Friday Bulletin
Dr. Detweiler Named Academic Vice President

Dr. Robert C. Detweiler, dean of the College of Arts and Letters at San Diego State University, will become vice president for academic affairs here Sept. 1, President Anthony H. Evans announced.

"Dr. Detweiler emerged from a group of 175 applicants as the consensus choice of the university community. His credentials as an academic leader are impeccable. He understands the role of a regional university and knows that effective service rests primarily on the quality of an institution's faculty and programs," said President Evans.

The appointment of the San Diego dean was met with enthusiasm by various faculty members who have had contact with him. Dr. Hal Hoverland, chair of the vice president selection committee, said "Dr. Detweiler is eminently qualified considering he has headed a school which has a $15.7 million budget and a faculty of 340. He has scope and vision and relates well to all groups within the campus. Dr. Detweiler also has a good background in strategic planning and budgeting." Dr. Carol Goss, chair of the Faculty Senate on campus, commented, "He is very widely respected by the CSU Academic Senate and his position there indicated the trust he enjoyed from his own faculty."

A historian, Dr. Detweiler has been at San Diego State since earning his Ph.D. in 1968 from the University of Washington. Prior to his present position, he was professor of history and chair of the Department of History. He was twice elected chair of the SDSU Senate and served on the CSU Academic Senate 1973-84.

Dr. Detweiler characterizes himself as an educational traditionalist and an educational pragmatist. "I find merit in the traditional definition of what an educated person should be exposed to. I believe good teaching is the chief purpose of a university and a university should be involved in the pursuit and dissemination of knowledge. As a pragmatist, I believe universities must respond to the practical, contemporary uses of knowledge and the skills they impart."

"I am delighted that I will be joining the university," he said. "I see it as a challenge to me to become part of a growing university with an exciting future." He said he also was attracted to the enthusiasm exuded by the faculty and staff.

Upward Bound Receives Grant For Next Year

More than $200,000 has been granted Cal State by the U.S. Department of Education to fund the Upward Bound Program next year.

The Upward Bound project director, Denise Benton, stated "This is the final portion of a three-year grant which we will use to support and provide services to about 100 participants chosen from eight area high schools." So far, the program has seen 50 percent go on to college, which is higher than the normal average for graduating senior classes. Proposals for a three-year renewal will be sent to Washington in the fall. Ms. Benton indicated that educators are hopeful for continuation and possible expansion of the program based upon the success rate seen so far.
Memorial Day Holiday

Students, faculty and staff are reminded that Monday, May 27, is a legal and campus holiday. No activities are scheduled and all facilities, including the library and athletic areas, will be closed that day. Regular hours will be observed Saturday and Sunday, May 25-26.

Volunteers To Visit Area School

Thirty-one faculty, staff and administrative volunteers will visit Rialto Junior High School, Tuesday, May 28, as part of the Youth Educational and Motivational Program. Through classroom visitation and discussion, the program is designed to motivate and encourage students to think positively about their future and remain in school.

Business Economist To Discuss Careers

Dr. Jim Beckman, a specialist in market research, program evaluation and strategic planning, will discuss careers in business economics Wednesday, May 29, in the Student Union Senate from noon to 1:30 p.m.

The former vice president of marketing with Gold-Well investments in Los Angeles, Dr. Beckman is a member of the National Association of Business Economists. He is currently studying financial products and business cycle prediction.

The event is sponsored by the Economics Department and the newly formed chapter of Omicron Delta Epsilon, the economics honor society.

You’re Invited To Have Fun With Numbers

A challenging, non-threatening way to work with mathematics will be shared by Larry Stevenson, a math lecturer and recreational mathematics hobbyist, at a noon-hour workshop Wednesday, May 29, in the SUMP.

Everyone is invited to bring pencil and paper to work some of Stevenson's favorite puzzles and math games. A former math and French teacher, Stevenson received a secondary credential from Cal State in 1978. His seminar is presented by the Learning Assistance Services.

Wheel-A-Thon To Benefit Disabled

The Uni Phi Club is sponsoring a Wheel-A-Thon on Thursday, May 30 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Students are signing up cash pledges which they will earn by completing laps around the university campus. Pledges also may be made through the Services to Students with Disabilities office. Extra wheel chairs will be available so any student may enter. Proceeds will benefit scholarships for disabled students.
Hispanic Association Officers Announced

Carolyn Rodriguez, student personnel technician in the Financial Aid Office, has been elected president of the newly formed Hispanic Faculty and Staff at Cal State. Dr. Ernest Bernal (Education) was picked to be vice president. Cecilia McCarron (Alumni Affairs) is the new secretary and Antonio Vilches (Library) will be treasurer. Other board members will be elected to represent faculty, plant operations, support staff, students and alumni.

The association plans to set up an Hispanic Youth Scholarship Fund and work to promote interest in Hispanic culture and University/community activities. Monthly meetings are planned and membership is open to any interested person. Further information may be obtained from Ms. Rodriguez, Ext. 7741, or George Martinez, publicity chairman, Ext. 7413.

Benefit Golf Tourney Set June 7

The Alumni-sponsored Joe Thomas Invitational Golf Tournament will be Friday, June 7 at the new Shandin Hills Golf Course in San Bernardino. The event, honoring vice president emeritus and avid golfer Dr. Joe Thomas, will benefit the university's new intercollegiate athletics program and the Coyote Booster Club.

Tickets are available through May 31 at the Alumni Association and Physical Education Department offices on campus, the Shandin Hills Course, the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce, and the Norton and March Air Force Base golf courses. The $40 entry fee includes an 8 a.m. breakfast, tee prize, green fee, cart, and refreshments.

Dr. Mason To Visit CSUSB May 29

Dr. William J. Mason, director of analytical studies in the CSU Chancellor's office, will visit campus between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 29. He will meet with President Evans, Vice President McAfee and Associate Vice President El-Ahraf, followed by lunch with key faculty and staff personnel.

Uni Phi Awards Announced For Service To Disabled

The Uni Phi Club has named four members of the University for special recognition. Daniel Igboke, a graduate student in education, will be given the Anita Hallberg Award which recognizes a severely disabled student showing "academic success with inspirational enthusiasm." The Barbara Sovereign Award given to a disabled student demonstrating "high academic achievement and leadership ability" will be presented to psychology senior Sandra Boyd. Ellen Kowalski (Physical Education) will be given the Dr. Fred Kellers Award as the faculty member who "shows sensitive respect and creative aid to disabled students." Dr. Theron Pace (Services to Students with Disabilities) will be presented the Frank Lootens Award, given to a faculty, staff or student whose "behind the scenes efforts promote the progress of disabled students."

The awards will be presented at the merit reception on June 5.

'Le Symphonie Pastorale'

The last of the French foreign films, "Le Symphonie Pastorale," will be shown Friday, May 24, at 7:15 p.m. in PS-10. Dr. Mireille Rydell (French) will introduce the 1946 film adaptation of Andre Gide's novel. There is no charge.
Dr. Goss Renamed Senate Chair

Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science) will serve a second term as chair of the Faculty Senate. Other officers for the 1985-86 year, named at the Senate meeting Tuesday, are Dr. Charles Hoffman (Psychology), vice chair, and Dr. Susan Meisenhelder (English) as secretary. Dr. Meisenhelder was vice chair the past year.

Round Table to Look At Early Black Feminism

Black women did not share either the "Negro's hour," the brief period of power and prestige enjoyed by black men in the 1860s and 70s, or the "Women's century," when white women increased their educational, political and economic status in the 1890s, concludes Dr. Linda Perkins in an article "Black Feminism and Race Uplift." Dr. Perkins, assistant vice president at Claremont University Center and professor of history and education at the Claremont Graduate School, will discuss that subject as featured panelist at the Round Table Wednesday, May 29.

Dr. Roberta Stathis-Ochoa (Academic Programs) will moderate the topic "Education and the Seeds of Social Change: Clash Between the Black and Suffragette Movements" at noon in the Student Union Rooms A and B. Other panel members include Dr. Kent Schofield (History), Dr. Al Wolf (Education) and Joanna Roche (Special Events).

Student Club Nominations Sought For Merit Awards

Faculty advisors to student organizations are reminded that nominations for Individual Merit Awards are due to the Activities Office by Tuesday, May 28. Advisors may send up to three names of students to be recognized for participation, promotion of club activities, enthusiasm and leadership. Winners will be announced and honored at the University Merit reception June 5.

Fall Quarter Round Table Ideas/Speakers Needed

Faculty and staff members are invited to submit ideas for the fall quarter Round Table discussions to the Faculty Senate office by June 1. Those suggesting topics usually become moderator and arrange for key panelists and one or two others from the university to participate. Questions may be directed to Joanna Roche (Special Events), Ext. 7405.

Child Abuse Awareness Seminar Set June 1

A training seminar June 1 will provide an opportunity for educators, child care professionals, parents and students to become aware of child abuse and how to handle the problems associated with it. Registration is at 7:30 p.m. in the SUMP, followed by special presentations dealing with identification, sexual abuse, reporting and prevention. The event is sponsored by the BETA Center, School of Education and the Children's Center. Further information is available from Pam Dortch (Children's Center), Ext. 7724.

PAYDAY IS THURSDAY, MAY 30
Information Sought On Graduate Honors

The Bulletin again seeks to publish information about graduates who have been accepted for further study at other universities and colleges and have received fellow­ships and scholarships to pursue their education.

Faculty are requested to send this information to the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, by Wednesday noon, June 5, for publication in the June 7 Bulletin.

Preliminary Approval Given For Greeks

The Activities Office is drafting guidelines which will govern the recognition and activities of social frater­nities and sororities on campus. Preliminary approval of adding the Greek organizations to the student social life was given by the Administrative Council Monday.

Fraternities and sororities may now petition to obtain charters of temporary recognition from the Activities Office, pending approval of the guidelines. Representatives of interested groups will meet with Activities Office staff to develop a fra­ternity-sorority council and a constitution, said Associate Dean Doyle Stansel.

While the Associated Students is responsible for chartering other clubs and organiza­tions on campus, they will not govern the Greek organizations as the AS constitution bans single sex organizations. Federal law allows fraternities and sororities to remain single sex.

No 'Golden Handshake' Now

The CSU Board of Trustees last week declined to participate in the two-year early retirement program for those employees not covered by collective bargaining agreements. An executive order from the governor has made such a program, commonly called the "golden handshake," possible for agencies which choose to participate. The trustees also indicated early retirement is a topic subject to possible future negoti­ation for employees in bargaining units.

U.S. Central American Policy To Be Debated

A panel discussion on Central America Friday, May 31, will feature Congressman George Brown and Prof. Meg Crahan (Occidental College) arguing against current U.S. administration policy in that region. Dr. Chris Flannery (Claremont Institute) will represent the administration's point of view. Dr. J.C. Robinson (History) also will participate. The symposium will be held in PS 10 from 9:20 to 10:30 a.m. as part of a sociology course "Understanding Social­ism." It will be open to the public, said Dr. Tom Meisenhelder (Sociology).

Feminist Attorney To Give Free Talk

Gloria Allred, feminist attorney from Los Angeles, will speak at Cal State Thursday evening, May 30. The free public lecture will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

Ms. Allred will discuss "Civil Rights, Gay Rights and Social Change." Her talk will be followed by a reception and press conference. Her appearance is sponsored by the Associated Students Special Events Committee, the Gay and Lesbian Student Union, the Professional Advisory Council and the Association of California State University Pro­fessors.
Professional Activities

Dr. Richard Ackley (National Security Studies) spoke on "Soviet-American Naval Strategy in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean Sea" to the Air Command and Staff seminar May 16 at March AFB.

A paper by Dr. Russell Barber (Anthropology) "Land Snails, Freshwater Mollusks, and Environmental Reconstruction Along the Salt-Gila Aqueduct" has been published by the University of Arizona in its Archaeological Series (#150).
