Five Named Emeritus

Five senior faculty members, who average 20 years on the San Bernardino campus, are retiring in June with the designation of professor emeritus.

They are Dr. Kenton L. Monroe (Psychology), Dr. C. Frederick Kellers (Physics), Dr. Mireille G. Rydell (Foreign Languages), Dr. Gordon E. Stanton (Education) and Dr. Carol F. Goss (Political Science).

The appointment of professor emeritus recognizes their years of service to their respective departments and schools and to the university, explained President Anthony H. Evans.

All of the retirees are full professors, tenured in their fields.

Dr. Monroe came to Cal State in 1965, the year the college opened. He served as dean of students for 17 years before returning to teaching in the Department of Psychology.

Dr. Kellers, who arrived in 1968, spent many years as chair and a long-time mainstay in the Physics Department. One of his interests has been the education of GATE students.

Dr. Rydell has been known throughout the system and campus for her active support of the CSU International Programs. She served for many years as the campus coordinator and helped hundreds of Cal State students earn a year of study overseas. A native of France, she came to Cal State in 1968.

Dr. Stanton, who also arrived in 1968, was involved in the past three years as the founder and director of the CSU’s Civic Education Enhancement Project. He also has been coordinator of the secondary education program in the School of Education.

Recognized as an authority on local governments, Dr. Goss demonstrated her practical knowledge of the field as she served three terms as chair of the Faculty Senate. She also has been chair of the Political Science Department. Dr. Goss joined the Cal State faculty in 1971.

Two others will be retiring this spring. They are Dr. Donald Woods, counseling and testing officer in the Counseling and Testing Center and a former member of the psychology faculty, and Dr. Thomas E. Woods, a retired public school superintendent who came to the School of Education to help expand the school business administration option. Dr. Donald Woods joined the campus in 1968 and Dr. Tom Woods in 1981.

Candidates For Library To be Here

Six off-campus finalists for the position of library director will be here for interviews between June 9 and 22.

The candidates, one woman and five men, are being brought in for a day and a half, rather than the usual single day of interviews and meetings.

Open forums for the campus community to meet the finalists are scheduled from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. in either the Eucalyptus or the Pine Room of the Lower Commons.

The finalists, and the days of the open forum, are:

Receptions Honor Grads

Receptions preceding the commencement exercises Saturday afternoon, June 18 will honor the Class of 1988 and the speaker, Dr. Herbert Carter, executive vice chancellor of the California State University.

Each school will host a reception for its graduates. Graduate students will receive their hoods at that time.

Invitations are being mailed by the school deans and replies are requested at the school office by the dates specified on the invitations.

The School of Education reception will begin earliest, at 2:30 p.m., in the Creative Arts Building.

Receptions will begin at 3 p.m. for the School of Humanities, in the Panorama Room, and the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, in the Upper Commons.

The School of Natural Sciences will host its graduates beginning at 3:30 p.m. in the patio of the Physical Sciences Building. The hooding will follow in PS 10.

Graduates from the School of Business and Public Administration will gather at 3:30 p.m. in the southwest side of the Upper Commons for their festivities.

The reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Carter will be from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Sycamore Room of the Commons. All faculty and staff who are participating in commencement are invited to attend, said Executive Dean Judith M. Rymer (University Relations).

The graduation ceremonies will begin at 5:30 p.m. on the lawn between the Library and the Physical Education complex. All participants, faculty and students, are asked to gather in the PE complex no later than 4:30 p.m. to begin lining up for the processional.

Both students and faculty should pick up their caps and gowns at the Bookstore from June 13 through June 17. The last day for the Bookstore to take orders from students for caps and gowns is next Friday, June 10.

Outstanding Students Named

Two married women students, who both worked prior to enrolling at Cal State, will be honored as the outstanding students of 1987-88 at commencement June 18.

Alison Jaffe-Karp, who will receive her M.S. in counseling psychology this month, is the outstanding graduate student.

Taking the top honors in the undergraduate category is Cherlynn A. Rush, a mother of two, who will receive her B.A. in economics.

Both women are aiming for Ph.D.s.

Ms. Jaffe-Karp has been accepted by the California School of Professional Psychology and will enroll there in September.

Before coming to Cal State in 1986, she had earned her B.A. in Spanish and speech and hearing sciences and her M.A. in speech pathology, both from Indiana University. She also is employed as a bilingual speech-language pathologist with the San Bernardino City Schools.

Ms. Rush hopes to go on to a Ph.D. in international economic policy and administration, with a specialization in Southeast Asia. She received an honorable mention in the 1988 Ford Foundation doctoral fellowship for minorities.

She also has worked as a resettlement coordinator and administrative assistant for the U.S. Catholic Conference, Refugee Resettlement Program in Colton and as a clerk with the District Attorney's Office.

Both students have been active on campus as well. Ms. Jaffe-Karp has worked in the Community Counseling Center and in the Student Counseling Center. Ms. Rush has been involved in the Model United Nations and departmental activities.

French Farce

A satire on love, marriage, infidelity and proper behavior in turn-of-the-century French upper classes is the final production of the Theatre Arts Department.

Premiering last night, "A Flea in Her Ear" continues tonight (June 3) and tomorrow and the next week Wednesday through Saturday, June 8-11.

Guest director is Tom Henshel, who has been recognized in the Los Angeles theatre for his success in directing period comedy. He has appeared in network series including "St. Elsewhere," in TV commercials and in the Mark Taper Forum and the Old Globe Theatre.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Theatre. Tickets, available at the Theatre Arts Office, are $6 for general admission and $3 for students and senior citizens.

School Honors Students, Alumni

Students who have achieved in the School of Humanities and alumni who have made significant contributions in the community will be recognized at the School of Humanities Student and Alumni Recognition Day reception June 9.

Accomplishments to be recognized include membership in honorary societies, Dean's List, scholarships and leadership roles.

"So much of what the School of Humanities represents depends on the accomplishments and scholarship of its people," said Dean Beverly L. Hendricks.

Uni Phi Club Gives Awards

The Uni Phi Club has presented its annual awards for support of disabled students to Milton Clark (English) and Ed Schneiderhan (Career Development Center).

Professor Clark received the Dr. Fred Kellers Award for outstanding teaching and adaptations for students with a disability. The Frank Lootens Award for a staff member who has provided supportive assistance to students with a disability was presented to Schneiderhan.

The Barbara Sovereign Award for leadership and educational achievement went to Michelle Hemme, who has been active in numerous community groups and has competed in the national wheelchair tennis tournament for several years.

Troy Braswell, who will graduate this month, received the Anita Hallberg Award for inspiration and educational achievement.

The awards are named in honor of the first recipients, who typified the service the Uni Phi Club members want to honor. Dr. Kellers is professor of physics. Lootens is the equipment technician for the School of Natural Sciences. Mrs. Sovereign is the counseling services coordinator in Services to Students with Disabilities Office. Ms. Hallberg earned her B.A. degree here last June.

New Briefs

The CSU Board of Trustees named a Florida educator, Dr. Curtis L. McCray, as the president of Cal State, Long Beach. He has been president of the University of North Florida since 1982 and earlier held vice president positions at Governors State University in Illinois and Saginaw Valley State College in Michigan. McCray holds a Ph.D. in English from the University of Nebraska.

Marianthi Lansdale is the new chair of the CSU Board of Trustees. She was elected to succeed Dr. Dale Ride at the May 17-18 trustee meeting. Named to the board in 1985, Mrs. Lansdale is vice president of Marina Pacifica Oil Co. She will represent the Board of Trustees at commencement exercises on the San Bernardino campus June 18.
Named vice chair of the board was William Campbell, vice president/director of McMahan Furniture Co., and a trustee since 1987. He is an attorney.

Audio-Visual Services has copies of a recent teleconference on use of computers, software and other technology in university course work, reports Dr. Robert Senour. Faculty may check out the copies for review. The two-hour teleconference included demonstrations of Spanish language, math, biology, social science and some humanities courses.

Dr. Gilbert Sanchez (Pre-College Outreach Programs) presented a plaque to Dale Chilson, principal of Colton Junior High School, for his contribution to Project UPBEAT May 18 at Colton High School. Chilson and Sanchez developed the program, now in its fourth year.

Orchestra Concert Sunday Afternoon

A piano concerto and a one-act German singspiel by Mozart will be featured in the 3 p.m., Sunday (June 5) concert by the University-Community Chamber Orchestra.

Julie Rosenberg will be featured in Mozart’s Piano Concerto No. 17 in G major. Student soloists in the singspiel “Bastien and Bastienne,” which utilizes spoken dialogue instead of recitatives, will be Cami Ackerman, William Cox and Joshua Lee.

Dr. Richard Saylor conducts the orchestra. The free concert will be in the Recital Hall.

Upward Bound Honors Seniors

High school seniors graduating from the Upward Bound program sponsored by the university were honored at a recognition banquet May 20 at the Red Lion Inn in Ontario.

Dr. Juan Gonzalez (President’s Office) spoke to the more than 150 attendees.

Eighty-four percent of this year’s class have been accepted by two- or four-year colleges or universities, said Denise Benton, program director. The current figure tops the 75 percent accepted for college last year. The students are from seven area high schools.

Dear Reader:

During the past year you have noted some changes in the "Friday Bulletin." With new computer technology available in the Publications Office, we were able to introduce a different format for the Bulletin. Larger sizes for the headline and a multi-column page were introduced. As to the content, we endeavored to produce feature stories about staff and faculty. With the advent of the Faculty Professional Development Newsletter, we stopped reporting the professional activities of the faculty. We still carry the staff professional activities and the community service work done by all members of the campus community—when you tell us.

As we near the close of the academic year, we solicit your comments and suggestions. Data for this survey will help us as we endeavor to meet your needs and the needs of the university. Your individual participation will be greatly appreciated. Please return the questionnaire to the Publications Office, AD 117.
