Fine Book Collection Donated To Library

A premiere collection of 95 books, limited editions and unusual volumes, has been given to the Pfau Library by Charles Salzman, a noted Los Angeles bookseller, in memory of his late wife, Esther Lewittes Salzman.

The books are representative of printing and design done by the world's finest book printers from the 19th century through the present, said Library Director Arthur Nelson. One slim volume contains an original leaf from a 1611 King James version of the Bible and two essays. A limited edition, one of 400, of Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass is one of the most valuable in the collection.

Another limited edition, hand bound, contains an original leaf from Gratian's Decretum, printed in 1472 by Peter Schoeffer, a one-time assistant to Gutenberg, the inventor of movable type and the printing press. Salzman's favorite is a volume of the Book of Job, which contains some of the best reproductions of English poet-illustrator William Blake's water colors and pencil drawings.

One of the more modern books is a signed copy of Ray Bradbury's Fahrenheit 451, which is bound in aluminum. Valued in excess of $20,000, the gift will be catalogued and placed in the special collections. Some may be used by scholars and bibliophiles, Nelson said.

Five Finalists Named For Humanities Dean

Two on-campus faculty and three out-of-state candidates are the five finalists for dean of the School of Humanities, the selection committee chair, Dr. J. C. Robinson, announced.

Dr. Stella Clark, professor of Spanish and acting dean of the School of Humanities, and Dr. Julius Kaplan, professor of art and past chair of the Art Department, are the two finalists from the campus. The others are: Dr. Karen C. Adams, chair of the Fine Arts Division at Roanoke College in Virginia; Dr. Donald T. Dietz, past chair of the Department of Classical and Romance Languages at Texas Tech University; and Dr. Wallace S. Watson, acting dean of the College of Social Sciences at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota.

Open forums will be held for all candidates. The first will be with Dr. Dietz, who is visiting the campus Wednesday, May 1. The forum, open to students, faculty and staff, will be from 3 to 4 p.m. in the new dining room in the Lower Commons.

Dr. Dietz, who was a Fulbright professor in Ecuador in 1983, earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in Hispanic literature from the University of Arizona. His B.A. in Spanish and French is from the University of Notre Dame. Prior to going to Texas Tech, he was chair of the Department of Modern Languages at the University of Louisville and was an assistant administrator in the Department of Foreign Languages at Ball State University.

Biographical information on the other dean candidates and the dates of their open forums will be published in subsequent Bulletin articles. The finalists included one Hispanic and one Black, who withdrew his candidacy, Dr. Robinson said.
University Adopts Cajon High School

Complete with a mock adoption ceremony conducted by Superior Court Judge Pat Morris, Cal State officially "adopted" Cajon High School to be a partner in educational and cultural opportunities benefiting the faculty and students of both schools.

Numerous businesses in the city have "adopted" San Bernardino City Schools and are providing special services and support for them. Counterpart committees from Cal State and Cajon will meet to initiate ways in which the two institutions can exchange services and expertise, said Dr. Adria Klein (Education), who initiated the program.

Some of the areas of cooperation may include social sciences faculty helping Cajon faculty with meeting the economics education requirements of SB 813, science faculty sharing latest research in new areas, sharing of athletic facilities, a cooperative speakers bureau, campus-to-campus exchanges of announcements about events.

The Cal State committee working on the adoption includes Vice President Ward McAfee, Dr. James Crum (Natural Sciences), Dr. Ronald Hennigar (Business and Public Administration), Dr. Elinore Partridge (Humanities), John Tibbals (Library), Don Kajcienski (Student Services), Dr. Jim Charkins (Social and Behavioral Sciences), and Dr. Klein (Education).

More Vice President Candidates To Visit

Three candidates for vice president for academic affairs will visit campus next week. Open forums—for faculty, staff and students to visit with them—will be held from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. on the day of the visit.

The visitors next week and the date and place of the open forum are: Monday, April 29, Dr. Stanley Sunderwirth, vice president for academic affairs at Metropolitan State College in Denver, forum in the SUMP; Thursday, May 2, Dr. Norval F. Pohl, dean of the College of Business Administration, Northern Arizona University, Student Union Rooms A and B; and Friday, May 3, Dr. Robert C. Detweiler, dean of the College of Arts and Letters at San Diego State University, forum in the Lower Commons.

Dr. Sunderwirth has been at Metropolitan State College since 1972, first as dean of the School of Science and Math and then as acting vice president and vice president. He earlier was chairman of the Chemistry Department at Pittsburg State University in Kansas, associate professor at Colorado State University, and a teaching fellow at Ohio State University, where he earned his Ph.D. in organic chemistry in 1955. His B.A. in chemistry, summa cum laude, is from Tarkio College. He has made four trips to Uruguay as a Fulbright-Hays lecturer/consultant, spent a year in India under a Fulbright-Hays award, and was a National Science Foundation consultant to India two additional times. He has directed numerous NSF summer science institutes, and has a long list of publications and presentations.

Dr. Pohl earned his D.B.A. in quantitative systems from Arizona State University in 1973, his M.B.A. in personnel management from Cal State, Fresno in 1967 and his B.A.
Ordering Of Caps, Gowns Begins Next Week

Graduates in the Class of 1985 may begin ordering their commencement caps and gowns at the Coyote Bookstore Wednesday, May 1.

Faculty may reserve their commencement regalia from Monday, April 29 through May 10. The last day students may sign up for attire is June 7.

Rental fees for faculty this year are: master's cap, gown, hood and tassel, $14; master's hood or gown, $7; doctoral cap, gown, hood and tassel, $16; doctoral hood or gown, $8; doctoral cap and gown, no hood, $8.

Students receiving a bachelor's degree will pay $13.35 rental for their complete outfit. Master's candidates are charged $25.85 for cap, gown, hood and tassel or $14.20 for cap, gown and tassel. A master's hood alone may be rented for $11.70.

Commencement exercises will begin at 6 p.m., Saturday, June 15 on the lawn west of the gymnasium. Instead of the traditional reception following the ceremony, this year each school will host a reception for its own graduates and their families preceding the ceremony. Master's candidates will be hooded at the school receptions.

Detailed instructions for participants will be available the first week in June. Further information is available from George Martinez (Office of the Executive Dean).

Special M.A. Program To Receive Federal Award

The National Security Studies Program will receive a federal award for excellence May 1 at the annual meeting of the Federal Executive Board/College Federal Council in Palm Springs.

The special M.A. program was nominated for the recognition by George Air Force Base. The objective of the program sponsored by the federal board is to foster educational programs that will provide maximum relevance and assistance to federal agencies. The other award winner this year is a graduate program in library science at UCLA.

Accepting the award will be Dr. Richard Ackley (Political Science), the originator and director of the program which offers graduate work for the special master's in national security studies at George AFB and on campus. Currently about 50 majors are enrolled in the program, which is completing its second year.

Health Fair Serves 850

More than 850 individuals registered for tests at the Health Fair held in the gym April 20, reports Joan McCandless, site chairman. Rating the day a success, she said the increase in families and children was noticeable this year. The number of individuals present was increased by parents who had their children fingerprinted but did not take part in the testing.

Attendance at last year's Health Fair, a free health screening program conducted throughout southern California by volunteers, totaled about 550.

Dr. Michael Clarke (Public Administration) and Angus Mackay, public affairs officer for the British Consulate-General, will represent opposing sides of the Northern Ireland issue in a round table discussion Tuesday, April 30. Dr. Robert Blackey (History) will moderate the discussion titled "Northern Ireland: The Orange and Green Battleground."

Dr. Clarke attended University College, Dublin, where he received his B.A. and M.A. degrees. He earned his Ph.D. at the University of Georgia. Mackay attended Downing College at the University of Cambridge. He came to the United States in 1973 and worked for two years on the administrative staff of the Getty Museum before entering the British government service with the British Consulate-General in Los Angeles. Dr. Blackey, chair of the History Department, received his Ph.D. in history from New York University and did his dissertation on English history. His publications include writings in 18th century Irish history as well as English history.

Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend the informal noontime discussion in Student Union Rooms A and B. Further information may be obtained by calling Joanna Roche (Special Events), Ext. 7405.

Three sophomores and two freshman women will be the new Coyote cheerleaders for the 1985-86 school year.

The sophomores are Leticia Ortiz, Lisa Frazier and Brenda Weddington. Ortiz is the lone returnee from the 1984-85 cheerleading squad. She also was a cheerleader in high school. Frazier and Weddington have extensive backgrounds in dance. Weddington is also well-versed in gymnastics.

Gracie Bobadilla and Rebecca Curtin, the two freshmen selected, also have considerable squad experience. Bobadilla was a cheerleader for five years in high school and junior high before being selected for the Coyote squad. Curtin was on the dance/drill team at Upland High School for three years. Both girls have gymnastic experience.

Four of the five judges for the competition were cheerleader advisors from the surrounding area. Completing the panel was Bobbie Zeno, a judge from the United States Spirit Association in Orange County. "I think we've got an excellent group of girls with a tremendous amount of energy," said Ellen Kowalski, cheerleader advisor. "Already they have started functioning as a cohesive group." Leticia Ortiz will be the head cheerleader with Brenda Weddington serving as her assistant.

The Department of Communication hosted the Southern California National Student Congress Qualifier Friday and Saturday, April 19 and 20. Fifty-nine students from 12 area high schools participated in the event. Four students qualified for the national NFL finals in Wisconsin this summer, said Dr. Fred Jandt (Communication).

The Coyote Bookstore, which sells computers to students, faculty and staff at CSU-arranged discounts, has a special sale of Macintosh computers until May 15. The Macintosh with 128k is available for $2085. The unit with 512K will sell for $2495, said Carol Dunlap (Bookstore). Both have external disk drives and Imagewriters.
ROTC Awareness Day Displays, presentations and cadets rappelling from the top of the Library will highlight the ROTC Awareness Day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday, May 1 at various campus locations.

The day's activities will be geared toward informing students and faculty of the advantages and opportunities of Army ROTC, said Major Stuart Lyon (Military Science). Army ROTC at Cal State is the only on-campus officer-producing program in the Inland Empire. Students have the benefits of full-tuition scholarships, monthly allowances of $100 for two years, and preparation for active duty or service in a local reserve unit.

Activities will include rappelling by cadets and cadre from the top of the Library from 2 to 4 p.m., a display in Upper Commons and video presentations shown throughout the day in the lounge area of the Student Union. Cadets will also distribute information on campus during the day.

French Foreign Films The Foreign Languages Department will present three movies during the French Foreign Film Festival in May.

The first, "Le Grand Amour," will be shown Friday, May 3. A 1969 film directed by Pierre Etaix, it has been called a bittersweet story of contemporary provincial and marital life. Other films will include "The Earrings of Madame De ...," a 1953 film directed by Max Ophuals, on Friday, May 17; and "Le Symphonie Pastorale," a 1946 film adaptation of Andre Gide's novel, on Friday, May 24.

The free films, with English subtitles, will be shown at 7:15 p.m. in PS 10. Dr. Mireille Rydell (French) will give a short presentation before each film.

Robot Olympics Robots take over the floor of the Gym today as the Computer Center hosts the third annual ME Festival, Microtechnology for Everybody. While competition in the Robot Olympics is limited to elementary and junior high students, spectators are invited to cheer on the teams as they maneuver their robots in various compulsory and freestyle events from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The pairing reads Humanoid vs. Humans in the small gym, where the ping pong challenge of the decade takes place. RIII Loop Robot, featured in a Jan. 15 Wall Street Journal article, will challenge all comers to the Cal State ping pong title, said Frank Slaton, coordinator of the ME Festival. Loop, who usually plays with international table tennis champions, will serve to the Cal State amateurs from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

In addition to the sporting events, the ME Festival will feature the latest in microcomputer technology with demonstrations and displays of computer hardware and software.

Walkamerica A group of students including the new and old cheerleaders and Clare Sharafinski (Activities) will participate in the March of Dimes WalkAmerica Sunday, April 28 beginning and ending on campus. Funds raised in the 32-kilometer walk will be used to combat birth defects.
Distinguished Alumni To Be Honored May 4

Tribute will be paid to five outstanding graduates at the Alumni Association’s annual awards program Saturday evening, May 4. The event, once a Sunday brunch, will be a dinner in the SUMP this year.

The social hour at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner and the awards program. The honorees, one from each school, are Daniel Carrasco, Colton educator; Dr. Richard Fehn, assistant professor of biology; Dr. Bennett McAllister, Victorville optometrist; Dr. Vernon Stauble, marketing professor; and Robin Valles, Rialto principal.

Reservations for the event, open to the campus community, must be made with the Alumni Affairs Office, Ext. 7811, by April 30. The cost is $14.50 per person.

Enrollment Set At 5567

The official spring quarter enrollment of 5567 students is a 7.58 percent increase over the same term a year ago, reports Registrar JoAnn Von Wald. The FTE of 4157.8 represents a record increase of 8.07 percent over spring 1984.

The official figures, as of census date April 19, are those reported to the Chancellor’s Office. The full-time equivalent figures are used for budget calculations in the CSU.

Faculty Forum To Discuss Humanities In Higher Education

The General Education Committee is sponsoring a faculty forum to discuss the National Endowment for the Humanities report on "Humanities in Higher Education" at 2 p.m., Thursday, May 2 in the Upper Commons, said Dr. A. R. Bhatia, committee chair.

A panel of speakers will focus on questions raised in the report by Dr. William J. Bennett, the secretary of education. The report focused on the condition of learning in the humanities, why the situation exists and what can be done.

Panelists who will address the various sections of the report include: Dr. Ward McAfee (Vice President, Academic Affairs), Dr. Edward Erler (Social and Behavioral Sciences), Dr. Peter Schroeder (Humanities), Dr. Hal Hoverland (Business and Public Administration), Dr. Paul Viknair (Natural Sciences), Dr. Louise Burton (Education), and Dr. Diane Halpern (Academic Programs).

New Soccer Coach Named

Carlos Juarez, a former NCAA Division II All-American now coaching at Cal State, Los Angeles, will be the Coyote soccer coach for the coming year. Now assistant coach at CSU, LA, Juarez will begin his responsibilities here with recruitment work this spring, announced Dr. Reginald Price, athletic director.

Prior to his position at the Los Angeles campus, Juarez attended Syracuse University, where he earned his M.S. in physical education and was assistant soccer coach. During this period Syracuse was ninth in the nation in Division I and was the Big East champion.

Juarez, who earned his B.S. from Cal State, Los Angeles in 1982, also has coached high school soccer and has taught at soccer camps. As a player, he won numerous honors including the team's most valuable player for four years and conference MVP in his senior year.
Congratulations are extended by the campus community to Don Kajcienski (Enrollment Services) and his wife Diane on the birth of a son, Kyle Victor, April 6 in Las Vegas. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 10 ounces.
