Vice President Robert Detweiler will be the guest speaker for the service awards luncheon, which also includes musical entertainment by three students, Sara Andon, Susan Shagaloff and Walter Jones. The area administrators will introduce honorees in their divisions. The event was planned by the Staff Training and Development Committee.

Faculty Recital Sunday Features Flute, Guitar
A program of music for flute and guitar will be presented Sunday evening by two members of the Department of Music faculty, Dr. Jerrold Pritchard and Anthony Lupica. Transcriptions of well known pieces, Renaissance music and especially written 20th century works will be played in the recital, which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for senior citizens and students.

Dr. Pritchard will be joined by his student, Jennifer Sparks, from San Gorgonio High School, in a piece for two flutes. The program will feature solo selections for flute and guitar as well as music for the two instruments. The two recitalists have presented numerous joint programs, on campus and in the Los Angeles area.

Preucil Family Presents Music for Strings
The Preucil Family Players will present an evening of music for strings in the fourth Intimate Performances concert at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 28 in the Recital Hall. Single admissions, available at the door, are $15 for adults and $10 for students.

The ensemble includes father William, a violist; William Jr., who is the concertmaster of the Atlanta Symphony, on the violin; Doris and Jeanne, also violinists; Walter, cello; and Anne, on the harp. The family, which made its Carnegie Hall debut in 1980, also will present two invitational children's concerts Friday, at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Further information is available from Dr. Arthur Moorefield (Music).

FEBRUARY PAY DAY IS FRIDAY, FEB. 27

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Publications Office on alternate Fridays. Items for publication should be submitted in writing to AD 117. Edna Steinman, Editor (Ext. 7814)
Winter Play to be "Bad Habits" Comedy, 'Bad Habits'

"Bad Habits," a light refreshing comedy confronting the ludicrous behavior of patients who look for a release from today's confinements, will be the winter production by the Theatre Arts Department. Tickets go on sale Monday for the play, which runs two weekends, March 5-7 and 11-14. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The award-winning play by Terrence McNally is a substitute for the originally announced winter production of "Cymbeline." The play is in two acts, each with a different setting and a different cast. In the first act, three couples are at a resort, endeavoring to settle their differences. They learn it is the differences which make one person unique from the next.
The second act takes place in an institution, where patients have come to get rid of their bad habits. The satire points out the effects of modern society are found in the doctors, as well as the patients.

Tickets, available for all seven nights, are $5 general admission and $2.50 for students, senior citizens and Cal State alumni.

Faculty Building

Construction of the Faculty Office Building is progressing ahead of schedule and was 50 percent completed, as of last week, reports William Shum, facility planning and policy coordinator. If all work continues as well in the future, the contractor expects to have the building ready to turn over to the university before the scheduled date of July 28.

After the last of the structural areas are poured and in place, the building can be enclosed and weather will not be a major deterrent to completion. Only eight days have been lost to inclement weather, mostly wind, thus far.

Several change orders have been made to upgrade or restore certain features in the structure and the campus is working closely with the Chancellor's Office to watch the contingency fund which may allow restoration of some of the items which had to be deleted to stay within budget. The features incorporated to date include an upgraded handicapped ramp, a more pleasing stairway design and a skylight above the stairwell. Shum hopes funds will be available to restore the mini blinds in faculty offices, the landscaping and the signage.

The building provides offices for 81 faculty, three department chairs and two schools, Education and Social and Behavioral Sciences. Unless the contractor finishes earlier than expected, faculty will be moved to the new offices early in September.

The space vacated by the School of Education on the fifth floor of Pfau Library Building will be returned to the Library for stack space. An administrative committee is working on the reassignment of offices which will become available in the Administration and Student Services Buildings with the move by the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

Various Services Available

The Evening Office provides a variety of services to students who come to classes after 5 p.m. Located in PL 107, the office is staffed from 5 to 8:30 p.m., Monday through Friday by Stephen Prouty, associate dean of academic services. He provides assistance with adding and dropping classes, graduation checks, changes in majors, fee payments, parking permits, for example. Faculty advisors, for undeclared majors, are available in the Evening Office by appointment.

Other campus offices maintain later hours on specific evenings, especially early in each quarter. The Admissions Office, the Career Planning and Placement Center and Extended Education are open until 6 p.m., Monday-Thursday. The five school offices are staffed until 6 or 6:30 p.m., Monday-Thursday and the Bookstore keeps special hours.
Intellectual Life
Presents 6 Speakers

The intensity and variety of speakers coming to campus continues in the next two weeks, with the Intellectual Life and Visiting Scholars Committee’s sponsorship. Further information on the specific events, which are free unless an admission is stated, is available from the Student Life Office, SS 122, Ext. 7407.

Don Bachardy: Feb. 23

Portrait artist Don Bachardy of Santa Monica will discuss his work in an illustrated lecture at noon, Monday, Feb. 23 in VA 110. His area of specialization is unique among contemporary artists.

Dr. Lynn Nadel: Feb. 23

Dr. Lynn Nadel, neuropsychologist from the University of Arizona, Tucson, will discuss new discoveries about the physiology of the mind and learning at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 23 in the Sycamore Room, Lower Commons. He is a foremost authority on brain research and memory. Dr. Nadel’s lecture is on Monday evening, not Friday, Feb. 27, as incorrectly stated in the winter quarter calendar of events.

Dr. Rita Simon: Feb. 24

Dr. Rita J. Simon, dean of the School of Justice at The American University, will speak on "Comparative Patterns of Women in Crime" at 4 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 24 in the Sycamore Room, Lower Commons. A Fellow of the American Society of Criminology, Dr. Simon has achieved many honors and recognitions including Ford Foundation and Guggenheim Fellowships, Phi Kappa Phi, editor of the Justice Quarterly and the American Sociological Review, and trustee of the Law and Society Association. She has also published extensively. Dr. Simon earned her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and has taught at the University of Illinois, Hebrew University in Jerusalem, Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

Stein, Sweeney: Feb. 26

An atheist, Dr. Gordon Stein, and a Catholic priest, the Rev. Michael Sweeney, will debate the topic, "Evolution vs. Creation: Does God Exist?" at 8 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 26 in the SUMP. Admission is $2 general, $1 students. Dr. Stein is professor of biology at Cal State, Northridge and Father Sweeney is director of St. Andrew’s Newman Center in Riverside and former professor of philosophy at St. Mary's College.

Julian Bond: Feb. 27

As part of Black History Month, Julian Bond, former state senator from Georgia, will be on campus to speak at 8 p.m., Friday, Feb. 27 in the Commons. His topic will be "Echoes from the Past Etching the Future." Long forefront in the fight for civil rights, Bond has spearheaded a number of grass roots campaigns to foster full participation in the political process by minorities, has participated in voting drives, sit-ins and was co-chairman of the Georgia Loyal National Democratic Delegation to the 1968 Democratic National Convention. He won three elections to the Georgia House of Representatives in 1965-66 but was not seated until the U.S. Supreme Court ruled the Georgia House had erred in refusing him a seat. He resigned from the Senate in an unsuccessful bid for national office.

Bella Abzug: March 3

Bella Abzug, three-term Congresswoman from New York and noted feminist, will talk about "Political Power for American Women" at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 3 in the Commons. Admission is $5 in advance and $6 at the door, general, and $2 and $3 for students and senior citizens. A lawyer, peace activist and television commentator, Abzug is a founder of the National Women’s Political Caucus and currently is president of Women--USA, a new coalition to promote equality and economic justice for all women. She was designated by the Gallop Poll as "one of the 20 most influential women in the world."

The Feb. 24 lecture by Dr. John Roche, professor and former White House consultant, has been postponed until spring quarter.
Community Service

Dr. Elliott Barkan (History) gave a 1½-hour slide presentation on India for the freshman honor classes at Cajon High School.

Dr. David Bellis (Public Administration) has been retained as a consultant to the Orange County Community Development Council, the official anti-poverty agency for the county. He is conducting analyses of the status of poverty in the county for the agency, which operates a food bank, energy crisis intervention and weatherization, and various other social service programs.

Dr. Rafael Correa (Foreign Languages) was interviewed on KDIF (1440) Feb. 3 on "Spanish for the Professions and the Role of CSUSB."

Dr. Robert Detweiler (Academic Affairs) made a presentation on "Black Americans in the American Revolution" Feb. 9 in the Black History Week lecture series at Sierra High School in San Bernardino.

Dr. Julius Kaplan (Art) delivered a lecture, "Avant-Garde and Academic Art in the 19th Century--What is the Common Ground?" at the San Diego Museum of Art Feb. 13. He also conducted a tour for the Friends of the Gallery through the "Spiritual in Art" exhibition at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art Jan. 31.

Dr. John Kaufman (Communication) was a speech judge Jan. 22 at a student public-speaking contest sponsored by the San Bernardino Lions Club.

Dr. James Mulvihill (Geography) spoke to the San Bernardino Kiwanis Feb. 4 on "The Status of San Bernardino's General Plan."

The Department of Foreign Languages hosted a reception for 13 bilingual teachers from Spain Feb. 11 in the Lower Commons. University faculty and administrators as well as local high school and community college representatives answered questions about educational opportunities in the Inland Empire.

Tickets Available For Lewitzky Events

Tickets are available at the Student Life Office, SS 122, for the lecture-demonstration and modern dance performance to be presented here March 5 and 6 by the Bella Lewitzky Dance Company of Los Angeles. The 13-member dance troupe's three-day appearance at Cal State will also include master classes for beginning and intermediate dancers March 4-5.

The public lecture-demonstration will begin at 8 p.m., Thursday, March 4. General admission is $2. The dance performance will begin at 8:15 p.m., Friday, March 6. Reserved seats are $7.50 general, $3 students. Both events are in the Recital Hall.

The events are sponsored by the California Arts Council and the university's Intellectual Life and Visiting Scholars Committee.

2 Students Die Recently

The university has received word of the death of two students who were enrolled during the fall quarter. Lynne S. Schwab, of Hesperia, a junior biology major, died Nov. 29. Patrick Calvert, of Moreno Valley, a freshman who had not declared a major, died Dec. 29. The university extends sympathy to their families.
Dr. Edward Teyber (Psychology) has an article, "There's no such thing as an ex-parent," in the January-February issue of Single Parent Magazine.

Dr. Raymond Torres-Santos (Music) will deliver a lecture on "Computer-Generated Compositions: the latest revolution in music," during Humanities Week April 23-28 at the University of Puerto Rico, Cayey Campus.

Workshops to help students assess their futures are being planned next week by the Undergraduate Studies Office and the Career Planning and Placement Center.

The Advising Center and the Career Planning and Placement Center will offer a career planning workshop focusing on the relationship between academic majors and career goals from 9 to 10:30 a.m., Thursday, Feb. 26 in the Lower Commons. "This workshop should be especially useful for students who have not yet decided on a major or are considering a change," said Dr. Diane Halpern (Undergraduate Studies). Presenting information on the topic will be Marcia Albert (Retention Program) and Ed Schneiderhan (Career Planning and Placement Center).

Students considering teaching in the elementary or secondary schools are the target of a workshop, "So You Think You Want to be a Teacher," set for 4 to 6 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 25 in the Lower Commons. A credentials analyst, an elementary teacher, a career counselor and an educational placement counselor will be available to answer questions.

The Cal State Toastmasters organization, which meets every Wednesday at 5 p.m. in the Student Union, is open to the entire campus community. The goal of the organization is to help individuals improve their speaking skills. Information about the program and the meetings is available from Carol Dunlap (Bookstore), Ext. 7515.

At the scholarship ball held by the Black Faculty and Staff Association Jan. 31, Educational Equity Award plaques were presented to Ted Krug (Financial Aid) and Dr. Diane Halpern (Undergraduate Studies) for their continuous support of all students.

Approximately 150 attended the event, which will sponsor scholarships for minority students at the university. The proceeds will fund several $500 scholarships.

The publication, "Initial Collective Bargaining Proposals by the Academic Professionals of California, Unit 4," (1-29-87) is available at the Reference Desk on the first floor of the Library.
Professional Activities

Dr. Katharine Busch and Dr. Adria Klein (Education) are serving as consultants for a video series, Research: Write Search, produced by Donald Murphy, mentor teacher of the Colton Unified School District. The series will be used for district in-service. Dr. Busch also conducted an in-service, "Make Your Own Adventure with Literature," for fifth and sixth grade teachers in the San Bernardino City Schools Feb. 5.

An article by Dr. Stella Clark (Spanish), "The Language of the Early Novels of Jose Agustin: A Glossary," was published by the University of Missouri Press in Jose Agustin: Onda and Beyond. Dr. Clark will read a paper, "A Need for Harmony: The Double In Two Mexican Novels," Feb. 26-28 at the Louisiana Conference for Hispanic Literatures at Tulane University. She also has been appointed section head for "Pedagogy: Colleges and Universities" for Hispania, the journal of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese.

Leo Doyle (Art) has been elected vice president of the American Association of Woodturners. He recently juried a national competition titled "Vessels and Forms," which will be held in Houston. He will attend the opening night March 5 to present the awards to entrants. Professor Doyle will have an article on woodturning design in a new book on woodturning to be published by Taunton Press.

Dr. Jan Kottke (Psychology) has seven papers accepted for presentation at the April 23-25 meeting of the Western Psychological Association in Long Beach. They are: "Disciplining the sexual harasser," "Counselor use of profanity: Don't!"; with Dr. Steven Mellor (Psychology), "Can students provide peer writing review?"; with Chandra Beeman, undergraduate psychology major, "Discrimination: Do equal opportunity policies protect pregnant employees?"; with Robert Miller, graduate student, "Hiring of the handicapped: Changing attitudes of potential employers"; with Barbara Zigalo, graduate student, "The relationship between knowledge, locus of control and fear of AIDS"; with Daniel Martinez and Ryan Cherland, graduate students, "Readability of dot matrix and letter quality fill-justified text." Dr. Kottke is the thesis advisor for Cherland, Miller and Zigalo.

Dr. Jan Kottke (Psychology) reviewed the operation of the on-campus, consulting firm run by the industrial/organizational graduate students at the University of Nebraska, Omaha Jan. 15-16. She was investigating the possibility of developing a similar firm here with I/O graduate students. While there, she presented some of her research on "Women in the Workplace." The trip was sponsored by the local chapter of Psi Chi, the national honorary society for psychology students.

Elisabeth Ryland (Management) will have an article co-authored with Benson Rosen, "Chronological and Functional Resume Formats," in the March issue of Career Development Quarterly.

Dr. Jim Pierson (Anthropology) presented a paper, "Mystery Literature and Ethnography: Fictional Detectives as Anthropologists," at the 20th annual Comparative Literature Symposium at Texas Tech University Jan. 28-30. Theme of the 1987 symposium was "Literature and Anthropology." The 17 speakers included mystery writer Tony Hillerman.

Mike Rodriguez and Dr. Dennis Mahoney (Political Science) chaired panels at a conference on "Freedmen and Immigrants under the Constitutional Order" Feb. 13-14 at Claremont-McKenna College. Rodriguez's topic was "Immigration: The Privilege of Being American." Dr. Mahoney's panel was on "Civil War Amendments." Dr. Christopher Flannery (Social Sciences) served on the committee which organized the conference.

Dr. Alexander Sokoloff (Biology) and four graduate students have an article, "Linkage studies in Tribolium castaneum (Herbst), XII. A revision of linkage group II," in the February issue of Genome (formerly Canadian Journal of Genetics and Cytology).
