1369 to Graduate
In Class of 1987
A record class of 1369 seniors and graduate students are part of the Class of '87 which will receive diplomas in the university's 21st commencement ceremonies beginning at 5:30 p.m., tomorrow, Saturday, June 20. Approximately 890 of the graduates are expected to march.

Eligible to participate are the 449 graduates from fall and winter quarters and the 920 candidates for degrees from spring and summer terms. This year's class includes 1067 bachelor's degrees and 302 master's degrees. Receiving special recognition will be the outstanding graduate student, Sharon Younkin, and the outstanding undergraduate student, Paul Mata.

Receptions honoring the graduates will be hosted by the five schools earlier in the afternoon. The schools having master's programs also will hood their candidates at that time. The location and time of the receptions are: Business and Public Administration, Upper Commons, 3-4:30 p.m.; Education, Creative Arts, 2:30-5 p.m.; Humanities, Panorama Room, 3-4:30 p.m.; Natural Sciences, PS Patio, 3-4:30 p.m.; (Nursing Department, SUMP, 2-4 p.m.); Social and Behavioral Sciences, Upper Commons, 3-5 p.m.

Dr. William H. Pickens, executive director of the California Postsecondary Education Commission, will address the audience of some 12,000 faculty, family and friends on the topic "Private Lives and the Public Interest." All faculty and staff who are participating in commencement are invited to a reception honoring the speaker from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Sycamore Room.

Two members of the CSU Board of Trustees will participate in the commencement. They are Marianthi Lansdale, vice chair of the board, and Dr. John Kashiwabara, a fairly new trustee. Members of the university's advisory board will assist President Anthony H. Evans and Vice President Robert C. Detweiler in recognizing the graduates.

Music for the ceremony, including the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" processional, will be by the Wind Ensemble directed by Dr. Carolyn Neff.

At least six members of the university community will become alumni, in addition to being employees of the institution, at commencement. Staff members who have earned degrees this year include: Veda Hunn (Housing), M.S. in counseling psychology; David DeMauro (Plant Operations), M.B.A.; Linda Stockham (Anthropology; Economics; Geography), M.A. in Special Major; Dorinda Thurman (Health Center), M.A. in Education; and Francesca Cover and Sharon Younkin (Counseling Center), both M.S. in counseling psychology.

Summer Registration Is
Wednesday, Thursday
Registration for the five summer sessions offered this year will be held Wednesday and Thursday, June 24-25 in the Creative Arts Building. This year, for the first time, the registration process will be on-line with the computer which will expedite the process and the adding of classes when needed. Classes for three sessions begin June 29.

The registration center is open 9 a.m.-12:45 p.m. and 2:45-5 p.m., Wednesday, and 9-12:45 and 4-6 p.m., Thursday. Students' time slot for registering depends on their last names. However, the late afternoon period on Thursday is open to all who missed their earlier time.

The Office of Extended Education, which administers the self-supporting summer session, expects an even larger enrollment than the 1700 participating last year. Twice the number of inquiries have been received this year, reports Mendy Warman, summer sessions coordinator. Seventy to 75 percent of the summer enrollment comes from the regular student body. Further information is available from Extended Education, Ext. 7527.
Financial Aid Receives $50,000 Work-Study Grant

The Financial Aid Office has been awarded $50,000 for a state work-study pilot program designed to give students off-campus employment relevant to their major, Ted Krug announced. The grant will generate an estimated $80,000-$100,000 in work-study payroll in the coming school year.

The campus is one of three universities in the CSU to receive the funds, according to Krug. The objective of the program is to place students in career-related positions to give them an opportunity to earn money and to gain experience in their major. The emphasis in job placement will be in profit-making institutions and in elementary and secondary education.

Any student applying for financial aid will be notified of the new program, which is need-based. Krug estimates 40-50 students may be employed through the project. Further information is available from Janice White, the work-study coordinator, Ext. 7741.

Food Service, Library Hours Change Monday

With the close of the spring quarter, some campus facilities implement revised hours of service for the summer. Sponsored Programs Has New Database

The Sponsored Programs Office has gained access to a new on-line database of federal and private grant-funding sources, Sid Kushner reports. The system, based at the State University of New York, is called SPIN (Sponsored Programs Information Network).

Using a computer terminal here, faculty now can have a funding-source search completed in minutes, instead of days. The system permits either an immediate selective printout of funding sources on-line or a mailed batch printout delivered within three working days. Interested faculty and staff may call Sponsored Programs Office, Ext. 7216, or visit the office, T-10ABC.
Workshop Training Set For Budget Keeping
A computer program which will save time and effort in keeping departmental budgets will be explained at seminars offered July 7 and 9 through the staff training program. Don McKenzie (Budget Planning and Administration) will conduct the workshop on "Computerizing the Departmental Budget."

The program, developed by Leonard Farwell (Vice President for Administration and Finance), is easy to learn and can be utilized immediately, said Bill Swanson (Personnel). "It is already in use on campus and is of real benefit in saving time and effort as well as improving accuracy in record keeping." The beginning of the new fiscal year would be an ideal time to learn the new program, he added.

The identical seminars will be given from 2 to 4 p.m. Each is limited to 20 persons. Instructions for registering will be included in the list of summer training courses to be distributed shortly by the Personnel Office.

2 Chosen for Training For New Professionals
Tommy Bakewell (Student Life) and Jack Dexter (Career Planning and Placement) have been selected to attend the Academy for New Professionals June 21-26 at the Claremont Colleges.

The academy is sponsored by the National Association for Student Personnel Administrators and was created to enrich the professional development of individuals new to the field of student services. A maximum of 30 participants is selected throughout California, with emphasis given to diversity of backgrounds. It is unusual for two persons to be selected from one campus for the competitive program, said Dr. Craig Henderson (Student Services). Last year George Gibbs (SAIL) attended.

Upward Bound Program Receives Refunding
The Upward Bound Program has received a $214,091 grant from the U.S. Department of Education for the second year of its current three-year cycle. The funding will enable 100 students from local high schools to participate in the year-long program to encourage low-income or first-generation college-potential students to continue their education.

The program, directed by Denise Benton, emphasizes basic academic skills through classroom instruction, individual tutoring and enrichment activities. This summer approximately 60 of the students will live on campus for a six-week intensive program beginning June 28.

State Board Sponsors Logo Design Contest

Entries must be submitted on an Employee Suggestion form, STD 645, no later than July 15. Art work, on an 8½" by 11" sheet, should be attached. Information on the contest is available through the Personnel Office, SS 151.

The State Merit Award Program rewards employees who submit ideas that reduce state expenses or improve the operation of state government. It also administers exceptional service awards for superior performance and special acts of valor.
Summer Entertainment Series Begins July 1

A free concert every Wednesday evening is the university's summer gift to the campus and the community at large, announces Doyle Stansel (Student Services), coordinator of the series.

From bluegrass, rock and folk songs to classical music and show tunes, the nine concerts will provide a varied musical fare each Wednesday from July 1 through Aug. 26. The programs will begin at 7 p.m. on the Lower Commons Plaza. The public is invited to bring picnic baskets, blankets and lawn chairs and enjoy the scenic setting, said Dean Stansel.

Opening the series July 1 will be the Canto Bello Chorale, an ensemble of 30 local singers who will celebrate the nation's birthday with a program of American classics.

Popular music from Broadway shows will be featured by Brian Shyer, concert pianist, July 8. Appearing with him will be Constance Cairo, who has sung at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. The Almont Ensemble will present a program of popular classical selections July 15. Its combination of clarinet, three strings and piano is unusual for a group performing the masterpieces of past centuries. Authentic dances from Africa will be performed by the Diamano-Coura Dancers July 22. Folksinger-folklorist Ross Altman will sing the songs of Woody Guthrie, Pete Seeger and Burl Ives plus his own compositions July 29.

The program, as in the past, entitles the incoming student to use facilities and services such as the swimming pool, tennis courts, the Library, Computer Center and the Career Development Center. The Student Life Office requests faculty and staff who have contact with new incoming students to encourage them to find out about the program at the Student Life Office, which will issue the passes.
