Dr. Susan Meisenhelder (English)

Dr. James Mulvihiill (Geography)
Dr. James Okon (Mathematics)
Dr. Ronald Pendleton (Education)
Dr. Bradford Wilson (Political Science)

Tenure was granted to all of the above, except the four who already had tenure: Drs. Bhatia, Christie, Clarke and Pierce. Also granted tenure were Dr. Diane Halpern (Psychology) and Dr. Kimball Hughes (Mathematics).

Three full-time lecturers will be appointed to tenure-track positions as assistant professors with the 1985-86 year. They are: Kerri L. Acheson (Marketing and Management Science), Dr. Dorothy Mettee (Communication) and Dr. A. I. Clifford Singh (Physical Education).

Separate School Commencement Receptions To Honor Grads

This year, for the first time, each of the five schools will hold separate receptions for their graduates prior to the commencement ceremonies. A record number, nearly 1150 graduates and candidates for degrees, are eligible to participate in this year's festivities on Saturday, June 15.

The graduates and their families will be honored guests at the receptions, attended by faculty from the schools. Master's candidates will be hooded at that time, since the hooding no longer occurs during the commencement ceremonies. Times and locations of the receptions are:

Business & Public Administration
Faculty Honored for Club Support

Dr. Barbara Sirotnek (Marketing and Management Science) received the faculty of the year award for the second year in a row at the Board of Councillors 12th annual recognition banquet May 31. She was selected by business and public administration student clubs for her active interest in student organizations, participation in club activities and excellence as an instructor.

Top student honors, the Wall Street Journal Awards, chosen from among all administration majors by faculty and student organizations, went to Connie Lau (graduate) and Mary Lindgren (undergraduate).

Gerald Newcombe, the San Bernardino fire chief, was introduced as incoming chair of the Board of Councillors for next year along with the new vice-chair, Gary Christenson, of Soren, Ahern, Christenson, Bartells & Walloch, CPAs. Dean Hoverland recognized outgoing chair Glenda Bayless of Bayless Accountancy, and presented plaques to members Don Driftmeir of Vavrink Trine Day & Co., CPAs, and Christenson.

Dr. Frank Hotchkiss, director of planning with the Southern California Association of Governments, was the guest speaker.

Three finalists, including the acting incumbent, have been named for the position of executive dean for university relations, announced Dr. Lee Porter, chair of the selection committee.

Dr. Judith M. Rymer, acting dean since last September; Dr. Jerry E. Mandel, professor of speech communication at San Diego State University; and Dr. Bernard Taylor, part-time director of alumni affairs at Thurgood Marshall School of Law in Houston, Tex., were selected by the committee for the final on-campus interviews.

Open forums—in which faculty, staff, students and the community—may meet the candidates are set from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the SUMP on the following days: Dr. Mandel, Thursday, June 13; Dr. Rymer, Monday, June 17 and Dr. Taylor, Friday, June 21.

Dr. Rymer, professor of education and a member of the faculty here since 1970, has been chair of the Department of Special Programs, coordinator of bilingual education and coordinator of M.A. degree programs, all in the School of Education. She is a past chair of the campus Faculty Senate and had been secretary and vice chair of the Statewide Academic Senate. She has taught both in the Department of Spanish and the School of Education.

Prior to returning to San Diego State, Dr. Mandel spent a year as executive vice president at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, where he was in charge of university development, athletics, alumni and public information. Earlier he was dean of the College of Professional Studies and Fine Arts at San Diego State, dean of academic planning and chair of the Behavioral Sciences Department at Cal State, Dominguez Hills and taught at Kent State and Cal State, Long Beach.

Taylor, who earned his law degree from the Thurgood Marshall School of Law last month, has been part-time director of alumni affairs for that school since fall of 1983. He earlier spent six years as vice president for development and executive secretary of the Kentucky State University Foundation and prior to that was director of fund raising at Texas Southern University, director of public relations at Mississippi Valley State University and assistant to the president for development at Mary Holmes College in Mississippi.

Meritorious Performance and Professional Promise awards have been granted to 11 faculty members this year. The one-time $2500 awards recognize meritorious teaching or job performance, professional growth and/or university service.

Recipients of this year’s grants are:
Dr. Margaret Atwell (Education)
Dr. Michael Clarke (Public Administration)
Dr. Paul Heckert (Physics)
Dr. Kimball Hughes (Mathematics)
Dr. Jorun Johns (German)
Dr. Larry McFatter (Music)
Dr. Richard Rowland (Geography)
Dr. David Shichor (Criminal Justice)
Dr. Barbara Sirotnik (Marketing and Management Science)
Dr. Robert Stein (Mathematics)
Dr. Edward White (English)

Any faculty member may apply and selections are made by a University-wide evaluation committee after recommendations by the respective school evaluation committee and school dean. The procedures for the year-old program were established in a memorandum of understanding for Unit 3.
NSF Grants $23,000
For Two Projects

National Science Foundation grants of just over $23,000 have been awarded to two faculty members to acquire state-of-the-art instruments to upgrade classroom instruction.

The first, for $17,468, supports a project under the direction of Dr. Theodore McDowell (Geography), for "Instructional Instrumentation for Geography and Environmental Studies."

The second, for $5,846 is for "Instructional Instrumentation for Archaeology in the Field and Laboratory," under the direction of Dr. Russell J. Barber (Anthropology).

The grants are among the first of this type for the university and will be matched by the Academic Affairs Matching Grant Fund.

Summer Orientation/Transition
Programs Set For New Students

A full range of orientation programs will be held throughout the summer to aid new students making the transition to university life. Students are urged to volunteer soon, as some programs have limited space.

First-time freshmen may select one of two overnight orientation sessions July 19 or Aug. 9. Students will stay in Serrano Village and receive academic advice, registration information and meet other new students during the two-day programs. New transfer students are offered a one-day program either July 27 or Aug. 17. Make up sessions for either group will be the evening of Sept. 17.

A new five-week summer transition and enrichment program (STEP) will begin July 22 for 70 first-time freshmen. Students showing a need for better academic preparation will receive intensive instruction in English, math, reading and study skills. Advanced instruction will be given other students who meet regular standards for admission but are identified as having a higher risk of not completing college. A three-week session begins Aug. 5 for transfer students who will commute for non-credit classes in study skills, writing awareness and academic testing.

A preparatory enrichment program (PEP), open to all first-time freshmen and transfer students, will give free, 10-day seminars in study skills and writing awareness, beginning July 29; study skills only beginning Aug. 12 and a four-day session on term paper writing starting Aug. 26.

Further information and costs may be obtained from the Orientation Office, Ext. 7405; the Educational Opportunity Program Office, Ext. 7395 and the Learning Center, Ext. 7612.

Student Photos On Display In Gallery II

A collection of photos made by beginning photography students are on display in Gallery II, Visual Arts Building through June 27. The exhibit, "Black and White," features 30 photographs taken from the students' assignment list of landscapes, textures, reflections, times past and night. Their work was juried by Photography I instructor, Janice Golojuch.
Evening Of Original Plays To Be Performed Tonight

two student-written plays, billed as "An Evening of Originals," will be performed tonight, June 7, in the Creative Arts Building Theatre. The free program begins at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

A fantasy by Valerie Smith, called "Perspectives," will feature paintings coming to life. Performed through readings and action, it was written as part of her master's thesis in French.

"A Day in the Life of America," written and performed by the Touring Theatre Group, is a docudrama about the murder of President Kennedy. The group has performed this work at 10 local high schools throughout the year.

Psi Chi Named Club Of The Year

Psi Chi, the psychology honorary club on campus, was named Club of the Year at the annual Merit Awards Ceremony, June 5. A certificate and pizza party for all members was accepted by club president, John McNay. It is the second time the club has won the honors. Other club awards were Most Imaginative--White Water Rafting & Adventure Club; Most Visible--Alpha Kappa Psi; Resurrected Club--RN Association; Rookie Club--Information Management Association; and sharing honors for the newest award, Ethical Excellence in Action, were the International Students Association and the Finance Association for their work on Ethiopian famine relief.
