Health Plan Fees to Soar

The fees paid by some Cal State employees for their health insurance will escalate considerably in July.

Two other major changes will be made in the benefits plans this summer, according to the Personnel Office.

"Due to the significant rate increases in some of our health plans, I am providing this preliminary information earlier than usual," explained Marjorie Callaghan, benefits officer in the Personnel Office.

While rates for six health maintenance organizations will drop, particularly for employees with dependents, the premiums for three health provider plans will jump from $0, $15 or $30 to $70 for insured families.

The contribution paid by the state toward insurance plans also is expected to go up. The proposal approved by the Public Employees Retirement (PERS) board, but not final, includes monthly contributions of $110 for individuals (up from $92), $206 (from $174) for employee and one dependent and $268 (from $233) for a family.

Preferred-provider and indemnity plans will be consolidated into a new PERS plan Jan. 1, 1989, another change which will affect a sizable number of people.

"Effective Jan. 1, 1989 all existing PERS-contracted preferred provider/indemnity plans will be consolidated into a single PERS-CARE Plan, a self-funded, self-insured indemnity plan," Ms. Callaghan explained.

"This means employees who are enrolled in Blue Shield Preferred Plan, Blue Cross Prudent Buyer Plan and Cal-Western will be automatically transferred into the new PERS-CARE Plan effective Jan. 1, 1989," she said.

If employees want to avoid the rate increases which will be reflected in the Aug. 1 paychecks, they could consider two options, the benefits officer explained, without advocating either option.

They could cancel their medical coverage; then enroll again the first week in September in a plan with a lower monthly cost. "However, employees must realize they would be without medical coverage for two months (August and September) or possibly three months, depending on whether they make the September deadline," she stressed.

The second option to reduce costs would be to lower the number of dependents in the medical plan.

"If employees elect to cancel or lower the number of dependents in their medical plan, they must come to the Personnel Office before July 1 to complete a new HBD-12 form," she emphasized.

"But remember you cannot change plans until the regular open enrollment in September."

The annual open enrollment period during which employees may make changes in their health benefits coverage will be Sept. 1 through Sept. 30, 1988.

Some faculty members will be affected by PERS decision to terminate the ACSUP (Union Labor Life Insurance Company) plan effective Aug. 1.

A summary of the premiums to be effective July 1 is found at the end of this Bulletin. All employees will receive additional information prior to the open enrollment period in September.

"Because the information will be sent to your residence, please make sure the Personnel Office has your correct address on file," urged Ms. Callaghan.

Cinco de Mayo Continues

The traditional fiesta in the Commons patio today, a talk by the president of a major supermarket chain and an International Night will conclude a week of activities for the Cinco de Mayo celebration.

Music, food and entertainment will be available in the patio from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. today. Radio station KDIF will broadcast live from the campus from 10 a.m. to noon in the Sycamore Room.

Bill Davila, president of The Vons Companies, will speak at 5 p.m., today in the SUMP. His topic is "Building Your Formula for Success."

The week's festivities will close tomorrow (Saturday) night with Cal State's foreign students presenting an International Night at 6 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Dances and songs from China, Costa Rica, India, Indonesia, Japan, Sri Lanka and Vietnam will be performed. Following the performances, international delicacies will be served in the Creative Arts patio.

Admission to International Night is $5 general, $4 students and $3 children.

Lottery Funds Top $800,000

The campus expects to receive $816,550 in lottery funds for the coming academic year, for approximately a 50 percent increase over the current year.

The money is allocated by the CSU Chancellor's Office into specific categories, explained Don McKenzie (Budget Planning and Administration). The largest amount, $282,955, will be credited to the campus' endowment account at the end of the year. The Chancellor's Office invests the money and the campus can spend the interest.

The university expects to use the $162,460 in discretionary funds for instructional equipment, because "we are underfunded in that area," explained McKenzie. Although the funds are listed as discretionary, the campus still must report their use to the Chancellor's Office.

Another $77,034 will be allocated for non-formula-based instructional equipment.

Educational equity will receive $56,072 for faculty-student mentoring programs and $10,526 for Hispanic and Black students scholarships.

On the cultural side, $57,824 will be allocated for distinguished speakers and scholars and $22,000 for fine arts initiatives or guest artists.

Computing access will receive $25,320, while $25,664 is designated for development of new instructional programs using technology. Scholarships and stipends for master teachers, used by the School of Education, will total $57,612.

The new Student Internship Community Service Program will be funded for another year with $23,083. Outreach to underrepresented high school students will receive $16,000.

While most items generally received increased allocations for next year, cuts were made in instructional computing and visiting lectures allocations. The greatest percentage of increases were in endowment and discretionary funds, McKenzie noted.

The exhibit and wrote the 106-page, illustrated catalog which describes the development of textiles in Mexico. Some of the pieces in the exhibit were collected by Dr. Berdan during her research in Mexico in 1983 and 1985. Most are on loan from the UCLA Museum of Cultural History.

The exhibit, "Spanish Thread on Indian Looms: Mexican Folk Costume," will be up through June 1.

"The show is a collaborative effort between the Art and Anthropology Departments and demonstrates the artistic quality of the textiles as well as their cultural heritage," explained Dr. Berdan.

The influence of the Spanish conquerors on the indigenous costumes and the decorative designs is demonstrated in the clothing of various periods.

Gallery hours for this show are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 5 to 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday.

Pulitzer-Winning Cartoonist To Speak

Paul Conrad, the Los Angeles Times editorial cartoonist who has won three Pulitzer prizes, will speak at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, May 22 in PS 10.

The lecture and a reception, which follows in the Library, are sponsored by the Library Associates and the Intellectual Life and Visiting Scholars Committee.

Conrad will speak on "A Satirical Look at the World through the Eyes of the Editorial Cartoonist."

In an introduction to one of Conrad's books, Art Buchwald wrote, "Conrad's name strikes fear in the evil hearts of men all over the world. Wherever there is corruption, greed or hypocrisy everyone says, 'This is a job for Conrad.'"

The cartoonist has published four books, received numerous other honors and awards and has bronze sculptures and cartoons on exhibit in the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and the Palm Springs Desert Museum. His work, syndicated by the Times, appears in hundreds of papers nationally.

A native Iowan, he earned a B.A. in art from the University of Iowa and began his cartooning on the student paper.

Chamber Honors University Faculty

Three Cal State faculty members will be among the educators honored Friday, May 13 at the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce's annual outstanding professors breakfast.

The breakfast will begin at 7:30 a.m. in the Commons. Reservations should be made by today with the Chamber, 885-7515. The cost is $8 per person.

Honored from the university will be Dr. Michael Clarke (Public Administration), Dr. Ronald Pendleton (Education) and Dr. Lynda Warren (Psychology).

Two professors from San Bernardino Valley College, John Lorei and Dr. Robert Petersen, and two from Crafton Hills College, Jay Edwards and Dr. Bill Orr, also will be recognized.

Tribute will be paid to a past president of the Chamber, Lou Yeager, for his continued support of education.

The new president of the University of Redlands, Dr. James Appleton, will be the speaker.

News Briefs

Keep your eyes open for the red and white Bloodmobile in front of the Library next Thursday, May 12, so you can participate in the spring blood drive, advises the Student Health Advisory Committee.

The blood drive will be conducted in the Bloodmobile, and not in the Health Center, this year. Hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Appointments will be made for people whose time is short if they call the Health Center, Ext. 7641.

The Blood Bank is providing free cholesterol testing for all donors this time.

Mexican Costumes Exhibited In Art Gallery

Native Mexican folk costumes, representing different periods and fabrics, are now display in the Art Gallery.

Dr. Frances Berdan and Dr. Russell Barber (Anthropology) arranged the exhibit and wrote the 106-page, illustrated catalog which describes the development of textiles in Mexico. Some of the pieces in the exhibit were collected by Dr. Berdan during her research in Mexico in 1983 and 1985. Most are on loan from the UCLA Museum of Cultural History.

The exhibit, "Spanish Thread on Indian Looms: Mexican Folk Costume," will be up through June 1.

"The show is a collaborative effort between the Art and Anthropology Departments and demonstrates the artistic quality of the textiles as well as their cultural heritage," explained Dr. Berdan.

The influence of the Spanish conquerors on the indigenous costumes and the decorative designs is demonstrated in the clothing of various periods.

Gallery hours for this show are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 5 to 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday.
The official enrollment for spring quarter is 8010 students, a 14.7 percent increase over spring a year ago, reports Jo Ann Von Wald (Registrar). The traditional drop from fall quarter is only 4.4 percent, one of the lowest in years.

The FTE (full-time equivalent) for the current quarter is 5926.1 students, a 15.6 percent increase over spring 1987.

All faculty, staff and students are invited to play in the third annual softball tournament sponsored by the Alumni Association tomorrow, Saturday, May 7. Play begins at 9:30 a.m. on the fields behind the gym. “Bring your own glove, if you have one,” advises Joanna Roche (Alumni Affairs). For information, call Ext. 7811.

A few tickets remain for the Escape bus trip to the Angels-Toronto Blue Jays baseball game tomorrow, May 7, at the Anaheim stadium, reminds Joe Long (Recreational Sports). The cost is $10. For a reservation, call the AS ticket office, Ext. 7496.

The Faculty Senate Office has moved from the basement of the Biology Building to the former Social Sciences conference room in the Administration Building, Room 121. The telephone extension remains 7589.

Two members of the Library have changed office locations and phone numbers. Arthur Nelson (Ext. 7601) may now be located in PL 309A and Pola Patterson (Ext. 7972) is in PL 328.

A teleconference program on “Health Care Issues and Healing” will be shown at Audio-Visual Services from 11 a.m. to noon, Wednesday, May 11. The program will be broadcast via satellite from Cal State, Chico. Topics include how to identify hardiness, or disease-resistant behaviors, from helplessness, or disease-prone behaviors.

The presenter is Dr. Bruce Aikin, whose specialty is stress and preventive medicine.

This program concludes the teleconference series on health issues which AV has been making available to the campus.

UNI PHI club members raised several hundred dollars for scholarships for students with disabilities through the club’s recent bowl-a-thon, reports Dr. Theron Pace (Services to Students with Disabilities). Many members of the campus community pledged and Denise Benton (Upward Bound) and Dr. Fred Newton (Psychology) bowled, he said.

Public Forums To Discuss Environment

Challenges facing the Inland Empire and Southern California, including growth and the environment, will be addressed at Environmental Expo ’88 to be held Saturday, May 14 throughout the campus.

“Inland Empire at the Environmental Crossroads” is the theme of the event, sponsored by the Environmental Resource Center directed by Dr. Darleen Stoner (Education). The event is open to the public.

The forum focusing on growth, set for 10 a.m. in the SUMP, will be moderated by Congressman George Brown. Representatives of strict-growth initiatives, developers, elected officials and analysts will discuss the topic and field questions.

Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science), a specialist in the politics of government, will moderate the 1 p.m. forum, also held in the SUMP, on waste-to-energy conversion. Also participating from campus will be Dr. Jim Mulvihill (Geography), whose field is urban planning and analysis.

Fifth and six graders from area schools will participate in the Nature Bowl, an environmental equivalent to the College Bowl, from 9:30 a.m. to noon in the Gymnasium. Teams of students and teachers will take part in hands-on energy activities. A presentation by Thomas Edison (as depicted by Drew Wilson) will be given at 2:30 p.m. in the SUMP.

The activities, which run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., are free.

Dance Concert Features Students, Professionals

University students of dance will join professionals Denison and Sayber Rawls in a spring dance concert at 8 p.m., Friday, May 13 in the Recital Hall.

The program is sponsored by Dance Images, the student dance club, and the Physical Education Department. Admission is $4 general and $2 students. Cal State students are admitted without charge.

The Rawls have appeared on network specials, including the Academy Awards, and with Ann-Margaret, Racquel Welsh and Cheryl Ladd. They have choreographed five films including the soon-to-be released “Dance Academy.”

The Rawls also will teach a free jazz dance class, open to students and teachers, from 10 a.m. to noon, Saturday, May 21 in the small gymnasium. The class will be limited to the first 40 to register. For information, call Gilda Gant (Physical Education), Ext. 7561.

Natural Sciences Field Day Today

Nearly 400 high school students are on campus today, participating in the Science Day sponsored by the School of Natural Sciences.

Three faculty are presenting lectures:

The students also are visiting laboratories and participating in activities organized by the various departments. Careers open to students with a scientific education will be described by a panel of speakers.
Social Sciences Field Day Next

Thirteen faculty members will discuss topics on the theme, "Women in the Social Sciences" at the Social Sciences Field Day Thursday, May 12.

The annual event, presented for students from area high schools, is cosponsored by the Inland Empire Council for the Social Studies.

Speakers will be: Dr. Frances Berdan (Anthropology), "Women and Weaving in Village Mexico"; Dr. Robert Blackey (History), "Women in Witchcraft in Europe"; Dr. Sandra Cross (Health Science), "Women’s Health Issues"; Dr. Lanny Fields (History), "Women in Chinese History" and "Women in Japanese History"; Dr. Diane Guerin (Psychology), "Women in Psychology"; Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science), "Women in Politics"; Jeanne Bogenson (International Students Program), "Women in American History"; Dr. Richard Rowland (Geography), "Demographic and Geographic Characteristics of Women in the USSR"; Dr. Frances Coles (Criminal Justice), "The New Female Criminal"; Dr. Gloria Cowan (Psychology), "Women and Achievement"; Dr. Ellen Gruenbaum (Anthropology), "The Myth of Matriarchy"; Dr. Randi Miller (Sociology), "Consequences of Gender Socialization" and Dr. Nancy Rose (Economics), "The Wage Gap."
