New Advisory Board Member Appointed

Darlene Johnson, president and owner of the Jordan Insurance Company of San Bernardino, has been appointed to serve as the newest member of the university Advisory Board. She received a M.B.A. in management from Cal State in 1982.

The advisory board is comprised of 13 outstanding individuals from throughout the university’s service area. Members meet once per quarter and are appointed for a four-year term. The basic function of an advisory board member is to provide input from a community perspective on a broad variety of issues affecting the operation and future development of the university.

According to Dr. Juan Gonzalez, assistant to the president, “The university Advisory Board is our primary means of gathering the advice of prominent community leaders regarding our goals.” He noted that specific types of advice might include the academic and training needs of the community and various development concerns.

Johnson said, “I am pleased and honored to be a part of my alma mater again. I am looking forward to being a part of the growth of this outstanding institution of higher education.” In addition to her affiliation with Cal State, Johnson is active in a number of community organizations, including the Independent Insurance Agents Association of the Inland Empire, the Orange Empire Chapter of the Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the San Bernardino Downtown Rotary Club, Arrowhead United Way and the Bank of San Bernardino’s Advisory Board.

June Ballot Measure to Impact Facilities Construction & Expansion

Proposition 121, The Higher Education Facilities Bond Act of 1990, will appear on the June 5 ballot. If approved by the voters, the measure will provide $450 million to help construct new buildings and upgrade existing facilities on the campuses of the California State University, the University of California and the California Community Colleges. Each segment would share the money equally.

The ballot measure will authorize a general obligation bond to help fund new construction at California’s public colleges and universities. The CSU depends on general obligation bonds to help fund capital construction, renovation and equipment for its 20 campuses. New classrooms, labs and other facilities are needed to keep pace with the increasing number of students seeking a quality education from state institutions of higher education. In addition, many existing structures need to be upgraded and expanded.

Classrooms, instructional laboratories, offices, libraries, physical education and fine arts facilities at 19 CSU campuses will be funded by the measure. The bond also will help improve campus utility facilities such as water, heating and cooling and electrical systems.

Additionally, funds to correct structural, health and safety deficiencies will be provided by Proposition 121. Funds also will be used to assure that both new and existing structures meet current codes for earthquake safety. Projects to help save utility energy will be among other activities funded by the upcoming ballot measure.

On our campus, several projects will be impacted by Proposition 121 funding. Construction funding for the major renovation and expansion of the John M. Pfau Library depends on the passage of the bond measure, which also would provide equipment for the new classroom/student services/faculty office complex. Funds from Proposition 121 would provide funding for preliminary plans for the remodeling and expansion of the Physical Education Building and preliminary plans for the new Visual Arts Building. Environmental Expo Returns to Campus

Celebrating the 20th anniversary of Earth Day and the birthday of the late conservationist John Muir, The Fourth Annual Inland Empire Environmental Expo returns to campus on Saturday, April 21, with a variety of events scheduled from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"Water: Earth’s Precious Resource" is the theme of this year’s expo. A major public forum on the supply and quality of San Bernardino’s water resources will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the Panorama Room of the Lower Commons. Some of the area’s leading authorities on water resources and policies will exchange views and answer questions from the audience. San Bernardino Mayor W.R. “Bob” Holcomb will serve as forum moderator. The keynote presentation will be given by Louis Fletcher, general manager and chief engineer of the San Bernardino Valley Water District.

Panelists for the free forum include: Carlos Madrid, chief of the Southern Section of the State Department of Water Resources; Neil Cline, general manager of the Santa Ana Watershed Project Authority; Diana Barich, district engineer, Office of Drinking Water, Department of Health Services; Herbert Wessell, general manager of the San Bernardino City Water Department; Gerald Thiebeault, executive officer of the Santa Ana Region of the State Water Quality Control Board; and Dick Comelle, consulting engineer and former head of the Redlands Water Department.

At 10:30 a.m., a free “Water-efficient Landscaping Workshop” will be held in the Panorama Room of the Lower Commons. Other expo events on tap include exhibits by environmental agencies and organizations, a nature bowl competition for pre-registered teams of fifth- through eighth-grade students, parent-child activities, art and photo contests and seven teacher workshops. Frank Helling, a Fresno educator and expert on John Muir, will present a dramatic portrayal of the man considered to be the father of the environmental movement.

Muir died in 1914 and was known for his walks in the western U.S. and his writings.

This year’s expo also features the First Annual John Muir 5- and 10K runs and a 2K walk. Beginning near the gym, these events are scheduled as follows: 7:30 a.m. for the 5K; 8 a.m. for the 10K; and 9:30 a.m. for the 2K. Entry fees for the 5- and 10K runs are $13 which include a commemorative t-shirt or $7 without the t-shirt. The entry fee for the 2K walk is $5 and includes a t-shirt. More information on these events is available from the Recreational Sports office at Ext. 5235.

Major sponsors of this year’s Environmental Expo include the California Department of Education and the San Bernardino Valley Municipal Water District. Additional information on the event is available from Dr. Darleen Stoner, expo chairman and director of Cal State’s Environmental Education Center, at Ext. 5640.

Facilities Expansion Update

As reported in the last issue of The Friday Bulletin, construction is anticipated to begin in late May on the new classroom/student services/faculty office complex. On March 30, a special budget augmentation request was reviewed by the state’s Public Work Board for a 9.4 percent increase to the construction budget. According to William F. Shum, director of Physical Planning & Development, "The request received unanimous approval. The Physical Planning and Development Department of the Chancellor's Office is currently working on the contract." Groundbreaking ceremonies are anticipated for late May.
Open Enrollment For Health & Vision Benefits

The annual open enrollment period for the State Employees' Medical and Hospital Care Program begins Tuesday, May 1, and continues through Thursday, May 31. Open enrollment is that period of time in which eligible employees may change plans or add eligible family members not currently enrolled without regard to pre-existing medical conditions. The effective date of enrollment or change will be August 1. Annual adjustments to health premium costs are effective with the July, 1990 pay period.

Employee costs and the State contribution are as follows:

Acting Vice President for Administration & Finance

Appointed

President Anthony H. Evans recently announced the appointment of David DeMauro as acting vice president for administration and finance effective July 1, 1990, with the retirement of Vice President Leonard Farwell. DeMauro currently serves as director of the university's Physical Plant.

According to President Evans, "Because several new key administrators will be joining us this summer and because the next budget cycle looks so challenging, I have decided to delay the recruitment of Vice President Farwell's replacement for up to a year. I anticipate that we will have completed that search and made a permanent appointment by this time next year." Commenting on DeMauro's appointment, Evans said, "David has proved to be a fine team player and has demonstrated great versatility since he joined our university. I have no doubt that he will serve the university admirably until a permanent vice president is appointed."

DeMauro commented that, "I am very pleased and honored to have been selected to serve as the acting vice president of administration and finance. I plan to work very hard to contribute as much as I possibly can to help the university meet the challenges it is facing today. I shall focus my concerns upon the tight budgets we are facing and the immediate needs for building space to accommodate the educational programs of the university.

"Vice President Farwell has built a very strong division with highly capable managers and effective programs in each department. I shall continue his practice of providing the best service possible to the university community."

Cal State Night with the Spirit

Cal State will be honored by the San Bernardino Area Chamber of Commerce and Spirit Baseball Club on Monday evening, April 23. Join the fun when the Spirit plays the Modesto A's beginning at 7:05 p.m. at Fiscalini Field, 1007 E. Highland Avenue, San Bernardino.

FREE TICKETS TO THE GAME are available on a first-come, first-served basis through the Personnel Office. David Suenram (Athletics) will throw out the first pitch and an outstanding member of the university community will be recognized.

For those interested in having dinner at the game and watching the action from Cafe Spirit, located along the first-base side of the field, a $2 fee will be charged in addition to the price of the meal. Selections on the Cafe Spirit menu include hot dogs, chicken, hamburgers and steaks. Prices range from $4.25 - $8 per person. Reservations for Cafe Spirit seats must be made through the Spirit Office. Contact Bruce Jones, director of food and beverage, at (714) 881-1836. For more details on Cal State Night, contact Terrie Jo Snyder (Public Affairs) at Ext. 5007.
Professor Honored by State Legislature

“Dr. Henry richly deserves this distinction,” said Eaves. “She has made many outstanding contributions and has inspired others to become actively involved in working towards the betterment of their community.” The award, sponsored by the Women Legislators Caucus, was officially presented to Henry on March 26 in Sacramento by Speaker of the House, the Honorable Willie L. Brown, Jr.

Henry serves as president of Provisional Educational Services, Inc., a non-profit organization, and is founder and director of the Provisional Accelerated Learning (PAL) Center in San Bernardino. She serves on numerous boards and committees and has received several local, national and international awards including the Distinguished Alumna Award from the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education.

New Parking Lot Opens

A new parking lot located near the Physical Education Building and Serrano Village officially was opened on March 21. It has the capacity to accommodate 88 compact cars, 141 regular vehicles and includes four handicap parking spaces. All total, 233 new spaces have been added.

Users should note that one entire section of the lot has been designated for compact cars only. Each compact space is indicated by a stenciled “C” on the center entry to the stall. The use of compact car spacing increases the lot’s capacity by about 12 percent. The new lot is equipped with curbs, drainage facilities and lights. Landscaping will be added once funding is available.

Questions regarding the project can be directed to David DeMauro (Physical Plant) at Ext. 5166.

“Masquerade” Opens Next Friday

The popular music of composer Andrew Lloyd Webber will be featured in the theatre production of “Masquerade” opening Friday, April 13, in the University Theatre.

“Memory” from the musical “Cats” and “Music of the Night” from the hit show “Phantom of the Opera,” currently running in Los Angeles, will be among the songs performed during the production. The play also will feature “Don’t Cry For Me, Argentina” from “Evita” as well as “I Don’t Know How to Love Him” and “Superstar” from the musical “Jesus Christ Superstar.”

During the show, characters from Andrew Lloyd Webber musicals perform his compositions when they attend a masquerade party. “Rather than being a collection of solos strung together, the production will try to capture the dramatic moments of these shows,” said Dr. Lee Lyons, director of the play and assistant professor of theatre arts.

Guest musical director Phil Crowley of Pasadena is scoring, arranging and recording the show’s music on tape using Cal State’s music studio, which will help create the effect of a large orchestra. A professional musician and voiceoverannouncer, Crowley is the voice of Albertson’s Markets and has worked on an upcoming Walt Disney cartoon. A lecture-demonstration of voice techniques to be presented by Crowley currently is being scheduled.

“Masquerade” will be presented on Friday, April 13, and Saturday, April 14, at 8:15 p.m. Evening performances also are scheduled for Wednesday, April 18, through Saturday, April 21. Matinees, beginning at 2 p.m., will be performed on Saturday, April 14, Saturday, April 21, and Sunday, April 22. General admission is $6 for adults; $3 for students and seniors. Tickets are available in Room 175 of the Creative Arts Building.
Local C.E.O. to Receive Inaugural Award

Jack H. Brown, chairman, chief executive officer and president of Stater Bros. Markets, will be honored as the first recipient of the university’s Arrowhead Distinguished Chief Executive Officer Lecture Award at a noon luncheon on Wednesday, April 18, in the Upper Commons.

The award, which recognizes outstanding leadership in the business community, is being presented by graduate level faculty members of the School of Business & Public Administration. As the inaugural participant of the lecture series, Brown will serve as the keynote speaker addressing “Leadership for the ’90s.”

Scholarship Awards Banquet

The Association of Hispanic Faculty & Staff will host its Fifth Annual Scholarship Awards Banquet & Dance on Saturday, April 21, at the Inland Empire Hilton. The event begins at 6 p.m. with a no-host social hour. The dinner and program will be held from 7-9 p.m. followed by a dance featuring the music of “Nite Life” from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. Admission is $30 per person.

This year’s guest speaker is Dr. Henry Gradillas who serves as a special consultant with the California State Department of Education in the Effective Schools Program. He is a member of the National Commission on Drug-Free Schools. Gradillas holds a Ph.D. in secondary education and administration from Brigham Young University and received a M.A. in education administration from California State University, Los Angeles.

Scholarships will be awarded to over 15 Hispanic students by several organizations. These include: Association of Hispanic Faculty & Staff, the Latino Business Student Association, M.E.Ch.A., the Inland Empire Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, the David Montano Memorial Fund, the Agnes Krug Memorial Fund and Allstate Insurance Company.

Noted Ecologist to Speak During Earth Week Festivities

World-renowned ecologist Anne H. Ehrlich will discuss “The Human Population Dilemma” at a free lecture scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 17 in the gymnasium. The speech is one of many special campus activities marking the 20th anniversary of Earth Day.

Ehrlich is the co-author of several books with her husband, Paul R. Ehrlich, who also is recognized internationally for his work in population biology. He wrote the book “The Population Bomb” in 1969. Ehrlich’s talk with focus on how an estimated 100 percent increase in the Earth’s population will affect resource consumption and availability. She serves as the associate director for the Center of Conservation Biology at Stanford University and is a senior research associate in the institution’s biology department.

Two other campus events celebrating Earth Week have been planned for Thursday, April 19. An Environmental Information Display will be held from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. on the south side of the John M. Pfau Library. Various environmental groups such as Greenpeace, the Sierra Club and the Nature Conservancy have been invited to participate. At 7:30 p.m., a lecture entitled “Healthy Air vs. Healthy Economy: Can We Have Both?” will be presented by Norton Younglove, chair of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors and member of the Southcoast Air Quality Management District. This free lecture will be held in the Upper Commons and is being sponsored by Cal State’s new Environmental Club.

The library will feature a special display of environmental books and materials as part of Earth Week activities. The exhibit will include books by Anne H. Ehrlich and will be on display on the first floor from Monday, April 16, through Friday, April 20.

Ehrlich’s talk is being sponsored by the Intellectual Life and Visiting Scholars Committee. For more information on the lecture or Earth Week activities, contact Dr. David Polcyn (Biology) at Ext. 5313.

According to Marco Cota (Relations with High Schools), “The annual event highlights the success of outstanding students who are striving to fulfill their academic endeavors. In addition, it is an excellent opportunity for students to interact with leaders and role models from the university and the community.” Cota is president of the Association of Hispanic Faculty & Staff.

For more information on the event or to purchase tickets, call Cota at Ext. 5188 or contact Avelina Espinoza (Purchasing) at (714) 822-7864.

Career Opportunities Fair

Explore careers of the '90s with nearly 60 Southern California employers as Cal State hosts the 12th annual Career Opportunities Fair on Thursday, April 19, from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. in the gymnasium. The free fair provides participants the chance to talk with potential employers representing businesses in both the public and private sector. Representatives will include governmental agencies, hospitals, retail stores, accounting firms, insurance companies and industrial businesses.

Four workshops will be conducted by staff members of the Career Development Center which is sponsoring the event. The workshop schedule is as follows: "Choosing A Career," at 9:30 a.m.; "Selling Yourself in the Job Interview," at 10 a.m.; "Creating Resumes that Work," at 10:30 a.m.; and "Careers in the 1990s and Beyond," at 11 a.m. All sessions will be conducted in Room 129 of the Physical Education Building.

Lynn Moss, career development counselor, describes the fair as "a wonderful opportunity to network with potential employers." She notes that a real effort is made to attract a wide range of organizations to participate, so that attendees can obtain an extensive variety of information on today’s job market.

Although no interviews are conducted at the fair, job seekers are encouraged to bring several copies of their resumes since many companies will provide employment applications. This year’s event also will feature a free booklet containing information regarding each participating company and a brief description of the positions typically filled by their organization.

More than 500 people are expected to attend the fair. More information is available from Dr. Paul Esposito, director, Career Development Center, at Ext. 5250.
