Student Advising Center
Gearing Up For Operation

The new academic advising center has established its quarters in the Library and is preparing for its official opening Sept. 3.

The new advising center will serve a variety of purposes, according to Dr. Jerrold Pritchard, associate vice president of academic programs. It will provide general education and registration information to all new and transfer students during orientation, as well as offer general advising services to all undergraduates with undeclared majors. Dr. Pritchard said the new advising center could be likened to a "one-stop service station" because it also will be the location for evening consultations provided by Steve Prouty, associate dean of academic programs, who counsels students about such things as readmission procedures.

Dr. Pritchard said the center won't replace the academic advising conducted by the individual schools, but rather act as an information center and refer students to other services such as counseling and testing, career planning and financial aid. In addition, it will function as a vital service point once pre-registration goes into effect.

Dr. Robert Lee, advising center director, Lynn Shepard, secretary, and Dean Prouty will be found in PL 107, which was formerly the office of Services to Students with Disabilities. They can be reached at Ext. 7520 and a new number, 880-7911.

In addition to Dr. Lee, seven faculty members will comprise the advising staff. They are: Grace Goodrich (Business Administration), Dr. Russell Barber (Anthropology), Dr. Richard Moss (Economics), Dr. Elinore Partridge (English), Dr. Cynthia Paxton (Health Science), Dr. Ronald Pendleton (Education), and Dr. Paul Vicknair (Mathematics). They and Dr. Lee will receive assigned time for participation in the new program.

The advising center hours will be 8:30 a.m.-8:30 p.m., Monday-Thursday and 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday. Students will need to make an appointment to see an advisor.

Counseling services will be rendered in what once was the microfilm room of the Library. PL 101, which formerly housed the vending machines, now is the new location of the office for Services to Students with Disabilities. The refreshment area has been moved to the basement of the Library.

Some Buildings Close
For Summer Hiatus

Several facilities will be closed for a time during August and September for vacations and remodeling. The Health Center closed this week and will re-open Sept. 3.

During this period, medical emergencies should be referred to campus police or if it involves a summer session student who is not insured, treatment can be received at San Bernardino Community Hospital.

The Physical Education building and racquetball and tennis courts will be closed Aug. 16-Sept. 2, but the north entrance will remain open for access to the department office. Persons wishing to use the pool during the last half of August will be able to (Continued on Page 2) enter through the south gate. The pool is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Commons will conduct its annual summer solstice from Aug. 24 to Sept. 23. During that time, the Commons will be spruced up with some paint in the kitchen and serving area, a remodeled salad bar and new dividing doors. It will also be receiving new menu boards. New carpeting is already being installed in the lower Commons area.

In addition, the Creative Arts building is closed from Aug. 8-Sept. 2. However, Joanna Koon and Viktoria Norberg will still be in their offices and can be reached by phone.

Bilingual Education Awarded $284,000

The Bilingual Education Training for Advancement (BETA) Center has received $284,520 from the U.S. Department of Education to re-fund its programs.

BETA is designed to provide training for teachers, aides, administrators and others working in or planning to enter bilingual/cross-cultural education. The bilingual teacher training portion of the program, which has been in effect for two years, has enabled 40 students to become bilingual teachers with support for fees, textbooks and supplies. This year, the students will receive an additional $245 per month stipend for living expenses, bringing their benefits to $3,205 for the academic year.

The other portion of the BETA program, the bilingual special education teacher training, has expanded from the original 10 positions to 30 funded slots, in addition to the 10 bilingual school psychologist positions under the grant. These 40 graduate students who are already working full-time in school districts in San Bernardino and Riverside counties will receive tuition, fees and textbook-support stipends.

A new facet included in the bilingual special education grant includes funds to provide a six-week summer institute on campus for 30 bilingual special education participants. The grant will cover tuition, fees, textbooks and an $80 per week stipend for the participants. The grant also makes new provisions for $4,500 for the purchase of resources books, tests and materials for both programs as well as $4,388 to cover conference and seminar fees for any BETA student desiring to attend a regional, state or national conference on bilingual or bilingual special education.

1985-86 Contract
Provisions Announced

A tentative agreement has been reached on negotiations for the last year of a three-year contract between the California State University system and the California Faculty Association, representing the system's 18,500 professors.

The settlement calls for an across-the-board salary increase of 4.2 percent as of July 1, 1985; 3.1 percent Jan. 1, 1986; and 1.7 percent June 1, 1986, for a total increase of 9 percent.

The pact also implements last year's commitment of funds on the number of merit awards, the number of persons placed on the hard-to-hire schedule, the distribution of department chair stipends, maintenance of existing fringe benefits, and the first-time granting of health benefits to some part-time faculty.

Two other units also reached tentative agreement with the university. The 1,400 academic support staff, represented by the AFL-CIO Academic Professionals of California, settled for a two-year pact with an average salary raise of 7.1 percent the first year, 5 percent the second year and improved dental benefits.

The 800 skilled craft workers, represented by the AFL-CIO State Employees Trade Council, agreed to a one-year contract with an across-the-board wage increase of 6.2 percent, an equity raise for skilled laborers, increased shift differentials and maintenance of current fringe benefits.

The agreements will be signed after adoption by the CSU Board of Trustees following ratification by members of the unions.

Joanna Roche Named
Alumni Affairs Director

Joanna Roche, coordinator of orientation and special events, has been named the new alumni affairs director following a search conducted by several university representatives and a member of the Alumni Association.

"Ms. Roche was the strong consensus choice of the selection committe," said Executive Dean Judith Rymer. "Her background in special events coordination, volunteer management and program development both at Cal State and in her earlier work at Radcliffe College make her ideally suited for the director's position."

Roche succeeds Richard Bennecke, who has been with the university since 1968 in several student affairs positions. His most recent activities included a two-year assignment as director of alumni affairs. Bennecke's new responsibility will be as a financial aid advisor in the Financial Aid Office.

Roche, who has been with the university since November, is a graduate of Brandeis University. Her new duties will include coordinating support for alumni activities, organizing alumni volunteer groups to support various university projects, and assisting with the preparation of various university publications, including the Panorama. One of her first tasks will be to gather information on alumni through surveys and other techniques.

Congratulations

The university community extends congratulations to Barbara Snell (Academic Programs) and Dr. Dalton Harrington (Biology) on their marriage July 12 in Riverside.
