 1. He will succeed Dr. James D. Thomas, who resigned to take a year's sabbatical and then return to teaching.

A native of Egypt, Dr. El-Ahraf came to Cal State in 1973 to establish a major in health sciences. He previously had taught at the University of California, Irvine, UCLA and the University of Cairo, Egypt. He has been instrumental in developing an exchange program between the University of Zagazig in his native country and Cal State.

In addition to Master of Public Health and Doctor of Public Health degrees from UCLA, he holds a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree from the University of Cairo.

Dr. El-Ahraf has been active nationally and statewide in the field of environmental health. He is past president of the California Environmental Health Assn. and has been editor of its journal.

As associate vice president for academic resources, he will be responsible for the allocation of resources, resolution of faculty space problems and supervision of the Computer Center.

Dr. Klein To Head
Teacher Education

Dr. Adria F. Klein, who will become associate professor of education this fall, will assume new administrative responsibilities in addition to her new rank. She will be acting chair of the Department of Teacher Education in the School of Education while Dr. Gordon Stanton is on leave.

A specialist in reading and educational theatre, Dr. Klein has taught at Cal State since 1976 and earlier at the University of New Mexico, University of Albuquerque and West Virginia University. She earned her Ph.D. from the University of New Mexico, her M.A. from West Virginia and her B.A. from George Peabody College. She also has experience as a high school teacher.

Dr. Klein is editor of the Educational Theatre News which is part of the Southern California Educational Theatre Assn.

Search Cancelled

The search for a permanent executive dean for college relations has been cancelled for the present. It may be resumed after the first of the year. Four finalists had visited campus earlier this summer but none was named to the position.

Professional Activities

Dr. Hal Hoverland (Business and Public Administration) has been appointed to the board of advisors of the Loyola Marymount University's Center for the Study and Improvement of Accounting Education.

Dr. Adil Talaysum (Accounting and Finance) has an article, "Diffusion Analysis from a Managerial Perspective," accepted for publication in the proceedings of the American Institute of Decision Sciences' 1984 national meeting in Toronto in November.
Legislation signed by Gov. Deukmejian to change the observance of Admission Day from Monday, Sept. 10 to Monday, Aug. 6 will not affect the CSU. The college will remain open Aug. 6 and close Sept. 10, as originally scheduled.

Best wishes are extended by the college community to Terri Lyn Ayers and Robert Wilson (Public Safety), who were married June 23 at Saint Paul's United Methodist Church in San Bernardino. They will make their home in San Bernardino.
