Friday Bulletin
Dr. Richard Rowland Selected 84-85 Outstanding Professor

Dr. Richard Rowland, professor of geography, is Cal State, San Bernardino's outstanding professor for 1984-85.

Calling the campus nomination "an extraordinary honor," President Evans said Rowland will represent the campus ably in the CSU-wide competition sponsored by the Board of Trustees. The honoree was chosen by the campus Outstanding Professor Selection Committee, which is composed of faculty, students and alumni.

An authority on Soviet studies and demography, Dr. Rowland has conducted research and published in the fields of geography and demography for nearly 20 years. His work began as an undergraduate at San Diego State, where he was a research assistant for two years on a government-supported project, and continued through his doctoral work at Columbia. Subsequently he has been involved with a project at Columbia concerned with population change in Russia and the USSR. The project has resulted in two books, numerous articles and professional papers delivered at conferences throughout the country. He and a colleague at Columbia are now working on the third book. Rowland also is continuing his research on subjects such as Soviet urbanization and nationalization, demographic aspects of the Jewish population of Czarist Russia and population trends in Soviet Central Asia.

Rowland joined the San Bernardino faculty in 1975 after serving as lecturer in geography and research associate at Columbia University and assistant professor of geography at Rutgers University. He now is in his second term as chair of the Department of Geography and was promoted to full professor this past September.

A native New Yorker, Rowland earned his B.A. from San Diego State with high honors and received a four-year faculty fellowship at Columbia, where he completed his Ph.D. in 1971. He has received a number of additional fellowships and research stipends including a Cal State faculty research grant for release time in the spring quarter 1985 to work on his latest book on population growth in Russia.

Dr. Rowland has been the campus representative to the CSU Academic Council on International Programs and was chair of its Student Affairs Committee from 1981-84. His wife, Jane, is the department secretary for sociology and criminal justice.

Lois Carson Joins Advisory Board

Lois J. Carson, community leader and graduate of Cal State, San Bernardino, has accepted appointment to the University Advisory Board, President Evans announced today.

Mrs. Carson, executive director of the Department of Community Action for Riverside County, has been involved with numerous educational or youth-oriented organizations. She served three terms on the Board of Trustees of the San Bernardino Community College District and was president of the board twice. She is the chair-elect for the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, is a member of the Board of Education for the Diocese of San Bernardino and is past vice-chair of the California-Nevada Assn. of Community Action Agencies. She developed "Project Checkmates," a program by the National Council of Negro Women to expose youths to career opportunities, and chaired the Martin Luther King Statue Committee which secured the 11-foot statue for San Bernardino.
1985 Holiday Schedule Set

The holiday calendar for 1985 will continue with the observance of Martin Luther King's birthday, Jan. 15, which will be taken Monday, Jan. 21. Holidays not taken on the day they occur will be rescheduled to a specific date because of complexities arising from the contracts negotiated with the various bargaining units. The schedule includes:

Booster Club Now Being Formed

An informal reception to discuss the formation of an athletic booster club has been scheduled for Monday, Jan. 7 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in the Lower Commons.

Dr. Reginald Price, director of athletics, said "there have been numerous inquiries from individuals in the community about the formation of a booster club. The athletic booster club is being formed to provide interested people in the community an avenue of support for the intercollegiate athletic program."

All members of the campus community are invited to join the Booster Club. For further information, contact Dr. Price, Ext. 7560.

Student Exhibit Features Photographs of Machinery

Abstract photographs of aircraft and locomotive machinery will be exhibited Tuesday, Jan. 8 through Wednesday, Jan. 23 in Gallery 2. A reception will open the exhibit at 6 p.m., Tuesday.

The exhibit will feature 24 black and white silver gelatin prints that show line, texture, curves and pattern detail of each machine. Photographs, taken by art major Charles J. Mocilac, will be available for sale.

Gallery hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Monday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Gallery 2 is in the Visual Arts Building.
Winter Play Cast Chosen

Rehearsals are underway after selection of 24 cast members for Strindberg's "The Ghost Sonata," to be presented Feb. 28, March 1-2 and 6-9. Tickets will go on sale Monday, Feb. 18.

Cast members include: Sherry Arnold, business administration major; Carol Lynne Damgen, theatre arts; Roger Fansler, prelaw; Laura L. Henry, music education; Todd D. Hilton, administration; Robert Johnson, undeclared; Jodi Julian, theatre arts; Lonnie La Pointe, theatre arts; Tina M. Lardieri, theatre arts; Esther Lopez, English; Michele Marko, child development; Clayton J. Martinez, theatre arts; Bruce Mullenix, undeclared; Marsha Muscato, French; David A. Pavao, marketing; Jeff Redding, undeclared; Gary Roberson, theatre arts; Laura Lee Roberts, theatre arts; Scott Rosnow, theatre arts; Harvey Simmons, undeclared; Stephen Steele, psychology; Karen Stokesbary, business administration; Zelda M. Thomas, communications; and Edith Ynacay, undeclared.

Directed by Dr. Ronald E. Barnes, professor of theatre arts, "The Ghost Sonata" has been called a revelation of the real horror of men behind the facades of affluence. "It is an imaginative, dream-world type of play that has been very influential in subsequent literature," said Dr. Barnes. "Stage life is portrayed in discontinuous sections where present can be interrupted by the past. The reality is the world of the subconscious."

Art Exhibit To Feature Popular Domestic Architecture

"Transformed Houses," an exhibition of color photographs and drawings of popular domestic architecture in older urban areas, will be shown from Jan. 9 through Feb. 6 in the Art Gallery. A reception will open the exhibit at 7 p.m., Wednesday.

Prepared by the Smithsonian Institution, the exhibit seeks to document, analyze and explain the processes in which simple, standardized houses undergo remarkable changes in color, texture and form. The cities studied include New York, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Atlanta, and Birmingham, as well as smaller communities in Indiana, New Jersey and Michigan. Time-lapse photography helps to understand these transformations by providing information about the way neighborhood streets change under certain conditions.

Thirty-one panels, each consisting of four to six photographs and architectural drawings, will be displayed with the text that discusses the history of housing, products and practices of the home improvement industry. The exhibition demonstrates the persistence of the homeowners in shaping their environment.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Associates Sponsor Bus Trip To 'Cats'

The Cal State Associates is sponsoring a bus trip to see the Tony Award-winning musical, "Cats," at the Schubert Theatre in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon, March 30. The group is limited to 40, the capacity of the bus, said Don McKenzie (Budget Planning), chairman for the event. The cost of $45 per person includes orchestra seats, transportation and refreshments en route to the matinee. Dinner afterward will be no host.

The theatre party is open to the campus community. Early reservations and deposits are urged. Further information is available from McKenzie, Ext. 7645.

Her dissertation is titled "The Development of American Higher Education in the West: The Role of the Western Personnel Organization, 1919-1964." Dr. Stathis-Ochoa earned her B.A. and M.A. from Cal State, San Bernardino. She has been employed on campus since 1976, first as an activities advisor and then in the Office of Academic Programs. She developed and directs the High School-University Program, which brings select high school students to campus to do college-level work while completing their secondary education.

Dr. Jerrold Pritchard (Music) has been awarded a grant to do a series of concerts at the senior citizen's centers and recreation facilities in San Bernardino. The grant was awarded by the San Bernardino Arts Commission.

Dr. Alexander Sokoloff (Biology) will be included in Men of Achievement, published by the International Biographical Center in Cambridge, England.
Basketball Squads Resume Home Play Saturday

The quarter break ends this weekend for the Coyote basketball squads, which resume play with away games tonight and home games tomorrow (Saturday).

The first post-holiday game for the men's team is tonight at 8 at the University of Redlands. The Bulldogs have defeated the Coyotes twice, 56-55 and 73-55. The women travel to Southern California College in Costa Mesa for a 7:30 p.m. game tonight.

Coyote fans will have an opportunity to see both the men and women play on the home court tomorrow night. The women lead off at 6 p.m., hosting Simpson College from Iowa. The men follow at 8 p.m., with Claremont-McKenna coming here. Both games will be the first time the Coyotes have faced these foes.

Jim Ducey's men will be at home for two games next week. Wednesday, Jan. 9 they host Southwest Baptist University and Friday, Jan. 11 Fresno Pacific is here. Both games start at 7:30 p.m. The Coyotes squeezed out a 51-50 win over Fresno in their first meeting.

The women coached by Gale Fitzgerald are away next week. They play Redlands there at 7 p.m., Tuesday and participate in the Whittier Tournament Friday and Saturday, Jan. 11-12.

High scorers for the men's squad are Reid Burns, a junior from San Diego by way of Norton AFB, averaging 13.8 points per game, and Jeff Ames, junior from Placentia, who follows closely with 12.7 points average.

The freshman sensation for the women's team is Sayori Thomas, a guard from San Bernardino, who has accumulated an average of 22.1 points and 8 rebounds per game.
