President Names 11 To Affirmative Action Group

An Affirmative Action Steering Committee, with representation from faculty and staff, began work this week to help President Anthony H. Evans identify possible strategies to improve the overall composition of university employees.

Appointed by the president to the ad hoc committee, which may lead to creation of a permanent committee, are: Shirley Ealy, secretary, Counseling and Testing Center; Grace Goodrich, lecturer, Department of Accounting and Finance; Dr. Mildred Henry, assistant professor, School of Education; Dr. Charles Hoffman, professor, Department of Psychology; Sandra Jensen, personnel officer; George Martinez, director, Upward Bound; Pola Patterson, head, automation services, Library; Dr. Tom Rivera, associate dean, Educational Support Services; Dr. J. C. Robinson, associate vice president, academic personnel; Lt. Pam Stewart, Department of Public Safety; and James Urata, director, administrative services.

The purpose of the committee is to seek ways in which the campus can intensify its efforts to develop and implement strategies for attracting more women and minorities to the university. President Evans will serve as chair of the group.

New Members Seated On Advisory Council

Two staff and a faculty member have been elected to three-year terms on the College Planning Advisory Council. They replace three council members whose terms have expired.

Staff members elected are Dr. Theron Pace (Services to Students With Disabilities) representing the student affairs division and Quentin Moses (Public Safety) for the administrative services and college relations division. They replace Glenda Jackson (Relations With Schools) and Sharon Sandahl (Plant Operations).

Dr. T. Patrick Mullen (Education) has been appointed by the Faculty Senate to succeed Joseph Gray as the representative for the School of Education.

The council was created last year to broaden the base for planning and budget activities.

Holiday Observance Will Not Affect CSU

Next Monday, Aug. 6 is a normal work day on the San Bernardino campus. Changing of the Admission Day observance will not affect the CSU. The change, for state civil service employees in the Los Angeles area, is an attempt to lessen traffic congestion on freeways during the Olympics.

The university will observe Admission Day Sept. 10 as originally scheduled. Employees will also have a short work week with Labor Day on Monday, Sept. 13.

Student Killed In Skydiving Accident

A senior political science major, Lee Ann Gray of San Bernardino, was killed Sunday afternoon in a skydiving accident near Perris. Her parachute became tangled and failed to open fully. Mrs. Gray is survived to a son and a daughter plus parents and a sister.
Health Insurance
Premiums Adjusted

Effective Aug. 1 rates for health insurance plans changed, four increased and seven decreased. The changes were seen on the July pay warrants received Tuesday.

Contributions by the state toward the employee's insurance plan increased, also effective in the July checks. The new state share is: employee only, from $76 to $86; employee and one dependent, $148 to $167; employee and two or more dependents, from $185 to $209.

Details on changes in benefits will be distributed to employees by the Personnel Office.

Employees must live within the service area of any particular plan. Further information is available from the health benefits clerk, Ext. 7205, concerning enrollment eligibility. Employees who are enrolled in a supplement to Medicare Health Plan may obtain premium and benefits information by contacting Ext. 7205.

All premiums quoted include both basic and major medical costs.
With approval of the San Bernardino City Council, the address for the college was officially changed from State College Parkway to University Parkway. The number remains the same, 5500, and the word "State" is dropped.

Offices and departments needing letterheads reflecting the new name and address should forward their requisitions to the Duplicating Center. Requisitions for new envelopes and business cards should be sent to the Purchasing Office.
