Parking Lot Addition
Outlook is Favorable

Prospects for adding a 400-car addition to the campus parking lots are favorable, with the lowest bid for the construction coming in about 15 percent under estimates. The final decision and the signing of the contract are in the hands of the Chancellor's Office, reports William Shum (Facilities Planning).

Matich Corp. of San Bernardino was the lowest bidder, with a cost of $283,836 for ground preparation, landscaping, asphalt paving and installation of concrete curbs. The project also includes lighting, with fixtures matching the adjoining lot but with greater illumination.

The new lot will extend from the western edge of Serrano Village to the existing lot at the right (east) of the main entrance to the campus. In addition to trees within the lot, the project will include additional trees and shrubs between the lot and the housing complex. The city of San Bernardino will be responsible for the landscaping around a city well located within the new lot.

Approval is expected from the Chancellor's Office within a month from the April 16 bid opening. Completion is expected by the beginning of the fall quarter in September. Parking lot construction is funded by the parking fees paid by students and employees.

Alumni Association
To Honor Graduates

Five outstanding graduates of the university will be honored at the Alumni Association's annual awards banquet Saturday evening, May 9. All members of the campus community are invited. The 6:30 p.m. social hour will be followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m. in the Upper Commons.

The honorees, each representing one of the schools, are:

* Marlin Brown, B.A. 1969 history, B.A. 1971 psychology, owner and manager of Brown Knows Computing in Redlands; member of the San Bernardino City Schools Board of Education and the County School Board Association;

* Linda Lingo, MBA 1982, manager of audits and special projects for Ernst and Whinney, a CPA firm in Riverside, and is the consultant for the firm's health care affairs and manufacturing interests;

* Enrique Martinez, B.A. 1979 Spanish, M.A. 1982 education, broadcast coordinator for the University of California's Cooperative Extension Program in Riverside and is host and producer of "Panorama del Valle," a program aired on KESQ-TV in Palm Springs.

* Dr. D. Steven Meyering, B.S. 1979 biology, B.S. 1980 chemistry, physician at Loma Linda University Medical Center, working in urgent care and emergency room; he also is affiliated with Hemet Medical Clinic in urgent care;

* Kathleen Rager, M.A. 1984 education, principal at Fontana High School; she is the first woman graduate of Cal State to become a high school principal.

Lee Grissom, president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce and the alumni trustee on the CSU Board of Trustees, will be the featured speaker. Martinez will be master of ceremonies.

Reservations for the banquet, at $17.50 per person, are being accepted by the Alumni Affairs Office, AD 104, Ext. 7811, said Joanna Roche, alumni director.
Library Receives Grant
For Earthquake Safety

The Pfau Library has received a $28,325 matching grant from the U.S. Department of Education to reduce potential earthquake hazards. The funds, which must be matched by state dollars, will be used to strengthen book stacks on four floors.

Additional cross-bracing will be installed on the old shelving. Shelf columns will be strengthened and bolted to the floor. The university has done some of the hazard-reduction work in the past and the latest shelving purchased has the increased reinforcing.

The federal grant will be matched with state bond money, which is expected to become available in the next month or two. Bids must be taken for the work, which possibly may begin late in the summer.

The proposal for the federal grant was prepared by Buckley Barrett (Library) and Sid Kushner (Sponsored Programs) last July.

Women's Commission
Seeks Nominations

Nominations now are being sought for membership on the Steering Committee of the campus Commission on the Status of Women. Positions are open for three student members, two faculty members, two staff members and one person from management.

"Membership on the Steering Committee is open to any member of the campus community who is interested in enhancing the status of women, educating the campus community about women's issues and developing increased opportunities for women on campus," said Dr. Loralee MacPike (English). Interested individuals should send their names or nominations of others to Dr. MacPike at the Department of English by May 11.

Workshop to Focus on Values and Careers

The influence of individuals' personal values on their choices of majors and careers will be explored in a workshop to be held Monday morning, May 11 under the sponsorship of Academic Advising and the Career Development Center.

The session, open to all interested individuals, will be from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the Sycamore Room of the Commons. Further information is available from Ext. 7551.

Student Union Plans
Campus Swap Meet

The Student Union is interested in sponsoring a Market Day, a swap meet type collection of booths with items for sale, on May 12 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the lawns between the Union and the Creative Arts Building. On-campus groups would be allowed to participate without a fee. Off-campus groups would be charged a $20 registration fee. Clubs and organizations could use the day to raise funds for their activities or causes, explained Soncia Reagins, program coordinator for the Union. Any one interested in participating should call her at Ext. 7757.
Elliott Barkan Receives Fulbright Lecturership

Dr. Elliott Barkan (History) has been awarded his second Fulbright lecturership and will be teaching during the next academic year at the University of Southampton in the United Kingdom. His previous Fulbright, in 1983, was in India, where he lectured at 13 institutions in all parts of the country.

Dr. Barkan has received numerous other awards and recognitions during his academic career, which began at Cal State, San Bernardino in 1968. They include Phi Beta Kappa and Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, prior to coming here, plus Field Institute Faculty Fellowship, Chancellor's Office Academic Program Improvement Grant of $23,000 for coordinating "Cross Cultural Perspectives in the Classroom," and meritorious performance and professional promise award.

He has coordinated the Ethnic Studies Program since 1979 and has written a multitude of articles and papers on the subject. This year he has been chair of the CSU Social Science Research and Instructional Council, chair of the campus Ad-Hoc Task Force to Review and Revise the General Education Curriculum and chair of the University-wide General Education Committee.

Dr. Barkan was co-founder and coordinator of Join Us, one of the nation's first computerized carpool programs, in 1969-71. He has served on numerous faculty and university committees, in addition to his work with professional associations in his field. He has five books and a multitude of articles and presentations to his credit.

Mayor Cisneros, Cesar Chavez To Speak Here May 6, 8

Henry Cisneros, the San Antonio, Texas, mayor who is listed in a 1986 round-up of rising politicians, will give a free public address at 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 6 in the Upper Commons.

Cisneros was elected the first Mexican-American mayor of a major U.S. city at age 33. In April, at age 39, he was re-elected to his fourth two-year term as mayor of the nation's 10th largest city. He stepped into the national spotlight at the last presidential campaign when Democratic nominee Walter Mondale interviewed Cisneros while considering potential running mates. Immediate past president of the National League of Cities, Cisneros was ranked among the top political newcomers by U.S. News and World Report.

His topic for the campus lecture will be "Survival of American Cities in the 1980s" and will include a discussion of Hispanics in the future of the U.S.

Cesar Chavez, president of the United Farmworkers of America, will speak from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., Friday, May 8 in the SUMP. His topic for the free lecture will be "Wrath of Grapes: The Dangers Pesticides Pose to Farm Workers and Consumers."

Chavez founded the first successful farm workers union, the National Farm Workers Association in 1962, more than 10 years after he began working with the Community Service Organization, a barrio-based self-help group forming among California Mexican-Americans. In 1965 his 1200-member organization joined the AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee in a five-year strike-boycott against wine and table grape growers in central California.

Currently Chavez is leading an international grape boycott, begun in 1984 and called "The Wrath of Grapes" in symbolizing the threat posed to vineyard workers and consumers by pesticides.
Dr. Richard Rowland (Geography) will draw on his research in Soviet studies when he speaks at 8 p.m., Tuesday, May 5 in the Outstanding Professor Lecture Series. Dr. Rowland, the university's outstanding professor in 1985, will discuss "Moslem Nationality of the USSR and its Impact on the Future of Soviet Society." The lecture, to begin at 8 p.m. in the Lower Commons, is free and open to the public.

UCLA Professor to Discuss Competition in Education

Competition vs. cooperation in higher education will be explored by Dr. Alexander Astin, UCLA professor of higher education, at 8 p.m., Monday, May 4 in the Recital Hall.

He will draw on 20 years of experience directing the Cooperative Institutional Research Program, a national study of six million students, 50,000 faculty and staff and 1200 institutions. Dr. Astin also has been director of research for both the American Council on Education and the National Merit Scholarship Program. In his 200 publications and 16 books, Dr. Astin has focused on topics such as the outcomes of higher education, institutional quality, equality of opportunity and access, management and the relationship between research and policy.

The free lecture, open to the public, is sponsored by the Intellectual Life Committee.

Author to Read His Fiction Here

Dr. Richard Cortez Day, author of When in Florence, will read from his fiction at 7 p.m., Tuesday, May 5 in the Eucalyptus Room. The program is open to the public.

When in Florence, published in 1986 by Doubleday, is a collection of interconnected short stories taking place in modern Florence. Day, professor of English at Humboldt State University, now is working on a collection of stories set around Arcata. His earlier work has been published in the Kenyon Review, New England Quarterly and Redbook.

Marine Scientist To Speak at GAFB

Dr. Don Walsh, who has explored the deepest crevices of the ocean, will speak at the National Security Studies Program dinner at George Air Force Base Wednesday, May 20. The 6 p.m. event is open to the public; however, reservations must be made with the National Security Studies Office, Ext. 7632, by Monday, May 11. The cost is $11 per person.

The speaker, now president of Maritime International, Inc., is a retired Navy submarine commander and professor of ocean engineering at USC. He was the Navy's first deep sea submariner pilot and was awarded the Legion of Merit for taking the Bathyscaph Trieste down 35,800 feet, near Guam, the deepest spot in the ocean. In the Navy, he was responsible for management of ocean-related research and development and helped develop new underwater equipment. He was named a Fellow of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington, D.C., and was appointed by President Carter to a three-year term on the National Advisory Committee on Oceans and Atmosphere.

Holocaust Speaker. Film Here May 5-6

Dr. Aaron Hass, associate professor of psychology at Cal State, Dominguez Hills, will speak of his experiences as a child of Holocaust survivors, at noon, Tuesday, May 5 in the Panorama Room. He has written several books and is completing Under a Pall, a study of children of Holocaust survivors. A documentary film, "Partisans of Vilna," will be shown at 7 p.m., May 6 in the Panorama Room.
Seven staff members were selected, from 16 applicants, for participation in the Career Development Opportunity Program. The program combines on-the-job training, orientation to specific classifications and four skill-building workshops.

The participants are: Tyrone Bookman from Plant Operations, Carmen Murillo from Accounting, Cecilia McCarron from Alumni Affairs, Juanita King from Accounting, Irene Guillen from the School of Education, Aleta Lee from Purchasing and Cheryl Clark from Records.

They are working in classifications such as administrative operations analyst, student personnel technician and credentials analyst. Some are working in different departments than their normal position; others are in different functions within the same department.

The program, funded by a special training allocation from the Chancellor's Office, expires June 30.

The official enrollment count for spring quarter will be 6983, which is the number of students here on census date. The headcount translates to a full-time equivalent (FTE) of 5128.1. While both figures represent a drop from the traditional fall quarter high, they are 10.17 and 9.73 percent higher than the same statistics for spring 1986.

Scholarships totalling $1600 were awarded to eight students at the scholarships awards banquet sponsored by the Association of Hispanic Faculty and Staff April 25. Approximately 280 faculty, staff and students attended the annual event.

Receiving the association's three $200 scholarships were Sharon Headrick, Josue Miranda and Catherine Mele. The David Montano Scholarship, honoring the memory of a former student, was awarded to Josephine Wong. The Latino Business Students Association presented $200 scholarships to Elsa Garcia and Claudia Hurtado. Recipients of the MEChA $200 scholarships were Robert Carrillo and Rosemary Saldiva.

Dr. Rafael Correa (Foreign Languages) was master of ceremonies for the awards dinner.

Five Upward Bound students participated in Spaceset '87 April 24-26 at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena. The 180 participants in the three-day event formed teams to create and design a functional space settlement.

The two local students on the first place team were both high school juniors, Samuel Davis from San Bernardino High and Jim Sage from Fontana High. Also participating were Priscilla Flores, senior at Eisenhower High; Ricky Williams, junior at San Bernardino High; and John Fontenot, Colton High junior.

Upward Bound is a university preparatory program, which provides first-generation college-potential students with academic assistance and career guidance in anticipation of their continuing in a four-year college or university. Denise Benton directs the program.
Irvine Dance Company Concludes Music Series

May 8 with an 8:15 p.m. performance in the Recital Hall. Admission is $15 general and $10 for students.

The UCI Dance Department is considered one of the top five in the U.S. Its touring ensembles present programs including classical and modern ballet, modern dance, jazz dance, historical and ethnic dance and even tap and break dancing. Performers are undergraduate students who come from throughout the world to study in the dance department at UCI.

Playwrights Lecture Perform Here May 14

The authors of the plays "Inherit the Wind," "Auntie Mame," and a multitude of other screen plays and books, Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, will perform and lecture on campus Thursday, May 14.

The first presentation, which is free, will be at 2 p.m. in the Theatre. It is titled "Under the Volcano." "Which One Can't Spell?" a discussion of the art of collaboration, will be the focus of the 8:15 p.m. program in the Recital Hall. Admission to the evening session is $5 general and $2.50 for students and senior citizens.

Lawrence also has been a staff writer for CBS, a founder of Armed Forces Radio Service, and writer-director for many radio shows. He has lectured and taught throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. Lee, a co-founder and past president of American Playwrights Theatre, has been involved in many of the same media as Lawrence. He was a director with the March of Time film series and was a director of the Screen Guild theatre and the Jack Benny Show. He too has taught and lectured widely. Both have received numerous awards including honorary doctorates.

Model UN Celebrates 10th Anniversary

The 10th anniversary of the San Bernardino Model United Nations Program will be observed with this year's simulation activities Wednesday, May 6. Area high school and university students will participate in the activities which include general assemblies and standing committee meetings.

Delegates will focus on such topics as the arms race in space, UNESCO reform, apartheid and discrimination against women. The objective of the program is to expose students to diplomacy, cooperation and debate by using procedures and issues similar to those found in the United Nations, explained Dr. Brij Khare (Political Science). The keynote address at 3:30 p.m., May 6 will be given by UN Ambassador Glodys St. Phard of Haiti.

A reception from 7 to 9 p.m., Tuesday, May 5, in the Upper Commons, will open the Model UN with entertainment and refreshments.

Congratulations

Marcia Albert (Retention Coordinator) received her Ph.D. in the field of education from the Claremont Graduate School in April. Dr. Albert's dissertation was titled "Gender-Related Differences in Computer Interest, Attitudes, and Confidence."

Traveling Show

The Monumental Image, a traveling show of prints by nationally known artists, will open in the Art Gallery May 7, with a reception from 5 to 7 p.m. Preceding the reception, the curator of the show, Judith Dunham, will speak at 4 p.m. at VA 110.

Dunham, who has edited several art publications and curated other exhibitions, also is an instructor in contemporary art at JFK University in Orinda.

The exhibit, which is touring until spring 1988, will be in the campus Gallery through June 4. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

English Department Plans

The Graduate English Association is seeking donations of books for its "Literate Bake and Book Sale," to be held May 20-21 in front of Pfau Library. Contributions may be left in "drop boxes" in the English Department Office (PL 236B) and outside Dr. Bruce Golden's office (CA 177). The donations will be picked up if a message is left for Dr. Golden, Ext. 7684, or Ellen Elstrom, 887-0087.

Early calls or donations will be appreciated, since the organization is endeavoring to estimate its resources, said Dr. Golden. Edible items to be featured at the sale will include Milton's Devils Food Brownies, Coy Mistress Cupcakes, Swift's Kiddie Cookies, Emily Dickinson's Buzz-Fly Pie and T.S. Eliot's Dare-to-Eat-a-Peach Cobbler.

IBM Typewriters Found, Owners Lost

Two IBM Executive typewriters, which are not state property, have found their way to the university's property clerk. No information about the owners is known. To claim the property, the owners must submit a bill of sale or some paper with the serial number. If the typewriters are not claimed within 90 days, they will be disposed of. Information is available from Harry Larsen, Campus Police, Ext. 7555.
