Winter Enrollment
Best In Four Years

Winter quarter enrollment is tabulated at 6361 students as of Mon­day, Jan. 27, which was the last day to drop classes, reports Reg­istrar Jo Ann Von Wald. That represents a 13.48 percent increase or 756 more students than in winter 1985 and only a 2.42 percent decrease in student population from fall quarter. That drop from fall was the smallest de­crease in the past four years.

Ten Faculty/Staff
Awarded Grants

Ten faculty and staff members have been awarded grants from the university's Institute for Social and Public Policy Research for 1985-86. The funds are designed to stimulate applied research which ad­dresses concerns of the community and enhances the possibility of additional external funding. The selection committee was comprised of Dr. Sheldon Bockman (Management), chair and director of the Institute; Dr. Michael Weiss (Psychology); Dr. James Pierson (Anthropology); and Dr. Barbara Sirotnik (Marketing, Management, Information Management).

Dr. Swarnalatha Moldanado (Nursing) was awarded $500 in student assistance and travel money for her proposal to study "Effectiveness of selected assessment forms used by the San Bernar­dino Public Health Department nursing staff, in aiding the identification of existing and/or po­tential programs."

A proposal by Dr. Craig Blurton (Education), Dr. C.E. Tapie Rohm (Marketing, Management, Information Science) and Keith Johnson (Off-Campus Programs), "Community Microcomputer Training Needs Assessment," was funded for $1,880 in work release time and $816 for student assistance, postage, duplicating and travel.

Dr. Arthur Saltzman (Marketing, Management, Information Management) was granted $584 for student assistance, postage and duplicating costs associated with his proposal to research "Tourist Awareness of Attractions in San Bernardino County."

Dr. David Shichor (Criminal Justice) received $1,880 in release time and $500 for student assis­tance to make a "Preliminary Evaluation of the Petty Theft Series Program."

Dr. Fred Jandt (Communication) was granted $300 in student assistance money to compile "A Directory of Dispute Resolution Organizations in the Inland Empire."

Drs. Frances Coles (Criminal Justice) and Richard Griffiths (Education) were awarded $1,880 in release time and $600 for student assistance in studying "Elementary School Children and Perceptions of their Criminal Behavior."

Dr. J.S. Johar (Marketing, Management, Information Management) received $700 for the cost of student assistance and supplies associated with conducting a "Needs Assessment Study for the YMCA of San Bernardino."

Deans Council Approves Subsidies, Adjunct Faculty

Subsidies for the educational advancement of faculty, particularly those who are underrepresented or hard-to-hire, and a process for appointing adjunct professors were approved this week by the Council of Academic Deans.

The subsidies are designed to help these faculty earn their doctorates with full-paid or partial leaves or payments of tuition. Funds would be provided to the schools in the form of additional position allocations.

Persons appointed as adjunct faculty will have an honorary professional relationship with the university for the purpose of teaching an occasional course or serving in an advisory capacity.

A new proposal for periodic review of school deans drew controversy, with discussion focusing on the concept itself, the purpose, scope, results and other technical matters, such as the composition of the review committees, frequency of reviews and special reviews. The proposal will be modified and reviewed by the council before being presented to the Faculty Affairs Committee.

Dr. Amer El-Ahraf, associate vice president of academic resources, reported on his recent visit to Zagazig University, Egypt where he arranged for a second joint Ph.D. research project in health science and discussed initiating a joint doctoral program in education. He announced the forthcoming visits of several post-doctoral research fellows to work with counterparts here during the next year as well as the first faculty exchange, which will involve Dr. K.T. Weiedo, who will teach computer science part-time next fall.

Vice President Detweiler discussed the establishment of the Coachella Valley Education Center and the search for a director who will begin work in September. Dr. Detweiler stressed that off-campus programs are part of the university's mission and he expects the programs to be regularly scheduled, well staffed and maintained at a high quality level. He said 175 of the 5100 full-time equivalent students budgeted for the 1986-87 academic year would come through the off-campus programs. While the deans voiced concern about available resources for staffing and incentives, Dr. Detweiler reiterated that staffing should continue to rely on volunteers and qualified temporary faculty.

Teachers Confer On Discipline

A mini-conference on discipline in the classroom will bring together nearly 200 first-year elementary school teachers and student teachers tomorrow in the Library. Presentations will be made by San Bernardino area teachers. Organized by Dr. Darleen Stoner (Education), the conference addresses concerns expressed by teachers who graduated recently from Cal State.

Audiovisual Workshop Offered Next Friday

Faculty and staff are invited to learn about the equipment and services offered through the Audiovisual Center during a workshop from 9 a.m. to noon, Friday, Feb. 7 in PL 87. Demonstrations and instruction will be conducted on video recording/playback equipment, public address systems, photographic and graphic productions, slide projectors, record players, overheads, 16mm projectors and the operation of the ITFS system.
Art Faculty Showcases

The artistic creations of 12 faculty and staff members of the Art Department will be unveiled during a reception in the Art Gallery from 4-6 p.m., Friday, Feb. 7. The exhibit will be on display through March 5.

John Nava, Art Gallery director, will display a six-foot by 12-foot painting of large architectural images as well as a bitych, which is a two-panel painting. Don Woodford will contribute some paintings related to his recent exhibit in San Francisco. Scott Ward will submit a panel of photographic contact sheets which have scattered images. Ken Reed will show pieces of free-blown translucent glass utilizing organic designs and William Warchall will contribute a large wedge-shaped piece of glass. Leo Doyle will mount more than 100 hand-carved wooden birds on a railing, similar to those seen on campus. He also will create the illusion of a school of fish with over 100 two-dimensional wood carvings of fish displayed in a random pattern on the wall.

Also participating in the exhibit are: Janice Golojuch, Roger Lintault, Joe Moran, Michael Murillo, Gerry Vom Steeg and Curtis Ripley.

Special Education Conference Next Week

A one-day conference on special education, "Bridging for Success," will draw 400 area educators and community representatives to campus Friday, Feb. 7. Sponsored by Extended Education and the School of Education, the conference will feature a keynote address by Dr. Lou Brown, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, "Preparing People with Severe Disabilities to Live, Work and Play in Integrated Environments." Dr. Louise Burton (Education) served as faculty advisor for the conference, which is being held on campus for the third year.

Staff Discussion Groups To Meet

Small groups of employees will meet with President Evans during the next three months to discuss future directions for the university. All areas of the university will be represented in the general discussion meetings, which will be similar to the series held on two previous occasions. Each session will involve a small group from the same office or area. The purpose of the meetings is to share the employees' visions for the future of the university and to exchange ideas on how the talents of all can mesh together to achieve the institution's goals.

Four Events Herald Black History Month

A gospel performance and two Round Table discussions will be held on campus as part of the university's observance of national Black History Month, which is in February. Former Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm will appear here March 6 as the concluding event, which also is concurrent with Women's History Week.

A local, progressive gospel group, "Daz Patterson and the West Coast Singers," will perform in concert and record the session live at 3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 16 in the Recital Hall. Selections from the two-hour performance will be contained on the group's forthcoming album, "Shout for Jesus--Recorded Live at Cal State." The concert will feature original songs written by the 12-member group. Quentin Moses (Public Safety) plays bass guitar, flute and saxophone with the group. Tickets are $4.50 in advance, $5 at the door. Student admission is $2. Tickets are available at the Student Union desk and Groove Time Records in San Bernardino.

Music Faculty In Museum Concert

Drs. Jerrold Pritchard and Larry McFatter will appear in concert at 3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 9 at the San Bernardino County Museum. The "Flute Music for the Birds" concert will feature Dr. Pritchard on flute accompanied by Dr. McFatter on piano.
Outstanding Professor
Of CSU Appears Here

Faculty and students are invited to hear Dr. Reba Soffer, CSU Outstanding Professor for 1985, who will speak on English universities from 1850-1930 in an appearance from 9:20 to 10:20 a.m., Friday, Feb. 7 in Student Union Rooms A and B. The presentation is sponsored by the History Department.

Runners Raise Money For Special Olympics

Persons interested in raising money to benefit the Special Olympics may run or walk a 5 or 10K course in the gymnasium beginning at 8 a.m., Sunday, Feb. 9. Participants will pay a $4 entry fee; $8 if they want a t-shirt. There is a $2 late fee if entrants register on the day of the event. Advance registration may be made by contacting Becky Elarbee at the San Bernardino Parks, Recreation and Community Services, 383-5052. Any campus individuals willing to help during the event should contact Dr. Theron Pace (Services to Students with Disabilities), Joe Liscano (Physical Education) or Ellen Johnston (Public Safety).

Workshops On Interviewing

Learn how to put the best foot forward in a job interview through a series of four workshops from 3 to 4:30 p.m., Wednesdays, Feb. 5-26 in the Counseling Center, PS 227. Sponsored by the Career Planning and Placement Center and the Counseling Center, the workshops will videotape mock interview situations to illustrate techniques. Students and alumni are invited to participate in any or all of the sessions. Advance registration is not required.

Star Search Holds Showdown

Thirteen contestants will compete tonight in the finale of the Associated Students' Star Talent Search, which began last quarter. Performances will begin at 7 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Plaques will be awarded for best performances in individual categories of dance, drama, comedy, vocalists and musical group. The grand prize is a trip for one to Reno or the cash equivalent. Admission is $1 for faculty, staff and students with a Cal State, San Bernardino ID. Admission is $2 for students from other campuses and $4 for general admission.

Arrange Interviews For Retirement

Employees planning retirement in the near future may arrange for an interview with a Public Employee's Retirement System representative who will be in Riverside County Feb. 5 and 11 and San Bernardino County Feb. 13-14. More information is available through the San Bernardino Field Office at 383-4431.

Congratulations

The university community extends congratulations to William Warehall (Art) on his marriage Dec. 21 to Kathryn Coolbaugh at First Presbyterian Church in San Bernardino. Professor Warehall is taking part in a faculty exchange program at Virginia Commonwealth University during winter and spring quarters while his wife finishes her medical internship in Bethesda, Md. The couple will reside in San Bernardino when he returns to the university next fall.

The university community extends congratulations to Dr. David Lutz (Psychology, Graduate Studies) and his wife, Ellen McLean, on the birth Jan. 15 of their first child, a son, Britton McLean Lutz. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 4 ounces.
